RISK FACTORS

The SEC requires the Company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The Company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

The Company has seen payment and messaging issues with its product since launch. Bugs began the first week of the product's release and continued to impact the Company in the initial six months. The Company resolved the payment issues in late September 2017.

While the Company has achieved impressive user traction since the April 2017 product launch, they have limited revenue visibility. The Company's success is dependent on consumer and artist/studio adoption of its new marketplace app. Further, they have not activated paid sponsorships and booking fees; in-app subscriptions are difficult to scale due to the low conversion and high churn rate of apps.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees. In particular, the Company is dependent on Mark C. Mahoney Jr. (CEO, President, and Director) and Jordan McKim (Vice President of Production and Director). The Company has not entered into employment agreements with these key employees, and there can be no assurance that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of our key employees or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Company faces competition from a highly fragmented industry. Existing companies that engage in the space could introduce new or enhance existing products. If the Company is able to establish a market around its product, it may find that larger, better funded companies may enter the market, which could negatively impact its growth.

Further, other competitors exist in the space that have similar marketplace models of connecting artists/studios with tattoo fans and seekers. As a result, there may be a low differentiation between TTI's product offerings and their competitors.

The Company has recently terminated a member of its board of directors. There is currently no mutual release, release of claims, or any other covenant protecting the Company against litigation from the terminated director. If the director chooses to bring any claims against the Company, the Company could be subject to the financial costs of litigation, such as attorney or settlement fees. In addition, the Company's reputation is also subject to damage if claims issued by the director cast the Company in an unfavorable light.

The Company has not filed a Form D for its offering of SAFE notes in 2016. The SEC rules require a Form D to be filed by companies within 15 days after the first sale of securities in the offering relying on Regulation D. Failing to register with the SEC or get an exemption may lead to fines, the right of investors to get their investments back, and even criminal charges. There is a risk that a late penalty could apply.

The Company may be unable to protect its intellectual property adequately. The Company currently has no patents on its platform. To the extent it does receive patent protection, any U.S. or other patents issued may not be sufficiently broad to protect its proprietary technologies. In addition, patents, even if granted, may be held invalid or unenforceable if challenged. Any intellectual enforcement efforts the Company seeks to undertake, including litigation, could be time-consuming and expensive and could divert management's attention.

Our business could be negatively impacted by cybersecurity threats, attacks and other disruptions. Like others in our industry, we continue to face advanced and persistent attacks on our information infrastructure where we manage and store various proprietary information and sensitive/confidential data relating to our operations. These attacks may include sophisticated malware (viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs) and phishing emails that attack our products or otherwise exploit any security vulnerabilities. These intrusions sometimes may be zero-day malware that are difficult to identify because they are not included in the signature set of commercially available antivirus scanning programs. Experienced computer programmers and hackers may be able to penetrate our network security and misappropriate or compromise our confidential information or that of our customers or other third-parties, create system disruptions, or cause shutdowns. Additionally, sophisticated software and applications that we produce or procure from third-parties may contain defects in design or manufacture, including "bugs" and other problems that could unexpectedly interfere with the operation of the information infrastructure. A disruption, infiltration or failure of our information infrastructure systems or any of our data centers as a result of software or hardware malfunctions, computer viruses, cyber-attacks, employee theft or misuse, power disruptions, natural disasters or accidents could cause breaches of data security, loss of critical data and performance delays, which in turn could adversely affect our business.

We have not prepared any audited financial statements. Therefore, you have no audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

We are subject to many U.S. federal and state laws and regulations, including those related to privacy, rights of publicity, and law enforcement. These laws and regulations are constantly evolving and may be interpreted, applied, created, or amended, in a manner that could harm our business. The technology and use of the technology in our product may not be legislated, and it is uncertain whether different states will legislate around this technology, and, if they do, how they will do so. Violating existing or future regulatory orders or consent decrees could subject us to substantial monetary fines and other penalties that could negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Crowd Notes will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Crowd Notes may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney. You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Crowd Notes. Because the Crowd Notes have not been registered under the 1933 Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Crowd Notes have transfer restrictions under Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the 1933 Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Crowd Notes may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Crowd Notes in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

We are selling convertible notes that will convert into shares or result in payment in limited circumstances. These notes do not have a maturity date and only convert or result in payment in limited circumstances. If there is a merger, buyout or other corporate transaction that occurs before a qualified equity financing, investors will receive a payment of the greater of two times their purchase price or the amount of preferred shares they would have been able to purchase using the valuation cap. If there is a qualified equity financing (an initial public offering registered under the 1933 Act or a financing using preferred shares), the notes will convert into a yet to-be-determined class of preferred stock. The notes will convert at a discount of 20%, or based on a $3,500,000 valuation cap, meaning investors would be rewarded for taking on early risk compared to later investors. Outside investors at the time of conversion, if any, might value the Company at an amount well below the $3,500,000 valuation cap, so you should not view the $3,500,000 as being an indication of the Company's value. If you choose to invest, you should be prepared that your notes will never convert and will have no value.

