Utilizing the DCF method as discussed above, the Management concluded that the valuation of The Armored Citizen, LLC based on the DCF technique was $8,682,070. Hence, the valuation of each membership unit:

On a non-fully diluted basis (8,600,000 issued membership units):

$$8,682,070 / 8,600,000 = \underline{$1.0095 \text{ per share}}$

On a fully diluted basis (8,600,000 issued membership units + 400,000 issued membership unit warrants):

$$8,682,070 / 9,000,000 = \underline{0.965 \text{ per share}}$

Future Valuation of Our Membership Units. Our board of directors may use the following approaches to determine the value of our Membership Units in the future:

- Discounted cash flow valuation based on future earnings
- Market valuations of companies comparable to us
- Valuations by independent third parties

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

- Purchasers (Purchasers) of the securities in this offering have limited rights to demand distributions (e.g. dividends) from the Issuer.
- The majority owner may make a decision that the Purchasers consider bad and puts Purchaser's interest in the Issuer at risk.
- Although, as membership units holders, the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.
- Since the securities in this offering are not publicly traded and are subject to restrictions on resale or transfer including holding period requirements, the securities in this offering are illiquid.
- Although the Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled voting rights, as minority shareholders, they may not have enough voting power to exert influence in the affairs of the company or the composition of its board of directors.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the issuer.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions:

a. Additional Issuances of Securities

Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the issuer.

b. Issuer Repurchases of Securities

The issuer could be authorized to repurchase the company's issued securities subject to the approval by the company's board of directors. Purchasers of the securities may not impede the issuer's right to repurchase its securities from other shareholders. Moreover, the repurchase could be made at a price much lower than company's business value or its fair valuation, which could be indicative to the resale price of the securities thereafter.

c. A Sale of the Issuer or of Assets of the Issuer

Although as Membership Units holders the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

d. Transactions with Related Parties

Transactions with related parties are transactions between the Issuer or any of its subsidiaries and a connected person. These transactions include both capital and revenue nature transactions. They may be one-off transactions or continuing transactions. Purchasers should be aware that these transactions may create conflicts of interests between themselves and the Issuer.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

The operation of the Company is supported and financed by two other entities that are also unincorporated subsidiaries of ATEK Corp. One of these affiliated entities, Optimum Employment Services, LLC (OES), provides all contract labor for the Company. As of December 31, 2018, the balance of outstanding advances payable by the Company to OES was $1,025,468. These affiliated company advances are non-interest bearing and are classified as current liabilities. Another affiliated entity, ATEK Defense Systems, LLC (ADS), owned by the same shareholder (Aaron Gilbert) , provides operational and financial support to the Company. ADS has provided the Company with a revolving line of credit which bears interest at 4% per annum. This line of credit agreement contains a provision that the lender can call the note due and payable upon notice. As of December 31, 2018, the outstanding balance under this line of credit agreement is $38,644. In addition, the balance of non-interest bearing advances to the Company from ADS is $479,145. The line of credit and advance balances described above are classified as current liabilities.

25. What other exempt offerings has the issuer conducted within the past three years?

N/A

26. Was or is the issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

- a. any director or officer of the issuer;
- b. any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer's outstanding voting equity securities,

d. any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the issuer have an operating history?

Yes. The Armored Citizen, LLC. was incorporated on May 19, 2017 and started to operate since May 19, 2017.

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and related notes that appear in this Form C. In addition to historical consolidated financial information, the following discussion contains forward-looking statements that reflect our plans, estimates, and beliefs. Our actual results could differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to these differences include those discussed below and elsewhere in this Form C, particularly in "Risk Factors."

IMPORTANT: THE FOLLOWING FINANCIAL FIGURES ARE UNAUDITED.

Revenue

Revenues in 2018 decreased $74,327, or 20.5% compared to $362,296 in 2017. The decline was primarily due to lower sales of our products.

Cost of goods sold and Operating Expenses

Cost of goods sold

Our cost of goods sold consists primarily of cost of producing, storing, and maintaining body armor products, expenses associated with the production, raw material, delivery and distribution of our products.

Cost of goods sold in 2018 decreased $61,463, or 31.1% compared to $197,073 in 2017.

