THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Section 23 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Section 23 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 provide that the Securities and Exchange Commission shall submit annually a report to the Congress covering the work of the Commission for the preceding year and such information, data, and recommendations for further legislation as it may find advisable. The following report, made pursuant to these provisions, covers the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937.

FUNCTIONS OF THE COMMISSION

The Securities and Exchange Commission is responsible for the administration and enforcement of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934,<sup>1</sup> as amended, and the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. In general, it may be stated that the Securities Act of 1933 is designed to require a complete and accurate disclosure of the material facts concerning securities offered for sale or sold in interstate commerce or by the use of the mails, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is designed to provide for regulation of trading upon national securities exchanges and in the over-the-counter markets; and the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 is designed to provide for the regulation of gas and electric utility holding company systems.

A fuller description of the purposes and the objectives sought in the passage of these enactments, together with detailed statements of the functions of the various divisions of the Commission, may be found in the first and second annual reports of the Commission.

REGISTRATION OF SECURITIES UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933*Examination of Securities Act Registration Statements

Under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, with certain exceptions, securities may not be publicly offered for sale or sold in interstate commerce or through the mails unless a registration statement has been filed with the Commission and is effective. A prospectus, containing the more material ultimate facts set forth in the registration statement, is also required to be filed as part of the registration statement. The law provides that a copy of the prospectus to be used in connection with the sale of registered securities must be given to every person to whom the securities are offered for sale and to every purchaser at or before the time of the sale.

The registration statement serves a two-fold purpose: (1) it discloses to investors material facts concerning an issue of securities that is offered for sale to the public, and (2) it stands as a record of the representations made at the time the securities were sold, and thus, if any such representation should be false, simplifies the problem of proof in any legal proceedings which may result. The statement must be filed on the particular form prescribed by the Commission as appropriate to the type of the security proposed to be offered and each form provides for the submission of information essential to a fair disclosure of material facts relative to the issuer and the securities offered for sale.

<sup>3</sup> In September 1937, Mr. Gilman resigned; Mr. C. Roy Smith was appointed Director of the Public Utilities Division, and Mr. W. J. Kenney was appointed Chief of the Oil and Gas Unit.

With certain exceptions, the Act provides for the lapse of a period of twenty days after filing before the registration statement becomes effective. This provision gives the investors a reasonable period of time in which to look into the facts concerning the issue and the issuer before the issue is offered for sale, and, in addition, allows the Commission to make an examination of the statement for omissions, inaccuracies, and untruths. If the examination of the statement discloses deficiencies, but nevertheless indicates a sincere and honest effort to comply with the requirements, the registrant is so advised. The deficiencies may be corrected by the filing of amendments. If, on the other hand, the examination reveals that the registration statement includes untrue statements or omissions of material facts in intentional or reckless disregard of the standard of disclosure prescribed by the Act, stop order proceedings may be instituted immediately. The Commission is empowered also to refuse registration in those instances where the information given is incomplete or inaccurate on its face and to undertake investigations involving examination of the issuer, underwriters, or any other person for the purpose of determining whether a stop order should issue. Further, the Commission may suspend registration after a registration statement becomes effective if it develops that the information furnished in the statement is untrue or misleading in any material particulars.

Neither the fact that a registration statement for a security has been filed or is in effect, nor the fact that a stop order is not in effect with respect to that particular statement, can be treated as an indication that the Commission considers the registration statement to be true and accurate on its face or that it does not contain an untrue statement of fact or omits to state a material fact, or be held to mean that the Commission has in any way passed upon the merits of, or given approval to, the security. To represent otherwise is made a criminal act by the statute.

The annual reports filed with the Commission pursuant to the provisions of Section 15 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, by issuers having securities registered under the Securities Act of 1933, are examined and analyzed in the same manner as registration statements.

For the purpose of giving some indication of the nature of disclosures made as a result of examinations, a few typical cases are briefly summarized below:

A company engaged in the business of creating and selling to the public a class of securities known as investment contracts sought to register $10,000,000 face amount of certificates to be offered under a so-called investment trust accumulation plan. These contracts provided for either a lump sum payment or monthly installment payments on the part of the purchaser, the net proceeds being used for the purchase of shares of an underlying investment trust which were to be deposited with a trustee, who was to hold them for the account of certificate holders. The plan of investment thus involved a trust upon a trust with two sets of loading or service charges, one on the underlying trust shares and the other on the investment certificates.

The certificates to be issued under the periodic or installment investment plans were stated on the face thereof and in the prospectus as having a "maturity value" of $2,000 for each $1,200 agreed to be paid by the investor. The prospectus did not disclose the fact that this figure of $2,000 was purely arbitrary, representing nothing more than the sum which the investor would obtain only when, as, and if the value of the underlying trust shares purchased with the funds paid in, less the charges and reductions, had reached $2,000. The investor had no assurance that the so-called "maturity value" would ever be reached. In fact, by reason of the substantial charges deducted from the $1,200 paid in by the investor, amounting to approximately $200, the attainment of the stated "maturity value" would require a total appreciation of almost 100% of the market value of the underlying securities. This element of contingency was artfully concealed and the use of this term, appearing in the prospectus no less than twenty times, indicated an endeavor to import to the concept of "maturity value" a specious reality for apparently no purpose other than to mislead prospective investors. The prospectus, further, in connection with an elaborate recital of the routine duties of the trustee under the plan, gave unwarranted prominence to the name of the trustee, which was a well-known financial institution, in what appeared to be an unjustified attempt to trade on its reputation. In consequence of such misleading representations and the failure of the prospectus in certain other respects to set forth clearly the information required to be furnished, the Commission instituted stop-order proceedings. The registrant subsequently amended its registration statement and prospectus, eliminating all reference to "maturity value" and otherwise revising the prospectus in keeping with the requirements of full and fair disclosure of the material facts relating to the investment plan.

A registration statement filed by a bottling company in connection with a proposed public offering of common stock contained a balance sheet of the issuer which included among its assets franchise rights at a stated valuation of $2,500,000. It appearing from information contained in the registration statement that the valuation ascribed to the franchise rights was excessive, the Commission proceeded to a hearing under Section 8 (e) of the Act. At this hearing, evidence was adduced to indicate that no basis existed for the valuation placed upon this intangible asset, whereupon stop-order proceedings were instituted under Section 8 (d) of the Act. Upon notice of hearing the registrant filed an amended balance sheet reducing the valuation of the franchise rights from $2,500,000 to $1.

In a similar case involving the matter of property valuation, the balance sheet of a newly organized manufacturing company set forth its fixed assets at a valuation of approximately $700,000. The properties in question had recently been acquired at a cost of $200,000 and were appraised, on the basis of reproduction cost new less depreciation, at approximately $1,200,000. For balance sheet purposes the company placed an arbitrary valuation of $700,000 on the properties, thus creating a "surplus" of approximately $500,000. The Commission instituted stop-order proceedings on the grounds that the balance sheet representations were misleading and that, in this instance, reproduction cost less depreciation did not constitute a criterion of value since the issuer had not demonstrated successful use of the properties warranting such valuation. As a result of the proceedings, the issuer amended its balance sheet to show the properties at cost, $200,000, thereby eliminating the "surplus" of one-half million dollars which appeared on the balance sheet as originally filed.

A business trust filed a registration statement covering an issue of $800,000 of certificates of beneficial interest, proposing to use the proceeds from their public sale to acquire oil properties which it had previously contracted to purchase from an oil operator in the Mid-Continent Field. Shortly after the effective date of the registration statement a preliminary investigation was undertaken which disclosed that the income of the properties was insufficient to support the dividends paid during the promotional period and, in addition, that the sponsors of the trust were misappropriating the proceeds from the sale of securities offered to the public instead of applying these proceeds on the purchase price of the properties. Injunction proceedings were instituted in the Federal Court, as a result of which the promoters were forced to restore the funds which had been diverted and the company was required to make full disclosure to prospective investors regarding the current earnings of the properties. Further investigation established that the estimates contained in the registration statement regarding the value, productivity, and income of the properties had been grossly exaggerated, the estimate of recoverable oil being overstated almost 500 percent. In addition, it was revealed that a certain over-the-counter dealer was selling the trust certificates in a nation-wide campaign involving willful and reckless misrepresentation.<sup>5</sup> Stop-order proceedings have been instituted under the <sup>5</sup> On July 7, 1937, proceedings to revoke the registration of this dealer were instituted pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Securities Act of 1933 to suspend the effectiveness of the registration statement and proceedings under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 have also been instituted with a view to revocation of the dealer's license.

An express trust, created in accordance with the laws of the State of Oklahoma with assets consisting of oil and gas interests in Oklahoma and Texas, filed a registration statement with the Commission on Form A-1 on December 12, 1935. The statement became effective, as amended, on February 19, 1936. Some $1,070,000 of certificates of interest in the trust were sold to the public. In January, 1937, stop-order proceedings were instituted under Section 8 (d) of the Securities Act. After full and complete hearings before an examiner and argument before the Commission on exceptions to the examiner's findings, the Commission<sup>6</sup> issued its order stopping the effectiveness of the registration statement. The registration statement was found to be deficient in the following respects:

(a) The registration statement failed to disclose the identity of the one promoter and failed to disclose the amount of profit that he had made. A great majority of the assets of the trust had been purchased from him.

(b) The statement that quarterly reports would be furnished, when at the time of the hearing no reports at all had been issued.

(c) The failure to disclose certain pending litigation relative to certain of the properties in the trust.

(d) The engineer's reports attached as exhibits to the registration statement were found to include misstatements of material physical facts and to omit facts necessary to prevent the estimate arrived at from being misleading. The reports also, in some instances, failed to follow methods approved in the profession.

(e) The statement of the present monthly income in the registration statement was found to be erroneous. Motions to dismiss the proceedings and to withdraw the registration statement were made in the proceedings, but were both denied by the Commission.

A manufacturing company filed a registration statement with the Commission for the purpose of registering a large block of its common stock of which approximately 80% was outstanding and to be offered for the account of certain stockholders and 20% represented unissued stock to be offered for the account of the issuer. The registration statement stated that approximately 60% of the company's output was sold to one customer, a large automobile manufacturer. The registration statement contained also, as part of the required financial information, a profit and loss statement covering a six months period subsequent to the close of the issuer's last fiscal year which apparently indicated, in comparison with profit and loss statements for the three years preceding, a pronounced upward trend in its profits. Investigation by the Commission revealed that the principal customer of the registrant intended in the immediate future to reduce substantially its purchases from the issuer in consequence of certain changes effected in the design of its own product and, further, that this customer purchased most of its annual requirements during that portion of the year covered by the aforementioned six months profit and loss statement, a circumstance which would render such statement misleading unless the seasonal nature of the business were clearly indicated. Since full and fair disclosure respecting these matters had not been made in the registration statement, the Commission instituted stop-order proceedings whereupon the registrant, upon notice of hearing, withdrew its registration statement. The issuer later filed another registration statement. This statement properly set forth the limitations attached to the six months profit and loss statement and indicated clearly the possibility that a large portion of the issuer's business which had accounted for its profits in recent years might be lost as a result of an adverse change which appeared imminent in the business relationship between the registrant and its principal customer.

Securities Act Forms, Rules and Regulations

During the past year, the Commission adopted a new form (Form A-0-1) for the registration of securities under the Securities Act of 1933 for promotional mining companies. Theretofore, mining issues had been registered on the more general forms, A-1 and A-2. It had been found, however, that a number of the requirements of these forms were not well adapted to the problems of a newly organized mining enterprise. To meet the problem, the Commission prepared the new Form A-0-1, which is specifically designed to meet the needs of such new mining enterprises. In preparing this new form, the Commission not only drew heavily upon the services of its own experts, but also, in accordance with its usual practice, invited criticism and suggestions from many interested persons throughout the country, including the principal mining and engineering societies, and many engineers, lawyers, accountants, and other technicians experienced in the field.

The preparation of a general form having specialized alternative questions to be answered by particular categories of issuers has been undertaken. Experience gained from the registration statements on file with the Commission indicates that a form of this type will promote standardization of requirements and should materially lessen the problems confronting the prospective registrant. For certain special types of securities, revised forms are in course of preparation. One of these forms, i. e., Form C-3, For American Certificates Against Foreign Issues and For the Underlying Securities, was adopted shortly after the close of the fiscal year.<sup>7</sup> In connection with this program, the instructions as to financial statements to be filed are being appropriately modified to conform to the other changes.

A considerable number of improving amendments have been made to the basic forms for registration under the Securities Act. These amendments are designed to clarify the requirements of the several forms and to extend the use of certain basic forms to additional classes of issuers upon the furnishing of appropriate specialized information.

Section 15 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended on May 27, 1936, requires registrants under the Securities Act of 1933 to file annual reports with the Commission under certain circumstances. During the year, the Commission adopted rules and regulations prescribing the nature of the information to be filed pursuant to this legislation. For the purpose of filing such annual reports, the Commission adopted a new general form (Form 1-MD), modeled after the basic form for annual reports of issuers having securities listed on national securities exchanges. Additional special forms for this purpose have also been adopted, i. e., Form 2-MD, For Investment Trusts having Securities Registered on Form C-1; Form 3-MD, For Voting Trust Certificates; and Form 4-MD, For Certificates of Deposit Issued by a Committee.

Revisions of numerous rules and regulations have been made from time to time to perfect the mechanics of registration and to provide for special situations.

In connection with the preparation of forms and rules, representatives of the Commission have been in close touch, through conferences and correspondence, with various accountants, lawyers, and other interested persons. Many of the suggestions received from such persons have been incorporated in the forms and rules and regulations as finally promulgated. Numerous legal opinions and interpretations have been prepared in connection with the application of the existing forms and rules to the individual problems of prospective registrants.

Several interpretative opinions by the Director of the Forms and Regulations Division have been published by the Commission. These opinions have been concerned primarily with the form in which information is to be given in the prospectus. They are designed to be the first of a series interpreting the requirements of the Commission as to the mode of furnishing information and are intended to assist registrants in making a prospectus a concise and legible presentation of the material facts of the particular offering.

<sup>7</sup> Published July 8, 1937.

Statistics of Securities Registered Under the Securities Act

At the beginning of the fiscal year, there were 2,314 registration statements on file. Of these, 1,757 were effective, 129 were under stop or refusal order, 294 had been withdrawn, and 134 were under examination or held pending the receipt of amendments.

During the period of July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937, inclusive, 967 additional registration statements were filed. There were 887 registration statements which became effective during this period (of which all but 17 were fully effective); a total of 2,571 statements were effective at the end of the period, 73 of those effective at the beginning of the period or during the period either having been withdrawn or placed under stop order.

The net number of registration statements withdrawn increased by 128, to a total of 422 on June 30, 1937. The net number of stop or refusal orders increased during the period by 14, a total of 143 of such orders being in effect on June 30, 1937. As of June 30, 1937, there were 145 registration statements in the process of examination or awaiting amendments.

Appendix III contains a list of the registration statements as to which stop orders, consent refusal orders, and withdrawal orders were issued during the year.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, new securities with estimated gross proceeds of $4,686,296,000 became fully effective. This total compares with $4,677,302,000 effectively registered in the year ended June 30, 1936, $948,471,000 during the year ended June 30, 1935, and $759,406,000 from July 27, 1933, when the first statement became effective, to June 30, 1934.

In addition to these new issues, there were effectively registered, during the year ended June 30, 1937, $164,462,000 of voting trust certificates, certificates of deposit and securities proposed to be offered in exchange for registrants' or predecessors' securities. This amount compares with $157,747,000 of similar securities registered during the previous fiscal year.

Of the $4,686,296,000 of new securities effectively registered during the past fiscal year, about $298,515,000 were registered for reserve against the conversion of other securities, so that a total of $4,387,781,000 was available for present or future sale for cash or other considerations for the accounts of the registrants or other persons. While the total of all new securities registered during the year ended June 30, 1937, was higher than for any fiscal year under the Securities Act, the total of securities other than amounts reserved for conversion amounted to $4,387,781,000 or approximately $45,000,000 less than the comparable figure for the year ended June 30, 1936.

In addition to the securities registered for reserve against conversion, there were other securities which were registered but not intended to be immediately offered for sale for cash for the benefit of the registrants. Approximately $374,395,000 of securities were registered during the past fiscal year "for the account of others". These represented securities already issued by the registrants and outstanding with security-holders at the time of registration; for the most part their registration was undertaken in connection with proposed resale to the general public, no part of the proceeds to accrue to the registrants. In addition, a total of $245,587,000 of securities was proposed to be issued in exchange for other securities—$120,843,000 to retire outstanding preferred stock issues by replacement, $11,813,000 to pay off indebtedness through issuance of other securities, and $112,931,000 for various other purposes. Finally, $103,243,000 were reserved against the exercise of options and warrants, $23,099,000 were reserved for other subsequent issuance and $8,372,000 were intended to be issued for various assets, claims, and selling commissions. Thus, including the securities reserved against conversion, a total of $1,053,210,000 of new securities effectively registered during the fiscal year, or 22.5% of total registrations, was intended for purposes other than immediate cash sale for the account of the registrants.

After deducting this amount, registered securities with estimated gross proceeds of $3,633,086,000 remained available for cash offering for the account of the registrants. Of these securities all but 3.1% represented issues of already established enterprises. In connection with the sale of these securities the registrants estimated that they would incur $140,963,000<sup>8</sup> of expense; $114,950,000<sup>8</sup> (3.2% of estimated gross proceeds) for commissions and discounts to underwriters and agents, and $26,013,000 (0.7% of estimated gross proceeds) for other expenses in connection with flotation and issuance. The registrants estimated that upon the sale of their securities as contemplated in their registration statements and after payment of these expenses, they would retain as net cash proceeds $3,492,123,000.

A comparison of the uses to which the registrants during the past fiscal year proposed to apply their net proceeds with the intentions of the registrants during the preceding fiscal period, indicates the declining importance of repayment of indebtedness and the increasing significance of the needs for additional working capital and expanded plant and equipment. Nevertheless, the main use proposed to be made of these cash funds still was the repayment of indebtedness. The table below shows the proposed employment of the net cash proceeds as indicated by the registrants of the year ended June 30, 1937, and of the preceding period.

<sup>8</sup> Not including $2,215,000 of compensation given to underwriters or agents in the form of registered securities.

The registration statements disclosed that $3,021,647,000, or 83.1%, of the $3,633,086,000 of securities proposed for cash offering for the account of registrants were to be offered to the public generally, $456,603,000, or 12.6%, to the registrants' security-holders and $154,836,000, or 4.3%, to special persons. About $2,839,375,000, or 78.2%, of the securities were underwritten while $411,990,000, or 11.3%, were to be offered by the registrants themselves, and $381,721,000, or 10.5%, were to be offered by various selling agents. The last fiscal year witnessed an increase in the number of offerings by registrants to their own security-holders. Such offerings were chiefly effected through the issuance of rights to stockholders to purchase common shares at a price below the market. More than 65% of the securities offered to security-holders was common stock, and slightly more than 48% of the common stock registered for cash sale was offered to the registrants' own security-holders.

Of the total of $4,387,781,000 of securities effectively registered (after deducting amounts reserved against conversion) $1,091,816,000, or 24.9%, were for common stock issues; $569,371,000, or 13.0%, were for preferred stock issues; $247,958,000, or 5.6%, were for certificates of participation, beneficial interest, and warrants; $1,552,871,000, or 35.4%, were for secured bonds; $921,186,000, or 21.0%, were for debentures, and $4,579,000, or 0.1%, were for short term notes. Interest bearing obligations, then, totaled 56.5%, stock issues 37.9%, and other types of securities 5.6%.

Approximately $1,249,333,000, or 28.5%, of the registrations (after deducting amounts reserved against conversion) were for manufacturing companies; $1,175,468,000, or 26.8%, were for the electric light and power, gas and water utility companies; $771,888,000, or 17.6%, were for financial and investment companies; $557,477,000, or 12.7%, were for transportation and communication companies (exclusive of common carriers exempt under the Securities Act of 1933); $276,058,000, or 6.3%, for merchandising companies; $61,068,000, or 1.4%, were for companies in the extractive industries; and $296,489,000, or 6.7%, were for all other registrants including foreign governments.

Detailed statistical tables showing number of issues, type of security, classification of issuers, gross proceeds, cost of distribution and selling, channels of distribution, and proposed use of funds for the securities registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission are contained in Appendix V. In interpreting the tables, as well as the summary figures quoted above, it should be kept in mind that these statistics are based solely on the registration statements as filed by the registrants with the Securities and Exchange Commission. All data, therefore, refer to registrants' intentions and estimates as they appear in the registration statements on the effective dates. They thus represent, in reality, statistics of intentions to sell securities rather than statistics of actual sales of securities.

The statute does not provide for the accumulation of data showing the extent to which securities registered have actually been sold by the registrant. Although the Commission has endeavored to obtain such data, it does not yet have exact knowledge upon this subject. However, in cases where securities are underwritten by responsible banking houses, it is certain that the issuing corporation has received the stipulated sales price. As indicated above, of the $3,633,086,000 of new securities proposed to be offered for cash about $2,839,375,000, or 78.2%, were intended to be sold to underwriters and may, therefore, be assumed to have netted the issuing corporations the contemplated amount of funds.

For the purpose of ascertaining the proportion of registered securities not sold to underwriters which were actually disposed of by registrants through contracts with selling agents or their own facilities, follow-up questionnaires were sent to registrants, other than investment companies, who have registered on Form A-1 and whose registrations had become effective before April 30, 1936. Approximately 435 replies, inclusive of the 270 replies mentioned in the annual report of 1936, were received up to June 30, 1937. From these replies it appeared that only about 20% of the total estimated gross proceeds of the securities registered by this group of registrants which consists almost entirely of unseasoned companies disposing of their securities without the aid of underwriters, has actually been sold. About one third of the registrants reported no sales whatever of registered securities, while the remaining registrants reported sales of slightly more than one fourth of the amount registered.

Statistics of Private Placings

Registered securities, of course, constitute only a part of all new securities offered for sale to investors in the United States. The Commission has no authoritative knowledge of the offerings of securities exempt under the Securities Act of 1933.<sup>9</sup> However, in view of the importance of private placings and of their affinity to certain types of registered offerings the Commission is keeping a record of unregistered private placings based on information published in the financial press and supplemented by short questionnaires sent to the issuers of securities reported as privately placed.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, 28 unregistered private placings with total estimated gross proceeds of almost $296,000,000 came to the attention of the Commission comparing with 37 issues with estimated gross proceeds of over $213,000,000 during the preceding fiscal year. The proceeds of these privately placed issues were equivalent to approximately 8% of the securities effectively registered for cash offering with the Commission during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, comparing with the corresponding ratio of approximately 5% during the preceding fiscal year. Industrial corporations sold slightly over one half of the reported private placings, public utilities accounting for about 80% of the rest. Repayment of indebtedness continued the chief purpose for which the proceeds of the securities placed privately were to be used but the proportion to total proceeds declined to 58% compared with 85% during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1936. The amounts to be used for working capital and plant and equipment rose to $119,000,000 compared with slightly over $30,000,000 during the preceding year. Monthly data on the type of securities, the classification of the issuers and the use of proceeds of the privately placed securities on which the Commission has information are presented in Table 10 of Appendix V.

Securities placed privately according to the information supplied by the issuer of the registration statements, but registered either on issuance or later under the Securities Act of 1933, (such securities are, of course, included in the statistics of the registered issues) were very small during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, amounting to less than $12,000,000 in 4 issues compared to $211,000,000 in 20 issues during the preceding fiscal year.

<sup>9</sup> The chief categories of exempt securities are: Securities issued or guaranteed by the United States Government; securities issued by any State or by any political subdivision or any public instrumentality of any State; securities issued by any banking institution; securities of common or contract carriers the issuance of which is subject to Section 20 (a) of the Interstate Commerce Act; securities of a noncommercial character issued by eleemosynary institutions; securities which are part of an issue sold only to residents within a single State where the issuer is incorporated by and doing business in such State; securities exchanged exclusively with security-holders of the issuer where no commission is paid for soliciting the exchange; and securities sold to a small number of purchasers not involving a public offering (so-called private placings).

EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF SECURITIES ACT

Exemptions of Fractional Undivided Interests in Oil or Gas Rights.

In order to secure a more effective supervision over the class of exemptions involving offerings relating to the sale of fractional undivided interests in oil or gas rights filed pursuant to Regulation B of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, on July 1, 1936, the Commission established the Oil and Gas Unit. The functions of this Unit are to examine all offering sheets and amendments thereto; to examine prospectuses involving oil and gas issues filed pursuant to Rule 202 of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations; to assist in the examination of and to furnish technical, engineering and valuation advice on registrations involving oil or gas properties; and to conduct formal investigations into the activities of oil royalty trusts and investigations to verify the representations made as to properties offered and the recoveries estimated to be realized therefrom.

Of the 1,720 offering sheets examined, suspension orders were issued in 443 cases. In 294 of these cases, the defects pointed out by the Commission were cured by amendment and the suspension orders lifted. The following statistics indicate the number of original offering sheets filed and the actions with respect thereto from July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937:

Offering sheets filed.....	1,720
Suspension orders entered.....	443
Offering sheets withdrawn.....	94
Offering sheets amended.....	295
Number of hearings held and completed to determine whether temporary suspensions should be made permanent.....	25
(a) Resulting in withdrawals.....	2
(b) Resulting in amendments to correct deficiencies..	1
(c) Resulting in permanent suspensions.....	22
Temporary suspensions pending June 30, 1937.....	29

Exemptions Other Than Those Relating to Oil and Gas Interests

Under the rules and regulations of the Commission adopted pursuant to Section 3 (b) of the Securities Act of 1933, which provide for conditional exemptions from registration for certain issues not in excess of $100,000, the Commission, during the past year, received and examined 475 prospectuses, relating mostly to offerings of stock issues. Numerous amendments, which were required to correct the deficiencies found in the prospectuses as originally filed, were also examined. The aggregate offerings, as disclosed by the prospectuses, amounted to $37,734,416.