We have not assessed the tax implications of using the Crowd Note. The Crowd Note is a type of debt security that does not include a set maturity date. As such, there has been inconsistent treatment under state and federal tax law as to whether securities like the Crowd Note can be considered a debt of the Company, or the issuance of equity. Investors should consult their tax advisers.

The Crowd Note contains dispute resolution provisions which limit your ability to bring class action lawsuits or seek remedy on a class basis. By purchasing a Crowd Note in this Offering, you agree to be bound by the dispute resolution provisions found in Section 6 of the Crowd Note. Those provisions apply to claims regarding this Offering, the Crowd Notes and possibly the securities into which the Crowd Note are convertible. Under those provisions, disputes under the Crowd Note will be resolved in arbitration conducted in Delaware. Further, those provisions may limit your ability to bring class action lawsuits or similarly seek a remedy on a class basis.

You may have limited rights. The Company has not yet authorized preferred stock, and there is no way to know what voting rights those securities will have. In addition, as an investor in the Regulation CF offering you will be considered a Non-Major Investor (as defined below) under the terms of the notes offered, and therefore, you have more limited information rights and you will not have the right to automatically participate in future offerings, and therefore not have the same anti-dilution protections as Major Investors.

You will be bound by an investment management agreement which limits your voting rights. As a result of purchasing the notes, all Non-Major Investors (including all investors investing under Regulation CF) will be bound by an investment management agreement. This agreement will limit your voting rights and at a later time may require you to convert your future preferred shares into common shares without your consent. Non-Major Investors will be bound by this agreement, unless Non-Major Investors holding a majority of the principal amount outstanding of the Crowd Notes (or majority of the shares of the preferred equity the notes will convert into) held by Non-Major Investors vote to terminate the agreement.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners. Prior to the Offering, the Company’s current owners of 20% or more of the Company’s outstanding voting securities beneficially own up to 63% of the Company’s voting securities. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company’s management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company’s existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

The Company's product, Find Me Ink, is an integrated mobile application, mobile website, and desktop webpage that allows artists to maintain digital portfolios, book appointments, and promote their appearances at events. Find Me Ink generates scalable revenue from a subscription model from artists and shops. The Company has also started to manage Tattoo Artist Magazine, the leading media platform for tattoo artists. The Company sells advertising space to tattoo supply companies and related businesses. The Company's year-end is December 31.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The proceeds from the Combined Offerings are essential to our operations. We plan to use the proceeds as set forth above under "Use of Proceeds", which is an indispensable element of our business strategy. The Combined Offering proceeds will have a beneficial effect on our liquidity, as we currently have $7,750 in cash on hand which will be augmented by the Combined Offering proceeds and used to execute our business strategy.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Combined Offerings.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Valuation

Before making an investment decision, you should carefully consider this valuation and the factors used to reach such valuation. Such valuation may not be accurate and you are encouraged to determine your own independent value of the Company prior to investing.

As discussed in "Dilution" below, the valuation will determine the amount by which the investor's stake is diluted immediately upon investment. An early-stage company typically sells its shares (or grants options over its shares) to its founders and early employees at a very low cash cost, because they are, in effect, putting their "sweat equity" into the Company. When the Company seeks cash investments from outside investors, like you, the new investors typically pay a much larger sum for their shares than the founders or earlier investors, which means that the cash value of your stake is immediately diluted because each share of the same type is worth the same amount, and you paid more for your shares (or the notes convertible into shares) than earlier investors did for theirs.

There are several ways to value a company. None of them is perfect and all of them involve a certain amount of guesswork. The same method can produce a different valuation if used by a different person.

Liquidation Value - The amount for which the assets of the Company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed, e.g., the assets of a bakery include the cake mixers, ingredients, baking tins, etc. The liabilities of a bakery include the cost of rent or mortgage on the bakery. However, this value does not reflect the potential value of a business, e.g. the value of the secret recipe. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early stage companies do not have many assets (they probably need to raise funds through a securities offering in order to purchase some equipment).

Book Value - This is based on analysis of the Company's financial statements, usually looking at the Company's balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e. what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or trade names, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach - This is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), taking into account inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return. However, predictions of the future are uncertain and valuation of future returns is a best guess.

Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Typically liquidation value and book value will produce a lower valuation than the earnings approach. However, the earnings approach is also most likely to be risky as it is based on many assumptions about the future, while the liquidation value and book value are much more conservative.

Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the Company) may value the Company differently. They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the Company's business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist makes an investment in a company, it values the Company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment will go down.

Previous Offerings of Securities

We have made the following issuances of securities since inception:

Type of security	Common stock
Amount outstanding	5,966,993 shares
Voting Rights	Each share of common stock entitles the holder to one vote in all matters that come before the shareholders of the Company.
How this Security may limit, dilute or qualify the Notes/Bonds issued pursuant to Regulation CF	The holders of common stock vote on all matters that come before the Company and thus will have the ability to control the circumstances in which corporate actions or future capital raising will result in the conversion of the Crowd Notes.
Percentage ownership of the Company by the holders of such Securities prior to the Offering.	100%
Other Material Terms	Not Applicable

Type of security	SAFE notes
Amount outstanding	$285,000
Voting Rights	Not Applicable
How this Security may limit, dilute or qualify the Notes/Bonds issued pursuant to Regulation CF	Conversion of SAFE notes to equity would dilute the ownership percentage of converted Crowd Notes. In addition, if SAFE notes are converted before Crowd Notes, they will be given voting rights and consequently a degree of control over the circumstances in which corporate actions or future capital raising will result in the conversion of the Crowd Notes.
Percentage ownership of the Company by the holders of such Securities prior to the Offering.	Not Applicable
Other Material Terms	Not Applicable

THE OFFERING AND THE SECURITIES

The Securities Offered in this Offering

The following description is a brief summary of the material terms of the Securities being offered and is qualified in its entirety by the terms contained in the Crowd Notes.

The Crowd Notes sold in this Offering will convert in the following circumstances:

- If a "corporate transaction" (such as the sale of the Company) occurs prior to a "qualified equity financing" (which is a preferred stock financing raising more than $1,000,000).
- Once a "qualified equity financing" occurs, the notes thereafter will automatically convert into the shares of preferred stock sold in the qualified equity financing.

The price at which the Crowd Notes sold in this Offering will convert will be:

- At a discount of 20% to the price in the qualified equity financing, subject to a $3,500,000 valuation cap, if the conversion takes place after the qualified equity financing; or
- If conversion takes place prior to a qualified equity financing, the greater of twice the outstanding principal of the Crowd Notes, or the amount of stock the Crowd Notes would convert into under the valuation cap.

Until the earlier of the qualified equity financing or the corporate transaction, the Crowd Notes accrue an annual interest rate of 5%, compounded quarterly.

The securities into which the Crowd Notes in this Offering will convert will have more limited voting and information rights than those to be issued to major investors on conversion.

Our Target Amount for this Offering to investors under Regulation Crowdfunding is $25,000.

Additionally, we have set a minimum Closing Amount of $200,000 Combined Escrow Target between our Combined Offerings under Regulation Crowdfunding and Regulation D, which we will need to meet before any closings occur.

The minimum investment in this Offering is $500. SeedInvest Auto Invest participants have a lower investment minimum in this offering of $200. Investments of $20,000 or greater will only be accepted through the Regulation D offering.

All Non-Major Investors of Crowd Notes will be bound by an investment management agreement. This agreement will limit your voting rights and at a later time may require you to convert your future preferred shares into common shares without your consent. Non-Major Investors will be bound by this agreement, unless Non-Major Investors holding a majority of the principal amount outstanding of the Crowd Notes (or majority of the shares of the preferred equity the notes will convert into) held by Non-Major Investors vote to terminate the agreement.

Securities Sold Pursuant to Regulation D

The Company is selling securities in a concurrent offering to accredited investors under Rule 506(c) under the 1933 Act at the same time as this Offering under Regulation Crowdfunding (together, the "Combined Offerings").

The Crowd Notes in the Regulation D offering convert under similar terms to the Crowd Notes in this offering. However, investors who invest $50,000 or greater will be considered "Major Investors" under the Crowd Note. Major Investors in those Crowd Notes will be entitled to participation rights in future offerings of equity securities up to the purchase price of their Crowd Notes and will be considered Major Investors, to the extent that concept exists, in those offerings. Further, Major Investors will be entitled to greater information rights than Non-Major Investors in the Combined Offerings. In the future, Major Investors may also be entitled to greater voting rights than their non-major counterparts.