Operating Expenses consisted of costs in Contract labor, Depreciation and Amortization Other Selling, General and Administrative Expenses Loss on Disposal of Leasehold Improvements.

Total operating expenses in 2018 were $412,055 , increased $227,129 , or 122.8% compared to $184,926 in 2017. The increase was primarily due to increased costs in contract labor.

Net Income and Cash flows

Net loss for the 12 months ended December 31, 2018 was $261,548, compared to $19,703 in 2017. The increase of our net loss is due to the fact that we had a full-fiscal year operation in 2018 versus approximately half-year operation in 2017 together with increase in our contract labor cost in mass-producing of our products.

During the same fiscal year, cash flow generated from operating activities was $55,541, due to significant increase in contractor advances payable to related party. The cash flow used by investing activities was $0. Cash flow from financing activities was $1,486 as due to notes payable to related party.

Our historical results and cash flows are not representative of what investors should expect in the future.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our principal sources of liquidity are our cash and cash equivalents and cash generated from operations. Cash and cash equivalents consist primarily of cash on deposit with banks. Cash and cash equivalents totaled $57,387 as of December 31, 2018.

We are seeking a minimum of $50,000 in this offering, which would improve the Company's liquidity and balance sheet, and allow us to run marketing campaigns and fund further R&Ds. However, whether or not receiving these funds and any other additional funds is not necessary to the viability of the business in the next 12 months if there is no sudden or unexpected changes or factors which will adversely affect our business. For a detailed discussion of risk factors, please refer to the Risk Factors Section in Appendix B.

We will, from time to time, look for all the different sources of financing available for our business, including equity and debt financings.

Executive Summary

Opportunity

Problem

Based on current events with random shootings becoming common place, safety is quickly moving up the ladder as a major priority. Civilians are increasing their desire to protect themselves and their families.

Unfortunately, many people including many gun dealers think that it is illegal for citizens to own body armor.

The Second Amendment states we have the right to protect ourselves and our families. Many people instantly refer the word "protection" as only having a gun, but wouldn't it make sense to include having protection against guns as part of that right as well? Private ownership of body armor by legal law abiding citizens is not normally seen as a Second Amendment right, but it should be.

Even though our law enforcement agencies do a great job, they are not able to be everywhere at once. The problem is when an emergency is happening, there is no time to wait for police to show up. If you don't have protection with you, it is probably too late and there is nothing they can do.

The primary challenge that Soft Body Armor has is it tends to be bulky, stiff, expensive and not very convenient for the everyday person to wear. Because of the above mentioned limitations and the fact that people have the perception that it's illegal, the market for civilian armor products is in its infancy. After a great deal of research by being in the market, we feel the market for civilian security clothing and products is very large and only has a few competitors even trying to get into it.

Solution

Citizen Armor has been very aggressive in developing specialty products for civilian's everyday use. Citizen Armor has licensing agreements to numerous patents and unique intellectual property that will help make Citizen Armor very competitive.

Citizen Armor has products that can be worn everyday under and/or over clothing as well as inserts that go in backpacks, briefcases, purses and other carrying devices. We also have a fully deployable Modular Backpack product. Also, we have our T-Shield vest which is a light weight, breathable armor that covers vital areas and can be worn underneath existing clothing, and more.

We have become extremely good at finding niches in the marketplace that have not being fulfilled and then develop products/services that meet them.

We have several products that are in the R&D process and part of the proceeds of this funding will help bring those projects to market.

Market

Civilians have slightly different needs than full time law enforcement officers. Even though we carry many of the same products that you would find in law enforcement we specialize in products that are convenient, light weight, concealable and practical for the everyday civilian.

The Civilian market is still very much in it's infancy. Many still don't realize that armor can be legally owned by law abiding citizens. We find that as we educate individuals we always get sales. We have some unique products that the average civilian would want to own.

One part of the civilian market we believe we can get a large foothold in, is the preparedness market. It is estimated that more than 68 million Americans have purchased survival gear considering recent events and natural disasters (resource: Finder.com/doomsday-prepper-statistics). With that said a very small portion of these individuals have armor due to the fact most of them believe its illegal for civilians to own armor. With the right education we believe this is a very large "untapped" market.