REGISTRATION OF NATIONAL SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Exchanges Registered

The 22 national securities exchanges as of June 30, 1937, are as follows:

Baltimore Stock Exchange	New York Real Estate Securities Exchange, Inc.
Board of Trade of the City of Chicago	New York Stock Exchange
Boston Stock Exchange	Philadelphia Stock Exchange
Chicago Curb Exchange.	Pittsburgh Stock Exchange
Chicago Stock Exchange	St. Louis Stock Exchange
Cincinnati Stock Exchange	Salt Lake Stock Exchange
Cleveland Stock Exchange	San Francisco Curb Exchange
Detroit Stock Exchange	San Francisco Mining Exchange
Los Angeles Stock Exchange	San Francisco Stock Exchange
New Orleans Stock Exchange	Standard Stock Exchange of Spokane
New York Curb Exchange	Washington (D. C.) Stock Exchange

The Buffalo Stock Exchange and the Denver Stock Exchange, which had been permitted to withdraw their applications for registration as national securities exchanges with leave to apply for reinstatement before April 1, 1937, and May 1, 1937, respectively, requested extensions of time within which to apply for reinstatement as national securities exchanges. By order of the Commission, the Buffalo Stock Exchange was granted an extension to April 1, 1938 within which it might apply for reinstatement as a national securities exchange. The application of the Denver Stock Exchange was denied.

The Commission, during the year, revised its rules specifying the manner in which registered and exempt exchanges should file amendments and supplements in order to keep their applications for registration or exemption up to date. These revised rules eliminate the necessity for the filing of formal supplements containing certain information regularly published by the exchanges and require the submission to the Commission of annual financial statements for each exchange and its affiliates.

The amendments and financial statements are examined for the purpose of ascertaining compliance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the Rules and Regulations of the Commission. During the year, more than 250 amendments were filed.

Exchanges Exempted From Registration

As of June 30, 1937, the 7 exchanges granted exemption from registration as national securities exchanges remain the same as last year and are as follows:

Colorado Springs Stock Exchange	Richmond Stock Exchange
Honolulu Stock Exchange	Seattle Stock Exchange
Milwaukee Grain and Stock Exchange	Wheeling Stock Exchange
Minneapolis-St. Paul Stock Exchange

REGISTRATION OF SECURITIES ON EXCHANGES*Applications for the Registration of Securities on Exchanges

One of the main objectives of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is to make available for the investor, reliable, current, and comprehensive information regarding the affairs of the company whose securities are listed, or are to be listed, on a national securities exchange. Certain information is also required to be furnished by companies whose securities are listed, or are to be listed, on exempt exchanges.

A company which seeks to list its securities on national securities exchanges may accomplish such listing by conforming to the requirements of the exchange to which it applies, and by filing, on the appropriate form, an application for the registration of such securities with the Commission and with the exchange on which the registration is sought. For the purpose of the basic registration, several forms have been adopted and each one provides for the submission of data of the character called for in the Act and appropriate to the particular type of issuer or security. These forms in general require non-financial as well as financial information. Data is required concerning the organization of the registrant and of the system of which it may be an integral part, its capital structure, its authorized outstanding funded debt, the debt structure of its subsidiaries, its authorized, issued and outstanding capital stock, the amount of securities of other corporations that it may have guaranteed, its position with reference to outstanding warrants and rights, an adequate description of the actual securities being registered, recent financing, control and management, stock options, balance sheets, profit and loss statements, together with supporting schedules, the remuneration of officers and directors, and other pertinent information.

The continuance of registration upon an exchange is conditioned upon the filing of interim reports covering material changes occurring from time to time, and the filing, within 120 days after the close of the fiscal year of the registrant, of an annual report. These reports are designed to bring up to date the information contained in the applications for permanent registration of securities.

A detailed examination is made of each of these applications, annual reports, and current reports for the purpose of determining whether they contain full and adequate disclosure of the information required by the Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. Deficiencies which are revealed by such examinations are communicated to the registrant and amendments correcting such deficiencies are required to be filed. Upon receipt, the correcting amendments are examined in the same manner as the applications and reports.

Applications for the Withdrawal or Striking from Listing and Registration of Securities on Exchanges

In accordance with the provisions of Section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule JD2 (b) promulgated thereunder, the Commission received 78 applications for withdrawal or striking from listing of securities fully listed and registered on exchanges. Public hearings were held on these applications and 56 of them were granted. The remaining 22 were pending as of June 30, 1937.

Pursuant to Rule JD3 (a) of the Commission, 433 certifications were received from national securities exchanges relative to the withdrawal from listing and registration of maturing securities and securities redeemed or retired.

Application for the Granting, Extension and Termination of Unlisted Trading Privileges on Exchanges.

The Commission, during the year, amended its rules governing unlisted trading privileges on national securities exchanges pursuant to Section 12 (f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended on May 27, 1936.<sup>10</sup> These rules permit the continuation of unlisted trading privileges in a security without further application to the Commission if only minor changes have occurred in such security, such as changes in the title thereof, the interest rate, the par value, the amount outstanding, etc. The exchanges are required to notify the Commission in writing of any changes promptly after they have knowledge thereof. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, the Commission received 424 such notifications.

If more substantial changes are made in securities, an application must be filed by the exchange supporting the contention that the altered security is substantially equivalent to the security admitted to unlisted trading privileges. Before the altered security may be traded on an exchange, the application must be approved by the Commission. During the past year, 50 such applications were received, of which 24 were granted and 26 were denied.

It may be interesting at this point to sum up the record of reduction in the total number of securities admitted to unlisted trading privileges since October 1, 1934. The total number of securities originally admitted to unlisted trading privileges, pursuant to Clause 1 of Section 12 (f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 amounted to:

Stocks.....	2,685
Bonds.....	1,288
Total.....	3,973

<sup>10</sup> For a discussion of background of this Amendment, see the Commission's Second Annual Report, p. 17.

On June 30, 1937, the number of securities still enjoying unlisted trading privileges, pursuant to Clause 1 of Section 12 (f) was:

Stocks.....	1,656
Bonds.....	615
Total.....	2,271

Thus, there has been a net decline of:

Stocks.....	1,029
Bonds.....	673
Total.....	1,702 <sup>11</sup>

During the fiscal year, 69 applications for the extension of unlisted trading privileges to securities duly listed and registered on other national securities exchanges were received. Of these, 11 were granted, 13 were denied and 45 were pending as of June 30, 1937. During the fiscal year, the Commission received 22 applications for the extension of unlisted trading privileges to securities in respect of which there is claimed to be available from registration statements and periodic reports or other data filed pursuant to rules or regulations prescribed by the Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, information substantially equivalent to that available pursuant to rules or regulations of the Commission in respect of a security duly listed and registered on a national securities exchange. These applications were still pending as of June 30, 1937.

The Commission received 5 applications from persons other than exchanges for the termination of unlisted trading privileges on national securities exchanges. Of these, 2 were granted, 1 was denied and 2 were pending as of June 30, 1937.

During the fiscal year, the Commission was notified of the removal by exchanges from unlisted trading privileges of 327 issues of securities.

As of June 30, 1937, 14 national securities exchanges traded in securities on an unlisted basis. Of this number, 5 exchanges traded in both stocks and bonds on an unlisted basis and the other 9 traded in stocks only. As of June 30, 1937, 2,282 issues of securities were <sup>11</sup> We wish to emphasize that this reduction applies only to securities for which unlisted trading privileges have been continued pursuant to Clause 1 of Section 12 (f). This category of securities constitutes an anomaly in exchange trading, in that full and continuing information concerning the issuers thereof is not made available pursuant to law. Since an abrupt termination of trading in these securities might have resulted in serious dislocation, such trading was permitted to continue, in the belief that there would be a gradual decline therein. The statistical record justifies this expectation.

Securities admitted to so-called unlisted trading privileges pursuant to Clause 2 or Clause 3 of Section 12 (f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, present an entirely different situation inasmuch as full and continuing information concerning these securities is filed pursuant to law.

admitted to unlisted trading privileges on the 14 registered exchanges, of which 1,666 were stock issues and 616 were bond issues.<sup>12</sup>

As of June 30, 1937, 3 exempted exchanges traded in securities on an unlisted basis, of which 2 traded in both stocks and bonds and 1 in stocks only. Approximately 164 issues of securities were admitted to unlisted trading privileges on exempted exchanges, of which 137 were stock issues and 27 were bond issues.

Forms for the Registration of Securities on Exchanges

During the past year, the Commission added three forms to the initial series of forms for registration of securities on national securities exchanges, i. e., Form 22, For Issuers Reorganized in Insolvency Proceedings or which have Succeeded to a Person in Insolvency Proceedings; Form 23, For Successor Issuers; and Form 24, For Bank Holding Companies. A form (Form 8-C) has also been adopted to facilitate the registration of securities on additional exchanges.<sup>13</sup> In connection with the promulgation of these forms, previously existing exemptions with respect to such issuers have in large part been repealed.

To the series of forms for annual reports, and as companion forms to the forms for registration previously adopted, the Commission has added four annual report forms, i. e., Form 18-K, For Foreign Governments and Political Subdivisions Thereof; Form 19-K, For American Certificates Against Foreign Issuers and for the Underlying Securities; Form 20-K, For Securities other than Bonds of Foreign Private Issuers; and Form 21-K, For Bonds of Foreign Private Issuers.

To supplement the information required in the annual reports and to provide a mechanism for making important events known to investors with as little delay as possible, a new form (Form 8-K) has been adopted for reporting shortly after the close of each month certain important events occurring during the month within which the specified events occur. In addition, the problem of obtaining financial information more frequently than once each year is being studied to determine whether a form for quarterly reports of listed companies should be adopted.

At the present time, there is in progress a complete revision of the existing forms with a view to coordination of their requirements with each other and with the requirements of forms for registration under the Securities Act of 1933. It is anticipated that such revision will result in the elimination of a number of the existing forms by combination into more general categories.

<sup>12</sup> Includes some duplication inasmuch as some securities are admitted to unlisted trading privileges on more than one registered exchange.

Statistics of Securities Registered or Exempt from Registration on Exchanges

The Commission is now engaged in the development of a new program for the collection and analysis of significant data relating to all phases of exchange trading. It is expected that the data yielded by this new program will be both more comprehensive and more significant than the data which have been accumulated to date. Further reference to this new program will be made below.

Certain interesting data concerning securities registered or exempt from registration upon exchanges follow:

Sales of securities on registered exchanges for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, amounted to $28,052,500,834, increasing 9.1 per cent over sales in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1936. Stock sales totalled $24,581,956,285, a figure 11.8 per cent higher than that of the preceding year, and bond sales were valued at $3,470,144,794, declining 6.5 per cent from the comparable figure in the preceding year.

Shares of stock sold totalled 945,164,509, 1.8 per cent less than the total a year earlier, while the principal amount of bond sales declined 9.9 per cent to $4,307,104,255.

These figures indicate that the average price per share of stock sold and the average price per hundred dollars of principal amount of bonds sold both increased.

The two leading New York exchanges accounted for 95.8 % of sales on all registered exchanges; 95.3 per cent of stock sales and 99.8 per cent of bond sales.

The Commission, in addition to continuing its regular monthly releases on the value and volume of trading on securities exchanges, has instituted, in the past year, several series of releases making available to the public for the first time regular data on the trading of various groups on the two leading New York exchanges.

In accordance with the program embodied in its report to Congress on the Feasibility and Advisability of the Complete Segregation of the Functions of Broker and Dealer, the Commission commenced in October 1936 to issue weekly releases showing daily the purchases and sales for their own account of several groups of members on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange. A summary of these releases, with corrections as received from the exchanges, was made available in June 1937 at the public reference rooms of the Commission's Washington office and principal regional offices. Through the weekly releases and the annual summary, there is now available to the public a continuous record of members' trading on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange since March 1936.

In June 1937, the Commission commenced to release to the public figures on odd-lot trading. There is made available daily at the Washington office figures showing for the second day preceding that of the release the number of shares purchased and the number of shares sold in odd-lots by odd-lot dealers and specialists on the New York Stock Exchange, together with the number of orders involved in such trades. Weekly summaries of these figures, as corrected by more complete reports from the odd-lot dealers and expanded to include the value of daily purchases and sales in odd-lots, are publicly distributed in release form.

These two series enable the investing public to follow in some detail and with reasonable dispatch the extent and the direction of two important sections of total trading on the two largest stock exchanges; purchases and sales by members of the exchanges and transactions in small amounts (i. e., in amounts of less than full lots) which may be assumed to reflect purchases and sales by smaller traders. During the six-month period ending June 30, 1937, member trading has represented about 21% and odd-lot trading about 12% of total exchange trading (i. e., total purchases and sales both in round lots and odd-lots). The two new series, therefore, provide information concerning one third of the total stock exchange trading.

In addition to statistical information on the securities markets made available through public releases, the Commission has regularly collected from a number of member houses of the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange data on margin accounts, commission orders received and executed, orders on specialists' books and orders executed for account of foreign customers. Most of these series are still in an experimental stage, but have provided the Commission with current information valuable in its administration of the Securities Exchange Act. The Commission has been gratified by the ready cooperation of the member houses in furnishing the basic material for these statistics.

During the year, the Commission instituted proceedings to determine whether to suspend for a period not exceeding twelve months or to withdraw the registration of securities of seven companies listed on national securities exchanges. In general, these proceedings were based upon the failure of the registrants to conform to the requirements of certain sections of the Act, and the Rules and Regulations thereunder. At the close of the fiscal year, four of these proceedings had been terminated, two by entry of an order by the Commission directing the withdrawal of the securities registered on such national securities exchange, and two by dismissing the proceedings in view of the satisfactory fulfillment of the requirements by the registrant company, and three were pending.

Annual reports on Forms 18-K, 19-K, 20-K, and 21-K are due to be filed on or before September 30, 1937 by 155 foreign issuers having securities registered on a national securities exchange. As the securities of such issuers were exempt from registration until May 15, 1936, this will represent the initial filing of annual reports by foreign issuers. As of June 30, 1937, eight such reports were filed with the Commission.

The following table indicates the number of applications and reports filed in connection with the listing of securities on exchanges during the period from July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937:

New applications on basic forms and supplemental applications.....	913
New applications on provisional Form 7.....	40
Applications for "when issued" trading in unissued warrants.....	69
Applications for "when issued" trading in unissued securities other than warrants.....	6
Statements in respect of exemption of issued warrants.....	101
Section 13 reports.....	8,931

In addition, 3,941 amendments to these applications and reports were received.

The following table indicates the total number of securities, classified as to stocks and bonds and as to the basis for admission to dealing on all exchanges as of June 30, 1936 and June 30, 1937. The number of shares and the principal amount of bonds are shown for securities other than those admitted to unlisted trading privileges. Duplications within identical bases for admission to dealing have been eliminated, e. g., where the same security is registered on more than one exchange, the security is counted only once. (Securities exempted under Section 3 (a) (12) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 are not shown).

REGISTRATION OF BROKERS AND DEALERS TRANSACTING BUSINESS IN OVER-THE-COUNTER MARKETS

Section 15 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended on May 27, 1936, preserved all registrations of brokers and dealers which were in effect on the enactment date without the necessity of filing new applications for registration on the part of those so registered. Subsequent registrations were continued in substantially the same manner as prior to the amendment.

The statistics with reference to the registration of brokers and dealers under Section 15 of the Act are as follows:

* Of 6 registrations suspended prior to May 28, 1936, 2 were suspended on request of the registrants, and they were permitted to withdraw their first applications upon the filing of new applications under Section 15 as amended. The other 4 suspensions are covered in Footnote 5.

* An order of denial entered on December 26, 1935, was vacated after the close of the fiscal year 1936.

* Of these 17, 13 applicants failed to bring their applications under the amended Act and they were therefore cancelled by operation of the amendment. Four registrations, under suspension on the effective date of the amendment, were automatically eliminated by operation of the amendment.

REGISTRATION OF PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANIES

Registration of a public utility holding company, pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, is accomplished by filing with the Commission a notification of registration and, later, a registration statement.

During the fiscal year, the Commission adopted a permanent form for notification of registration (Form U5A) and a form for the registration statement (Form U5B). In requiring the completion of statements on this latter form (Form U5B), the Commission made effective one of the vital provisions of the law.

Congress, by incorporating in the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 the provisions of Sections 4 and 5, realized that the informatory process was fundamental to the positive powers of regulation established in other parts of the Act. Sections 4 and 5 require that interstate utility holding company systems disclose complete financial and operating information as well as management interests. Since many abuses enumerated in Section 1 of the Act have sprung from the inaccessibility and unavailability of information about the holding company, its interests and activities, the publicity thus required will prove a great deterrent of future financial chicanery and abuse.

Although the registration provisions were established as the means whereby other parts of the law were made effective, they were designed to serve a necessary purpose in and by themselves, independent of other parts of the Act. They represent an important supplement to the regulations in the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in providing protection, through disclosure, to investors, consumers, and the general public.

To provide full information regarding interstate holding company systems a comprehensive form was required. Perhaps the most essential requirement contained in Form U5B is that the registrant submit, as part of the exhibits, consolidating balance sheet, income and surplus statements. The consolidating type of statement reveals the financial interrelationships within a given system since it requires that the individual statements of the registrant and each subsidiary which is customarily consolidated shall be set forth separately, with explanations of the intercompany eliminations made by the accountants in compiling the consolidated statement.

In addition to these consolidating statements which in themselves provide a wealth of important financial data not generally available in the past, certain pertinent information is required, relating to specific subjects of which the following are representative: (except where noted, the various required data pertaining to these general subjects must be furnished for both the registrant and its subsidiary companies) (1) general character of business; (2) analysis of balance sheet accounts including funded debt, capital stock and property; (3) revaluations of property; (4) intercompany holdings of securities and evidences of indebtedness issued by companies within the system; (5) investments in outside holding companies and public utility companies; (6) interstate sales of electric energy and gas; (7) important leases; (8) important financing during the past five years; (9) distribution of capital stock of the registrant; (10) officers' and directors' other business affiliations, including connections with financial institutions; (11) loans to officers and directors; (12) interests of officers and directors in contracts to which the registrant or subsidiaries are parties; (13) compensation to officers, directors and highly-paid employees; (14) important sales, service, construction and other contracts; and (15) litigation relating to franchises, orders of a State Commission or other governmental agency and other important matters.

As exhibits, in addition to the consolidating statements referred to above, certain additional material is required. These include, among other things, maps showing the areas in which electric and gas service are furnished and maps showing the nature and location of various types of electric and gas property, such as generating plants, transmission systems, points of interconnection with all other systems, and similar or related material.

The illumination of the facts required by Form U5B should be a potent influence in eradicating serious abuses which exist in some systems, and in dispelling suspicions which may unjustly be prevalent regarding the activities in other systems.

Upon filing with the Commission, the registration statements are thoroughly examined for the purpose of determining compliance with the Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. When the examination discloses the existence of deficiencies, the registrant is so advised. Deficiencies in the statements may be corrected by the registrant filing the necessary amendments. Amendments filed with the Commission are also examined.

Although it is difficult to accurately determine the total number of holding companies subject to regulation under the Act, or the volume of assets which they control, it is estimated that at the present time somewhat less than 45% of the total number of companies subject to the Act are registered. However, the assets controlled by these registered companies probably constitute not more than 30% of the total assets of the companies subject to the Act.

As of June 30, 1936, there were sixty-five holding companies registered under the Act. During the year ended June 30, 1937, there occurred a net increase of twenty-one companies, bringing the total number of registered holding companies to eighty-six. Included in the companies which registered during the last fiscal year were such large systems as The North American Company, American Water Works and Electric Company, Inc., and American Light and Traction Company.

The eighty-six holding companies which were registered at June 30, 1937, comprise the following:

EXEMPTIONS FROM REGISTRATION UNDER THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

Applications for exemptions from registration requirements under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 are filed with the Commission pursuant to specific sections of the Act which exempt by rule or order of the Commission holding companies of certain specified types and holding companies which meet certain specified requirements.

The requirements as to the various kinds of applications for exemption under Sections 2 and 3 of the Act are extremely flexible. The Commission has adopted rules specifying the minimum information which was thought relevant in the ordinary situation, but has suggested that each applicant omit irrelevant data and furnish any additional information which is pertinent to the particular case, reserving the right on the part of the Commission to call for any other data that might be necessary.

As of June 30, 1937, 399 applications for exemption of holding companies and for orders declaring companies not to be holding companies or declaring companies not to be electric or gas utilities had been received. Twenty-four of these applications were received during the past year. Of these 399 applications, there were 87 granted exemption, 172 withdrawals, and 140 pending at the close of the fiscal year.

RULES, REGULATIONS, AND FORMS UNDER THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

During the year ended June 30, 1937, the Commission adopted nine new rules, while sixteen rules were amended to a greater or lesser degree. In addition to adopting four new forms, the Commission also adopted the "Uniform System of Accounts for Public Utility Holding Companies".

The new rules adopted during the year include the following:

Rule 3B-2 exempts public utility companies operating within the United States from duties and obligations as holding companies under the Act if such companies would be considered holding companies under the Act solely because of a foreign public-utility subsidiary company operating in Mexico or Canada.

Rule 3D-6 exempts from the provisions of Section 6 (a) the issue of initial shares of a company in process of organization, if all such shares having a par, stated, or declared value not exceeding $10,000 are acquired for cash by a single company.

Rule 5A-3 prescribes the use of Form U5A for notification of registration.

Rule 5B-1 prescribes the use of Form U5B for registration statements.

Rule 6B-1 prescribes the use of Form U6B-1 for applications for exemption from Section 6 (a) of the issue and sale of securities, the proceeds from which are to be used to finance the business of the applicant and which have been expressly authorized by the State commission of the State in which the applicant is organized and doing business.

Rule 12-C-2 provides that no dividend shall be declared or paid out of capital or unearned surplus, except upon application to and approval by order of the Commission.

Rule 13-60 requires the filing of annual reports by mutual and subsidiary service companies on Form U-13-60.

Rule 15-10 prescribes the use of the Uniform System of Accounts for Public Utility Holding Companies which do not own and operate public utility or other property.

Rule 17C-12 grants to newly registered holding companies and their subsidiary companies exemption until September 1, 1937, from the provisions of Section 17 (c), with reference to financial connections of directors and officers, which existed on August 26, 1936.

Of the many amendments to existing rules adopted during the year, the most far-reaching and important were to Rule 9C-3, dealing with exemptions from the requirement to obtain approval of the Commission as to certain acquisitions of securities. Certain new exemptions were included, namely, the acquisition of securities which have been issued in accordance with Rule 3D-6 and those which have been acquired in the exercise of preemptive rights. In this connection, Rule 14-1, providing for quarterly reports to the Commission on such acquisitions, redemptions and retirements of securities, was amended to eliminate the necessity for filing duplicate reports under certain circumstances.

Other amendments included amendments to Rule 3, regarding applications for exemption under Sections 2 or 3 of the Act; Rule 9A2-2, permitting brokers, dealers, or underwriters to acquire securities of a public-utility company in certain circumstances; Rule 13-3, exempting newly registered holding companies from the provisions of Section 13 for a period of thirty days; Rule 17C-3, exempting from the provisions of Section 17 (c) officers or directors of financial institutions who are acting as directors of a registered holding company or subsidiary on express approval by a Federal Court.

Forms have been promulgated as follows:

(1) Form U5A—Notification of Registration pursuant to Section 5 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

(2) Form U5B—Registration Statement, pursuant to Section 5 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

(3) Form U6B-1—Application by a subsidiary of a registered holding company, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for exemption of securities expressly authorized by a State commission.

(4) Form U-13-60—Annual Report of Mutual and Subsidiary Service Companies, pursuant to Section 13 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

(5) The Uniform System of Accounts for Public Utility Holding Companies, prescribing a system of accounts, pursuant to Section 15 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

Each form has presented a separate problem in the light of the particular provisions of the Act involved and the character of the information required. The Commission has attempted to make the forms simple, readily understandable and not unnecessarily burdensome to the industry, yet at the same time, comprehensive enough to elicit the requisite information.

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS FOR PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANIES

Pursuant to Section 15 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, the Commission, on August 8, 1936, adopted the "Uniform System of Accounts for Public Utility Holding Companies". This system became effective January 1, 1937, as to those registered holding companies for which the system was designed.

This system of accounts is applicable to public utility holding companies which derive practically all their income from dividends and interest on investments in other companies. It was not designed to meet fully the requirements of those holding companies which derive a portion of their income from public utility or other physical property of similar character directly owned and operated by them.

It was the aim of the Commission to provide a system of accounts which would not impose burdensome requirements upon the companies, but sufficiently comprehensive to provide information essential in the administration of the Act. In formulating the system, certain matters had to be dealt with respecting which diverse accounting practices were being followed. It is not anticipated, however, that the companies will be faced with any serious problem in conforming their accounting practices to the uniform methods prescribed by the system.

Financial data for public utility holding companies, thus compiled for the first time on a uniform basis, will be of material assistance to investors, as well as to this Commission and to State regulatory commissions in protecting the interests of consumers and investors.

In the preparation of this system of accounts, the Commission invited the cooperation of accounting officers of public utility holding companies and of the American Institute of Accountants. Numerous conferences were held with representatives of the foregoing, at which extended discussions were had upon various matters involved. Upon completion of a tentative draft of the system, copies were distributed to holding companies and others inviting comments, suggestions and criticism in connection therewith. The replies received in response to this invitation were given careful consideration, and as a result, a number of modifications, amendments, and changes suggested were embodied in the system as finally adopted.