Dilution

Even once the Crowd Notes convert into preferred or common equity securities, as applicable, the investor's stake in the Company could be diluted due to the Company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the Company issues more shares (or additional equity interests), the percentage of the Company that you own will go down, even though the value of the Company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round or angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

If a company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

The type of dilution that hurts early-stage investors mostly occurs when a company sells more shares in a "down round," meaning at a lower valuation than in earlier offerings. An example of how this might occur is as follows (numbers are for illustrative purposes only):

- In June 2014 Jane invests $20,000 for shares that represent 2% of a company valued at $1 million.
- In December, the company is doing very well and sells $5 million in shares to venture capitalists on a valuation (before the new investment) of $10 million. Jane now owns only 1.3% of the company but her stake is worth $200,000.
- In June 2015 the company has run into serious problems and in order to stay afloat it raises $1 million at a valuation of only $2 million (the "down round"). Jane now owns only 0.89% of the company and her stake is worth only $26,660.

This type of dilution might also happen upon conversion of convertible notes into shares. Typically, the terms of convertible notes issued by early-stage companies provide that in the event of another round of financing, the holders of the convertible notes get to convert their notes into equity at a "discount" to the price paid by the new investors, i.e., they get more shares than the new investors would for the same price. Additionally, convertible notes may have a "price cap" on the conversion price, which effectively acts as a share price ceiling. Either way, the holders of the convertible notes get more shares for their money than new investors. In the event that the financing is a "down round" the holders of the convertible notes will dilute existing equity holders, and even more than the new investors do, because they get more shares for their money.

If you are making an investment expecting to own a certain percentage of the Company or expecting each share to hold a certain amount of value, it's important to realize how the value of those shares can decrease by actions taken by the Company. Dilution can make drastic changes to the value of each share, ownership percentage, voting control, and earnings per share.

Tax Matters

EACH PROSPECTIVE PURCHASER SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OWN TAX AND ERISA ADVISOR AS TO THE PARTICULAR CONSEQUENCES TO THE PURCHASER OF THE PURCHASE, OWNERSHIP AND SALE OF THE PURCHASER'S SECURITIES, AS WELL AS POSSIBLE CHANGES IN THE TAX LAWS.

Transfer Agent

We have selected VStock Transfer, LLC, an SEC-registered securities transfer agent, to act as our transfer agent upon conversion of the Crowd Notes.

Restrictions on Transfer

Any Securities sold pursuant to Regulation CF being offered may not be transferred by any Purchaser of such Securities during the one-year holding period beginning when the Securities were issued, unless such Securities are transferred: 1) to the Company, 2) to an accredited investor, as defined by Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the 1933 Act, 3) as part of an IPO or 4) to a member of the family of the Purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the Purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the Purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the Purchaser or other similar circumstances. "Member of the family" as used herein means a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother/father/daughter/son/sister/brother-in-law, and includes adoptive relationships. Remember that although you may legally be able to transfer the Securities, you may not be able to find another party willing to purchase them.

In addition to the foregoing restrictions, prior to making any transfer of the Securities or any Securities into which they are convertible, such transferring Purchaser must either make such transfer pursuant to an effective registration statement filed with the SEC or provide the Company with an opinion of counsel stating that a registration statement is not necessary to effect such transfer.

Other Material Terms

- The Company does not have the right to repurchase the Securities.
- The Securities do not have a stated return or liquidation preference.

SEEDINVEST INVESTMENT PROCESS

Making an Investment in the Company

How does investing work?

When you complete your investment on SeedInvest, your money will be transferred to an escrow account where an independent escrow agent will watch over your investment until it is accepted by the Company. Once the Company accepts your investment, and certain regulatory procedures are completed, your money will be transferred from the escrow account to the Company in exchange for your convertible note. At that point, you will be an investor in the Company.

SeedInvest Regulation CF rules regarding the investment process:

- Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in the issuer's Offering materials;
- The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met;
- The Company is making concurrent offerings under both Regulation CF and Regulation D and unless the Company raises at least the target amount under the Regulation CF Offering and the closing amount under both offerings, it will not close this Offering;
- If an issuer reaches a target offering amount and the closing amount prior to the deadline identified in its offering materials, it may close the Offering early if it provides notice about the new Offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new Offering deadline;
- If there is a material change and an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned;

- If an issuer does not reach both the target offering amount and the closing offering amount prior to the deadline identified in its offering materials, no Securities will be sold in the Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned; and
- If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the Offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the Offering and the investor will receive Securities in exchange for his or her investment.

What will I need to complete my investment?

To make an investment you will need the following information readily available:

1. Personal information such as your current address and phone number
2. Employment and employer information
3. Net worth and income information
4. Social Security Number or government-issued identification
5. ABA bank routing number and checking account number

What is the difference between preferred equity and a convertible note?

Preferred equity is usually issued to outside investors and carries rights and conditions that are different from that of common stock. For example, preferred equity may include rights that prevent or minimize the effects of dilution or grants special privileges in situations when the Company is sold.