We feel that the market to gun owners is probably one of our largest markets. The dealers who sell guns and ammunition have direct access to literally millions of gun owners. There are nearly 80,000 FFL gun dealers in the United States. We are planning to set up a nationwide gun dealer distribution channel in the US. Our goal is to educate them, give them the materials and tools they need to market and sell our products.

School Children (1-12 & college). Since the recent shootings, political unrest, mobs after a natural disaster and who knows what else, parents are finding their own ways to protect themselves and their children. Every time there is a shooting reported in the country our sales have spiked. We believe with national television, press releases, additional marketing and a nationwide dealer network we can tap a large percentage of this market as well.

Security companies are another area we feel we will shine. There are more private security personnel in the country than there are law enforcement personnel.

Police departments and military are good markets, but there is so much competition that we don't consider this our major market. If your dealers and reps want to sell to law enforcement, we have the NIJ Certification that will allow them to do so.

Marketing efforts of the company will be focused on utilizing multiple streams of sales that are common in other industries. These will consist of establishing a strong distributor network and gun dealers that have already established relationships with our desired demographic customers.

Competition

There are other companies that are currently doing somewhat similar things in the market place. These companies are usually small and only sell online with no dealer network. Some of these competitors can be found by just searching for body armor for civilians. During the Florida shooting in February of 2018 many of these companies including Citizen Armor sold many armored backpack inserts. Some of these companies also sell to law enforcement agencies as well as civilians.

Why Us?

What makes us unique is the fact that we are not satisfied with status "status quo". We feel like if we are doing what everyone else is doing the best we can be is second. We love what we do and that should tell you that we will make this a super success.

We have a desire to be the best Armor company in the marketplace, and willing to do what others won't.

The other factor that will make a major difference is the fact we have a fantastic research and development team that has an incredible ability to find solutions to problems and can bring them to market.

Expectations

Marketing Forecast

Recently we were watching a national news television channel. The announcer after talking about a school shooting, a mall shooting, a riot, international bombings and an assassination of a public dignitary, took a deep breath and made the statement, “Wow, It Looks Like This Is The New Norm!” With that statement on National Television it would suggest that we have the beginning of a very big market.

Citizen Armor has been and is currently selling products through several channels including; www.infowars.com, www.concealcarry.com, www.govx.com, as well as our own channel and Facebook.com.

Citizen Armor is projecting to develop a nationwide dealer network of at least 5,000 by the end of 2019. The Goal is to have over 20,000 dealers selling our products in the next 5 years.

We feel that national television show will give us the national exposure we need to jump start the education to civilians as to their right to own body armor and help start our push to sign up new dealers nationwide.

We plan to take a portion of the funds raised to do other national marketing campaigns including social media pushes, YouTube influencers, radio ads, press releases and other media that we can reach our best demographics.

We believe that through these various channels and others that we can take control a substantial piece of the private armor market.

Opportunity

Industry

The soft body armor for police and military is very competitive and tends to have very low profit margins, yet the civilian soft body armor is virtually untouched since there has been a perception that its illegal for civilians to own armor.

More is explained in the marketing section below, but to sum things up we have markets with over 153 million potential clients, and the market is just beginning to open.

We feel like we are able to take advantage of these opportunities.

Recently we had a 10x20 booth at the NRA show and had the opportunity to show off several of our products. We have a great response from show attendees and had hundreds of people sign-up for our RTG backpack pre-sale sign-up.

After the last couple of school shooting here in the US people are warming up to the idea of needing more protection and have been checking into the possibility of personal body armor. We even had a very wealthy philanthropist call and ask if he could purchase nearly 6,000 backpack inserts for children in his school district.

The industry generally has been stagnant in developing new technology. There has not been a lot of new development. We are changing that literally every day as we find needs that have not been met.

NIJ Testing and Certification. In law enforcement they have a governing body called the National Institute of Justice (NIJ) which is the national agency in charge of certifying all body armor for law enforcement use. The Armored Citizen currently has a certified product listed on the NIJ website.

Even though civilians do not need to have the NIJ approval to purchase body armor, there is a level of comfort knowing that our armor is tested and certified to meet the most rigid of Personal Protection Equipment testing. We can manufacture armor from levels I, IIA, II, IIIA and IV.

