theshifffilm "Get thee hence, Satan!"

The Shift takes a lot of it's cues from the Book of Job, but also from Matthew 4:1-11, in which Christ is tempted by the devil to in exchange for power and wealth.

This is the exact same temptation put before Kevin Garner at the end of the worst day of his life. In the short film, he refuses it. But his story is not done yet. There are greater trials and worse days to come.

Like Kevin, every day we are offered our own "kingdoms of the world," and sometimes we accept them. Christ, thankfully, did not. And so our hope is in Him and the greater glories and kingdoms He offers.

Seems like a message worth getting out there, doesn't it?

We're pretty stoked, too, Sara. Kevin maybe a little less so. 🚗🚚🔥🔥
🔥🔥 But he'll come around.

😱😱 Wow, over HALF A MILLION DOLLARS in pledges so far! Saying we are blown away just doesn't cut it.

If you would like to express your interest in investing in The Shift, head over to angel.com/theshift and let us know! If we do open up another round of crowdfunding, you'll be the first to know.

Legal makes us say this last part: (1) no money or other consideration is being solicited, and if sent, will not be accepted; (2) no offer to buy the securities can be accepted and no part of the purchase price can be received until the offering statement is filed and only through an intermediary's platform; (3) a prospective purchaser's indication of interest is non-binding.

theshiftfilm Not all great tastes go great together (remind us to never tell you about that time we poured hot chocolate into our apple cider--YUCK), but sometimes an unorthodox combination can surprise you in a why-has-no-ever-tried-this-before kind of way.

See if you agree with Tim that THE SHIFT has done it by checking out the short film at the link in our bio