A convertible note is a unique form of debt that converts into equity, usually in conjunction with a future financing round. The investor effectively loans money to the Company with the expectation that they will receive equity in the Company in the future at a discounted price per share when the Company raises its next round of financing. To learn more about startup investment types, check out "How to Choose a Startup Investment" in the SeedInvest Academy.

How much can I invest?

An investor is limited in the amount that he or she may invest in a Regulation Crowdfunding Offering during any 12-month period:

- If either the annual income or the net worth of the investor is less than $100,000, the investor is limited to the greater of $2,000 or 5% of the lesser of his or her annual income or net worth.
- If the annual income and net worth of the investor are both greater than $100,000, the investor is limited to 10% of the lesser of his or her annual income or net worth, to a maximum of $100,000. Separately, the Company has set a minimum investment amount.

How can I (or the Company) cancel my investment?

For Offerings made under Regulation Crowdfunding, you may cancel your investment at any time up to 48 hours before a closing occurs or an earlier date set by the Company. You will be sent a reminder notification approximately five days before the closing or set date giving you an opportunity to cancel your investment if you had not already done so. Once a closing occurs, and if you have not cancelled your investment, you will receive an email notifying you that your Securities have been issued. If you have already funded your investment, let SeedInvest know by emailing cancellations@seedinvest.com. Please include your name, the Company's name, the amount, the investment number, and the date you made your investment.

After My Investment

What is my ongoing relationship with the Company?

You are an investor in the Company, you do own securities after all! But more importantly, companies that have raised money via Regulation Crowdfunding must file information with the SEC and post it on their website on an annual basis. Receiving regular company updates is important to keep investors educated and informed about the progress of the Company and their investments. This annual report includes information similar to the Company's initial Form C filing and key information that a company will want to share with its investors to foster a dynamic and healthy relationship.

In certain circumstances a company may terminate its ongoing reporting requirements if:

1. The Company becomes a fully-reporting registrant with the SEC
2. The Company has filed at least one annual report, but has no more than 300 shareholders of record
3. The Company has filed at least three annual reports, and has no more than $10 million in assets

4. The Company or another party repurchases or purchases all the Securities sold in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the 1933 Act
5. The Company ceases to do business

However, regardless of whether a company has terminated its ongoing reporting requirements per SEC rules, SeedInvest works with all companies on its platform to ensure that investors are provided quarterly updates. These quarterly reports will include information such as: (i) quarterly net sales, (ii) quarterly change in cash and cash on hand, (iii) material updates on the business, (iv) fundraising updates (any plans for next round, current round status, etc.), and (v) any notable press and news.

How do I keep track of this investment?

You can return to SeedInvest at any time to view your portfolio of investment and obtain a summary statement. In addition to monthly account statements, you may also receive periodic updates from the Company about its business.

Can I get rid of my Securities after buying them?

Securities purchased through a Regulation Crowdfunding Offering are not freely transferable for one year after the date of purchase, except in the case where they are transferred:

1. To the Company that sold the Securities
2. To an accredited investor
3. As part of an Offering registered with the SEC (think IPO)
4. To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser

Regardless, after the one year holding period has expired, you should not plan on being able to readily transfer and/or sell your security. Currently, there is no market or liquidity for these Securities and the Company does not have any plans to list these Securities on an exchange or other secondary market. At some point the Company may choose to do so, but until then you should plan to hold your investment for a significant period of time before a "liquidation event" occurs.

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES.

Nature and Continuance of Operations

Tattoo Technologies, Inc., a Delaware C-Corporation (“the Company”), was formed on July 28, 2016 and has had limited operations since its inception. The Company is headquartered in Chicago, Illinois and has not realized revenues from its planned operations as of December 31, 2016.

Tattoo Technologies, Inc. provides a centralized software platform for tattoo artists to connect with customers. One branch of the Company, “Find Me Ink”, is an integrated mobile application, mobile website, and desktop webpage that allows artists to maintain digital portfolios, book appointments, and promote their appearances at events. Find Me Ink generates scalable revenue from a subscription model from artists and shops. The Company has also started to manage Tattoo Artist Magazine, the leading media platform for tattoo artists. The Company sells advertising space to tattoo supply companies and related businesses.

The Company’s year-end is December 31.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”). In the opinion of management, all adjustments considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. All such adjustments are normal and recurring in nature.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Advertising costs

The Company’s advertising costs are expensed as incurred. During the years ended December 31, 2016, the Company recognized $573 in advertising costs.

