Management's Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition

Critical Accounting Policies

1. You have disclosed in your filing that the majority of your hotels are classified as luxury or upper-scale hotels and that this segment of the hotel industry appears to be most vulnerable to a severe recession as consumers and commercial parties look to save money. You have further disclosed in your 2009 outlook on page 44 that you believe that the economic slowdown will significantly affect both the group and transient elements of your business and that 2008 RevPar decreased from the prior year across all of your hotel property types with the most significant decline of 17.1% at your Hawaiian properties. Explain to us and clarify in this filing how this severe recession has impacted your impairment analysis under SFAS 144 and the related assumptions used in determining future cash flows from your hotel properties. Finally, please specifically address the Hawaiian properties in your response as these properties have experienced significant declines in RevPar and a couple of the Hawaiian properties were noted to have been acquired as recently as 2003.

As appropriate, please respond to our comment within 10 business days or tell us when you will provide us with a response. Please submit a response letter on EDGAR that keys your response to our comment and provide any requested information. Detailed cover letters greatly facilitate our review. Please understand that we may have additional comments after reviewing your response to our comment.

We urge all persons who are responsible for the accuracy and adequacy of the disclosure in the filing to be certain that the filing includes all information required under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and that they have provided all information investors require for an informed decision. Since the company and its management are in possession of all facts relating to a company's disclosure, they are responsible for the accuracy and adequacy of the disclosures they have made.

In connection with responding to our comments, please provide, in writing, a statement from the company acknowledging that:

- the company is responsible for the adequacy and accuracy of the disclosure in the filing;
- staff comments or changes to disclosure in response to staff comments do not foreclose the Commission from taking any action with respect to the filing; and
