Given the significance of your goodwill amounts and your statements that small changes in discounts rates would result in impairments, please provide information for investors to assess the probability of future goodwill impairment charges. To the extent that any of your cash-generating units were at risk of having its value in use, or fair value less costs to sell, being less than its carrying value at the date of your most recent impairment analysis, please revise your disclosure to discuss the following:
- Percentage by which fair value/value in use exceeded the carrying value of the cash-generating unit as of the date of the most recent impairment test.
 - A discussion regarding the degree of uncertainty associated with the key assumptions used in the impairment analysis.
 - A description of potential events and or changes in circumstances that could reasonably be expected to negatively affect the key assumptions.

If you do not believe that any of your cash-generating units were at risk, please specifically state this in your response and in your revised disclosures and provide us with your analysis which supports the basis for your conclusions. Please note that a reporting unit may be at risk of failing the impairment test if it had a fair value that is not substantially in excess of carrying value as of the date of the last impairment test.