Risks and Uncertainties

As of December 31, 2016, the Company has not commenced full scale operations. The Company’s activities since inception have consisted of product and business development, and efforts to raise capital. Once the Company commences its planned full scale operations, it will incur significant additional expenses. The Company is dependent upon additional capital resources for the commencement of its planned principal operations and is subject to significant risks and uncertainties; including failing to secure funding to operationalize the Company’s plans or failing to profitably operate the business.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the period July 28, 2016 (inception) through December 31, 2016

Revenue Recognitions

The Company recognizes revenue from its online subscription and advertising services only when all of the following criteria have been met: (1) Persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists; (2) Delivery has occurred or services have been rendered; (3) The fee for the arrangement is fixed or determinable; and (4) Collectability is reasonably assured.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") guidance specifies a hierarchy of valuation techniques based on whether the inputs to those valuation techniques are observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect market assumptions. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurement). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level 1 - Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the reporting entity has the ability to access at the measurement date. Level 1 primarily consists of financial instruments whose value is based on quoted market prices such as exchange-traded instruments and listed equities.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (e.g., quoted prices of similar assets or liabilities in active markets, or quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active).

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. Financial instruments are considered Level 3 when their fair values are determined using pricing models, discounted cash flows or similar techniques and at least one significant model assumption or input is unobservable.

The carrying amounts reported in the balance sheets approximate their fair value.

Income Taxes

The Company uses the liability method of accounting for income taxes as set forth in ASC 740, Income Taxes. Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on the temporary difference between the financial statements and tax bases of assets and liability using tax rates expected to be in effect during the years in which the basis differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded when it is unlikely that the deferred tax assets will be realized.

The Company assesses its income tax positions and records tax benefits for all years subject to examination based upon its evaluation of the facts, circumstances and information available at the reporting date. In accordance with ADC 740-10, for those tax positions where there is a greater than 50% likelihood that a tax benefit will be sustained, our policy is to record the largest amount of tax benefit that is more likely than not to be realized upon ultimate settlement with a taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. For those income tax positions where there is less than 50% likelihood that a tax benefit will be sustained, no tax benefit will be recognized in the financial statements. The Company has determined that there are no material uncertain tax positions.

The Company accounts for income taxes with the recognition of estimated income taxes payable or refundable on income tax returns for the current period and for the estimated future tax effect attributable to temporary differences and carryforwards. Measurement of deferred income tax assets being reduced by available tax benefits not expected to be realized in the immediate future.

The Company accounts for federal income taxes based on the provisions promulgated by the Internal Revenue Service, which has a statute of limitation of three years. It also accounts for state income taxes base on the provisions promulgated by the Illinois Department of Revenue, which has a statute of limitations of three years.

The Company currently has a tax net operating loss (NOL) of $83,273 for which it may receive future tax benefits. However, as of December 31, 2016, no such benefit is expected to be recognized in the near term, and therefore, a full valuation allowance has been assessed on any potential income tax benefit.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of 90 days or less to be cash equivalents. At December 31, 2016, the Company had no items, other than bank deposits, that would be considered cash equivalents. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, insured up to $250,000 by FDIC. As of December 31, 2016, the Company had $114,651 in cash.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2014-09 titled "Revenue from Contracts with Customers." Under this guidance, revenue is recognized when promised goods or services are transferred to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration expected to be received for those goods or services. The updated standard will replace most existing revenue recognition guidance under U.S. GAAP when it becomes effective and permits the use of either a retrospective or cumulative effect transition method. Early adoption is not permitted. The updated standard will be effective beginning January 1, 2019 for nonpublic entities. The Company is currently evaluating the effect that the updated standard will have on these financial statements and related disclosures.

There have also been a number of issued ASUs to amend authoritative guidance, including the above, that either (a) provide supplemental guidance, (b) are technical corrections, (c) are not applicable to the Company, or (d) are not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's financial statements.

For the period July 28, 2016 (inception) through December 31, 2016

NOTE 4 –BASIS OF REPORTING – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the recoverability of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business.

The Company has incurred losses from inception of approximately $83,273 which, among other factors, raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon management's plans to raise additional capital from the issuance of debt, through a Regulation Equity Crowdfunding campaign, or additional equity financing, and its ultimate ability to commence profitable sales and positive cash flows from its application portfolio subscriptions and advertising services. There are no assurances that management will be able to raise a sufficient amount of capital on acceptable terms to the Company, and the inability to do so would require a reduction in the scope of our planned development which would be detrimental to the Company's business, financial condition and operating results. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be required should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 5 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management has evaluated events from December 31, 2016 through November 3, 2017, the date these financial statements were available to be issued, and has determined that the following events require disclosure:

In January 2017, the Company entered into a commercial lease agreement to lease space for operations. The lease term is for two years beginning March 1, 2017 through March 31, 2019 at $1,700 to be paid on the first on a monthly basis.