Here are the different NIJ levels of protection that we test too:

1. Level I can resist .22 cal and .380 cal bullets (Soft Body Armor)
2. Level IIA can resist 9mm and 40 cal bullets (Soft Body Armor)
3. Level II can resist 9mm and .357 Sig bullets (Soft Body Armor)
4. Level IIIA can resist .357 Sig and .44 Mag bullets (Soft Body Armor)
5. Level III can resist 762x39 and 308 (Hard Armor plates)
6. Level IV can resist 762.51 and incendiary rounds. (Hard Armor plates)

Note: When we change the shape of the armor to anything other than the police duty vest it cannot be NIJ certified, even though they use the same materials inside.

Problem & Solution

Problem Worth Solving

Most civilians do not realize that they can own body armor. With the threats increasing nearly daily, civilians are looking for ways to protect themselves and their family in convenient, low profile, and discreet ways. Typically, body armor companies have stayed away from civilian sales because many big city law enforcement agencies refuse to purchase their body armor from companies who also sell to civilians. These are the same agencies who frown upon the right of civilians to conceal carry firearms. This fact forces many body armor companies to refuse to sell to civilians. In addition, many of existing body armor manufacturers have difficulty designing civilian friendly products because their armor is bulky, heavy, hard to work with and very expensive. The Armored Citizen and its parent company ATEK Corp has developed technologies and products to solve many of these problems.

Our Solution

The Armored Citizen has licensing agreements with its parent company ATEK Corp who has developed technology, processes and products that allow us to build custom designer armor carriers and clothing that is light weight, flexible and most of all stops bullets. We focus on the private civilian who needs this protection. We have top of the line clothing designers and manufacturers in the USA and Internationally who have helped us design our products.

Our goal is to develop ways to educate the public and our dealers as to the rights of civilians to own body armor. Our dealer network will have all the materials and tools they need to be able to educate and market to their clients.

We plan to always be on the cutting edge of technology and meeting the needs of the general civilian public.

Target Market

Market Size & Segments

There are three major demographic markets that we feel are the largest targets. Below are the first 3 major markets plus a few others.

First: The preparedness market. The number of individuals just in the United States that are at different degrees of preparedness is well over 68 million preparedness individuals. These individuals are wide open to marketing. This market is virgin and has hardly been touched. We have had some success in our test markets into the preparedness markets.

Second: CCW (Carry Concealed Weapons) permit holders. Individuals that have their concealed weapons permit and/or gun enthusiasts are extremely open to the idea of armor. Most CCW permit holders are very conscientious of protecting themselves and others, and having light weight, concealable armor just makes sense. As of 2016 there are over 14.5 million concealed-carry permit holders in the US. Just like in battles long ago, if you had just weapons and no shield, battle would be very short. There are about 79,800 FFL dealers in the US. We plan to have over 20,000 dealers over the next 5 years.

Third: Students (K-12 and College). Since the recent shootings we have had spikes in sales and inquiries about protections for kids and adults. Our sales literally went up over 8 times the week after the Florida Shootings. We have sold a large number of backpack inserts and we know that we have not even begun to tap the market with that. There are 50.7 million kids attending school (K-12). There is also another 20.4 million students attending US colleges.

As you can tell with just 3 major markets there is nearly 153.6 million potential clients.

Other market segments include private security which is over 1.4 million by itself, law enforcement and high risk jobs such as cash in transit, night clerks, etc.

Competition

A few of our major competitors include AR500 Armor, Bullet blocker, safeguard clothing, Infidel Body Armor, Bullet Safe, Bullet Proof Me, and Gray Wolf Survival. Currently, these companies are all smaller. AR500 Armor is one of the largest suppliers. Many of these companies don't make their own armor, but have it made in China and other countries. AR500 Armor does have a small dealer network since they also sell to law enforcement. The other companies only sell to the civilian market.

Our Advantages

We have several advantages over our competition one being, through our parent company ATEK Corp., we make all our own armor in house. We can do our own research and development right under one roof. We also have a team of experienced marketing and sales consultants ready to jump on board and go full steam ahead.

Another advantage that we have is our licensing rights to patents and technologies such as Nano-Protek, RTG backpack, Alpha Vest, and other soon to be announced patented product such as Armored Shield Glass Products, Building products, Ballistic Vehicle products and much more.