ISSUANCE OF SECURITIES BY REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANIES

One of the important provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 relates to control over the issuance of securities. During the fiscal year just ended, the Commission received 95 applications and declarations under Sections 6 (b) and 7 relating to the issuance of securities by registered holding companies and their subsidiaries. Prior to July 1, 1936, 24 applications and declarations had been received, making a total of 119 received since the Act became effective. Of these, 87 have been approved, 11 withdrawn, and the balance of 21 were still pending on June 30, 1937.

The eighty-seven applications and declarations which have been approved by the Commission related to the issuance of over $750,000,000<sup>14</sup> of securities, while the 11 withdrawals covered securities aggregating almost $90,000,000. Applications and declarations pending on June 30, 1937 related to securities amounting to over <sup>14</sup> Of this amount about $500,000,000 were approved under Sec. 7 and the balance of $250,000,000 under Sec. 6 (b).

$225,000,000. Thus the issuance of well over $1,000,000,000 of securities has been covered by applications and declarations filed with the Commission under this Act.

A very large proportion of the approved security issues were those of subsidiary operating companies of registered holding companies which were issued in refinancing outstanding securities with securities having smaller fixed charges. Representatives of companies appearing in these cases have maintained before the Commission that the resultant savings in the course of time should materially benefit consumers of these companies. Many of these issues had been authorized previously by State commissions. In certain instances, the Commission made suggestions which were adopted by the local commissions, which it is hoped resulted in improved security issues. In certain other instances where, because of the lack of local commission control, the initial responsibility lay with this Commission, it has likewise endeavored to improve the character of securities which were issued.

ACQUISITION OF SECURITIES, UTILITY ASSETS AND OTHER INTERESTS BY REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANIES OR THEIR SUBSIDIARIES

The Commission received, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, 56 applications requesting approval of the acquisition of securities and assets under Section 10 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. Since the effective date of the Act, 76 such applications had been received. Of these 76 applications, 53 were approved, 8 were withdrawn or dismissed, and 15 were pending on June 30, 1937.

The following statistics indicate the number of applications received, the number of applications approved, the number of applications withdrawn or dismissed, and the number of applications pending as of June 30, 1937:

	Number of applications received	Number of applications approved	Number of applications withdrawn or dismissed	Number of applications pending, close of fiscal year
To June 30, 1936.....	20	15	4	1
July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937.....	56	38	4	15

The preponderance of these applications related to the acquisition of securities, with 62 in this category compared with 14 applications for approval of the acquisition of utility assets or interest in a business.

Acquisition of securities and assets approved under these applications in many instances have constituted important steps in the simplification of holding companies in voluntary compliance with the purposes of Section 11.

STATEMENTS REQUIRED PURSUANT TO SECTION 12 (i) OF THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

During the past year, 25 reports on Form U-12 (i)-1 were filed with the Commission pursuant to Section 12 (i) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. This section of the Act requires any person employed or retained by any registered holding company, or by any subsidiary company thereof, who presents, advocates, or opposes any matter affecting any registered holding company or any subsidiary company thereof before the Congress, or any member or committee of Congress, or before the Securities and Exchange Commission or the Federal Power Commission or any member, officer, or employee of either such Commission, to file a statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The information required in this statement covers the subject matter in respect of which a person is retained or employed, the nature and character of his retainer or employment, and the amount of compensation received or to be received, directly or indirectly, in connection therewith.

CONTROL OF SERVICE COMPANIES

Following the adoption on May 12, 1936 of a "Uniform System of Accounts For Mutual Service Companies and Subsidiary Service Companies", the Commission, during the year, adopted Form U-13-60 as the form of annual report to be submitted to the Commission by such companies.

The principal requirements of the report embrace the following: a balance sheet statement as of the close of the year with supporting schedules; a statement of revenues and expenses classified in accordance with the prescribed accounts, together with detailed analyses of the more important classes; and various schedules to show the allocations made of charges for service, including a schedule of the amount of service charges billed to associated companies or other customers.

The purpose of this report is to secure information with respect to the financial condition of service companies and the charges made by them to associate companies and others in the performance of service, sales, or construction contracts. As a result of the information obtained, it is expected that the Commission will be in a position to adequately safeguard the interests of consumers and investors with respect to the operations of mutual service companies and subsidiary service companies without placing any undue burden on any such company with respect to the necessity of disclosing in full its methods and means of operations.

Furthermore, under the uniform system of accounts for service companies, detailed information with reference to the costs of furnishing services are made available for the first time to local regulatory bodies and should be of value to them in determining the fairness of service charges paid by operating companies under their jurisdictions.

A report on Form U-13-60 covering the calendar year must be filed by each mutual service company or subsidiary service company on or before the first day of April, following the close of the year for which the report is made. The form of this annual report is based upon the requirements of the uniform system of accounts for such service companies. As this system of accounts became effective August 1, 1936, the first of the annual reports covered the five months period ended December 31, 1936.

During the past year, 3 applications were filed for approval of mutual service companies and 13 applications were filed for approval of subsidiary service companies. All of the applications in the first category have been approved, while in the second group 11 have been approved, one withdrawn, and one was pending on June 30, 1937.

VOLUNTARY COMPLIANCE WITH THE PURPOSES OF SECTION 11 OF THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935 BY REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANIES AND SUBSIDIARIES

Since the passage of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, a number of applications have been received and granted by the Commission, which involved simplification of corporate structures and indicated the desire of the applicant to comply with the provisions embodied in Section 11 of the Act.

Transformation of Holding Companies Into Operating Companies by Acquisition of the Utility Assets of Subsidiaries

There have been two outstanding examples of the type of simplification in which registered holding companies acquired the utility assets of their operating subsidiaries and thereby became entitled to the exemption provided for under Section 5 (d).

The Nevada-California Electric Corporation, a Delaware corporation, formerly owned three electric utility operating companies, namely,

The Nevada-California Power Company, a Wyoming corporation
The Southern Sierras Power Company, a Wyoming corporation
Yuma Utilities Company, an Arizona corporation

All the outstanding securities of these three utility subsidiary companies were owned by The Nevada-California Electric Corporation. The properties of such subsidiaries constituted and were operated as a single interconnected system for the generation, transmission and distribution of electric energy in the States of California, Nevada and Arizona.

On April 16, 1936, the Commission approved the acquisition by The Nevada-California Electric Corporation of all the assets of the subsidiary companies above named. Upon the acquisition of such assets, The Nevada-California Electric Corporation surrendered all their outstanding securities of each of the subsidiary companies for cancellation and assumed their other obligations and liabilities.

As a result of the foregoing transaction, The Nevada-California Electric Corporation ceased to be a holding company and an order to that effect was issued by the Commission pursuant to Section 5 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, on December 10, 1936.

A further simplification of the corporate structure of The Nevada-California Electric Corporation was achieved by its acquisition of the properties of two of its non-utility subsidiaries, in exchange for which it surrendered all the outstanding securities of such subsidiaries. This transaction was likewise approved by the Commission, pursuant to Section 9 (a) of the Act.

On March 13, 1936, the Commission issued an order pursuant to Section 9 (a) of the Act, approving the acquisition by the Montana-Dakota Utilities Co., a Delaware corporation, which was both a registered holding company and an operating company, of the utility assets or any other interest in business of the following of its public utility subsidiary companies, subject to the funded debt and other liabilities of such subsidiaries:

Montana-Dakota Power Company, a Delaware corporation, and Montana Cities Gas Company, a Delaware corporation.

The Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. supplies natural gas to various communities in western North and South Dakota, eastern and northern Montana, and north-central Wyoming. The properties acquired from its two subsidiary companies are located in and serve the same general territory.

The three corporations named above were merged into a single corporation, the surviving corporation being the Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. The outstanding preferred and common stocks of the subsidiary companies held by the public were acquired by the Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. through exchange for its own securities. The capital stocks of subsidiaries thus acquired, together with such capital stocks already held by the Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. were cancelled.

The Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. also disposed of its holdings of the entire capital stock of Missoula Gas and Coke Company, another of its public utility subsidiaries.

As a result of the foregoing transaction, Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. ceased to be a holding company and an order to that effect, pursuant to Section 5 (d) of the Act, was issued by the Commission on March 29, 1936.

Exchange of Control of Properties for the Purpose of Creating Integrated Public Utility Systems

The Commission had occasion to approve two applications which involved the exchange by two holding company systems of minority interests in a group of operating companies for control of two utility companies. The purpose of these transactions was the ultimate elimination of a number of subsidiary holding companies and the creation of an integrated public utility system.

On March 19, 1937, the Commission, pursuant to Section 9 (a) of the Act, approved the acquisition by Massachusetts Utilities Associates of the outstanding minority interests in 16 of its existing subsidiary companies from New England Gas and Electric Association, in exchange for securities of Plymouth County Electric Company (representing 91.73% of voting control) and of Plymouth Gas Light Company (representing 84.04% of the voting control).

Massachusetts Utilities Associates, a subsidiary company of New England Power Association, both of which are registered holding companies, is a Massachusetts voluntary association. Massachusetts Utilities Associates has four subsidiary holding companies, and controls, directly or indirectly, 29 public utility companies, all of which operate in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The electric properties of the subsidiaries of Massachusetts Utilities Associates, in which New England Gas and Electric Association owned a minority interest, together with other electric properties controlled by Massachusetts Utilities Associates and New England Power Association, form an interconnected system which serves generally contiguous areas. Two gas utility companies which were included in the above mentioned 16 companies likewise operate in the area served by subsidiaries of the New England Power Association.

The acquisition of the minority interests in these operating companies will facilitate the ultimate elimination of four subsidiary holding companies of Massachusetts Utilities Associates, and, therefore, result in the simplification of the corporate structure of the New England Power Association system.

New England Gas and Electric Association is a Massachusetts voluntary association, and an affiliate of a number of public utility companies, among which is Associated Gas and Electric Company.

Plymouth County Electric Company and Plymouth Gas Light Company, the companies acquired by New England Gas and Electric Association, are Massachusetts corporations and operate in the same area in the State of Massachusetts. The territory served by Plymouth County Electric Company is located between areas served by New Bedford Gas & Edison Light Company and Cape & Vineyard Electric Company, existing subsidiaries of New England Gas and Electric Association, which are physically interconnected.

Simplification of Corporate Structure of Holding Company Systems by Merger of Subsidiaries Operating in the Same Area

There is one outstanding example of the type of transaction by which the corporate structure of a holding company system was simplified through a merger of a number of subsidiary companies into one operating company.

In orders dated May 24, May 27 and June 25, 1937, the Commission approved certain declarations and applications as a result of which five subsidiary companies of the Union Electric Light and Power Company (Missouri) were reorganized and merged into one company whose name was changed to Union Electric Company of Illinois. These five companies, all Illinois corporations, were as follows:

East St. Louis Light & Power Co.—Surviving company
Union Electric Light and Power Company of Illinois
Alton Light & Power Co.
Alton Gas Company
Power Operating Company

The above companies are public utility companies operating in and around Alton and East St. Louis, Illinois. Power Operating Company owned no properties of its own, but leased its power generating facilities from Union Electric Light and Power Company of Illinois and sold electric energy at wholesale to Union Electric Light and Power Company (Missouri), to East St. Louis Light and Power Company and to Illinois-Iowa Power Corporation.

The parent company of the five merged companies was Union Electric Light and Power Company (Missouri), a subsidiary of the North American Edison Company, which in turn is a subsidiary of the North American Company, both registered holding companies.

Four of the five merged companies had securities outstanding with the public. Union Electric Light and Power Company (Missouri) acquired all the common stock and the first mortgage bonds of the new company so that only two small issues of underlying non-callable bonds remain outstanding in the hands of the public. The first mortgage bonds of Union Electric Company of Illinois were pledged under a new large issue of first mortgage and collateral trust bonds of Union Electric Light and Power Company (Missouri).

The result of these transactions, therefore, was the reduction of the number of subsidiaries in the North American Company system by four and a very substantial simplification in the capital structure of its Missouri and Illinois subsidiaries.

COMMISSION REPORTS ON REORGANIZATION PLANS

Section 11 (g) of the Act requires the Commission to make reports on plans of reorganization of registered holding companies or their subsidiaries. Any person soliciting proxies or other authorizations in connection with a plan must accompany or precede such solicitation with a copy of the Commission's report. This section is applicable not only to court reorganization proceedings, but to readjustment plans affecting stockholders alone and consummated through their vote. Two large companies whose securities are widely held, have carried through stock readjustment plans and have obtained and submitted to their security holders reports of the Commission in connection with such plans.

One of the companies which carried through such a stock readjustment plan is Illinois Power & Light Corporation, all of whose common stock was held by its parent, North American Company. The company also had outstanding a large amount of publicly held preferred stock on which there were substantial accumulations of unpaid dividends. A plan was proposed to the preferred stockholders by the company and it may fairly be assumed that it represented the wishes of the parent company which was the sole owner of the common stock. The plan offered to preferred stockholders 60% of the common stock equity in return for a reduction in the dividend rate on the preferred stock and a funding of accumulated dividends into dividend arrears certificates. The Commission's report attempted to make clear to preferred stockholders the fact that the interest of the management proposing the plan was necessarily adverse to theirs and to set forth the considerations which would be relevant to appraise the fairness of the proposal made to them by the management. The application was filed with the Commission on March 1, 1937 and the plan was formally approved by the requisite vote of the company's stockholders on April 30, 1937.

The other plan presented to the Commission was that of the International Paper & Power Company, which presented questions on which there was a division of opinion on the part of the Commission, both as to its jurisdiction in the matter and as to the merits of the plan.

The division of opinion as to jurisdiction arose out of the circumstance that the company had not registered but was claiming the status of temporary exemption pending disposition by the Commission of an application for exemption under Section 3. It was not considered feasible to dispose of the exemption application immediately. The company desired, however, without delay to propose to its stockholders a plan calling for reclassification of its outstanding stock into new securities, including preferred stock, convertible into common, and option warrants to purchase common stock. The company wished to avoid the risk of being unable to fulfill its commitments with respect to future issues of common stock in the event of termination of its existing status as to exemption prior to conversion of all the preferred stock and exercise of all the purchase warrants and applied for an order which would have the effect of exempting such future issues.

The application also submitted all information which would have been required from a registered company and requested a report on the plan in the manner provided in Section 11 (g).

The Commission rendered an opinion holding that it had jurisdiction and at the same time made the report on the plan. One Commissioner wrote a separate concurring opinion agreeing that the Commission should make a report on the plan but pointing out some features of the new securities which, in his opinion, were objectionable. Another Commissioner, in a dissenting opinion, denied the jurisdiction of the Commission to make the report and in certain respects disagreed with the report as made. No order was entered pursuant to the request for exemption until after the Commission was advised of the action taken by shareholders in voting to assent to the plan. Thereafter the Commission entered an order exempting from the Act the shares of common stock to be issued upon conversion of preferred stock and exercise of warrants. The Commissioner who had previously dissented did not participate in this and the Commissioner who had previously written the separate concurring opinion dissented because of the objections stated in such concurring opinion to some features of the new securities.<sup>15</sup>

GENERAL POLICIES WITH RESPECT TO ADMINISTRATION OF PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT

In spite of pending litigation which has resulted in the failure of a substantial proportion of the holding companies to register under the Act, a sufficient number of companies have registered to provide exercise by the Commission of practically all important regulatory functions. Under Section 11 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, it will be the duty of the Commission as soon as practicable after January 1, 1938, to take steps looking toward the simplification and integration of public utility holding company systems. The Commission has been preparing itself for the discharge of these duties, both by extensive research into these problems and by actual experience in working with companies which have voluntarily simplified their corporate structures.

<sup>15</sup> A common stockholder who had appeared before the Commission in opposition to the plan applied for a rehearing on September 9, 1937. This application was denied, under date of October 12th. This stockholder has filed a petition seeking review of the Commission's order by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit.

The Commission continues to administer this law to the end that abuses which brought about its passage will not recur. But in carrying out this program it endeavors to impose no more than a minimum of necessary restrictions on the industry. The importance of active cooperation by utility holding companies in expediting the changes required under Section 11 and other sections of the law are clearly understood, and the Commission's general policy is designed to develop a spirit of cooperation by encouraging registered holding companies to initiate constructive policies wherever possible.

COMPLAINTS, INFORMAL AND FORMAL INVESTIGATIONS

The Commission receives thousands of letters annually complaining of fraudulent or other illegal activities by persons engaged in the sale of securities. While most of such letters are sent by members of the general public, many are likewise sent by State Securities Commissions, State and Federal officials, and voluntary agencies such as Better Business Bureaus and Chambers of Commerce.

If the information thus brought to the Commission's notice by complaint, or information independently obtained by the Commission from its own surveillance of trading activities and examination of registration statements, indicated a substantial possibility of a violation of any of the Acts administered by the Commission, it was handled as a complaint case, and the facts thereof were investigated informally. During the past year 678 new complaint cases were set up.

If an informal investigation disclosed no violation of the legislation administered by the Commission, or if sufficient facts did not appear to warrant a belief that there had been a violation, the case was closed at that point and no further action was taken by the Commission.

If, as a result of the informal investigation, sufficient facts were developed to warrant the institution of civil or criminal proceedings, appropriate action along those lines was immediately taken. Where enough facts were not elicited in the course of an informal investigation to merit immediate court proceedings, but substantial basis existed for the belief that the legislation administered by the Commission had in some respect been violated, a formal order for investigation was entered by the Commission pursuant to the powers conferred upon it under Sections 19 and 20 of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These formal orders empowered designated officers of the Commission to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records which were relevant or material to the inquiry. If facts indicating a violation of any of the Acts administered by the Commission were discovered in a formal investigation, such action as was deemed most fitting to the circumstances was thereafter undertaken. But if the facts as developed in the formal investigation indicated that no violation had taken place, the case was closed.

During the past year formal orders were issued by the Commission in 87 cases. At the close of the preceding fiscal year 185 such investigations were pending, resulting in a total of 272 such investigations which were pursued by the Commission during the past year. Of the 272 cases in which formal investigations were undertaken, 123 are pending and 149 were concluded.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

Many phases of the quasi-judicial work of the Commission necessitate the holding of public hearings. The following statistics indicate the number of orders entered for public hearings and the number of public hearings held from July 1, 1935 to June 30, 1937.

	Orders for Public Hearings		Public Hearings Held
	July 1, 1935 to June 30, 1936	July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937	July 1, 1935 to June 30, 1936	July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937

* Exclusive of investment trust study.

The following represent a few of the situations in which public hearings are held by the Commission:

(a) Under the Securities Act of 1933, hearings are held in connection with the registration of securities in order to determine whether stop or refusal orders suspending the effectiveness of registration statements should be entered by the Commission.

(b) Under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, hearings are held relating to registrations of brokers and dealers, withdrawal and striking from listing and registration of securities listed or registered on national securities exchanges; and suspension of members of exchanges for violations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

(c) Under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, hearings are held in connection with the acquisition of securities and assets, the issuance of securities, exemptions, and other matters.

LITIGATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 AND THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, 86 civil proceedings were initiated with respect to the enforcement of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, bringing the total of such suits since the creation of the Commission to 209. The large majority of these proceedings have been injunctive suits instituted by the Commission to enjoin violations of Sections 5 and 17 of the Securities Act and Section 9 of the Securities Exchange Act. The remainder have included suits to enjoin enforcement of the Securities Act and the Securities Exchange Act, suits to enforce subpoenas issued by the Commission, and petitions for review of the Commission's determination that information for which application was made for confidential treatment, pursuant to Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act, be made public. In accordance with the provisions of Section 20 (b) of the Securities Act and Section 21 (e) of the Securities Exchange Act, the Commission has also referred a number of cases to the Attorney General for criminal prosecution. The status of the cases filed or pending during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, is given in the tables in Appendix VI, and the more important of these cases are there discussed in detail.

Suits to Enforce Subpenas

The principal defendants in suits to enforce subpoenas issued by the Commission filed or pending during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, grouped according to the district in which they were filed, are as follows:

District of Columbia.....	The Krystal Chemical Co., Inc., et al.
Massachusetts.....	National Short Term Securities Corporation, et al.
Western District of Oklahoma.....	Verser-Clay Co., et al.
Western District of Pennsylvania.....	A. C. Smith.
Northern District of Tennessee.....	J. Edward Mills, et al.

Petitions for Review of Commission's Determination on Applications For Confidential Treatment

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, 31 petitions were filed or pending in 7 Circuit Courts of Appeal and in the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia for review of determinations made by the Commission upon application for confidential treatment of material filed with it, that public disclosure of this material was in the public interest. As of June 30, 1937, the Courts had disposed of none of these petitions on the merits. Table X of Appendix VI indicates the name of the company, the date of the filing of the petition, the circuit within which filed, and the status of the case as of June 30, 1937.

References to The Attorney General For Criminal Prosecution

During the fiscal year, 42 cases were referred to the Attorney General for criminal prosecution, bringing the total so referred to 112. Most of these references followed formal investigations conducted by the Commission. Of the 112 cases referred, indictments containing counts charging violations of the Securities Act or conspiracy to violate the Securities Act were returned in 54 cases, 21 of such indictments having been returned during the past fiscal year. During the same period, indictments charging violations of the Securities Exchange Act were returned in 3 cases.

Thirty of the cases in which violations of the Securities Act were charged have been tried, and 99 individuals have been convicted. Eighty-seven of these individuals were given jail sentences ranging from 5 days to 17 years, and were fined from $50 to $15,000; 9 received suspended sentences; 2 are awaiting sentences; and 1 has been placed on probation. The cases in which indictments were returned or pending during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, are listed and briefly described in Table VI of Appendix VI, and the more important are there discussed in some detail.

LITIGATION UNDER THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

Litigation under the Public Utility Holding Company Act has consisted almost wholly of actions to determine the validity of that Act. Since its enactment, a total of 58 suits challenging the constitutionality of this Act have been brought. These suits may be classified into three groups according to the manner in which they have arisen: (1) suits by holding companies to enjoin enforcement of the Act; (2) petitions by trustees of holding companies in bankruptcy seeking determinations that the Act is unconstitutional; and (3) stockholders' suits seeking similar decisions. Two suits to enjoin the investigation of investment trusts conducted by the Commission pursuant to Section 30 of that Act were begun during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937. These cases are discussed in detail in Part III of Appendix VI.

Suits by Holding Companies to Enjoin Enforcement

Thirty-nine of the 44 suits brought by holding companies to enjoin enforcement of the Holding Company Act of 1935 were pending during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937. This number is exclusive of the suit brought by the Commission in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York against the Electric Bond & Share Company and its principal intermediate holding companies (Securities and Exchange Commission v. Electric Bond and Share Company), in which defendants filed a cross bill and counter-claim seeking an injunction against enforcement and a declaratory judgment that the Act was unconstitutional. This case is discussed more fully in Appendix VI, Part III.

The Commission and the Attorney General announced at the time the latter case was instituted that no penalties would be sought for failure to comply with the requirements of the Act until its validity had been confirmed by the Supreme Court. Each of the 44 suits brought by holding companies involved substantially similar questions of law and fact; and the maintenance of those actions harassed the government with a needless multiplicity of suits. All of these suits have been handled in accordance with a uniform policy developed by the Commission in collaboration with the Department of Justice. No effort was made to defend the suits outside the District of Columbia on their merits. In each such suit, appropriate motions were made for dismissal for lack of jurisdiction. The suits then remained pending as to the local government officials. In 26 of the suits, injunctions have been issued against such local government officials; in the remainder, the courts either refused to make any disposition until after a decision by the Supreme Court in the Electric Bond and Share case or the parties have agreed to hold the litigation in abeyance until such a decision.

In the 7 suits which were instituted in the District Court for the District of Columbia, the government obtained a stay of proceedings pending a determination of the Electric Bond and Share case (North American Co. v. Landis, D. C., decided January 6, 1936). On appeal, the Supreme Court, in a decision rendered December 7, 1936, remanded the causes for further proceedings on that stay. (Landis v. North American Co., 299 U. S. 248). Four of these cases are now in the District Court for the District of Columbia awaiting further proceedings on the motion to stay. The Tennessee Electric Power Company case, the American Water Works & Electric Co., Inc., case, and the North American Co., Inc., case have been dismissed on motions by the plaintiffs.

Parties plaintiff in the cases in this group filed or pending during the fiscal year, listed according to the district court in which the suit was filed, are as follows:

Petitions by Trustees of Holding Companies in Bankruptcy

Two of the six petitions filed in the District Courts by trustees of holding companies in bankruptcy, seeking determinations that the Holding Company Act is unconstitutional, were pending during the fiscal year. In another suit, that brought by the Standard Gas and Electric Co., government officials were joined as parties. Except for the Burco case (Burco, Inc. v. Whitworth), discussed in the Second Annual Report, all of the bankruptcy suits have been either dismissed or are still pending. The three cases pending during the fiscal year are as follows:

District Court	Parties Plaintiff
Delaware.....	Standard Gas and Electric Company
Southern District of New York.....	North American Gas and Electric Co.
Eastern District of Pennsylvania.....	Lehigh Valley and Transit Company

Stockholders' Suits

There have also been instituted six stockholders' suits to enjoin compliance by utility holding companies with the Public Utility Holding Company Act on the ground that the Act is unconstitutional. In only one case was the Commission made a party. Each of the suits, insofar as the Commission is informed, is still pending; in certain cases temporary restraining orders have been granted. The cases are as follows:

Delaware.....	Albert E. Pierce v. Central Public Utility Corporation, et al.
Massachusetts.....	Charles B. Barnes v. Ford, et al.
Southern District of New York.....	Theodore Case v. Columbia Gas & Elec- tric Corporation Albert E. Pierce v. Coughlin, et al. Public Utility Investment Corporation v. Utilities Power and Light Corpo- ration

Eastern District of Virginia..... Public Utility Investment Corporation
v. Utilities Power and Light Corporation, et al.