In February 2017, the Company entered into an agreement with Nikita Anikeev for the development of its website and mobile application. The anticipated date of deliverables is April 20, 2017, for consideration of $13,500 to be paid in separate installments and 357,143 shares of newly issued common stock to be issued upon final acceptance of the finished product.

On May 1, 2017 Toren Kutnick (Director) purchased $50,000 of SAFE's, not to exceed $2,800,000 in value and at 15% discount.

On May 15, 2017, 8,000 options were granted to Robert (Robbie) Ripoll for advisory services, they will be valued at $6 once fully vested at an exercise price of $0.00072.

In late August 2017, the Company received a note payable from Calvin Fan for $4,000 with 0% interest to be repaid at Company's discretion.

During late October 2017, the Company signed an agreement for listing on a registered portal in order to attempted to raise additional capital under Regulation Crowdfunding, with a valuation cap of $3,500,000.

Over 45 million Americans have a tattoo, and they spend almost $3 billion a year on tattoo services. Social acceptance of tattoos is growing. The main barriers to finding an Artist are a sometimes intimidating culture and a lack of education about different tattoo styles and techniques.

Find Me Ink is an online platform that brings the tattoo industry into the digital age, connecting highly skilled Artists with motivated clients through digital, easy-to-use portfolios. FMI enables clients to search for Artists in their area and lowers barriers with education about the tattoo process—from consultation to aftercare—and educates clients about tattoo culture through the resources of Think Your Ink™. The goal is to improve the tattoo experience and reduce “tattoo regret” for clients who are seeking a tattoo.

The result is a motivated client base for our premium Artists. Since our official launch on 4/20/17, we have generated new demand for over $30 million in tattoo services through Find Me Ink platforms. As we scale, our goal is to effectively monetize this demand. Our marketplace has several revenue models for advertising.

Pitch Deck

Product & Service

Traditionally, the tattoo industry was held together by mentoring relationships and could be wary of outsiders. Marketing is outdated, local, and skeptical of conventional advertising. Choosing an artist is based on highly personal factors, and consumers looked for tattoos through word of mouth or by going from parlor to parlor to look at binders of photos. Customers could feel intimidated by artists, and artists and parlors lack the time and marketing expertise to reach customers effectively.

Our research shows that the preferred mode of communication for the rising generation of Tattoo Artists (and most millennials) is through mobile devices. Yet giving and receiving a tattoo must be in person, and is often personal and bonding. Find Me Ink bridges this digital:personal divide with an accessible platform for clients to search for Artists in their area. We have also found that clients will travel, often internationally, if a client admires an Artist's work and has a connection.

The Find Me Ink platform then allows artists to select the work they want and to initiate online consultations via text with client about the style, size, and placement of the tattoo. This initial personal interaction leads to a much higher conversion rate to booked appointments and fewer cancellations or no-shows. Artists can manage their bookings with mobile calendar updates. Many Artists work mostly (or only) at tattoo conventions, so Find Me Ink allows Artists to publicize their appearances at conventions for their fans.

FMI provides many Artist services at an initial Freemium level, with full-featured memberships for Artists at a base price of $50/mo. Studio subscriptions are available (base $225/mo), which can sponsor up to 10 Artists. FMI has access to over 9 million followers on Facebook and Instagram. For bookings with non-premium artists, FMI charges booking fees varying with the size and complexity of the tattoo (e.g. $15-55).

Team Story

The Find Me Ink story begins with a bad tattoo. Over ten years ago, Mark Mahoney wanted to capture a memory with a calligraphic tattoo and found an artist skilled in artwork, but not as much in lettering—and it showed in the final result. As Mark learned more about tattoo artists and their sometimes insular culture, he saw the need to connect people looking for a tattoo with the right artists who have the right style.

Three years ago, Mark and one of his oldest friends, Jordan Mckim, started Find Me Ink as a website for Artists to upload digital portfolios so tattoo fans can find Artists in their area. With Mark's background in sales and marketing and Jordan's experience in the TV and movie industry, the new site pre-registered thousands of parlors.

Tattoo culture can seem closed to outsiders, but the key to building our base of Artists is a shared appreciation for tattoo culture. This connection was built by attending nearly a dozen tattoo conventions nationwide and talking to thousands of Artists on the convention floor. Through technology, we've introduced people to the many aspects of tattoo culture and the deeply personal stories behind the artwork.

Q&A with the Founder

Q: Could you give us information on the history of your business?