Execution

Marketing & Sales

Marketing and Sales Plan

The Armored Citizen will be establishing a Nationwide and International dealer network to market and sell its products to the public and specialized niches. When possible, The Armored Citizen will utilize Distributors who are gateways to the company's targeted dealers. Our goal is to target FFL gun dealers nationwide.

Citizen Armor can sell to Military and Law Enforcement since it has an NIJ certification. We have chosen to not actively market to them and let the hundreds of other competitors fight for the already small margins. If our dealer network wishes to sell to these markets they will have the ability to do so. There is typically larger margins with smaller rural police departments.

With a planned nationwide television program we feel it will be a great way to kick off our expanded marketing plans. The show estimates to give us exposure to literally millions of viewers. The show will give us exposure to these potential customers and will also give us exposure to potential dealers and sales reps as well. The investment funds raised from the shows promotion will greatly enhance the additional marketing campaigns of the company.

Tradeshows like the NRA, gun shows, preparedness shows, and other shows give us a direct exposure to customers and our major demographics. We plan to have the company, it's dealers and sales reps to participate in as many targeted industry trade shows as possible.

Social Media and Online Influencers are becoming a major focus for Citizen Armor direct sales. The company will start using these medias to get direct sales as well as company and product branding. As the company starts getting a larger dealer network, the social media will be more used as a branding and marketing to help support the dealers and their sales. Eventually, the company will no longer sell products through its website but will direct interested buyers to the closest gun dealer to purchase Citizen Armor products. We have employed social media (mostly Facebook) in the past with a great deal of success and are developing a social media campaign to correspond with nationwide television show.

Another market Citizen Armor has tested and is working on is a new campaign working with online influencers such as YouTube influencers. These individuals have a large following on their channels and get a lot of views.

Operations

Locations & Facilities

The company is leasing 2,000 square feet of office from its parent company ATEK Corp. ATEK Corp as a large warehouse-manufacturing space in Spanish Fork, Utah. ATEK's facility contains approx. 8,000 sq. ft. of office space and 38,000 sq. ft. of warehouse-manufacturing space.

Technology

Citizen Armor has acquired licenses and marketing rights of proprietary products from its parent company, ATEK Corp. Some of these include a patented, deployable backpack module, cognitive exoskeleton vest, bullet-resistant custom jackets, coats, suits, a bullet resistant holster, specialty armor bags and many more products that are still in the R&D phase.

Citizen Armor also has the rights to sell ATEK Corp's, Nano-Protek products. Nano-Protek is a proprietary formula made of carbon Nano-tubes (CNT) and other materials that make standard aramid fibers (aka Kevlar) better in so many ways including ballistic abilities, stronger connective fibers, water resistant and extends life of aramid fibers indefinitely.

Citizen Armor works directly with ATEK Corp and its other subsidiaries for most of its manufacturing, but also has other high-quality companies that manufacture the high quality custom clothing like, suits, jackets, coats, purses, briefcases and backpacks. To begin with, the company has contracted with various U.S. manufacturers such as Condor Outdoors, Stealth Gear, and Geigerrig. These companies will be used to produce its concealed vests carriers, tactical vests carriers, backpacks, pants and holsters. As time goes on the company will search out additional suppliers both domestically and internationally.

Citizen Armor works with it's parent company ATEK Corp R&D department to help develop new products to be marketed through its distribution channels.

Appendix B - RISK FACTORS

RISKS RELATED TO OUR BUSINESS AND OUR INDUSTRY

Our products are used in situations that are inherently risky.

The products that we manufacture are typically used in applications and situations that involve high levels of risk of personal injury. Failure to use our products for their intended purposes, failure to use or care for them properly, or their malfunction, or, in some limited circumstances, even correct use of our products, could result in serious bodily injury or death.

We may face product liability and other claims exposure for which we may not be able to obtain adequate insurance.

In cases of product liability and other claims arising in tort, or claims for indirect and consequential loss, we may become subject to one or more product liability claims that, individually or together, could adversely affect our operations, financial condition and operating results. These claims could be expensive to defend and require the expenditure of significant resources and we cannot guarantee that our insurance coverage would be sufficient to cover the payment of any potential claim. Any claim brought against us in excess of available insurance coverage, or any claim or product recall that results in significant expense or adverse publicity against us, could have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition.