Validity of Section 30 of Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935

Fisher v. Landis, et al; Fisher v. The Equity Corporation, et al—On July 27, 1936, the complainant filed two suits, one in his individual capacity and one as a stockholder of The Equity Corporation, challenging the validity of subpoenas issued by the Commission in its investigation into investment trusts conducted pursuant to Section 30 of the Holding Company Act. In the former suit, Fisher sought to enjoin the individual Commissioners from compelling his appearance pursuant to subpoenas, from issuing any further subpoenas, and from taking any steps to cause him to be prosecuted for refusal to obey these subpoenas. In the companion suit which named as defendants, in addition to the Commissioners, The Equity Corporation and its officers and directors, the complainant sought to restrain the Commission from taking any action to compel the giving of evidence by the latter persons, or the prosecution of such persons for failing to give evidence, and also sought to enjoin such persons from appearing and testifying at the inquiry. On August 11, 1936, the District Court for the District of Columbia denied the motions for preliminary injunctions on the ground of want of equity.

SECURITIES VIOLATIONS FILES

The Securities Violations Files, established on May 1, 1935, and described in the Commission's previous annual reports, were enlarged during the fiscal year by the addition of 5,613 items of information pertaining to existing files and by the addition of 3,604 new files. As of June 30, 1937, the Commission had assembled data relative to the records of 25,379 persons against whom State and Federal action had been taken during the past ten years in connection with the sale of securities.

FORMAL OPINIONS

The Commission, during the past year, issued 196 formal opinions involving matters under the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. These opinions were issued in the following cases:

ADVISORY AND INTERPRETATIVE ASSISTANCE

Numerous inquiries as to the application to particular transactions of the provisions of the Acts administered and the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission are constantly received by the Commission, in both written and oral form. In order that legitimate financing might not be impeded, the Commission, during the year, continued carefully and promptly to consider such inquiries and, wherever possible, to render advisory assistance.

The extent of this service, however, is determined by the purpose which it is designed to serve, i. e., assistance to those who seek to comply with the law but who have a bona fide doubt as to the proper interpretation of particular provisions. The Commission declines to answer hypothetical questions or problems arising otherwise than from sections of the Acts which it administers. The Commission does not feel at liberty to render interpretative opinions with respect to possible civil liabilities since it has no jurisdiction over these matters, nor are advisory opinions rendered unless the inquirer states all the relevant facts of an existing or proposed transaction and, in addition, discloses the names of the persons or corporations, as well as the amounts involved.

New problems of interpretation are continually raised by the inquiries. In many instances, the solution of the question presented has necessitated, in addition to analysis of complicated factual situations, a thorough understanding both of the history of the legislative provisions in question and of the practical results of a particular interpretation. Furthermore, in order to answer many questions of this type, the general body of judicial case law must be searched for relevant analogies. While an advisory opinion upon a particular factual situation may serve as a basis for a similar opinion upon an analogous set of facts, the great variety of circumstances under which financing transactions are undertaken give rise to a constant stream of novel problems of interpretation.

The advisory service afforded by the Commission has been designed for the benefit of those seeking assistance in their endeavor to comply with the Acts. But the Commission has likewise benefited. Through correspondence and conferences incident to the rendering of advisory legal opinions, the Commission has itself obtained invaluable factual information which has provided the basis upon which existing rules and regulations have been improved and which has materially aided the Commission in the promulgation of new rules and regulations.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, AND PRINCIPAL STOCKHOLDERS

As part of its new comprehensive survey of significant data relating to trading upon exchanges, the Commission is making new analyses of reports of officers, directors, and principal stockholders, filed pursuant to Section 16 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Where any issuer has any class of equity security listed and registered on a national securities exchange, its officers, directors, and principal stockholders (i. e., persons who beneficially own, directly or indirectly, more than 10% of a class of registered equity security) are required under Section 16 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act to file initial reports showing their beneficial ownership of equity securities of such issuer and monthly reports showing all changes in their holdings of any equity security of their company. Corresponding reports are required under Section 17 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act to be filed by officers and directors of registered holding companies concerning their holdings of all securities of the registered holding company and its subsidiaries.

The principal purpose of these reports is to make available information with respect to the amount of equity securities of issuers beneficially owned by their officers, directors, and principal stockholders and with respect to transactions on the part of such persons closely identified with the management or control of their enterprises.

The numbers of original and amended reports filed and examined during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937 are compared below with corresponding figures for the two preceding fiscal years:

Reports filed and examined	Fiscal year 1935	Fiscal year 1936	Fiscal year 1937
Original reports—Securities Exchange Act.....	10, 114	37, 509	25, 022
Amended reports—Securities Exchange Act.....	2, 524	5, 754	5, 101
Original reports—Holding Company Act.....		464	416
Amended reports—Holding Company Act.....		45	44

A separate file is established for each person reporting on a given issuer or a given holding company system. At the close of the fiscal year 25,017 such files had been established for 23,340 different persons, representing largely the leaders of American business and industry, who had filed with the Commission a grand total of 86,993 reports, or an average of nearly 4 reports each. On the other hand, there are only about a half dozen cases of persons who have failed to file reports apparently required of them under Section 16 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act or to furnish a satisfactory statement or explanation regarding their apparent non-compliance with the statutory requirement. Appropriate action is being taken in these cases.

The Commission compiles and publishes semi-monthly an Official Summary of Security Transactions and Holdings of Directors, Officers, and Principal Stockholders as reported to it under Section 16 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Section 17 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. Copies of these summaries are available at each regional office of the Commission and each national securities exchange, as well as at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C. In addition, the actual reports filed are themselves available for public inspection at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C. and the particular exchange with which copies relating to the issuer concerned are required to be filed.

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES, CONSENTS, AND AUTHORIZATIONS

The administration of the rules and regulations governing the solicitation of proxies, consents, or authorizations, adopted pursuant to Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, has involved, among other things, the examination of soliciting material sent to the security holders of more than 1,500 listed companies. This examination is for the purpose of determining whether the companies have complied with the rules and regulations of the Commission. The examination of proxy, consent, or authorization soliciting material has disclosed the need for a general revision of these rules and regulations, to the end that the purpose thereof may be more completely and effectively accomplished. Such a revision has been undertaken and is in the final stage of preparation.

During the past fiscal year, 1,896 proxies and approximately 230 amendments thereto were filed with the Commission.

In one case, the Commission, upon the examination of soliciting material, raised a question as to whether statements contained in such material might not be misleading, and suggested to the company that it recircularize its stockholders with supplemental information to correct any false impressions which might have been formed by them. When the company declined to do so, the Commission, acting pursuant to Section 21 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, decided that it was in the public interest and in the interest of all the stockholders of the company to make public information available to the Commission bearing upon the adequacy of certain statements contained in the soliciting material. In the release which the Commission made public, the Commission set forth various particulars in which it appeared to the Commission that the soliciting material might be misleading.

In another case in which the Commission desired soliciting material to be supplemented in order to eliminate false impressions, and in which the corporation concerned agreed to do so, the Commission issued a public release explaining the particulars in which it felt that further disclosure was essential to the protection of stockholders and in the public interest generally.

CONFIDENTIAL TREATMENT OF APPLICATIONS, REPORTS OR DOCUMENTS

Rules of the Commission provide that persons wishing to object to the public disclosure of any application, report, or document, filed by them with the Commission under the Securities Exchange Act may file the confidential portion of such material with the Chairman of the Commission, together with an application stating the grounds upon which the objection to public disclosure is based.

During the year, 234 applications for confidential treatment of material, involving a total of 308 separate items of information primarily in connection with annual reports filed with the Commission pursuant to Section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 were filed. Material filed by 202 issuers, involving 288 items, was made public during the year, the Commission having determined that disclosure of such information is in the public interest; and material filed by 49 issuers, in respect of 62 items, was granted confidential treatment. During the year 48 private hearings on the applications for confidential treatment were held.

One application for confidential treatment with respect to ownership reports of equity securities required by Section 16 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to be filed by directors, officers, and certain securities holders, was filed with the Commission during the year. This report, together with 3 such reports covered by applications pending at the beginning of the year, were made available to the public.

Sixty-eight applications for confidential treatment of material contracts or portions thereof contained in registration statements filed under the Securities Act of 1933 were submitted during the year pursuant to Rule 580 under said Act. Of these 68 requests, 65 were granted in their entirety, 1 was granted in part, 1 was denied and 1 was withdrawn.

One application for confidential treatment of material filed under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 was received during the fiscal year and is still pending.

At the beginning of the year, petitions had been filed in the several Circuit Courts of Appeal by 31 issuers seeking to review findings of the Commission that disclosure of information filed by such issuers in pursuance of Rule UB2 is in the public interest. During the year, 10 of these petitions were dismissed by the petitioners, and the material in question, involving 17 items of information, was made public. No new petitions for judicial review of the Commission's determinations in these matters were filed during the fiscal year.

ADMISSIONS TO PRACTICE AS ATTORNEY OR AGENT BEFORE THE COMMISSION

In order to gain admission to practice before the Commission as Attorney or Agent, the Rules of Practice require the submission to the Commission of an application disclosing certain specified information regarding the qualifications of the applicant. During the year, 733 applications for admission to practice as Attorney and 143 applications for admission to practice as Agent were received. The register, which the Commission established November 1, 1935, containing the names and addresses of all persons admitted to practice before the Commission, was enlarged during the fiscal year by the addition of 873 names. The following statistics indicate the number of applications received since the register was established (November 1, 1935), the number of persons admitted to practice, and the number of applications pending as of June 30, 1937:

	Number of applications received		Number of persons admitted to practice		Number of applications pending June 30, 1937
	Nov. 1, 1935 to June 30, 1936	July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937	Nov. 1, 1935 to June 30, 1936	July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937
Attorneys.....	876	733	840	731	38
Agents.....	528	143	517	142	12
Total.....	1,404	876	1,357	873	50

Total admitted to practice, 2,230.

The Rules of Practice, as amended November 4, 1936 and January 19, 1937, appear in Appendix I.

REPORT ON THE STUDY AND INVESTIGATION OF PROTECTIVE AND REORGANIZATION COMMITTEES

The Commission continued work on the report to the Congress based on its study and investigation of the work, activities, personnel and functions of protective committees. This study, investigation, and report were authorized and directed by Section 211 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

During the preceding year, three parts of the report had been completed and submitted to the Congress. These were Part III, pertaining to the Committees for the Holders of Real Estate Bonds; Part IV, pertaining to the Committees for the Holders of Municipal and Quasi-Municipal Obligations; and Part VI, pertaining to Trustees Under Indentures.

During the current year, three additional parts of the report have been completed. These are the following:

Part I, entitled Strategy and Techniques of Protective and Reorganization Committees, which was transmitted to the Congress on May 10, 1937.

Part II, entitled Committees and Conflicts of Interest, which was transmitted to the Congress on June 21, 1937.

Part V, entitled Protective Committees and Agencies for Holders of Defaulted Foreign Governmental Bonds, which was transmitted to the Congress on May 14, 1937.

The two remaining parts of the report are in process of completion.

The basic recommendations contained in the Commission's reports were embodied in three bills introduced at the last session of Congress: The Barkley Bill (S. 2344); the Lea Bill (H. R. 6968); and Chapter X of the Chandler Bill (H. R. 6439; H. R. 8046). The last, Chapter X of which contains a complete revision of the corporate reorganization provisions of the existing law, revises the National Bankruptcy Act. It was passed by the House on August 10, 1937, and is now pending before the Senate, where it has been referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. The Barkley Bill, still pending before the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, deals with the corporate trustee and the trust indenture. The Lea Bill, still pending before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, deals with the solicitation of deposits, proxies or assents in reorganization situations. Administrative powers created by the three bills would be vested in the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Representatives of the Commission aided in drafting these bills and appeared before the Congressional committees at hearings on the bills and testified in support of them.

STUDY OF INVESTMENT TRUSTS AND INVESTMENT COMPANIES

In the Commission's study of investment trusts and investment companies, undertaken pursuant to the Congressional mandate of Section 30 of the Public Utilities Act of 1935, the major portion of the work was completed during the fiscal year.

In addition to four questionnaires distributed at the inception of the study, the Commission, with cooperation of the representatives of the industry, prepared a questionnaire for common or commingled trust funds and another for investment counsel and investment advisory services. Both questionnaires were of the summary type and required only basic information.

As of June 30, 1937, the Commission had received questionnaire replies from 495 management investment companies; from 178 fixed investment trusts; from 37 investment special plans; from 5 companies offering guaranteed face amount certificates; from 16 common trust funds; and from 400 investment counsel organizations.

The great amount of material received by the Commission in response to its questionnaires, the unexpected ramifications of the activities of investment companies and investment trusts discovered in the course of the study, and the necessity of including a considerable number of additional investment organizations in the study, has delayed the Commission in submitting its final report and its recommendations to the Congress. On January 8, 1937, the Commission submitted to the Congress a progress report indicating the Commission's method of procedure and detailing the progress of the study and its status.

Detailed studies have been made of the larger investment trusts and investment companies and of a number of smaller companies regarded as representative examples. These have been based in most instances upon the information furnished by the companies in reply to the questionnaire and in some instances through a field study of the books and records of the companies. During the fiscal year, public examinations were held on approximately 125 investment companies and investment trusts at which about 20,000 pages of testimony were taken and 2,100 exhibits introduced into evidence. All public examinations were preceded by preliminary conferences with representatives of the companies.

At the close of the fiscal year, the Commission had received information from practically all companies believed to be within the purview of the study and had almost completed its field studies. Considerable progress had been made on the statistical and analytical study of the material collected, and on the preparation of the final report.

A list of public hearings held in connection with this study during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, follows:

MARGIN REGULATIONS

Under Section 7 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, jurisdiction to regulate the extension and maintenance of credit on national securities exchanges is vested in the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. The Commission has endeavored to assist the Board by making suggestions from time to time for methods to increase the effectiveness of Regulations T and U, which have been promulgated by the Board pursuant to Section 7.

The Commission has taken steps to eliminate violations of Regulation T in respect of the time when margin was required to be deposited by customers with members of exchanges. As a result of conferences held between representatives of exchanges, the Commission, and the Board, substantially all national securities exchanges adopted rules prohibiting members from permitting customers to make a practice of avoiding the requirement for depositing margin by liquidating the unmargined commitment within three days.

Although Regulations T and U are promulgated by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in the exercise of the Board's exclusive jurisdiction, responsibility for the enforcement of Regulation T devolves entirely upon the Commission. The task is one of great magnitude, for which the Commission unfortunately only has a limited staff available. It involves the systematic inspection of accounts of firms which carry margin accounts for customers; the analysis of reports resulting from such inspections; the institution of proceedings to enforce the rule and the statute whenever violations are found. The Commission keeps the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System currently informed concerning the results.

During the fiscal year, 107 margin inspections were made, in which 62,876 accounts were examined. As a result, a number of cases involving members of exchanges have been referred to such exchanges for disciplinary action. As yet, no cases have been discovered which required the institution of legal proceedings by the Commission itself.

DETECTION OF MANIPULATIVE AND DECEPTIVE PRACTICES

Our national securities exchanges have not as yet demonstrated the capacity themselves to police their markets effectively against manipulative and deceptive practices. In consequence, the burden of detecting and instituting proceedings against such practices has rested almost entirely upon the Commission.

During the year, machinery was set up for a systematic coverage of trading in as large a number of securities as was considered practical in an effort to solve the problem of detection of manipulation. A total of 2,778 exchange issues were under regular observation at the close of the fiscal year and price and volume records of approximately 225 securities traded in the over-the-counter markets were made.

To facilitate the detection of manipulation, all securities, wherever traded in, were classified according to the broad categories of industry. The reports of changes in the beneficial ownership of equity securities by those persons called upon to report under Section 16 (a) of the Act were reviewed. The stock ticker tape quotations of the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange were under continued surveillance, and lists of daily security transactions were regularly examined. Transactions on all exchanges were constantly scrutinized.

On July 1, 1936, 54 preliminary and 30 formal investigations were in process. During the year, 420 reports dealing with the probability of manipulation on exchange markets, and 72 preliminary investigations were made. As a result of these preliminary investigations, 18 new formal investigations were authorized, 60 were closed or completed, and 48 were in process as of June 30, 1937. In addition to the 18 new formal investigations begun as the result of preliminary investigations, there were 12 authorized without preliminary investigations. Thus, with the 30 formal investigations carried over from the previous fiscal year, there were 60 formal investigations in process during the year. Of these 60 formal investigations, 31 were closed during the year, and 29 were still pending at the end of the year.

When a formal investigation develops evidence which makes it appear to the Commission that any person is violating or about to violate any provision of the Act, appropriate legal proceedings are instituted. Such proceedings may take the form of a suit for injunction; they may take the form of a reference to the Department of Justice for criminal proceedings; and they may take the form of a proceeding by the Commission under Section 19 (a) (3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to suspend or expel the offender (if the offender is a member of a national securities exchange) from the exchange of which he is a member. A brief description of injunctive proceedings brought during the fiscal year against violations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and of criminal proceedings instituted against violations of that statute upon reference by the Commission to the Department of Justice, may be found in Appendix VI, Part II. A summary of proceedings instituted under Section 19 (a) (3) follows. (Although some of the events in these summaries preceded the fiscal year and some did not take place until after the fiscal year, it has been thought desirable to include them all, in the interest of giving a reasonably complete picture of the proceedings.)

Securities Exchange Act of 1934—Cases in which Section 19 (a) (3) proceedings were instituted

M. J. Meehan—(Bellanca Aircraft Corporation)

Commission directed public hearing under Section 19 (a) (3). Order for hearing dated October 25, 1935. Order expelling respondent from membership on national securities exchanges entered August 19, 1937.

Charles C. Wright, et al—(Kinner Airplane & Motor Corp.)

Commission directed public hearing under Section 19 (a) (3). Orders dated February 27, and April 9, 1936 for hearing. Oral argument on Report of Trial Examiner set down for November 11, 1937.

White, Weld and Co.—(A. O. Smith Corporation)

Commission directed public hearing under Section 19 (a) (3). Order for hearing dated April 22, 1936. Oral argument on Trial Examiner's Report April 23, 1937. Commission has matter under advisement.

Thomas F. Gagen, et al—(East Boston Company)

Commission directed public hearing under Section 19 (a) (3). Order for hearing dated May 4, 1936. Order expelling respondent from membership on Boston Stock Exchange entered, with consent of respondent on October 6, 1937.

W. E. Hutton, et al—(Atlas Tack Corporation)

Commission directed public hearing under Section 19 (a) (3). Order for hearing dated November 13, 1937. Hearings concluded and matter before Trial Examiner for Report of Findings.

Harry A. Dart, et al—(Lakey Foundry and Machine Co.)

Commission directed public hearing under Section 19 (a) (3). Order for hearing dated April 20, 1937. Respondents expelled from membership by Detroit Stock Exchange March 1, 1937; resigned from membership on Chicago Stock Exchange effective May 10, 1937. Because of above, Commission ordered proceedings discontinued and hearing scheduled for May 13, 1937 cancelled.

Abbott, Proctor & Paine, et al—(Root Petroleum Company)

Commission directed public hearing under Section 19 (a) (3). Order for hearing dated June 7, 1937. Commission ordered discontinuance of proceedings by order dated June 17, 1937, owing to resignations from memberships on national securities exchanges by certain individuals named as respondents in order for hearing.

As a result of surveillance of over-the-counter trading, the Commission authorized 15 preliminary investigations. Of these, 10 were closed and 5 were in process as of June 30, 1937.

SPECIAL STUDIES AND RESEARCHES*Study of Exchange Rules Governing Miscellaneous Exchange Practices

As we have already indicated, the Commission has undertaken a comprehensive new program for the collection and analysis of data relating to all aspects of exchange trading. This program will cover the study of such subjects as: statistics on members' trading; status of margin accounts; orders on specialists' books; short sales statistics; printing on tape of all sales; round-lot orders entered and opened in commission houses; analysis of executed round-lot and odd-lot orders; analysis of executions of all orders of 1,000 shares or more; analysis of tenders and deliveries of certificates; transactions in foreign accounts; statistics of cash and margin accounts and firms' financial positions; analysis of the activity of brokers and dealers; analysis of broker-dealer income and expenses; volume of put and call sales; and data concerning the government and operation of the exchange. In devising this program, the Commission was guided by both its practical experience and its previous research.

During the past year, the Commission has undertaken a number of studies relating to problems arising in connection with the rules of national securities exchanges. These studies have been conducted with a view to obtaining a measure of uniformity in some of the essential rules of registered exchanges and with a view to improving the standards of practice and organization prevailing thereon. The studies undertaken are as follows:

1. A study of the rules of all registered exchanges dealing with those matters specified in Section 19 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, concerning which the Commission is authorized to request any registered exchange to alter its rules. These matters include: (a) safeguards in respect of the financial responsibility of members and adequate provision against the evasion of financial responsibility through the use of corporate forms or special partnerships; (b) the limitation or prohibition of the registration or trading in any security within a specified period after the issuance or primary distribution thereof; (c) the listing or striking from listing of any security; (d) hours of trading; (e) the manner, method, and place of soliciting business; (f) fictitious or numbered accounts; (g) the time and method of making settlements, payments, and deliveries and of closing accounts; (h) the reporting of transactions on the exchange and upon tickers maintained by or with the consent of the exchange, including the method of reporting short sales, stopped sales, sales of securities of issuers in default, bankruptcy, or receivership, and sales involving other special circumstances; (i) the fixing of reasonable rates of commission, interest, listing, and other charges; (j) minimum units of trading; (k) odd-lot purchases and sales; (l) minimum deposits on margin accounts; and (m) similar matters.

2. Studies of specific practices have been combined with a general survey of the scope and effectiveness of all the important rules of four national securities exchanges.

3. A study of the rules and practices of national securities exchanges relating to specifications for admission of securities to listing and setting forth the conditions under which securities may be removed from the list. Conferences with exchange officials have been held in regard to matters relating to exchange policy on the listing and delisting of securities.

4. A study of the methods of providing adequate reporting of transactions effected on exchanges in securities of issuers in bankruptcy, reorganization or receivership, dissolution or liquidation, and securities in respect of which there has been a default in interest or principal or both; and in securities which have been called for retirement or redemption, or which have matured but have been extended, or which have not been fully paid for, or upon which assessments have been levied.

The Commission also continued its studies and researches preparatory to the drafting of rules and regulations on (1) puts, calls, straddles and other options; (2) borrowings and solvency of brokers and dealers, and the hypothecation of customers' securities; (3) pegging, fixing and stabilizing operations; and (4) short selling and stop-loss orders.

A study of the status of margin accounts was also made by the staff.

Study of Over-the-Counter Practices and Problems

The studies inaugurated by the Commission in 1934 of appropriate measures for the control of over-the-counter markets were continued during the year. Following the adoption of the original plan for registration of brokers and dealers on January 1, 1936, which plan became specifically part of the Act by the amendment of May 27, 1936, attention was directed to the need for comprehensive research into various significant problems in the investment banking and over-the-counter fields. Securities traded in on the over-the-counter markets were enumerated and classified. A special study was made with respect to the dissemination of quotations for securities traded in over-the-counter markets. The legal aspects of various problems of regulation for these markets were studied exhaustively and the possible economic effects of all such proposals were given due consideration. Conferences were held with representative members of the industry upon their problems. Representatives of the Commission cooperated with representatives of the over-the-counter business in the formation of the Investment Bankers Conference, Incorporated, and has maintained close contact with the officials of that organization since its inception in a joint endeavor to improve the standards of practice prevailing in the business. The Commission has also welcomed the assistance of other organizations, such as the New England Dealers' Association, the New York Security Dealers' Association, and the Investment Bankers' Association.

Formulation of Rules to Define Manipulative, Deceptive and Other Fraudulent Devices in the Over-the-Counter Markets

During the fiscal year, the Commission conducted studies and researches in connection with and drafted rules to define manipulative, deceptive and other fraudulent devices in the over-the-counter markets. These rules were drafted pursuant to Section 15 (c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. In accordance with the custom of the Commission, drafts of the rules were forwarded to an extensive and representative list of members of the securities business for criticism during the latter part of the fiscal year.<sup>18</sup>

Study of "When Issued" Trading Rules

A complete revision of the rules and regulations governing the registration on national securities exchanges of unissued securities and the exemption of issued warrants from the provisions of Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 has been undertaken with a view to simplifying the regulations and the procedure thereunder. A draft of the revised rules has been sent by the Commission to all national securities exchanges for comment.

Further Study of the Segregation of the Functions of Broker and Dealer

Consideration is being given to methods of effectuating the suggestion contained in the Segregation Report that firms carrying margin accounts for customers, and general partners of such firms, should be prohibited from trading on margin for their own account.

The Segregation Report expressly left open for further study certain important questions concerning the status and functions of the specialist. This further study will, of course, be carried forward, as part of the comprehensive program to which reference has been made:

SUMMARY OF ALL RULES AFFECTING EXCHANGE TRADING PROMULGATED BY THE COMMISSION OR ADOPTED BY EXCHANGES AT REQUEST OF COMMISSION.

In view of the pendency of the Commission's new comprehensive survey of trading upon exchanges, it seems desirable to sum up at this point all rules affecting exchange trading which have either been promulgated by the Commission or adopted by exchanges at the request of the Commission since the effective date of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. There follows a brief description of such rules, together with explanatory comment.

<sup>18</sup> These regulations were adopted by the Commission after the close of the fiscal year and become effective October 1, 1937.