Find Me Ink: We started about 8 years ago as a website called "Best Tattoo Shop" (before we developed the data side of the site). Then, about 6 years ago we began to collect data and understand the culture of the industry. Over the past 1.5 years, we started Tattoo Technologies (TTI) and have been using our website to connect Tattoos Artists and fans. In April 2017, we launched our app - Find Me Ink (FMI). Since then, we have been working on some bug issues on the payment functionality of the application. We now aim to bring in technology to resolve all application-based bugs and issues to better serve our customers.

Q: What are the different business lines under parent company? How do they generate sales for the company?

Find Me Ink: Since 2012, we have provided a service for artists and fans to connect, while at same time build the community by interacting with fans in person at events and conventions. Tattoo Crate provides merchandise for fans and supplies for artists and shops online. In addition to our educational program Think Your Ink, we partner with other assets and social media sites like Tattoo Artist Magazine and Tattoo Culture Magazine. These avenues give us a user base and validation. We will be re-releasing and partnering with them for ad revenue, content, and community to expand our user base. TAM has over 7M likes on Facebook and generates revenues through advertisements. TCM works the same way.

Q: Could you walk us through your business model ?

Find Me Ink: Most Find Me Ink features for Artists are available at the Freemium level. Tattoo Technologies Inc. collects membership subscriptions from artists and studios. TTI will also generate advertising revenue with its social media reach of 9M followers. We project $480,000 in ad revenue from TAM and TCM. On Tattoo Crate, Artists send us products to sell or promote on FMI; we return 90% to the artist when we sell Crates on their behalf. Furthermore, we plan to start charging booking fees on the apps. TTI collects membership subscriptions from artists and studios. Full membership for Artists starts at $50/month and Studio subscriptions (up to 10 artists) at $225 per month. We also make posts on TAM to drive tattoo consultations with a $25/$50 booking charge on each referral to non-premium artists/studios.

Q: What are your exit expectations?

Find Me Ink: We would like to keep growing this company so it connects more and more Artists and fans and becomes the hub of the tattoo ecosystem. Our goal is to seek an IPO in the next year or two to keep developing more features and reach a wider audience and go internationally. We are already talking to a couple companies in the industry that would complement our strengths.

Q: Why are subscriptions lumpy?

Find Me Ink: In 2017, 80% of subscription revenue came from outside of the app on Square and at conventions by manually signing up Freemium users. In January-March the revenue came from pre-launch subscriptions (sold with discounts and free merchandise from Tattoo crate). In April, the app was launched, and we had some issues with PayPal/payment. In May, we had 2 conventions, so we were able to gain some subscription traction outside of the app. In June & July we were still facing payment bugs and were not able to attend any new conventions. In August, we had another convention to showcase the platform. Our goal is to raise capital to bring our development team in-house to help tackle some of the bug issues and problems from having an overseas development team.

Financial Discussion

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of the Form C and attached to this profile in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached to the Form C as Exhibit B.

Operations

The Company was formed on July 28, 2016 and has had limited operations since its inception. The Company is headquartered in Chicago, Illinois and has not realized revenues from its planned operations as of December 31, 2016. The Company provides a centralized software platform for tattoo artists to connect with customers. The Company's product, Find Me Ink, is an integrated mobile application, mobile website, and desktop webpage that allows artists to maintain digital portfolios, book appointments, and promote their appearances at events. Find Me Ink generates scalable revenue from a subscription model from artists and shops. The Company has also started to manage Tattoo Artist Magazine, the leading media platform for tattoo artists. The Company sells advertising space to tattoo supply companies and related businesses. The Company's year-end is December 31.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The proceeds from the Combined Offerings are essential to our operations. We plan to use the proceeds as set forth above under "Use of Proceeds", which is an indispensable element of our business strategy. The Combined Offering proceeds will have a beneficial effect on our liquidity, as we currently have $7,750 in cash on hand which will be augmented by the Combined Offering proceeds and used to execute our business strategy.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Combined Offerings.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Valuation

Before making an investment decision, you should carefully consider this valuation and the factors used to reach such valuation. Such valuation may not be accurate and you are encouraged to determine your own independent value of the Company prior to investing.

As discussed in "Dilution" below, the valuation will determine the amount by which the investor's stake is diluted immediately upon investment. An early-stage company typically sells its shares (or grants options over its shares) to its founders and early employees at a very low cash cost, because of the "sweat equity" effect, putting their "sweat equity" into the Company. When the Company seeks cash investments from outside investors, like you, the new investors typically pay a much larger sum for their shares than the founders or earlier investors, which means that the cash value of your stake is immediately diluted because each share of the same type is worth the same amount, and you paid more for your shares (or the notes convertible into shares) than earlier investors did for theirs.