We face intense competition, including competition from established players

The businesses we operate in are rapidly evolving and intensely competitive. Our major competitors include AR500 Armor, Bullet Blocker, Safeguard Clothing, Infidel Body Armor. AR500 Armor is one of the largest suppliers in the industry. These companies may have better financial resources, market share, longer histories, and greater brand recognition. They may secure better terms from vendors, adopt more aggressive pricing and devote more resources to technology, infrastructure, fulfillment, and marketing.

Technological advances, the introduction of new products, and new design and manufacturing techniques could adversely affect our operations unless we are able to adapt to the resulting change in conditions.

Our future success and competitive position depend to a significant extent upon our proprietary technology. We must make significant investments to continue to develop and refine our technologies. We will be required to expend substantial funds for and commit significant resources to the conduct of continuing research and development activities, the engagement of additional engineering and other technical personnel, the purchase of advanced design, production and test equipment, and the enhancement of design and manufacturing processes and techniques. Our future operating results will depend to a significant extent on our ability to continue to provide design and manufacturing services for new products that compare favorably on the basis of time to market, cost and performance with the design and manufacturing capabilities. The success of new design and manufacturing services depends on various factors, including utilization of advances in technology, innovative development of new solutions for customer products, efficient and cost-effective services, timely completion and delivery of new product solutions and market acceptance of customers' end products.

Dependence on outside manufacturers and suppliers

We depend heavily on various manufacturers and suppliers to manufacture our products and provide raw materials for producing our products. If there is any delay in delivery, or failure to meet our expectations and requirements, our business could be seriously affected. Currently, we rely on outside manufacturers and suppliers for most of our products. In the event that any of our suppliers or manufacturers should become too expensive or suffer from quality control problems or financial difficulties, we would have to find alternative sources, but we cannot guarantee that we can find alternative sources timely or at the same cost level.

Pricing pressure from customers and competitors

We face continuous pricing pressure from our customers and our competitors. This will affect our margins and therefore our profitability and cash flow unless we can efficiently manage our manufacturing costs and market our products based on superior quality.

We may experience delays in completing the design and manufacture of our products

Because of the complexity of some of our products, we may experience delays from time to time in completing the design and manufacture of new product solutions. In addition, there can be no assurance that any new product solutions will receive or maintain customer or market acceptance. If we were unable to design and manufacture solutions for new products of our customers on a timely and cost-effective basis, such inability could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Intellectual property rights and proprietary rights

Other parties also may claim that we infringe their proprietary rights, especially armored clothing. Very often depend on patents. We may be subject to claims and legal proceedings regarding alleged infringement by us of the intellectual property rights of third parties. Such claims, whether or not meritorious, may result in the expenditure of significant financial and managerial resources, injunctions against us or the payment of damages.

Law and regulations in the U.S.

Our business is subject to laws and regulations in the U.S. Currently, we are indirectly benefited from the Federal law which allows the use of guns for self defense in the U.S. However, in the future, states in the U.S. may tighten controls on guns and ammunition and if this happens our business will be adversely affected. Last but not the least, our failure to comply with such laws and regulations could harm operating results and prospects.

RISKS RELATED TO THE OFFERING

We determined the price of the Membership Units arbitrarily.

The offering price of the Membership Units has been determined by management, and bears no relationship to our assets, book value, potential earnings, net worth or any other recognized criteria of value. We cannot assure that price of the Units is the fair market value of the Units or that investors will earn any profit on them.

We cannot assure that we will pay dividends.

We do not currently anticipate declaring and paying dividends to our shareholders in the near future. It is our current intention to apply net earnings, if any, in the foreseeable future to increasing its capital base and marketing. Prospective investors seeking or needing dividend income or liquidity should therefore not purchase our membership units. We cannot assure that we will ever have sufficient earnings to declare and pay dividends to the holders of our membership units, and in any event, a decision to declare and pay dividends is at the sole discretion of our board of directors.

You can't easily resell the securities.

There are restrictions on how you can resell your securities. More importantly, there is no market for these securities, and there might never be one. It's unlikely that the company will ever go public or get acquired by a bigger company. That means the money you paid for these securities could be tied up for a long time.