A. Rules Regulating Trading Practices Upon Exchanges Promulgated by the Commission.

In the strict sense, only two rules which actually regulate trading practices upon exchanges have been promulgated by the Commission. In addition to these two rules, a considerable body of regulations has, of course, been promulgated by the Commission under the Exchange Act. These other regulations, however, do not govern trading practices as such, but relate to such subjects as: registration by exchanges; registration of securities upon exchanges; annual and other reports; admission of securities to unlisted trading; admission of securities to when-issued trading; the solicitation of proxies in respect of securities registered upon national securities exchanges; the registration of over-the-counter brokers and dealers; regulation of over-the-counter trading; complete, limited, or temporary exemption from various provisions of the statute; and rules defining certain formal requirements, such as the format of registration statements, the mechanics of filing, etc. The two rules which regulate trading are:

(1) Rule ND1, which brings arbitrage transactions by officers and directors of issuers of listed equity securities under restrictions equivalent to those prescribed by Sections 16 (a) and 16 (b) of the Exchange Act for ordinary transactions.

(2) Rule GB2, which supplements Section 9 (a) (2) of the Act and outlaws an unmistakably manipulative practice.<sup>19</sup>

B. Trading Rules Adopted by Exchanges at the Request of the Commission.

These rules consist of the following:

(1) The sixteen trading rules recommended by the Commission in April 1935 for adoption by national securities exchanges.

(2) The interpretation of the tenth of the foregoing sixteen rules, applicable to trading by specialists, made by the Director of the Trading and Exchange Division.

(3) The margin rules adopted by exchanges which desired to permit "when issued" dealing thereon, covering the amount of margin required on all commitments in securities or rights admitted to "when issued" dealing upon such exchanges.

(4) The rules embodying the requirement that commitments of members, their firms and their partners made during any single day shall be fully margined at all times.

(1) The Sixteen Trading Rules:

The sixteen rules for the regulation of trading on exchanges recommended by the Commission on April 16, 1935 for adoption by national securities exchanges are intended to provide additional safeguards against certain activities on exchanges which lend themselves to manipulative tendencies:

<sup>19</sup> Rule GB2 did not become effective until after the fiscal year, on October 1, 1937.

It should be noted, that although all of these rules relate to trading activities, three of the rules, in whole or in part, are applicable only to members while on the floor, i. e., the second, fourth and seventh rules.

It should also be noted that bonds, arbitrage and odd-lot transactions are exempted from the operation of some of the rules.

As is noted in the discussion, some of these rules approximate existing regulations of the exchange before April 1935 or codified existing practices.

The First Rule in general terms prohibits members, their firms and partners, from effecting transactions of purchase and sale for their own account, which transactions are excessive in view of the market for such security or in view of the financial resources of the member, firm, or partner.

The Second Rule reads as follows: Trading for Joint Account.

(a) No member, while on the floor, shall, without the prior approval of the exchange, initiate the purchase or sale on the exchange of any security classified for trading as a stock by the exchange for any account in which he, or the firm of which he is a partner or any partner of such firm, is directly or indirectly interested with any person other than such firm or partner.

(b) The provisions of this rule shall not apply to any purchase or sale (1) by any member for any joint account maintained solely for effecting bona fide domestic or foreign arbitrage transactions, or (2) by an odd-lot dealer or a specialist for any joint account in which he is expressly permitted to have an interest or participation by the Eleventh or Fourteenth Rules, respectively.

This rule is intended to curtail the ability of members, while on the floor, to engage in manipulative practices by means of financial resources made available through joint accounts. The Senate investigation disclosed that members joined in such accounts to a very large extent, and that many manipulative operations were based on a combination of a member's manipulative skill and trading ability with the financial backing of outsiders jointly interested in the account. For the odd-lot dealer and specialist, other rules specifically govern the conditions, and this rule is therefore not applicable to them.

The Third Rule merely provides for the reporting of joint accounts to the exchange. It is supervisory in intent, and approximates an exchange regulation in force before the issuance of these rules.

The Fourth Rule deals with the fiduciary obligation which a broker owes to his customer. A member handling a customer's discretionary account is forbidden, while on the floor, to execute purchases or sales for such account which are excessive in size or frequency in view of the financial resources in the account. The purpose is twofold: (1) it is designed to eliminate trading for discretionary accounts which is primarily motivated by the broker's desire to increase his commissions; (2) to eliminate any opportunity for a member on the floor to effect transactions by means of discretionary accounts for the purpose of stimulating activity or raising or depressing the price.

The Fifth Rule, relating also to fiduciary obligations, is declaratory of prior New York Stock Exchange practice. It prohibits a broker, while holding a customer's unexecuted market or limited price order, from competing with the customer by trading for his own account in the same security on the same side.

The Sixth Rule is intended as a deterrent to a familiar device for manipulation. Members, firms and partners are prohibited from making purchases at successively higher prices or sales at successively lower prices for the purpose of creating a misleading appearance of activity, or making a price which does not reflect the true state of the market in any security.

The Seventh Rule is aimed at another device which might facilitate manipulation. It was disclosed by the Senate investigation that members of exchanges had participated in options to a large extent in connection with manipulative operations. This rule provides that a member, while on the floor, may not initiate the purchase or sale for his own account or for that of his firm or a partner, of any security classified for trading as a stock by the exchange, in which he or the firm or partner holds or has granted any put, call, straddle or option.

The Eighth Rule provides for the keeping of records of orders. This rule embodies what was considered by most firms as good practice. It is intended to aid the exchange in supervising activities.

The Ninth Rule requires the registration of specialists. It is supervisory in intent.

The Tenth Rule requires specialists to restrict their dealings for their own account in securities in which they specialize to those reasonably necessary to maintain a fair and orderly market.<sup>20</sup> Under date of March 30, 1937, an interpretation of this specialist rule was issued, which is summarized and discussed below.

The Eleventh Rule permits the specialist to carry a joint account in any security classified by the exchange as a stock only with a partner of such specialist, a member of the exchange, or a firm of which a member is a partner.

This rule is intended to prevent joint accounts between specialists and members of the public, in which the participation of the specialist might serve as a means to manipulative operations conducted from the floor of the exchange.

The Twelfth Rule provides merely for the keeping of records by specialists. It was always considered good practice by exchange officials.

<sup>20</sup> Section 11 (b) of the statute provides that if the Commission permits the specialist to act as both broker and dealer his dealings shall be limited to those reasonably necessary to maintain a fair and orderly market.

The Thirteenth Rule provides for the registration of odd-lot dealers. The Fourteenth Rule covers the conditions under which odd-lot dealers may carry joint accounts in the same way as the Eleventh Rule does for specialists.

The Fifteenth Rule prohibits the holding or granting of an option by an odd-lot dealer or specialist in any security classified for trading as a stock by the exchange in which such specialist or odd-lot dealer is registered. Its purpose follows that of the Seventh Rule, which governs all members.

The Sixteenth Rule forbids a member from effecting a short sale of a security at a price below the last sale price of such security on the exchange. This rule was a settled practice of the New York Stock Exchange before the issuance of these trading rules.

(2) The Interpretation of the Tenth of the Sixteen Rules:

The Tenth Rule, as noted, deals with appropriate restrictions of the activities of the specialist, in general terms. Under date of March 30, 1937, an interpretation of this rule was issued by the Director of the Trading and Exchange Division.

This interpretation stated that the phrasing of the rule prohibits all transactions for the account of a specialist in the security in which he is registered, excepting only such transactions as are properly a part of a course of dealings reasonably necessary to permit the specialist to maintain a fair and orderly market, or to act as an odd-lot dealer. Therefore, each transaction by a specialist for his own account must meet the test of reasonable necessity. A comprehensive affirmative statement of the criteria of reasonable necessity was considered inadvisable, but certain negative tests were set out in this interpretation.

For example, certain types of transactions effected by a specialist in taking or increasing a position were specifically described as tending to have a detrimental effect upon the market, and as being therefore commonly unjustifiable. In this category were placed:

- (1) a purchase above the last sale price;
- (2) the purchase of all or substantially all the stock offered on the book at the last sale price; and
- (3) the supplying of all or substantially all the stock bid for on the book at the last sale price.

(3) "When Issued" Margin Rules:

These rules cover the requirements for commitments in securities or rights admitted to "when issued" dealings upon the exchanges. In general, these requirements are designed to be equivalent to those imposed in Regulation T in respect of transactions in issued securities.

(4) "Daylight Trading" Margin Rules:

These rules put into effect the recommendation made in the Commission's report to Congress that trading by members of exchanges, exchange firms, and their partners be fully margined at all times. They were intended as a means for eliminating the "shoestring trader" and discouraging excessive trading, and to establish a parity between member traders and traders who were part of the public.

In essence, these rules apply the standards of Regulation T to transactions by members of the exchange during the course of a single day.

REGIONAL OFFICES

The Commission has established nine regional offices. The addresses of these offices and the States comprising the territory they serve are indicated below:

New York Regional Office, 120 Broadway, New York, N. Y.	New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.
Boston Regional Office, 82 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.	Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine.
Atlanta Regional Office, Palmer Building, Atlanta, Ga.	Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, and that portion of Louisiana east of the Atchafalaya River.
Chicago Regional Office, 105 West Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.	Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky, and Kansas City, Kans.
Fort Worth Regional Office, New Federal Building, Fort Worth, Tex.	Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Kansas (with exception of Kansas City), and that portion of Louisiana west of the Atchafalaya River.
Denver Regional Office, Patterson Building, Denver, Colo.	Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Utah.
San Francisco Regional Office, 625 Market Street, San Francisco, Calif.	California, Nevada, Arizona, and Hawaii.
Seattle Regional Office, 1407 Exchange Building, 821 Second Avenue, Seattle, Wash.	Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Alaska.
Washington Field Office, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C.	Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and District of Columbia.

The regional offices are charged with the responsibility of conducting trading, accounting and legal investigations with a view to the efficient enforcement of the Acts administered by the Commission, and the rules and regulations thereunder. Each office serves the general and investing public within the zone over which it has jurisdiction, such as the holding of conferences and the carrying on of general correspondence relative to matters of enforcement or interpretation.

Personnel assigned to the regional offices not only conduct the afore-mentioned investigations but likewise assist in the conduct of formal and informal hearings, in the preparation and presentation in court of injunction proceedings and in the preparation of reports on criminal violations, which serve as bases for references to the Attorney General for criminal prosecution. It is customary to cooperate with the United States Attorneys in the presentment and trial of criminal cases, after they have been duly authorized.

PUBLIC REFERENCE ROOMS

In the Public Reference Room of the Commission at Washington, D. C., all public registered information, including registration statements, applications, reports, declarations, and other documents filed with the Commission, is available to the public during business hours.

The facilities available in the Public Reference Room were utilized during the past year by more than 14,200 members of the public who visited the offices of the Commission seeking information. In addition to these visitors, thousands of letters and telephone calls were received requesting information concerning public registered information. Facilities are also available for the sale of copies of any material filed with the Commission and available for public inspection. More than 4,300 orders for photocopies of material, involving 346,342 pages, were filled.

In addition to the Public Reference Room in Washington, D. C., the Commission also maintains Public Reference Rooms in the regional offices located in New York City and in Chicago. In the Public Reference Room in the New York Regional Office, there are available to the public such copies of applications for permanent registration of securities on the Chicago Curb Exchange, the Chicago Stock Exchange, and the Chicago Board of Trade as have received final examination in the Commission, together with current and annual reports supplementing these applications and amendments thereto.

In the Public Reference Room in the Chicago Regional Office, there are available to the public such copies of applications for registration of securities on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange as have received final examination in the Commission, together with current and annual reports supplementing these applications and amendments thereto.

Photocopies of registered public information may be procured from the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C. only.

Duplicate copies of applications for registration of broker or dealer filed with the Commission are available for public inspection in each regional office having jurisdiction over the zone in which the broker or dealer has his principal office. Supplemental statements to these applications will also be available in these regional offices.

PUBLICATIONS

Registration Record, Securities Act of 1933

During the year, the Commission developed and put into operation a new daily report, known as the "Registration Record, Securities Act of 1933", containing information concerning registration events occurring each day in connection with the registration of securities under the Securities Act of 1933. At the time public distribution of this daily report was begun (May 10, 1937), the periodic releases covering registrations, hearings, orders, etc., under the Securities Act were discontinued.

The Registration Record, which is in tabular form, was designed: (1) To eliminate delay in reporting to investors and interested members of the public the fact that registration statements have been filed (on the great majority of issues, this information had been released only on a weekly basis); (2) to combine in a single daily release, the registration information which had been made public through many different releases; and (3) to augment the information made available, by reporting daily the filing of each amendment, the date and manner in which each statement becomes effective, the data as to post-effective amendments, and all other material relating to each security issue with respect to which there is a Securities Act registration statement.

At the time of the inauguration of this Registration Record, a handbook was issued as a guide to its use. This handbook gives brief descriptions of the various types of actions in registration procedure, and contains a summary of each of the major registration forms.

Releases

The Commission issues currently releases concerning its activities. Releases are issued announcing rules, regulations, orders, opinions, findings, filings of registration statements and applications, effectiveness of registration statements, public hearings, and reports and statements filed by security issuers, officers, directors, and principal stockholders. These releases are classified according to subject and are made available to the public through issuance to the press and through the medium of a mailing list maintained for the convenience of those members of the public who desire to receive them currently. Members of the public may have their names placed upon the mailing list to receive any or all classes of releases.

During the year ended June 30, 1937, the Commission published 625 releases under the Securities Act of 1933, 526 releases under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 459 releases under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and 32 general releases. Of the total of 1,642 releases thus issued, 685 releases were orders of the Commission; 614 announced the filing of registration statements, applications, and other public documents filed with the Commission; 110 releases announced rules, regulations and interpretations by the Commission; 79 releases contained statistical data; and 154 miscellaneous releases covering such matters as civil and criminal actions taken by the Commission in the Courts, announcements of hearings held in connection with the Commission's Investment Trust Study, tabulations of effective registrations, personnel changes and appointments, etc.

For the convenience of the general public, the Commission has published compilations of releases issued by it under the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. These compilations cover releases issued from the date of the passage of each of the Acts to and including December 31, 1936.

Accounting Opinions

For the purpose of contributing to the development of uniform standards and practice in major accounting questions, the Commission instituted during the year a program for the publication from time to time of opinions on accounting principles. Many accounting problems have arisen during the course of the Commission's administration of the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 which have general application and in these instances the Commission, in following this program, intends to publish opinions as the necessity therefor arises in specific cases. It is believed that by this procedure the quality of the financial statements filed with the Commission will be improved materially and there will be a more general acceptance of good accounting practice in the handling of problems heretofore subject to wide variations in treatment.

Other Publications

Other publications issued by the Commission during the year included the following: <sup>21</sup>

Report to the Congress on the Study and Investigation of the Work, Activities, Personnel and Functions of Protective and Reorganization Committees:

Part I—Strategy and Techniques of Protective and Reorganization Committees.

<sup>21</sup> For list of publications as of November 1, 1937, see Appendix IV.

APPENDIX I

RULES OF PRACTICE <sup>1</sup>

RULE I

BUSINESS HOURS—REGIONAL OFFICES

The principal office of the Commission at Washington, D. C., is open on each business day, excepting Saturdays, from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Regional offices are maintained at New York, Boston, Atlanta, Chicago, Fort Worth, Denver, San Francisco, and Seattle.

RULE II

APPEARANCE AND PRACTICE BEFORE THE COMMISSION <sup>2</sup>

(a) An individual may appear in his own behalf, a member of a partnership may represent the partnership, a bona-fide officer of a corporation, trust, or association may represent the corporation, trust, or association; and an officer or employee of a State commission or of a department or political subdivision of a State may represent the State commission or the department or political subdivision of the State, in any proceeding.

(b) A person may be represented in any proceeding by an attorney at law duly admitted to practice before the Commission.

(c) A person shall not be represented at any hearing before the Commission or a trial examiner except as stated in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this rule.

(d) In all matters other than hearings before the Commission or a trial examiner, a person may be represented by an agent who is duly admitted to practice before the Commission.

(e) All persons appearing before or transacting business with the Commission in a representative capacity may be required to file powers of attorney with the Commission showing their authority to act in such capacity.

(f) A register will be maintained by the Commission in which will be entered the names and addresses of all persons admitted to practice before the Commission. Only individual members of firms will be admitted.

<sup>2</sup> Appearance and practice before the Commission under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 is subject also to the requirements of Sec. 12 (f) of that Act.

(g) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (e) and (f) of this rule, the following classes of persons whom the Commission finds, on consideration of their applications, to be of good moral character and to possess the requisite qualifications to represent others, may be admitted to practice before the Commission:

(1) Attorneys at law who are admitted to practice before any court of the United States, or the highest court of any State or Territory.

(2) Any person, not an attorney, to be designated as agent, who is a citizen of the United States and who shall, in the opinion of the Commission, possess the necessary education, training, experience, and technical qualifications which would enable him properly to represent others before the Commission.

(h) An application for admission to practice shall be addressed to the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D. C., stating under oath the name, residence address, and business address of the applicant. In the case of an attorney, the time and place of admission to the bar and whether the applicant has ever been suspended or disbarred as an attorney in any court or jurisdiction shall be stated. In the case of an agent, the application shall state briefly his education, training, experience, and technical qualifications.

(i) In the discretion of the Commission or trial examiner, an attorney at law may be permitted to appear for the purpose of any proceeding, though not theretofore admitted to practice before the Commission in the way prescribed.

(j) All persons appearing in any proceeding shall conform to the standards of conduct generally required of practitioners at law.

(k) The Commission may deny admission to, suspend, or disbar any person who is found by the Commission not to possess the requisite qualifications to represent others, or to be lacking in character, integrity, or proper professional conduct. A person who has been admitted to practice may be suspended or disbarred only after he has been afforded an opportunity to be heard, but contemptuous conduct at any hearing before the Commission or a trial examiner shall be ground for exclusion from said hearing and for summary suspension without a hearing for the duration of the proceeding.

RULE III

NOTICE OF HEARINGS IN CERTAIN PROCEEDINGS

(a) Whenever a hearing is ordered by the Commission in any proceeding under Section 8 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, notice of such hearing shall be given by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission to the person designated in the registration statement as being authorized to receive service and notice of orders and notices issued by the Commission relating to such registration statement. Such notice shall state the time and place of hearing and shall include a statement of the items in the registration statement by number or name which appear to be incomplete or inaccurate in any material respect or to include any untrue statement of a material fact or to omit a statement of any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading. Such notice shall be given either by personal service or by confirmed telegraphic notice a reasonable time in advance of the hearing. The personal notice or the confirmation of the telegraphic notice shall be accompanied by a short and simple statement of the matters to be considered and determined.

(b) Whenever a hearing is ordered by the Commission in any other proceeding, notice of such hearing shall be given by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission to the registrant, applicant, or other person or persons entitled to receive the same. Such notice shall state the time and place of hearing and shall include a short and simple statement of the matters to be considered and determined. Such notice shall be given by personal service, registered mail, or confirmed telegraphic notice, a reasonable time in advance of the hearing.

(c) Notice of any hearing before a trial examiner which may be called on the question of postponement of the effective date of registration of a broker or dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, pending final determination whether such registration shall be denied, shall state that no trial examiner's report will be made on the question of postponement of registration, and that such question of postponement will be considered and determined by the Commission on the transcript of the testimony, and that prior to determination of such question of postponement the broker or dealer will be entitled to be heard before the Commission on the transcript.

RULE IV

HEARINGS—EVIDENCE

(a) Hearings shall be held as ordered by the Commission.

(b) All hearings, except hearings, if ordered, on objections to public disclosure of information pursuant to the provisions of Clause 30 of Schedule A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or Section 22 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, shall be public, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission, and shall be held before the Commission, one or more of its members, or a duly designated officer herein referred to as the trial examiner.

(c) Hearings shall be stenographically reported and a transcript thereof shall be made which shall be a part of the record of the proceeding. Transcripts will be supplied to the parties by the official reporter at such rates as may be fixed by contract between the Commission and the reporter.

(d) Objections to evidence before the Commission or trial examiner shall be in short form, stating the grounds of objections relied upon, and the transcript shall not include argument or debate thereon except as ordered by the Commission or the trial examiner. Rulings by the Commission or trial examiner on such objections shall be a part of the transcript.

(e) In any proceeding the Commission or the trial examiner may call for the production of further evidence upon any issue.

(f) Subpenas requiring the attendance of witnesses from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by any member of the Commission or any officer designated by it for that purpose in connection with any hearing ordered by the Commission, upon written application therefor.

(g) Subpenas for the production of documentary evidence will issue only upon application in writing which must specify, as nearly as may be, the documents desired and the facts to be proved by them: Provided, however, That nothing herein shall be deemed to require the issuance of any subpoena compelling the production of immaterial documentary evidence.

(h) Witnesses summoned before the Commission shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid to witnesses in the courts of the United States, and witnesses whose depositions are taken and the persons taking the same shall severally be entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in the courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance the witnesses appear.

RULE V

MOTIONS

(a) Motions before the Commission or the trial examiner shall state briefly the purpose thereof and all supporting affidavits, records, and other papers, except such as have been previously filed, shall be filed with such motions and clearly referred to therein.

(b) Motions in any proceeding before a trial examiner which relate to the introduction or striking of evidence may be ruled on by the trial examiner. Exception to any such ruling must be noted before the trial examiner in order to be urged before the Commission. All other motions in any proceeding before a trial examiner shall be reserved and shall be ruled upon by the Commission.

RULE VI

EXTENSIONS OF TIME—CONTINUANCES AND ADJOURNMENTS

Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, the Commission for cause shown may extend any time limits prescribed by these rules for filing any papers, and may continue or adjourn any hearing. A hearing before a trial examiner shall begin at the time and place ordered by the Commission, but thereafter may be adjourned from time to time by the Commission or trial examiner.

RULE VII

DEPOSITIONS

(a) The Commission may, for cause shown, order testimony to be taken by deposition.

(b) Any party desiring to take a deposition shall make application in writing, setting forth the reasons why such deposition should be taken, the name and residence of the witness, and the matters concerning which it is expected the witness will testify. Thereupon the Commission may, in its discretion, issue an order which will name the witness whose deposition is to be taken and specify the time when, the place where, and the designated officer before whom the witness is to testify. Such order shall be served upon all parties by the Secretary, or other duly designated officer of the Commission, a reasonable time in advance of the time fixed for taking testimony.

(c) Witnesses whose testimony is taken by deposition shall be sworn or shall affirm before any questions are put to them. Each question propounded shall be recorded and the answers shall be taken down in the words of the witness.

(d) Objections to the form of questions or answers must be made before the officer taking the deposition and if not so made, shall be deemed waived.

(e) The testimony shall be reduced to writing by the officer, or under his direction, after which the deposition shall be subscribed by the witness and certified in usual form by the officer. The original deposition and exhibits shall be forwarded under seal to the Secretary of the Commission with such number of copies as may be requested by the Secretary of the Commission. Upon receipt thereof the Secretary shall file the original in the proceedings and shall forward a copy to each party or his attorney of record.

(f) Such depositions shall conform to the specifications of Rule XIV.

(g) Depositions not received in evidence at a hearing before the Commission or a trial examiner shall not constitute a part of the record in any proceeding, unless the parties shall so agree, or the Commission shall so order.

(h) Depositions may also be taken and submitted on written interrogatories in substantially the same manner as depositions taken by oral examination. The interrogatories shall be filed with the application in triplicate, and copies thereof shall be served on all other parties by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission. Within 5 days any other party may file with the Secretary, his objections, if any, to such interrogatories, and may file such cross-interrogatories as he desires to submit. Cross-interrogatories shall be filed in triplicate, and copies shall be served on all other parties, who shall have 3 days thereafter to file their objections, if any, to such cross-interrogatories. Objections to interrogatories or cross-interrogatories shall be settled by the Commission or trial examiner. Objections to interrogatories shall be made before the order for taking the deposition issues and if not so made shall be deemed waived. When a deposition is taken upon written interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, neither party shall be present or represented, and no person other than the witness, a stenographic reporter, and the officer shall be present at the examination of the witness, which fact shall be certified by the officer, who shall propound the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories to the witness in their order and reduce the testimony to writing in the witness' own words.

RULE VIII

TRIAL EXAMINER'S REPORT

(a) Following any hearing before a trial examiner on the question of postponement of the effective date of registration of a broker or dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, pending final determination whether such registration shall be denied, the transcript of the testimony shall forthwith be filed with the Secretary of the Commission.

(b) Following any hearing before a trial examiner relating to any matter other than the question of postponement of the effective date of registration of a broker or dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, pending final determination whether such registration shall be denied, the trial examiner shall, within 10 days after receipt of the transcript of the testimony, file with the Secretary of the Commission his report containing his findings of fact.

(c) Such report shall be advisory only, and the findings of fact therein contained shall not be binding upon the Commission. The initial page of the report shall contain a statement to such effect. In any proceeding in which, under the provisions of Rule XII (b) of the Rules of Practice of the Commission, the report is first to be made available to the public on the opening date of public hearing on the merits before the Commission, the initial page of the report shall also contain a statement to the effect that the report is confidential, shall not be made public, and is for the use only of the Commission, the respondent or respondents, and counsel; but copies of the report issued on or after such opening date may omit such statement.

(d) A copy of such report shall be forthwith served on each party by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission.

(e) The trial examiner, in his discretion, may request from each party or his attorney a statement in writing in terse outline setting forth proposed findings of fact. Such statements shall not be exchanged between counsel and shall not be argued before the trial examiner. Any such statement shall be submitted within 5 days after the transcript has been filed with the Secretary of the Commission.

