

May 13, 2005

With the computer age today it would not take much for every weekend require that all publically traded stocks be accounted for! And, if there are too many shares shorted, then somebody needs to explain this!

Darryl Mellott