Our failure to maintain effective internal controls over financial reporting could have an adverse impact on us.

We are required to establish and maintain appropriate internal controls over financial reporting. Failure to establish those controls, or any failure of those controls once established, could adversely impact our public disclosures regarding our business, financial condition or results of operations. In addition, management's assessment of internal controls over financial reporting may identify weaknesses and conditions that need to be addressed in our internal controls over financial reporting or other matters that may raise concerns for investors. Any actual or perceived weaknesses and conditions that need to be addressed in our internal control over financial reporting, disclosure of management's assessment of our internal controls over financial reporting or disclosure of our public accounting firm's attestation to or report on management's assessment of our internal controls over financial reporting may have an adverse impact on the price of our membership units.

Independent Accountant's Review Report

I have reviewed the accompanying financial statements of The Armored Citizen, LLC, which comprise the balance sheet as of December 31, 2018, and the related statements of income and comprehensive income, changes in owner's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements. A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of company management. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I do not express such an opinion.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Accountant's Responsibility

My responsibility is to conduct the review engagement in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services promulgated by the Accounting and Review Services Committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require me to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance as a basis for reporting whether I am aware of any material modifications that should be made to the financial statements for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. I believe that the results of my procedures provide a reasonable basis for my conclusion.

Accountant's Conclusion

Based on my review, I am not aware of any material modification that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

THE ARMORED CITIZEN, LLC
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2018

NOTE A—NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Business

The Armored Citizen, LLC (the Company) was organized in Utah in 2017. The Company is engaged in the manufacture and sale of body armor for citizens throughout the United States. The Company is an unincorporated subsidiary of ATEK Corp, a Utah corporation.

The accompanying financial statements reflect the financial position as of December 31, 2018 and the changes in owner's equity, results of operations, and cash flows of the Company for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Financial statements prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles always require some degree of estimation. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash Equivalents

Highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less at the date of purchase are considered to be cash equivalents.

Inventories

Inventories, which are carried at cost, consist of raw materials, work-in-process (including direct labor and overhead costs), and finished goods categories.

Revenues

Revenue is measured based on a consideration specified in a contract with a customer. The Company recognizes revenue when it satisfies a performance obligation by transferring control over a product to a customer. Shipping and handling costs associated with outbound freight after control over a product has transferred to a customer are accounted for as a fulfillment cost and are included in cost of goods sold.

Depreciation and Amortization

Depreciation and amortization is calculated using the straight-line method for financial reporting purposes.

Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated subsequent events through October 1, 2019, the date on which the financial statements were available to be issued. There were no subsequent events through October 1, 2019 that require adjustment of or disclosure in the financial statements.

Income Taxes

Because the Company is a disregarded entity for income tax purposes, its income tax attributes generally flow through to the owner. Therefore, there is no provision for income taxes in the accompanying financial statements.

NOTE B—RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The operation of the Company is supported and financed by two other entities that are also unincorporated subsidiaries of ATEK Corp. One of these affiliated entities, Optimum Employment Services, LLC (OES), provides all contract labor for the Company. As of December 31, 2018, the balance of outstanding advances payable by the Company to OES was $1,025,468. These affiliated company advances are non-interest bearing and are classified as current liabilities.

Another affiliated entity, ATEK Defense Systems, LLC (ADS), provides operational and financial support to the Company. ADS has provided the Company with a revolving line of credit which bears interest at 4% per annum. This line of credit agreement contains a provision that the lender can call the note due and payable upon notice. As of December 31, 2018, the outstanding balance under this line of credit agreement is $38,644. In addition, the balance of non-interest bearing advances to the Company from ADS is $479,145. The line of credit and advance balances described above are classified as current liabilities.

NOTE C—LEASE ARRANGEMENTS

The Company and ADS are both contractually obligated in connection with a lease for office and warehouse space. The Company and ADS each occupy approximately 50% of the leased space. The monthly building lease charge is $7,845. As of December 31, 2018, this lease has a remaining noncancelable term of 32 months. This lease is presently accounted for as an operating lease.

NOTE D—BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF STATEMENT OF CASH FLOWS

The Company reports cash flows from operating activities using the indirect method.