(f) The provisions of this rule and of Rules IX, X, and XI shall not be applicable to hearings pursuant to Clause 30 of Schedule A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or hearings pursuant to Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or hearings pursuant to Section 22 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

RULE IX

EXCEPTIONS

Any party may, within 5 days after receipt of a copy of the trial examiner's report, file exceptions to the findings of the trial examiner or his failure to make findings, or to the admission or exclusion of evidence. A copy of such exceptions shall be forthwith served on each party by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission. Exceptions shall be argued only at the final hearing on the merits before the Commission.

RULE X

(a) Any party to a proceeding may file a brief in support of his contentions within 15 days from the date of service on such party of a copy of the trial examiner's report, or in the case of hearings before the Commission within 15 days from the time the transcript of the testimony is filed with the Secretary of the Commission.

(b) All briefs shall be confined to the particular matters in issue. Reply briefs shall be confined to matters in original briefs of opposing parties. Any scandalous or impertinent matter contained in any brief may be stricken on order of the Commission.

(c) All briefs containing more than 10 pages shall include an index and table of cases. The date of each brief must appear on its front cover or title page. If briefs are typewritten or mimeographed, 10 copies shall be filed; if printed, 20 copies. No briefs shall exceed 60 pages in length, except with the permission of the Commission.

(d) Copies of briefs shall be served by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission on the opposing party or parties and reply briefs may be filed within 5 days thereafter. Briefs not filed on or before the time fixed in these rules will be received only by special permission of the Commission.

RULE XI

HEARINGS ON REVIEW BEFORE THE COMMISSION

(a) Upon written request of any party, which must be made within the time provided for filing the original briefs, the matter will be set down for oral argument before the Commission.

(b) If oral argument before the Commission is not requested, the matter will be considered without argument by the Commission on the record of the hearing before the Commission or trial examiner, the trial examiner's report, exceptions thereto, and the respective briefs submitted.

(c) No exception to a trial examiner's report need be considered by the Commission unless such exception shall have been filed with the Commission within the time prescribed in these rules. Exceptions not briefed may be treated as waived.

(d) If any party shall apply to the Commission for leave to adduce additional evidence, and shall show to the satisfaction of the Commission that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for failure to adduce such evidence at the hearing before the Commission or the trial examiner, the Commission may hear such additional evidence or may refer the proceeding to the trial examiner for the taking of such additional evidence.

RULE XII

FILING PAPERS—DOCKET—COMPUTATION OF TIME

(a) All reports, exceptions, briefs, and other papers required to be filed with the Commission in any proceeding shall be filed with the Secretary, except that all papers containing data as to which confidential treatment is sought pursuant to Rules 580, UB2, or 22B-1 of the Rules and Regulations of the Commission, together with applications making objection to the disclosure thereof, shall be filed with the Chairman. Any such papers may be sent by mail or express to the officer with whom they are directed to be filed, but must be received by such officer at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C.,

within the time limit, if any, for such filing, except that in any case where the hearing has been held in a district within which a regional office has been established, papers filed under Rules VIII (e), IX, X, and XI (a) may be filed with the Regional Administrator for the District, within the times prescribed. The Regional Administrator shall immediately transmit such papers to the Secretary or Chairman of the Commission, as the case may be, in accordance with the provisions of this rule.

(b) All papers containing data as to which confidential treatment is sought pursuant to Rules 580, UB2, or 22B-1 of the Rules and Regulations of the Commission, together with applications making objection to the disclosure thereof, shall be made available to the public only in accordance with the applicable provisions of Rules 580 (h), UB2 (i), or 22B-1 (b). All reports, exceptions, briefs, and other papers filed in connection with any hearing pursuant to Section 15 (b) or Section 19 (a) (3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, shall first be made available to the public on the opening date of public hearing on the merits before the Commission.

(c) The Secretary shall maintain a docket of all proceedings, and each proceeding shall be assigned a number.

(d) When the time prescribed by these rules or by the Commission for doing any act expires on a Sunday or legal holiday, such time shall be extended to include the next succeeding day that is not a Sunday or a legal holiday, but Sundays and legal holidays shall be included in computing the time allowed for doing any act.

(e) Unless otherwise specifically provided in these rules, an original and eight copies of all papers shall be filed, unless the same be printed, in which case 20 copies shall be filed.

RULE XIII

SERVICE OF REPORTS, EXCEPTIONS, BRIEFS, AND OTHER PAPERS

Except as otherwise specifically provided by law or by these rules, all reports, exceptions, briefs, or other documents or papers required by these rules to be served on any party to a proceeding shall be served by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission as follows:

(1) Service, except on counsel for the Commission, shall be made by personal service on the party or his attorney of record or by registered mail addressed to the party or his attorney of record.

(2) Service on counsel for the Commission shall be made by delivery to the head of the division to which such counsel is assigned.

RULE XIV

FORMAL REQUIREMENTS AS TO PAPERS FILED IN PROCEEDINGS

(a) All papers filed under these rules shall be typewritten, mimeographed, or printed, shall be plainly legible, shall be on one grade of good unglazed white paper approximately 8 inches wide and 10½ inches long, with left-hand margin 1½ inches wide, and shall be bound at the upper left-hand corner. They shall be double-spaced, except that quotations shall be single-spaced and indented. If printed, they shall be in either 10- or 12-point type with double-leaded text and single-leaded quotations.

(b) All papers must be signed by the party filing the same, or his duly authorized attorney or agent, and must show the address of the signer.

(c) All papers filed must include at the head thereof, or on a title page, the name of the Commission, the names of the parties, and the subject of the particular paper or pleading, and the docket number assigned to the proceeding.

RULE XV

SIGNATURE OF COMMISSION ORDERS

All orders of the Commission shall be signed by the Secretary or such other person as may be authorized by the Commission.

RULE XVI

NONAPPLICABILITY OF RULES TO INVESTIGATIONS

These rules shall not be applicable to investigations conducted by the Commission pursuant to Sections 8 (e), 19 (b), and 20 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended; Sections 21 (a) and 21 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; or Sections 11 (a), 13 (g), 18 (a), 18 (b), 18 (c), and 30 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935..

APPENDIX II

GUIDE TO FORMS <sup>1</sup>

GUIDE TO FORMS ADOPTED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 FOR REGISTRATION STATEMENTS

FORM A-1—GENERAL FORM

(a) General Rule.—This form is to be used for registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of all securities for the registration of which no other form is specifically prescribed.

(b) Special Rule.—Notwithstanding the rules for the use of Form A-2 for corporations, Form A-1 may be used by any incorporated investment trust for registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of an additional block of securities of a class, part of which has previously been registered on Form A-1.

FORM A-0-1 FOR SECURITIES OF CORPORATIONS ORGANIZED WITHIN 2 YEARS TO ENGAGE IN THE EXPLOITATION OF MINERAL DEPOSITS (OTHER THAN OIL OR GAS)

This form is to be used for registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of securities of any corporation organized within 2 years prior to the date of filing the registration statement to engage primarily in the exploitation of mineral deposits (other than oil or gas) if such securities are to be sold to the public for cash or purchasers' obligations to pay cash.

This form shall not be used, however, by any corporation which (a) has any subsidiary, or (b) was organized to take over and continue the business of another person or persons, unless such other persons were organized within such 2 years.

FORM A-2—FOR CORPORATIONS

This form is to be used for registration statements, except such statements as to which a special form is specifically prescribed, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, by any corporation which files profit and loss statements for 3 years and which meets either one of the following conditions: (a) Such corporation has made annually available to its security holders, for at least 10 years, financial reports (which may be reports consolidating the reports of the corporation and its subsidiaries) including at least a balance sheet and a profit and loss or income statement, or (b) such corporation had a net income for any 2 fiscal years of the 5 fiscal years preceding the date of the latest balance sheet filed with the registration statement. If such corporation has subsidiaries, such income shall be determined on the basis of consolidated reports for such corporation and its subsidiaries. Notwithstanding what is hereinabove prescribed in this paragraph, however, this form shall not be used by any corporation organized within 10 years, if the majority of the capital stock thereof was issued to promoters of the corporation in consideration of property or services, or if more than one-half of the proceeds of the sale of securities of such corporation has been used to purchase property acquired by the corporation from the promoters of the corporation.

<sup>1</sup> This guide is designed to aid in the selection of appropriate forms and is revised from time to time as circumstances require. Copies of the forms herein referred to will be furnished without charge upon request.

This form may also be used for registration statements (except such statements as to which a special form is specifically prescribed) by a corporation organized for the purpose of distributing to its stockholders only, water, electricity, or gas, and prohibited from paying any dividends to its stockholders except upon its dissolution or liquidation, provided that:

1. The corporation has been in existence at least 15 years prior to the date of the filing of the registration statement;

2. There has been no default by the corporation upon any of its funded indebtedness within the period of 15 years prior to the date of the filing of the registration statement;

3. The registrant will have a total indebtedness, upon the issuance of the securities registered, not exceeding 50 percent of the amount, less valuation reserves, at which the total assets of the registrant are carried on the latest balance sheet of the registrant filed with the registration statement, giving effect to the proceeds of the securities registered; and

4. Within the period of 10 years preceding the date of the filing of the registration statement, the corporation shall not have failed to levy and collect assessments in amounts sufficient to meet all current charges.

SPECIAL RULES AS TO THE USE OF FORM A-2 FOR CORPORATIONS

1. Notwithstanding that Form E-1 is specifically prescribed for use in cases involving an exchange of securities by the issuer thereof for others of its securities or a modification of the terms of securities by agreement between the issuer and its security holders, a registrant otherwise entitled to use Form A-2 may, at its option, use Form A-2 in any such case if the registrant is not in reorganization pursuant to Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act or in bankruptcy or receivership and if no default exists on any outstanding funded debt (other than a default in sinking fund payments which has been waived by the holders of at least 80 percent in principal amount of the issue outstanding). If Form A-2 is used pursuant to this rule, the fee payable for registration shall be calculated in accordance with Instruction 7 in Form E-1, and the table setting forth the calculation shall be prepared as prescribed in such form.

2. Form A-2 may be used by a registrant if all the following conditions exist:

(a) The registrant was organized as the successor to a single predecessor, or to a group of predecessors one of which, at the time of succession, directly or indirectly owned substantially all of the outstanding stock of all the other predecessors;

(b) The registrant acquired all of the assets and assumed all of the liabilities of such predecessor or predecessors, and the capital structure of the registrant immediately following the succession was substantially the same as the capital structure of the single predecessor, or as the consolidated capital structure of the group of predecessors, except for such changes as may have resulted from the substitution of issuers incident to the succession or from changes in capital stock liability per share; and

(c) The single predecessor, or the parent company in a group of predecessors, could have used Form A-2 if the succession had not taken place.

In determining whether such single predecessor or such parent company in a group of predecessors could have used Form A-2, the record of the registrant in regard to income or annual reporting to security holders shall be considered a continuation of the record of such single predecessor or such parent company. In the case of a group of predecessor companies, the income of the parent company of the group shall be determined on the basis of consolidated reports for such parent company and its subsidiaries, the subsidiaries to be included in the consolidated reports whether or not they were combined with the parent company to form the registrant.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of the last sentence of the rule for the use of Form A-2 for corporations, that form may be used by a corporation otherwise entitled to use the form, if the property acquired from promoters under the circumstances stated in such last sentence consisted principally of one or more going businesses, or of securities representing directly or indirectly more than 50 percent of the voting power controlling such businesses.

4. Notwithstanding the rules as to the use of Form E-1, or the rule as to the use of Form A-2 for corporations, Form A-2 may be used in the situation described below for registration statements, except those for which a special form (other than Form E-1) is specifically prescribed, by corporations which file profit and loss statements of their own or of their predecessors for 3 years and which, or the predecessors of which, have in the past 15 years paid dividends upon any class of common stock for at least 2 consecutive years. The situation in which Form A-2 may thus be used is that of registration of securities issued or sold in the course of a "reorganization", as defined in Rule 5 (1) as to the use of Form E-1, where the only operation which brings the transaction within the definition is the acquisition of assets of a subsidiary by the registrant in consideration of securities of the registrant, or the exchange of securities of the registrant for outstanding securities of a subsidiary.<sup>2</sup>

5. Any corporation which was formed by the consolidation of two or more corporations may use Form A-2, if each of the constituent corporations which collectively brought in a majority of the assets, as shown by the books of the constituent corporations prior to the consolidation, could have used Form A-2 if the consolidation had not taken place. In determining whether any such constituent corporation could have used Form A-2, the record of the registrant in regard to income or annual reporting to security holders shall be considered a continuation of such constituent corporation's record. In this rule, all the corporations consolidated to form the registrant are called the "constituent corporations."

6. Form A-2 may be used by a registrant if all the following conditions exist:

(a) The registrant was a wholly owned subsidiary of a corporation which, either alone or with one or more of its other wholly owned subsidiaries, was merged into the registrant;

(b) The registrant acquired all the assets and assumed all the liabilities of the corporations merged into it; and

(c) The parent corporation could have used Form A-2 had the merger not taken place. In determining whether such parent corporation could have used Form A-2, the record of the registrant subsequent to the merger, in regard to income or annual reporting to security holders, shall be considered a continuation of the record of such parent corporation.

FORM A-R FOR CORPORATE BONDS SECURED BY MORTGAGE INSURED BY FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

This form is to be used for registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of corporate bonds constituting part of an issue secured by mortgage insured by Federal Housing Administration under the authority of Section 207 of the National Housing Act.

FORM C-1 FOR SECURITIES OF UNINCORPORATED INVESTMENT TRUSTS

This form is to be used for registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of securities of unincorporated investment trusts of the fixed or restricted management type, having a depositor or sponsor but not having a board of directors or persons performing similar functions.

FORM C-2 FOR CERTAIN TYPES OF CERTIFICATES OF INTEREST IN SECURITIES

This form is to be used for registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of certificates of interest in securities of a single class of a single issuer, if the following conditions exist:

(a) The major part of the certificates are to be sold to the public for cash;

(b) Under the terms of the deposit agreement the depositor (as defined below) has no rights or duties as depositor, subsequent to the deposit of the securities with the depository;

(c) Under the terms of the deposit agreement the power to vote or give a consent with respect to the deposited securities may be exercised only by, or pursuant to the instructions of, the holders of the certificates of interest, except a power, if any, to vote to effect a split-up of deposited stock in such manner as to cause no change in the aggregate capital stock liability of the issuer of the deposited securities; and

(d) The securities deposited by the depositor are registered under the Securities Act of 1933 in connection with the sale of the certificates of interest.

FORM C-3 FOR AMERICAN CERTIFICATES AGAINST FOREIGN ISSUES AND FOR THE UNDERLYING SECURITIES

This form shall be used for registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of American certificates (for example, so-called American depository receipts for foreign shares or American participation certificates in foreign bonds or notes) issued against securities of foreign issuers deposited or to be deposited with an American depository (whether physically held by such depository in America or abroad) and of the foreign securities so deposited.

FORM D-1 FOR CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT

In registering certificates of deposit issued in anticipation of or in connection with a plan of reorganization or readjustment, Form D-1 shall be used. If a plan of reorganization or readjustment is proposed at the time the call for deposits is to be made, Parts I and II of Form D-1 should be filed at the same time. If no such plan is proposed at the time the call for deposits is to be made, Part I may be filed alone, and Part II must then be filed before the plan is submitted to the security holders or deposits are solicited under the plan. Part II is an amendment of Part I and as such shall become effective on such date as the Commission may determine, having due regard to the public interest and the protection of investors.

In the event that a registrant is exempted from the necessity for filing Part I, he may nevertheless file Part II.

Before the issuance of the securities provided in the plan of readjustment or reorganization, Form E-1 is to be filed by the issuer of such securities, unless exempted from the necessity of such filing by the Act.

FORM D-1A FOR CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT ISSUED BY ISSUER OF SECURITIES CALLED FOR DEPOSIT

This form is to be used only where the issuer of the certificates of deposit is the original issuer of the securities called for deposit, and only if the certificates of deposit are issued in connection with a plan of reorganization or readjustment which involves the issue of new securities to the holders of certificates of deposit.

FORM E-1 FOR SECURITIES IN REORGANIZATION

This form is to be used to register securities (including contracts of guaranty but excepting voting trust certificates, certificates of deposit, and certificates of interest or shares in unincorporated investment trusts of the fixed or restricted management type not having a board of directors or a board of persons performing similar functions, but having a depositor or sponsor) sold or modified in the course of reorganization.<sup>3</sup>

The "Rules and Instructions Accompanying Form E-1" contain the following definition of the term "reorganization":

"5. As used in these rules and the accompanying instructions:

(1) The term "reorganization" includes any transaction involving:

(a) A readjustment by modification of the terms of securities by agreement; or

(b) A readjustment by the exchange of securities by the issuer thereof for others of its securities; or

(c) The exchange of securities by the issuer thereof for securities of another issuer; or

(d) The acquisition of assets of a person, directly or indirectly, partly or wholly, in consideration of securities distributed or to be distributed as part of the same transaction directly or indirectly to holders of securities issued by such person or secured by assets of such person; or

(e) A merger or consolidation."

In the case of any guarantee of, or assumption of liability on, securities heretofore registered on Form D-2, registration of such guarantee or assumption of liability may, at the option of the issuer, be effected on Form D-2 or Form E-1.

<sup>3</sup> Attention is called to the rules as to the use of Form A-2 which permit the use of that form in certain instances for securities in reorganization.

FORM F-1 FOR VOTING TRUST CERTIFICATES

This form is to be used to register voting trust certificates issued in the course of a reorganization or otherwise.

FORM G-1 FOR FRACTIONAL UNDIVIDED OIL AND GAS ROYALTY INTERESTS

Form G-1 is to be used to register fractional undivided producing oil and gas royalty interests.

As used in the foregoing paragraph, the term "producing royalty interest" means any royalty interest in a tract of land from which oil and gas was being produced in commercial quantities within 7 days prior to the filing of the registration statement and from which production of oil or gas had not permanently ceased, to the knowledge of the issuer, on the date on which the statement became effective.

FORM G-2 FOR FRACTIONAL UNDIVIDED NONPRODUCING OIL AND GAS ROYALTY INTERESTS

Form G-2 is to be used to register fractional undivided nonproducing oil and gas royalty interests.

As used in the foregoing paragraph, the term "nonproducing royalty interests" means any royalty interest not included in the definition of "producing royalty interest" above.<sup>4</sup>

INFORMATION AND DOCUMENTS REQUIRED FOR EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN SECURITIES UNDER SECTION 3 (b) OF THE ACT

Certain issues of securities having an aggregate offering price to the public not exceeding $100,000 are exempted from the registration provisions of the Act by regulations of the Commission pursuant to Section 3 (b) of the Act upon compliance with certain conditions provided in the regulations. The pertinent regulations are available without charge upon request.

FORM 1-G FOR REPORT OF SALE OF OIL OR GAS RIGHT

This form is to be used for reports of sales of oil or gas rights, required by Rule 320.

FORM 2-G FOR REPORT OF SALE OF OIL OR GAS RIGHT

This form is to be used for reports of sales of oil or gas rights, required by Rule 322.

<sup>4</sup> Form A-1 should be used for overriding royalties and working interests, as distinct from landowner's royalties for which Forms G-1 and G-2 are appropriate. In the case of overriding royalties or working interests, however, the information specified by Form G-1 or G-2 should be added to the statement on Form A-1 by way of supplemental material.

FORM 2—MD FOR SECURITIES OF FIXED INVESTMENT TRUSTS

This form is to be used for annual reports, pursuant to Section 15 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, relating to securities of unincorporated investment trusts of the fixed or restricted management type, having a depositor or sponsor but not having a board of directors or persons performing similar functions.

FORM 3—MD FOR VOTING TRUST CERTIFICATES

This form is to be used for annual reports, pursuant to Section 15 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, relating to voting trust certificates.

FORM 4—MD FOR CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT

This form is to be used for annual reports, pursuant to Section 15 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, relating to certificates of deposit issued by a Committee.

<sup>5</sup> The filing of annual reports on these forms is required by Rule MD1, pursuant to Section 15 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

GUIDE TO FORMS ADOPTED UNDER THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE
ACT OF 1934FOR APPLICATIONS FOR REGISTRATION OF SECURITIES ON NATIONAL SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Form 7. For provisional applications.—Where the form for permanent registration of any particular class of security has not yet been authorized, and for a period of 90 days after the filing of applications on such form is authorized, a provisional application for registration of a security of such class may be filed on Form 7 pursuant to Rule JB2. (Rule JB2 sets forth the requirements of an application filed on Form 7.)

Form 8. For amendments to applications for registration or amendments to annual reports.—This form shall be used for amendments to applications for registration of securities pursuant to Section 12 (b) and (c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or amendments to annual reports pursuant to Section 13 of that Act.

Form 8-A. For additional securities.—This form shall be used for applications for registration of securities on an exchange on which other securities of the registrant, whether of the same or a different class, are registered pursuant to Section 12 (b) and (c) of the Act, if Form 10, 11, 13, 15, 17, 22, or 23 would be the form appropriate for registration in case the registrant did not have securities so previously registered: Provided, That if Form 22 or 23 would be appropriate for original registration, this form shall be used only if securities of the registrant issued pursuant to the plan of reorganization or succession by reason of which Form 22 or 23 would be appropriate for original registration have been registered on such exchange pursuant to an application on such form.

Form 8-B. For securities issued in certain cases upon the registrant's succession to an issuer or issuers of previously registered securities.—This form shall be used by an issuer, not having securities previously registered, for applications filed on and after March 12, 1936, for the registration of securities, if the conditions set forth in the following paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) exist:

(a) (1) The registrant, having no assets at the time other than nominal assets, succeeded to a single predecessor which had securities registered pursuant to Section 12 (b) and (c) of the Act on the exchange or exchanges on which registration is applied for on this form; or

(2) The registrant was organized as the successor to, or, having no assets at the time other than nominal assets, succeeded to, a group of predecessors consisting of a parent which had securities so registered and one or more wholly owned subsidiaries of such parent; or

(3) The registrant was a wholly owned subsidiary of a corporation having securities so registered, which corporation, either alone or with one or more of its other wholly owned subsidiaries, was merged into the registrant.

(b) Substantially all of the securities to be registered on this form were or are to be issued in exchange for or otherwise in respect of previously registered securities of one or more of the predecessors, or are securities which, having been previously registered, have become or are to become securities of the registrant by operation of law or otherwise upon the succession.

(c) The registrant acquired all the assets and assumed all the liabilities of its predecessor or predecessors.

(d) Except for such changes as may have resulted (1) from the substitution of issuers incident to the succession, or (2) from changes in capital stock liability per share, or (3) from the issuance of securities in satisfaction of dividends or interest in arrears on securities of predecessors, the capital structure of the registrant immediately following the succession was substantially the same as the capital structure of the single predecessor or the combined capital structure of the predecessors, or in a case falling within paragraph (a) (3) above, the combined capital structure of all the constituent corporations.

The term "wholly owned subsidiary" as used in this rule refers to a subsidiary substantially all the outstanding stock of which is held, directly or indirectly, by a single parent.

Form 8-C. For registration on an additional exchange.—This form may be used for applications for registration of securities on an exchange upon which no securities of the registrant are listed and registered, if—

(a) Securities of the registrant are registered pursuant to Section 12 (b), (c) and (d) on another exchange, and

(b) An application on a form other than Form 7, 8-A, 8-B, or 8-C filed by the registrant (or by the predecessor of the registrant if the registrant had securities registered pursuant to an application on Form 8-B) became effective on such other exchange not more than three years before the filing of this application.

Form 10. For corporations.—This form shall be used for applications for the permanent registration of securities of corporations, filed on and after February 13, 1935, except the following: Securities of companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934; certificates of deposit; American certificates against foreign issues, either Government or corporate; securities of insurance companies, other than companies engaged primarily in the title-insurance business; securities of banks and bank holding companies; securities of investment trusts; securities issued by any corporation organized under the laws of any foreign country other than a North American country or Cuba; bonds issued by any corporation organized under the laws of a North American country or Cuba, which are guaranteed by any foreign government; securities issued by any corporation, foreign or domestic, which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by any foreign government: Provided, however, That this form shall not be used for applications for the permanent registration of securities of any corporation for which, at the time the application is filed, Form 22 or 23 is prescribed. And provided further, That this form shall not be used for applications for the permanent registration of securities of any corporation, if, at the time the application is filed, such corporation is in bankruptcy or receivership or in the process of reorganization pursuant to Section 77 or 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, and (a) a trustee or receiver appointed in such proceedings has title to or possession of a substantial portion of the assets of such corporation, or (b) such corporation is in possession of a substantial portion of its assets pursuant to an order entered under Subdivision (c), Clause (2) of said Section 77 or Subdivision (c), Clause (1) of said Section 77B. Any foreign issuer which by this paragraph is to file on Form 10 as to any class of securities other than bonds may also file on such form for such bonds; and any issuer of bonds which is organized under the laws of any foreign country may at its option file on Form 10 until 90 days after the proper form applicable to such foreign issuer shall have been published.

Form 11. For unincorporated issuers.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after March 30, 1935, for the permanent registration of securities of unincorporated issuers, except the following: Securities of companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934; certificates of deposit; voting trusts certificates; American certificates against foreign issues, either Government or private; securities of insurance companies; securities of banks and bank holding companies; securities of investment trusts; securities issued by a national of a foreign country other than a North American country or Cuba; bonds issued by a national of a North American country or Cuba, which are guaranteed by any foreign government; securities of any issuer, foreign or domestic, which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by any foreign government: Provided, however, That this form shall not be used for applications for the permanent registration of securities of any issuer for which, at the time the application is filed, Form 22 or 23 is prescribed. And provided further, That this form shall not be used for applications for the permanent registration of securities of any issuer, if, at the time the application is filed, such issuer is in bankruptcy or receivership or in the process of reorganization pursuant to Section 77 or 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, and (a) a trustee or receiver appointed in such proceedings has title to or possession of a substantial portion of the assets of such issuer, or (b) such corporation is in possession of a substantial portion of its assets pursuant to an order entered under Subdivision (c), Clause (2) of said Section 77 or Subdivision (c), Clause (1) of said Section 77B.

Form 12. For companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after April 10, 1935, for the permanent registration of securities of companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934, except such companies in receivership or in process of reorganization pursuant to Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act.

Form 12-A. For companies in receivership or bankruptcy and making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after June 17, 1935, for the permanent registration of securities of companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934, and in receivership or in bankruptcy (including proceedings under Section 77 or 77B of the Bankruptcy Act).

Form 13. For insurance companies other than life and title insurance companies.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after May 7, 1935, for permanent registration of securities of corporations engaged, directly or through subsidiaries, primarily in the insurance business, except corporations engaged primarily in the life or title insurance business. This form shall not be used by corporations engaged primarily in the business of guaranteeing mortgages or mortgage-participation certificates.

Pending the authorization of a form for registration of securities of corporations engaged primarily in the life insurance business, and for a period of 30 days after the filing of applications on such form is authorized, such corporations may file application on Form 13 for Insurance Companies other than Life and Title Insurance Companies.

Insofar as Form 13 may be inappropriate to the life insurance business, a corporation engaged in the life insurance business filing on Form 13, pursuant to this rule, shall furnish information comparable to that required by Form 13; and, in lieu of financial statements required under the Instructions as to Financial Statements in the Instruction Book for Form 13, such corporations may file a copy of its last annual statement filed with its State regulatory authority.

Form 14. For certificates of deposit issued by a Committee.—This form shall be used for applications on or after May 10, 1935, for the permanent registration of certificates of deposit issued by a Committee.

Form 15. For incorporated investment companies.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after May 15, 1935, for the permanent registration of securities of any corporation which is engaged, either directly or through subsidiaries, primarily in the business of investing and reinvesting, or trading in securities, for the purpose of revenue and for profit, and not in general for the purpose, or with the effect, of exercising control; except securities of such corporations in process of reorganization pursuant to Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act or securities of such corporations in bankruptcy or receivership.

Form 16. For voting trust certificates and underlying securities.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after May 18, 1935, for the permanent registration of voting trust certificates and underlying securities.

Form 17. For unincorporated issuers engaged primarily in the business of investing or trading in securities.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after May 31, 1935, for the permanent registration of securities of any unincorporated issuer which is engaged, either directly or through subsidiaries, primarily in the business of investing and reinvesting, or trading, in securities, for the purpose of revenue and for profit, and not in general for the purpose, or with the effect, of exercising control; except securities of such issuers in process of reorganization pursuant to Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act or securities of such issuers in bankruptcy or receivership.

Form 18. For foreign governments and political subdivisions thereof.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after July 1, 1935, for the permanent registration of securities of any foreign government or political subdivisions thereof: Provided, however, That any public corporation or other autonomous entity in the nature of a political subdivision, except a State, province, county, or municipality or similar body politic, may, at its option, use Form 21 in lieu of this form.

Form 19. For American certificates against foreign issues and for the underlying securities.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after July 15, 1935, for the permanent registration of American certificates (for example, so-called American depositary receipts for foreign shares or American participation certificates in foreign bonds or notes) issued against securities of foreign issuers deposited with an American depositary (whether physically held by such depositary in America or abroad) and of the foreign securities so deposited.

Form 20. For securities other than bonds of foreign private issuers.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after July 15, 1935, for the permanent registration of securities other than bonds or other evidences of indebtedness (a) issued by a national of a foreign country other than a North American country or Cuba, or (b) issued by any corporation or unincorporated association, foreign or domestic, which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by any foreign government.

Form 21. For bonds of foreign private issuers.—This form shall be used for applications filed on or after July 15, 1935, for the permanent registration of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness (a) issued by a national of a foreign country other than a North American country or Cuba; (b) issued by a national of a North American country or Cuba which are guaranteed by any foreign government; (c) issued by any corporation or unincorporated association, foreign or domestic, which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by any foreign government; or (d) issued by any public corporation or other autonomous entity in the nature of a political subdivision which shall at its option elect to use this form in lieu of Form 18, except that this form is not to be used by a State, province, county, or municipality or similar body politic.

Form 22. For issuers reorganized in insolvency proceedings or which have succeeded to a person in insolvency proceedings.—This form shall be used for applications for registration of securities of any issuer which, pursuant to a plan—

(a) Has been or is being reorganized in insolvency proceedings; or

(b) Has acquired or is to acquire, directly or indirectly, substantially all of its business and assets (other than cash) from a person in insolvency proceedings or from such person and one or more of its subsidiaries, and is continuing or is to continue the business so acquired; or

(c) Being a subsidiary of a person in insolvency proceedings, has acquired or is to acquire directly or indirectly substantially all of its assets (other than cash and other than assets owned by it prior to such acquisition) from such person or from such person and one or more of its subsidiaries;

if the securities are, or are to be, outstanding or issued pursuant to the plan, or were or are to be issued after the consummation of the plan; provided that this form shall not be used by issuers for which Form 8-A, 12, or 12-A is prescribed, or for applications filed with the exchange after the expiration of a full fiscal year of the issuer commencing on or after the date on which the transfer or opening of accounts was made.

Form 23. For successor issuers.—This form shall be used for applications for registration of securities of any issuer which has acquired, or is presently to acquire, directly or indirectly (through the acquisition of securities or otherwise) the major portion of its business and assets (other than cash) by acquiring all or a part of the business and assets of one or more other persons, and is continuing or is to continue, the business so acquired: Provided, however, That this form shall not be used by issuers for which either Form 8-A, 8-B, 12, 12-A, 20, 21, or 22 is prescribed, or for applications filed with the exchange after the expiration of a full fiscal year of the issuer commencing on or after the date of succession.

Form 24. For bank holding companies.—This form shall be used for applications for the registration of securities of any person which is engaged, either directly or through subsidiaries, primarily in the business of owning securities of banks, for the purpose or with the effect of exercising control.

Form 1-J. For registration of unissued warrants or certificates for "when issued" dealing.—This form is to be used for applications for registration of unissued warrants or certificates, pursuant to Section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules JD4 and JD5 of the rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder, for "when issued" dealing on a national securities exchange.

Form 2-J. For registration of unissued securities, other than unissued warrants or certificates, for "when issued" dealing.—This form is to be used for applications for registration of unissued securities, other than unissued warrants or certificates, pursuant to Section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules JD7 and JD8 of the rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder, for "when issued" dealing on a national securities exchange.

Form 3-J. For reporting deficiencies and changes in information contained in applications on Form 1-J or Form 2-J.—Form 3-J must be used to report any inaccuracy, omission, or other deficiency in the information contained in the application for registration on Form 1-J or Form 2-J or in any supplemental statement filed by an issuer or an exchange and to report changes which have occurred since the filing of the application for registration or the last supplemental statement and which render no longer accurate the information contained therein.

Form 4-J. For statements in respect of exemption of issued warrants or certificates.—This form is to be used for statements in respect of exemption of issued warrants or certificates, pursuant to Section 3 (a) (12) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule AN15 of the rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

Form 5-J. For reporting deficiencies and changes in information contained in statements on Form 4-J.—Form 5-J must be used to report any inaccuracy, omission, or other deficiency in the information contained in the statement filed on Form 4-J or in any supplemental statement filed by an issuer or an exchange and to report changes which have occurred since the filing of Form 4-J or the last supplemental statement and which render no longer accurate the information contained therein.

FOR REPORTS TO BE FILED BY OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, AND SECURITY HOLDERS

Form 4. For reporting changes in ownership of equity securities.—Every person who at any time during any month has been directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than 10 percent of any class of any equity security (other than an exempted security) which is listed on a national securities exchange, or a director or an officer of the issuer of such security, shall, if there has been any change during such month in his ownership of any equity security of such issuer, whether registered or not, file with each exchange on which any equity security of the issuer is listed and registered a statement on Form 4 (and a single duplicate original thereof with the Commission) indicating his ownership at the close of the calendar month and such changes in his ownership as have occurred during such calendar month. Such statements must be received by the Commission and the exchange on or before the 10th day of the month following that which they cover.

Form 5. For reporting ownership of equity securities.—In the case of an equity security (other than an exempted security) which is listed subsequent to February 15, 1935, on a national securities exchange, every person who at the time such registration becomes effective is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than 10 percent of any class of such security or a director or an officer of the issuer of such security, shall file with each exchange on which any equity security of the issuer is listed and registered a statement on Form 5 (and a single duplicate original thereof with the Commission) of the amount of all equity securities of such issuer, whether registered or not, so beneficially owned by him at the time such registration became effective. Such statement must be received by the Commission and the exchange on or before the 10th day of the following calendar month. If such person files a statement on Form 4 for the same calendar month in respect of the same securities, he need not file an additional statement pursuant to this paragraph.

Form 6. For reports by persons who have just become officers or directors or security holders of more than 10 percent of any class of equity security.—Every person who becomes directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than 10 percent of any class of any equity security (other than an exempted security) which is listed on a national securities exchange, or becomes a director or an officer of the issuer of such security, shall file with each exchange on which any equity security of the issuer is listed and registered a statement on Form 6 (and a single duplicate original thereof with the Commission) of the amount of all equity securities of such issuer, whether registered or not, so beneficially owned by him immediately after becoming such beneficial owner, director, or officer. Such statement must be received by the Commission and the exchange on or before the 10th day following the day on which such person became such beneficial owner, director, or officer. Such person need not file the statement required by this paragraph, if prior to such 10th day and during the calendar month in which he has become such beneficial owner, director, or officer, there has been a change in his beneficial ownership which will require him to file a statement on Form 4 with respect to the same securities.

FOR REGISTRATION OF BROKERS AND DEALERS TRANSACTING BUSINESS
ON OVER-THE-COUNTER MARKETS

Form 3-M. For applications for registration of brokers and dealers except applications for which Form 4-M is authorized.—This form is to be used for applications filed on or after July 1, 1936, for the registration of brokers and dealers pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, except applications for which Form 4-M is authorized to be used.

Form 4-M. For applications for registration of partnerships formed upon death, withdrawal, or admission of one or more partners in partnerships registered as brokers or dealers.—This form is to be used (a) for applications filed by a registered partnership on or after July 1, 1936, pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, for the registration of a partnership to be formed as the successor to the applicant by the withdrawal or admission of one or more partners in the applicant; and (b) for applications filed on or after October 10, 1936, pursuant to said Section 15 (b) and Rule MB4, for the registration of a partnership formed as the successor to a registered partnership which has been dissolved by the death, withdrawal, or admission of one or more partners: Provided, That the application is filed within 30 days after such dissolution.

Form 5-M. For adoption of applications filed by predecessors.—This form is to be used by a broker or dealer in adopting as its own an application for registration on Form 3-M or Form 4-M filed on its behalf by a predecessor.

Form 6-M. For supplemental statements to applications for registration of brokers and dealers.—This form is to be used for correcting inaccuracies and reporting changes in the information contained or incorporated in any application filed on Form 1-M, Form 3-M, or Form 4-M, or in any adoption filed on Form 5-M or in any supplemental statement filed on Form 2-M or Form 6-M.

FOR ANNUAL AND OTHER REPORTS OF ISSUERS HAVING SECURITIES
REGISTERED ON NATIONAL SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Form 8-K. For current reports.—This form is to be used for the current reports required by Rule KA7.<sup>1</sup>

Form 10-K. For corporations.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of all corporations except those for which another form is specifically prescribed.

Form 11-K. For unincorporated issuers.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of all unincorporated issuers except those for which another form is specifically prescribed.

Form 12-K. For companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934.—This form is to be used for the annual

<sup>1</sup> Rule KA7. Current reports. (a) A current report on the appropriate form shall be filed by the issuer of a security registered on a national securities exchange (hereinafter called "the registrant") in case any of the events enumerated below occurred or shall occur at any time after the close of the first fiscal year or other one-year period for which an annual report is required to be filed by the registrant, or if the registrant had no security registered on a national securities exchange on December 31, 1935, at any time after the registration of any of its securities first became or shall become effective:

(1) A material amendment of any exhibit previously filed by the registrant pursuant to Section 12 or 13 of the Act;

(2) The execution of any voting trust agreement, contract, or indenture of a character required to be filed as an exhibit in the form of annual report appropriate for the registrant;

(3) A substantial restatement of the capital shares account of the registrant;

(4) The issuance of any new class of securities, or an aggregate increase or decrease of more than five percent in the amount of any class of securities of the registrant outstanding, as last previously reported, unless resulting from an ordinary sinking fund operation; provided that (i) no report need be made with respect to notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or banker's acceptances having a maturity at the time of issuance of not exceeding one year, and (ii) for the purposes of this paragraph (4), securities held by the registrant shall not be deemed "outstanding";

(5) The granting or extension of any option to purchase equity securities of the registrant from the registrant, provided that a current report need be made only when one or more options calling for an aggregate principal amount of $50,000 or more of a single issue of convertible evidences of indebtedness, or an aggregate of 1,000 or more shares or other units of any other single class of equity securities, have been granted or extended and have not been previously reported;

(6) The exercise, in whole or in part, of any option to purchase equity securities of the registrant from the registrant, provided that a current report need be made only when a person or persons have acquired an aggregate principal amount of $50,000 or more of a single issue of convertible evidences of indebtedness, or an aggregate of 1,000 or more shares or other units of any other single class of equity securities, through one or more exercises which have not been previously reported;

(7) A person becoming, or ceasing to be, a parent or subsidiary of the registrant, provided that no report need be made as to any subsidiary the name of which would not be required to be furnished in the form of annual report appropriate for the registrant;

(8) A substantial revaluation of the assets of the registrant;

(9) A substantial withdrawal or substitution with respect to property securing any issue of registered securities; provided, however, that no report need be filed as to any event concerning which information substantially similar to that required by Form 8-K shall have been previously reported by the registrant.

(b) The current report shall be filed not more than 10 days after the close of the calendar month during which occurred the event obligating the registrant to file the current report, or if the event occurred prior to December 1, 1936, not later than January 10, 1937.

(c) As used in this rule, the term "previously reported" means previously reported in an application for registration or a report filed pursuant to Section 12 or 13 of the Act; the term "option" does not include options evidenced by an issue of securities, such as an issue of warrants or rights; the term "unit" means that unit of a class of securities representing the smallest interest in the registrant or in property of the registrant, or having the smallest par or face value or denomination which is separately transferable by a holder thereof. Unless the context otherwise requires, all other terms used in this rule have the same meanings as in the Act, in the form appropriate for an annual report of the registrant, and in the instruction book accompanying such form.

(d) The foregoing provisions of this rule shall not be applicable to issuers of securities which are registered pursuant to an application on Form 18, 19, 20, or 21.

reports of companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, and of carriers making annual reports under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934, except such companies in receivership or in bankruptcy, including proceedings for reorganization pursuant to Section 77 or 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, at the close of the fiscal year for which the report is made.

Form 12A-K. For companies in receivership or bankruptcy at close of fiscal year and making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, or under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of companies making annual reports under Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, and of carriers making annual reports under Section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934, if such companies were in receivership or in bankruptcy, including proceedings for reorganization pursuant to Section 77 or 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, at the close of the fiscal year for which the report is made.

Form 13-K. For insurance companies other than life and title insurance companies.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of corporations engaged, directly or through subsidiaries, primarily in the insurance business, except corporations engaged primarily in the life or title insurance business. Form 16-K. For voting trust certificates and underlying securities.—This form is to be used for annual reports relating to securities evidencing a participation in a voting trust agreement or a similar agreement for the holding of securities for voting purposes and to securities held subject to such agreements.

Form 17-K. For unincorporated issuers engaged primarily in the business of investing or trading in securities.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of unincorporated issuers engaged either directly or through subsidiaries primarily in the business of investing and reinvesting or trading in securities for the purpose of revenue and for profit, and not in general for the purpose or with the effect of exercising control.

Form 18-K. For foreign governments and political subdivisions thereof.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of foreign governments or political subdivisions thereof, except any public corporation or other autonomous entity in the nature of a political subdivision, other than a State, province, county, or municipality or similar body politic which, at its option, has registered its securities on Form 21 in lieu of Form 18.

Form 19-K. For issuers of American certificates against foreign issues and the underlying securities.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of issuers of American certificates (for example, so-called American depositary receipts for foreign shares or American participation certificates in foreign bonds or notes) issued against securities of foreign issuers deposited with an American depositary (whether physically held by such depositary in America or abroad) and of the foreign securities so deposited.

Form 20-K. For foreign private issuers registering securities other than bonds.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of the following issuers with respect to securities other than bonds or other evidences of indebtedness: (a) Nationals of a foreign country other than a North American country or Cuba, and (b) corporations or unincorporated associations, foreign or domestic, which are directly or indirectly owned or controlled by any foreign government.

Form 21-K. For foreign private issuers registering bonds.—This form is to be used for the annual reports of the following issuers with respect to bonds or other evidences of indebtedness: (a) Nationals of a foreign country other than a North American country or Cuba, (b) nationals of a North American country or Cuba if such bonds or other evidences of indebtedness are guaranteed by any foreign government, (c) corporations or unincorporated associations, foreign or domestic, which are directly or indirectly owned or controlled by any foreign government, and (d) public corporations or other autonomous entities in the nature of political subdivisions which, at their option, have registered securities on Form 21 in lieu of Form 18.

FOR REGISTRATION OR EXEMPTION OF A NATIONAL SECURITIES
EXCHANGE

Form 1. Application for registration or exemption from registration as a National Securities Exchange.—This form shall be filed in connection with the applications of securities exchanges for registration or exemption from registration.

Form 9. Amendatory and/or supplementary statement to registration statement filed by an exchange.—This form shall be used for filing amendatory and/or supplementary statements to registration statements of national securities exchanges.

Form 9-A. Amendatory and/or supplementary statement to application for exemption from registration filed by an exchange.—This form shall be used for filing amendatory and/or supplementary statements to applications for exemption from registration as national securities exchanges.

GUIDE TO FORMS ADOPTED UNDER THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

Form U-2. Declaration and periodic report.—This form is to be used by a subsidiary of a registered holding company primarily engaged in business as a broker or dealer, which claims exemption under Rule 3D-4 and also for the quarterly reports to be filed by such a company.

Form U-3A3-1. Quarterly statement filed by banks claiming exemption.—This form is prescribed for quarterly reports to be filed by banks claiming exemption from any provisions of the Act by virtue of Rule 3A3-1.

Form U5A. Notification of registration.—This form is to be used for notification of registration pursuant to Section 5 (a) of the Act.

Form U5B. Registration statement.—This form is to be used for registration statements to be filed by registered holding companies pursuant to Section 5 (b).

Form U6B-1. Application pursuant to Section 6 (b).—This form is to be used for applications by subsidiary companies of registered holding companies, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Act, for exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) with respect to the issue or sale of securities solely for the purpose of financing the business of the applicant and expressly authorized by the State commission of the State in which the applicant is organized and doing business.

Form U-7. Declaration pursuant to Section 7—This form is to be used for declarations filed pursuant to Section 7 of the Act, by a registered holding company or subsidiary company thereof, either in respect of the issue or sale of securities issued by it, or in respect of the exercise by the declarant of any privilege or right to alter the priorities, preferences, voting power, or other rights of the holders of any outstanding securities issued by it.

Form U-10-1. Application pursuant to Section 10 (a) (1).—This form is to be used for applications for the approval of the acquisition of any securities by a registered holding company, or any subsidiary company thereof, or the acquisition of securities of a public-utility company by a person who is an affiliate (as defined in Clause (A) of Section 2 (a) (11) of the Act) of such company and of any other public utility or holding company, or will become such an affiliate by virtue of such acquisition.

Form U-10-2. Application pursuant to Section 10 (a) (2) or 10 (a) (3).—This form is to be used for applications for the approval of the acquisition of any utility assets or other interest in any business by a registered holding company, or any subsidiary company thereof.

Form U-12 (i)-1. Statement required pursuant to Section 12 (i).—This form is to be used for statements to be filed with the Commission, pursuant to Section 12 (i), by any person employed or retained by any registered holding company or by any subsidiary company thereof, who presents, advocates, or opposes any matter affecting any such company before the Congress or any Member or committee thereof, or before the Securities and Exchange Commission or the Federal Power Commission or any member, officer, or employee of either such Commission.

Form U-13-1. Application for approval of mutual service company or declaration with respect to organization and conduct of business of subsidiary service company.—This form is to be used, pursuant to Rule 13-22, for an application for approval of a mutual service company or for a declaration with respect to the organization and conduct of business of a subsidiary service company.

Form U-13-60. Annual report of mutual and subsidiary service companies.—This form is to be used for the filing of annual reports by each mutual service company and each subsidiary service company pursuant to Rule 13-60.

Form U-17-1. Reports of ownership by officers and directors.—This form is to be used for statements of ownership required by Section 17 (a) of the Act to be filed by persons who are officers or directors of a registered holding company at the time when it is registered. A statement must be filed by every officer and director of a holding company following its registration and following his appointment or election after registration, even if he owns no securities of the company or its subsidiaries.

Form U-17-2. Reports of changes of ownership by officers and directors.—This form is to be used by officers and directors of registered holding companies in reporting changes in their beneficial ownership of securities of such holding companies or any of their subsidiaries, as required by Section 17 (a) of the Act.

Form U-17-3. Statement to be signed by officer or director pursuant to Rule 17C-11.—This form is to be used for statements to be signed by officers or directors with respect to whom exemption is claimed pursuant to Rule 17 C-11 from the provisions of Section 17 (c) of the Act.

1 On the New York Curb Exchange the round-lot transactions of specialists in stocks in which they are registered are not affixed comparable with data similarly designated for those of the specialist.
 2 In calculating these percentages the total of members' transactions is compared with twice the total exchange volume for the reason that the total of members' transactions includes both purchases and sales while the total exchange volume includes only sales.
 3 Not available Mar. 16, 1936, through Oct. 10, 1936.

APPENDIX VI

LITIGATION INVOLVING STATUTES ADMINISTERED BY THE COMMISSION

This appendix lists the court proceedings in which this Commission or the Acts administered by it have been involved. Included are those cases instituted during the period from June 30, 1936 to June 30, 1937, as well as those instituted before that date in which no final disposition had been made on June 30, 1936. The more important litigation is described at some length; the less important cases are indicated by a brief notation. Although the cases are grouped and discussed under three main headings with reference to the statute primarily in issue in the particular case and into subheadings depending on the principal topic in issue, each case is also classified under all statutes and subheadings which it involves. The status of litigation is described only as it existed as of June 30, 1937, no attempt being made to describe developments occurring subsequent to that date.

I. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED

Suits under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, are considered under seven groupings: (1) Suits against the Commission under that Act to enjoin enforcement of its provisions; (2) miscellaneous proceedings instituted by the Commission pursuant to Section 20 (b) of the Act to enjoin violations thereof, generally violations of Sections 5 and/or 17; (3) suits against brokers and dealers operating "bucket shops"; (4) suits involving the use of the "sell and switch" device; (5) cases dealing with the definition of "security"; (6) criminal prosecutions; and (7) civil litigation between private parties involving the civil liability provisions of the Securities Act.

SUITS TO ENJOIN ENFORCEMENT OF THE SECURITIES ACT

Three suits brought directly against the Commission for the purpose of enjoining the enforcement of the Securities Act were pending during the fiscal year. The Commission was also forced to intervene in an action brought by one person to enjoin another from complying with subpoenas issued by the Commission in the course of its investigations under the Securities Act and the Securities Exchange Act. These cases are:

TABLE I

Name of case	District in which suit brought	Date of filing bill	Status
Benjamin L. Abraham v. Securities and Exchange Commission et al.	Eastern district of Pennsylvania.	June 13, 1935	Pending.
R. R. Crawford v. Securities and Exchange Commission et al.	Northern district of Oklahoma.	Aug. 9, 1935	Suit dismissed without prejudice Nov. 4, 1936.
National Short Term Securities Corporation v. Securities and Exchange Commission et al.	District of Columbia.	Feb. 21, 1936	Preliminary injunction denied Mar. 6, 1936. On Apr. 13, 1937, the case was dismissed under Law Rule 74 for want of prosecution.
McMann v. Engel et al., Securities and Exchange Commission, interveners.	Southern district of New York.	July 21, 1936	Plaintiff's motion for a preliminary injunction to restrain compliance with the Commission's subpoena denied Aug. 5, 1936 (18 F. Supp. 446). On appeal from this decree the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit on Jan. 19, 1937, affirmed the order of the court below (87 F. (2d) 377). A petition for certiorari was denied by the Supreme Court on Apr. 12, 1937.

MISCELLANEOUS INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS

The majority of injunction proceedings instituted by the Commission under the Securities Act have been to enjoin violations of Sections 5 and/or 17. Section 5, subject to the exemptions therefrom provided in Sections 3 (a) and 4 and in the Commission's rules promulgated pursuant to Section 3 (b), prohibits in paragraph (a) the use of the mails or the channels of interstate commerce to offer, sell, or deliver after sale unregistered securities, and in paragraph (b) prohibits the use of the mails or facilities of interstate commerce to transmit a prospectus relating to registered securities unless it meets the requirements of Section 10, or to deliver registered securities after sale unless accompanied or preceded by such a prospectus. Section 17, in general, prohibits fraud in the sale of securities by the use of the mails or the channels of interstate commerce.

McDowell Mines, Inc. et al.—This action was instituted on April 16, 1937, in the District Court of the United States for the District of Colorado to enjoin defendants from violating the provisions of Section 17 (a) (2) in the sale of defendants' stock. The complaint alleged that the company, in the sale of its securities, had misrepresented the proven quality as well as the state of development of its mine, and that there had been omissions to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The court, in an oral opinion rendered May 14, 1937, granted a permanent injunction against violation of Section 17 (a) (2).

Otis & Company.—The Commission filed a bill in the District Court for the Northern District of Ohio on April 1, 1936, alleging that the defendants in the sale to its customers of stock of the Murray-

Ohio Company had violated and would continue to violate Section 17 (a) (2) of the Securities Act and Section 9 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act. The defendants in acquiring a block of approximately 5,000 shares of this stock had received agreements from the vendors thereof that they would withhold the balance of their stock, some 17,000 shares of a total issue of 60,000 shares, from the market for sixty days. During this period the price of the stock on the Cleveland Exchange was stimulated by a series of purchases made by the defendant. These purchases constituted approximately 90 percent of the trading. The Commission claimed that the failure of the defendants to disclose these facts in selling the stock to the public "at the market" constituted an "omission to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading." On December 28, 1936, Judge West sustained this argument and granted an injunction against violation of Section 17 (a) (2) by such omissions. With respect to Section 9 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act, the court held that the evidence was "insufficient to establish with the necessary degree of certainty to warrant an injunction" the claim that the defendants contemplated any future violation of that Section (18 F. Supp. 100). An appeal by the defendants is pending.

Boise Petroleum Corporation and C. S. Hassler.—On April 15, 1937, the defendant corporation and its sales manager, C. S. Hassler, consented in the District Court for the District of Idaho to the entry of a permanent injunction restraining them from selling unregistered oil and gas leasehold interests in an area known as "Beacon Hills, Idaho", contrary to the provisions of Section 5 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933, and in the sale of these securities from obtaining money or property by means of certain untrue statements of material facts in violation of Section 17 (a) (2) of that Act. The decree also enjoined Hassler from acting as a broker or dealer in the sale of securities unless registered as such with the Commission in accordance with the requirements of Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act. Later, the Commission instituted criminal contempt proceedings against the corporation and Hassler on the ground that they were continuing to engage in the acts and practices against which the court had issued the injunction. The defendants in their answer admitted that since the entry of the decree, the mails had been used in the sale and delivery of the securities, but alleged as a defense that such sales and deliveries had been made solely within the State of Idaho. The court held that the use of the mails violated the injunction order, and on June 7, 1937, fined the corporation $500 and Hassler $300. This is the first case in which a penalty has been imposed in contempt proceedings for violation of an injunction obtained by the Commission.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST BROKERS AND DEALERS OPERATING "BUCKET SHOPS"

Securities are often sold on margin or deferred payment plans wherein the broker or dealer makes no provision for acquiring securities with which to fulfill his commitment to the customer. In the normal case this involves "bucketing" orders, a fraudulent practice which is specifically defined as a crime under the laws of most States. In many instances the operator of a "bucket shop", in addition to failing to provide for the acquisition of securities with which to meet his commitment to his customer, embezzles the partial payments made, or the margin collateral deposited, by customers. The following cases instituted by the Commission involve this type of fraudulent operation:

Turivas & Co., Inc. (Louis Turivas et al).	Eastern district of Louisiana.	1934 Dec. 7	Secs. 5 and 17.	Principal defendants consented to entry of permanent injunction on Jan. 9, 1935. On May 23, 1935, indictments were returned against 20 defendants. All defendants except 6 who have not yet been apprehended and 4 whose indictments are held in abeyance to be used as Government witnesses when the fugitives are apprehended, pleaded guilty to the second indictment and were sentenced in February 1937. Sentences ranged from 1 year and 1 day probation to 2 years and a $5,000 fine.
Roberts, Howard M. (Howard M. Roberts Co.)	District of Columbia.	1935 May 3	-----do-----	Temporary injunctions granted May 14, 1935, and May 17, 1935. Order vacated as to 2 defendants and a permanent injunction granted as to the remaining 2 defendants on Dec. 10, 1936.
Kattleman & Co. (H. J. Kattleman).	Eastern district of Missouri.	June 29	-----do-----	Decrees pro confesso entered Aug. 26, 1935. On or about Sept. 9, 1935, defendants' motions to set aside these decrees were granted and the court filed the following memorandum: "Motion of defendants to set aside decree pro confesso , and to file answer sustained. Motion of plaintiff for injunction pendente lite is overruled, without prejudice, as the reason and necessity therefor does not now exist." On June 24, 1936 an indictment was returned against Kattleman and others charging violations of section 17 (a) (1), (2) and (3) of the Securities Act and of the mail fraud statute. Kattleman entered a plea of guilty on April 2, 1937, was sentenced to serve 5 years in the penitentiary and was fined $1,000. On May 7, 1937, 6 defendants pleaded guilty; 4 were fined $500 each, 1 was sentenced to serve 1 year and 1 day in the penitentiary, and the sentence of 1 was deferred. The case is pending as to the other defendants.

"SELL AND SWITCH" DEVICE

The practice of first selling seasoned, dividend-paying stocks listed on major securities exchanges to customers, and after gaining their confidence, "switching" them to a low-grade speculative stock being distributed by the dealer, which, of course, he highly recommends, has been frequently encountered by the Commission. This device, often involving as concomitant features the use of "tipster sheets" as well as the misrepresentation of bid and asked prices in a fictitious over-the-counter market, was involved in the following court proceedings:

CASES INVOLVING THE DEFINITION OF "SECURITY"

Crude Oil Corporation of America, et al.—On April 27, 1936, the Commission filed a bill in the western district of Wisconsin to restrain the Crude Oil Corporation of America, B. C. Buckmann Company, Wells-Kendall Company, and Douglas Winslow Adams from further violations of Sections 5 and 17 of the Securities Act in the sale of certain oil contracts. The bill alleged that while the oil contracts purported to constitute a sale of a number of barrels of oil, such contracts were sold to people who never intended to take delivery of the oil, and that the contracts were in fact "investment contracts" within the meaning of the term "security" as defined in Section 2 (1). The bill further alleged that the defendants in the sale of these contracts had made certain misrepresentations constituting violations of Section 17. On December 1, 1936, Judge Stone in his findings of fact and conclusions of law held that the contracts were "securities" within Section 2 (1), that the Securities Act was constitutional, that the petition should be granted as against Crude Oil Corporation and B. C. Buckmann Company, and that the bill should be dismissed as to Wells-Kendall Company. The Commission had previously dismissed the bill as to the only other defendant, Douglas Winslow Adams. A permanent injunction was granted on January 21, 1937. The case is now pending on appeal by the enjoined defendants to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

Other cases involving the definition of the term "security" are:

Cultivated Oyster Farms Corporation.	Southern district of Florida.	1936 Jan. 10	Secs 5 and 17	Temporary injunction granted May 20, 1936. Pending.
Irwin Kott et al.	Southern district of Texas.	July 11	Sec 17 (a) (1) and (3) of the 1933 act; mail fraud; conspiracy to violate same.	Criminal prosecution involving question of whether forged bonds are "securities." Two defendants pleaded guilty and were sentenced to 3 years imprisonment, 1 was sentenced to 32 months and indictments were dismissed as to 3 defendants. One defendant who was convicted and sentenced to serve 5 years appealed and the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit remanded the case for new trial on May 23, 1937, on the ground of an error in the admission of evidence, but the Court expressly held the forged bonds to be "securities" (90 F. (2d) 88).

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED

The Commission has frequently exercised the authority conferred upon it by Section 20 (b) to transmit evidence accumulated in the course of its investigations into violations of the Securities Act to the Attorney General for use in criminal proceedings involving unlawful securities transactions.

Arizona-Comstock Corporation.—An indictment was returned on September 14, 1934, in the western district of Washington against fifteen individuals. Three of the defendants, Alexander S. Coplin, Ben F. Serlis, and Joseph Konwiser, were convicted in January 1936 on the ninth count of the indictment which charged a violation of Section 17 (a) (2) of the Securities Act in using a means of communication in interstate commerce, the long distance telephone, to obtain money and property by omitting to state a material fact necessary to make the statements made; in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. Coplin received a sentence of two years' imprisonment and a fine of $2,500; Serlis, three years and a $4,000 fine; and Konwiser, eighteen months and a $500 fine. On appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit the judgment was unanimously affirmed on March 1, 1937 (88 F. (2d) 652). The Supreme Court denied a petition for a writ of certiorari on May 24, 1937.

Benners, Owens & Company.—On October 19, 1936, an indictment was returned in the eastern district of Michigan against Melvin D. Haynes, A. Paul Benners, Angelo Fraino, alias Angelo Franco, Leroy Brooks, alias John Bookbinder, Douglas F. Wood, Harry Goldman, and William Wiseman. The indictment charged violations of the fraud provisions of the Securities Act, Section 17 (a) (1) and (2), and a mail fraud conspiracy to violate both of these statutes through misrepresentations in the sale of the stock of the Old Dutch Refining Company, of Muskegon, Michigan, and through artificial manipulation of the market price of this stock. The case is pending.

Irwin Kott, et al.—An indictment was returned on July 11, 1936, in the southern district of Texas, charging certain individuals with violations of Section 17 (a) (1) and (3) of the Securities Act, the mail fraud statutes, and with conspiracy to violate these statutes in the sale of certain forged securities. Of the seven defendants, two pleaded guilty and were sentenced to three years' imprisonment; one was sentenced to serve thirty-two months; while the indictments were dismissed as to three of the defendants. One of the defendants, Jerihem Seeman, convicted and sentenced to serve five years, appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. On May 26, 1937, that court held that the forged bonds were within the scope of the Securities Act, but remanded the case for a new trial because of errors in the admission of evidence (Seeman v. United States, 90 F. (2d) 88).

Polymet Manufacturing Corporation.—Indictments were returned in the district of Massachusetts on February 8, August 20, and September 9, 1935, charging W. L. Jarvis, and others, with violation of the mail fraud statute and conspiracy to violate Section 17 (a) of the Securities Act. The indictments charged Jarvis and his co-defendants with selling Polymet Manufacturing Corporation stock to the investing public by means of a high pressure telephone sales campaign run in conjunction with the circulation of a so-called investment service which purported to be unbiased, at a market price previously inflated by defendants' manipulative transactions. Jarvis and his principal co-defendant, Gaines, as well as certain others, have been convicted and sentenced. On appeal, the Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit in an opinion rendered by Judge Morton on May 24, 1937, sustained the conviction (90 F. (2d) 243). Jarvis, Gaines, and two of his associates were also indicted in the southern district of New York in connection with manipulative operations in the stock of Atlas Tack Corporation listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The trial, held in October 1935, ended in a jury disagreement. A new trial has been scheduled.

Colonial Investment Syndicate.—Indictments were obtained in the District Court for the Western District of Tennessee on February 14, April 13, April 14, and April 15, 1936, charging violation of the mail fraud statute, Section 17 (a) of the 1933 Act and conspiring to violate the same. During the fiscal year, one defendant, who pleaded guilty, and two who were convicted, were sentenced to terms ranging from five to seventeen years. Judge Martin, in an exhaustive opinion treating all phases of the case, held the Securities Act constitutional (United States v. Bogy, 16 F. Supp. 407). The two defendants who were convicted have filed notices of their intention to appeal.

Ernest R. Wooley.—On October 28, 1936, the defendant was indicted in the southern district of California for perjury, the charge being that he falsely testified in an investigation by the Commission of the Cota Oil Company. In November 1936 the defendant demurred to the indictment, alleging, inter alia, that the Securities Act of 1933 was unconstitutional. This demurrer was overruled by the court without opinion on January 5, 1937. The case was pending at the end of the fiscal year.

Other criminal prosecutions arising under the Securities Act or the mail fraud statute in the preparation of which the Commission took part, pending or instituted during the fiscal year are as follows:

CIVIL LITIGATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF WHICH THE COMMISSION IS INFORMED

Continental Distillers and Importers Corporation.—Various purchasers of securities of the Continental Distillers and Importers Corporation sued the corporation and its directors in the District Court for the District of Columbia under Section 11 of the Securities Act, alleging that they had purchased these securities which were then registered under the Act, relying partly upon false and misleading representations in a prospectus filed with the Federal Trade Commission. Nineteen suits of identical nature brought in the District of Columbia against the same defendants were by agreement stayed pending the determination of a single such action by the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. On June 1, 1937, the latter court held in Martin v. Hull et al. that the standard of care which must be exercised by a director in submitting for filing with the Commission statements compiled on the authority of experts was one of reasonableness and was not “the high degree of care necessary in the protection of the interests of the stockholders of the corporation.” A petition for re-argument was filed on June 14, 1937.

Lawrence Adams & Company.—Three bills were filed under Section 12 (1) and (2) of the Securities Act in companion suits in the District Court for the District of Columbia on May 8, 1936, by Arnold K. Balls, Charles A. Browne, and Marion E. Lapp against Lawrence Adams & Company and Clarence Falk to rescind certain sales of oil royalty interests. The bills alleged that the defendants in failing to register the interests sold had violated Section 5, and further alleged that the sales had been induced by certain misrepresentations in charts purporting to show the location of producing oil wells and in misleading omissions to disclose that the oil wells were not in condition to begin production. Lawrence Adams & Company moved to quash service made upon it in New York. This motion was overruled on the theory that a plea in abatement should have been filed. The case is pending.

II. THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934, AS AMENDED*MISCELLANEOUS INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS

Archie M. Andrews et al.—On August 12, 1936, suit was instituted by the Commission in the southern district of New York to enjoin the defendants from effecting wash sales, matched orders, and other manipulative transactions in the capital stock of the Dictograph Products Company, Inc., in violation of the provisions of Section 9 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. On September 24, 1936, one of the defendants consented to the entry of a permanent injunction. While the suit was pending as to the other defendants upon the bill, answer, and plaintiff's motion for a preliminary injunction, the Commission by order dated November 11, 1936, authorized an investigation to determine whether unlisted trading privileges on the New York Curb Exchange in the Dictograph stock should be suspended or terminated. The plaintiff's motion for an injunction pendente lite was denied November 23, 1936. On the same date the defendants filed a cross bill seeking to enjoin the Commission from engaging in any activity or investigation with respect to the capital stock of Dictograph Products Company, Inc., and the trading therein, until final determination of the Commission's suit. The relief requested in the cross bill was predicated upon numerous grounds, among them the unconstitutionality of the Act. The Commission moved to dismiss the cross bill for lack of jurisdiction and failure of the cross bill to state a cause of action in equity. That motion was granted, and on November 25, 1936, defendants took an appeal from the entry of the order granting the motion. On March 1, 1937, the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Second Circuit affirmed the order dismissing the cross bill, on the ground that a suit against the Commission could only be maintained in the manner and upon the terms specified in the statute (88 F. (2d) 441). The time for filing an application for a writ of certiorari was extended to July 29, 1937, and the defendants' petition was pending before the Supreme Court on June 30, 1937.

Aaron S. Saphier et al.—On August 25, 1936, the Commission filed suit in the southern district of New York to enjoin the defendants from further violations of Sections 9 (a) (1), (2) and (4) of the Securities Exchange Act and 5 (a) and 17 (a) of the Securities Act. An injunction pendente lite was denied without prejudice by Judge Mack on December 19, 1936. The suit was dismissed on January 26, 1937, on stipulation that the defendants would discontinue the practices of which complaint was made.

Northwest Gas and Oil Properties, Inc., et al.—This represents the first case in which an injunction was obtained against violation of Section 15 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act. A bill was filed March 5, 1937, in the western district of Washington, charging violations of Section 15 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act and of Sections 5 (a) and 17 (a) (2) of the Securities Act and a permanent consent injunction was entered on the same date.

Additional cases involving miscellaneous injunctions under the Securities Exchange Act are as follows:

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS INVOLVING THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT

Three criminal prosecutions were instituted during the fiscal year involving the Securities Exchange Act. Violations of Section 9 were alleged in each of these cases. Their status is as follows:

CASES INVOLVING SUBPENA POWERS

McMann v. Engel et al., Securities and Exchange Commission, intervenor.—On July 21, 1936, McMann filed suit in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York to enjoin the defendant Engel and others, partners in the stock brokerage firm of Engel and Company, from producing statements of the plaintiff's account in response to subpoenas issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission in the course of its investigation to determine whether the plaintiff and others were engaged or about to engage in manipulative and other fraudulent acts and practices in the stock of the Budd Wheel Company and Willow Cafeterias in violation of the Securities Act of 1933, and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The bill of complaint alleged that the transactions in question were confidential; that the information called for by the subpoenas was privileged and protected by the fourth amendment; that the subpoenas infringed the plaintiff's immunity against "unreasonable searches"; and that the statutes under which the subpoenas were issued were unconstitutional and void. Engel and Company, the primary defendant, took a neutral position and the Commission found it necessary to intervene to protect its rights. On August 5, 1936, the district court decided against the plaintiff on all questions raised and denied the motion for a preliminary injunction (16 F. Supp. 446). From this decree McMann appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. On January 19, 1937, the circuit court of appeals affirmed the order of the court below (87 F. (2d) 377). McMann secured a stay pending application to the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari but the petition was denied by the Supreme Court on April 12, 1937.

Ryan and Ryan Florida Corp. v. Newfield and Western Union Telegraph Co.; Ryan and Ryan Florida Corp. v. Newfield and Postal Telegraph-Cable Co., Inc.; Florida Tex. Oil Co. v. Ballentine and Postal Telegraph-Cable Co., Inc.—These three cases, involving almost identical questions, were consolidated for purposes of argument. The suits were brought in March 1937 in the southern district of Florida against representatives of the Commission and against Western Union and Postal Telegraph to enjoin enforcement of and compliance with certain subpoenas duces tecum issued by the Commission, calling for the production by the telegraph companies of copies of certain telegrams in their possession sent or received by the plaintiffs. The subpoenas had been issued only after preliminary investigations and the issuance of formal orders of investigation to ascertain possible violations of Sections 5 and 17 of the Securities Act, and after the Commission had expressly found that the telegrams called for in the subpoenas were relevant and material to the investigations authorized. On the ground that the subpoenas violated the plaintiff's rights under the fourth and fifth amendments, the District Court for the Southern District of Florida, on April 14, 1937, granted interlocutory orders restraining enforcement and compliance. An appeal was taken by the Commission's representatives to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, and on July 22, 1937, that court reversed the decision of the district court. A unanimous court speaking through Judge Hutcheson held that the plaintiffs had no standing to invoke the fourth and fifth amendments, and that the subpoenas in question had been issued pursuant to lawful authority and were valid process.

In a number of instances the Commission, under the authority conferred by Section 22 (b) of the Securities Act and Section 21 (c) of the Securities Exchange Act, has deemed it necessary to resort to the courts to enforce compliance with subpoenas issued in connection with investigations of violations of the Acts. Although several applications to enforce subpoenas have been fully argued before the courts, many were continued indefinitely because the Commission, prior to decision, obtained the required evidence from other sources. The applications filed or pending during the fiscal year are:

Black Gold Exploration Trust, et al.	Western district of Oklahoma.	Dec. 17, 1935	Cause dismissed July 21, 1936 on motion of the Commission.
Krystal Chemical Co., Inc., et al.	District of Columbia.	Jan. 29, 1936	Order granted by district court Mar. 30, 1936; appeal taken and argued in court of appeals, Oct. 9, 1936. Motion by Commission to remand case to district court for dismissal granted Nov. 6, 1936. On motion of the Commission an order to vacate was entered by the district court, Nov. 10, 1936.
National Short Term Securities Corporation et al.	Massachusetts	Jan. 31, 1936	Order entered Feb. 3, 1936. Defendant on Feb. 11, 1936, moved to vacate on various grounds, alleging the invalidity of the Securities Act of 1933. Case is pending.
Mills, J. Edward et al.	Northern district of Texas.	Feb. 2, 1936	Defendants on Feb. 28, 1936, moved to dismiss application on ground that Securities Act of 1933 unconstitutional. Cause dismissed Jan. 21, 1937, on agreement of respondents to appear and testify.
Thomas Bracken, et al.	Southern district of New York.	Feb. 19, 1936	Order granted by district court March 26, 1936. Appeal taken and argued in Court of Appeals and the order was affirmed on June 1, 1936. On Oct. 12, 1936, certiorari was granted by the Supreme Court and the case remanded to the district court with directions to vacate the decree on the grounds that the cause was moot since the evidence had been obtained from other sources.
American Rand Corp.	Western district of Washington.	June 9, 1936	Dismissed July 18, 1936, on motion of the Commission; after the required documents had been produced by the defendant.
A. C. Smith	Western district of Pennsylvania.	Sept. 1, 1936	Order applied for, granted Sept. 2, 1936.

APPEALS FROM ORDERS OF THE COMMISSION PROMULGATED UNDER THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT

Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act permits any person filing any application or report with the Commission to make written objection to the public disclosure of some or all of the information contained therein. Under Section 25 (a) of the Act provision is made for review in a circuit court of appeals or in the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia of orders of the Commission rendered in a proceeding under this Act. More than 600 issuers seeking registration upon national securities exchanges filed, in connection with their application for registration, objections to disclosure of certain information, for the most part relating to sales and itemized break-down of the cost of sales. In many other instances objection was made to public disclosure of salaries and other remuneration paid to officers and directors. At the request of the issuers concerned, pursuant to Section 24 (b) the Commission, in private hearings, heard the objections to public disclosure of the information for which confidential treatment was sought. Approximately 30 issuers whose applications for confidential treatment of information filed had been denied by the Commission, purporting to act under Section 25 (a) of the Act, filed petitions in various circuit courts of appeal and in the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia to review the Commission's action. A group of these cases was consolidated and argument was had June 11, 1937, before the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, on the question whether the Commission's determination under Section 24 (b) is the type of order which is reviewable under the special appeal section, 25 (a). As of the close of the fiscal year no decision had been rendered in these cases, nor had any circuit court of appeals made any disposition on the merits of any such petition. The names of the petitioners, the date of the filing of the petition, and the circuit court of appeals in which the petition is now pending are as follows:

THE THIRD AVENUE RAILWAY COMPANY

On July 31, 1936, The Third Avenue Railway Company filed a petition for review by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit of an alleged order of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The petitioners had requested that the Commission amend its requirement that the financial statements included in the annual report submitted to the Commission be certified by public accountants; to provide that where the principal properties of the registrant were common carriers, required by the laws of New York to make annual reports to the Department of Public Service, they could file annual financial statements not so certified. The Commission denied this request but there were no proceedings and it did not enter a formal order. On October 19, 1936, the Court of Appeals dismissed the petition on the ground that since this was not a proceedings inter parties the court was without jurisdiction to entertain the petition.

SUITS TO ENJOIN ENFORCEMENT OF THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT

In addition to the case of McMann v. Engel et al in which the Commission intervened, and the cases brought by Ryan, Ryan Florida Corp., and the Florida Tex., Oil Company against Agents of the Commission, the Western Union Telegraph Company, and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company all of which are described above*, the only action to enjoin the application of the Act is that commenced by J. Edward Jones on January 2, 1936 to enjoin enforcement against him of Section 15 of the Act. This case is described in detail in the Second Annual Report of the Securities and Exchange Commission. On April 17, 1937 the suit was dismissed by the court for want of prosecution.

III. THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

Thus far, cases which have arisen under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 have been for the purpose of obtaining an adjudication as to the constitutionality of the Act. The constitutional question has been raised directly in suits by holding companies to enjoin enforcement of the provisions of that Act, in suits by trustees of holding companies in bankruptcy instituted for the nominal purpose of obtaining instructions from the court as to whether to comply with the Act, and in stockholders' suits against the corporation to enjoin compliance with the Act. At an early date the Commission instituted the Electric Bond and Share case in the southern district of New York in order fairly to present all the issues in a single case. The majority of the other suits were not defended by the Commission.

Electric Bond and Share Company et al.—The provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 became effective on December 1, 1935. Even before this date the Government was faced with a multitude of injunction suits, actual or anticipated, on the part of most of the larger holding companies. The Commission, desiring a prompt and fair test of the provisions of the Act, brought suit in the southern district of New York against the Electric Bond and Share Company and its principal intermediate holding companies to enjoin activities which were declared unlawful by that Act. Other defendants were subsequently added in order to bring before the court as many typical situations to which the terms of the Act apply as was possible without confusing the issues of the case. A stipulation of facts, approximately 2,000 pages in length, was filed with the court on June 30, 1936. Thus, the court had before it a record comprehensively detailing many of the more important instances in which the Public Utility Holding Company Act impinged upon holding company activities. On January 29, 1937, Judge Mack in an exhaustive opinion held that the defendant utility companies, under existent circumstances, could only attack the registration provisions of the Act, that these provisions were separable from the remainder of the Act, and that they came within the ambit of congressional power to regulate interstate commerce. A petition for certiorari directly to the Supreme Court, joined in by all parties, was denied by that Court on June 1, 1937. The case is now pending on appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

Landis v. North American Company.—Seven suits were filed in the District of Columbia to enjoin enforcement of the Holding Company Act. On December 7, 1935, a motion was made by the Commission to stay these suits pending a decision of the Supreme Court in the Electric Bond and Share case. This motion was granted by the district court on January 6, 1936, but on special appeal the stay order was reversed by the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia on the ground that the parties and issues were not identical with those in the Electric Bond and Share case. Certiorari was granted by the Supreme Court October 5, 1936. On December 7, 1936, the Supreme Court reversed the decision of the court of appeals, vacated the order of the district court, and remanded the cause to the lower court for a reconsideration of the motion for a stay. Mr. Justice Cardozo, speaking for a unanimous Court (Mr. Justice McReynolds concurring in result only), stated that although the Court did have the power to grant the stay, the stay was excessive insofar as it was to continue in effect beyond the decision of the district court in the Electric Bond and Share case (299 U. S. 248). The cases are now in the District Court for the District of Columbia awaiting further proceedings on the motion to stay.
