Once the Target Offering Amount has been raised and the Offering Period has ended, the committed investment amounts will be released from escrow upon the Issuer's satisfaction with the terms and conditions set forth in the Crowd Note. At this point, the Offering will be deemed to have been successfully closed (the “Closing”) and the executed Crowd Note and any other applicable documents will be provided to the investor and the Issuer. The Issuer will grant the promised Securities to the investor, as stated in the Crowd Note.

If the Issuer does not raise at least the Target Offering Amount through this Offering on the Portal, no Securities will be sold in this Offering. In this case, investment commitments will be canceled, and funds will be returned to the investors.

Business Plan

Company Overview

Orolait is line of body positive breastfeeding friendly bikinis and swimsuits which provide the function and fashion that nursing mamas deserve for this moment in their life and beyond. For every lactating person that is able to continue their breastfeeding journey, the more they and their little one(s) can reap the inimitable benefits. Having products specifically designed to make nursing easier will play a critical role in those journeys.

We have already sold 40 suits and gotten incredible feedback. We have sizes and designs that no other company offers. Now I am seeking help to scale up the product line with more colors and patterns, purchase inventory, and begin a strategic marketing and growth campaign.

Products and Services

Bikinis and bathing suits which are built specifically to allow lactating individuals to nurse by using strategically elements, fabrics, and designs that create a unique solutions that have previously been unavailable. We offer sizes XS-3XL. The two ends of sizing options that are often not made available despite the majority of our orders being L - XL. Finally, our suits are designed so they don't look like breastfeeding suits at all which means our customers have been moms and non-moms alike.

Target Market

Nursing individuals who have nursed for at least 3 to 5 months.

Marketing Plan

My goal is to get our products into department stores to be able to reach a broad population.

Our biggest competitors are every day swimwear brands. Mothers have become accustomed to having to figure out and work with what they have because so few products are available to them they assume breastfeeding friendly swimwear wouldn't be an option. There's also a lot of pressure on moms to be able to "bounce back" to their previous size so many feel like looking for a new suit to accommodate their postpartum body is a sign of defeat.

There are two brands that have come out recently but our styles are dramatically different and their sizing options aren't as extensive.

Crowdfunding investments involve risk. Investors should not invest any funds in this Offering unless he or she are willing and can afford to lose his or her entire investment. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Issuer and the terms of this Offering, including the merits and risks involved.

These Securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document. The SEC does not pass upon the merits of any Securities offered or the terms of the Offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature, including this Disclosure.

The securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the SEC has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

The list of material industry, company and investment risk factors contained herein is not intended to be exhaustive. These risk factors may make an investment in the Securities speculative and/or risky.

EXAMPLES INCLUDE:

General Economic Conditions Risks

The success of the Company depends in part on the economic conditions of the global economy, as well as that of the countries, states, cities and areas in which it operates. This poses a likely risk that can impact the business by placing additional strains on incoming revenue or other areas of operations. Any decline in general economic conditions, consumer spending, retail spending or consumer confidence could negatively impact Orolait's financial performance.

Manufacturing Risks

Our business relies on outsourced manufacturing to produce all products. We have limited control over outsourced manufacturing companies, including delivery timing, quality of product, and cost. Poor selection of a manufacturing partner and/or poor performance from the manufacturer could negatively impact financial performance, relations with customers and customer satisfaction.

Supply Chain Risks

Orolait acquires its fabrics and other materials from independent suppliers. We have limited control over these supplier companies, including delivery timing, availability of material, quality of materials, and cost. Selection of low-quality suppliers and/or poor performance from the suppliers could negatively impact financial performance, relations with manufacturers, relations with customers and customer satisfaction.

Competition Risks

The market for clothing is competitive. Our Company will compete with other established competitors. We compete with other businesses on the basis of the uniqueness and quality of our product. Some competitors have greater brand recognition, experience and/or resources. Any inability to compete successfully with established competitors could negatively impact financial performance. Our markets may be in an ever-constant state of change and development, requiring our business to keep up with changes in the market. Failure to do so can create risk for our Company because competing businesses may capitalize on the changing market and take customers. Additionally, the entrance of new competitors into the space could negatively impact financial performance.

Legal Risks

Our Company may face additional costs and challenges if presented with future legal complaints from customers, governmental authorities, regulatory bodies or agencies. Not only are there the direct costs of litigation resulting from any lawsuits or legal proceedings, but there are also risks of negative publicity and impacts to our business's image that may result in additional unanticipated costs and negative impacts to the operations and performance of the business.

Geopolitical and Exchange Rate Risks

The Company plans to outsource manufacturing to Colombia. Any change to the geopolitical conditions in Colombia could negatively impact the company. Any deterioration to the political, economic and/or trade relations between the United States of America and Colombia could negatively impact the Company. Certain fabrics and materials may be sourced globally, resulting in additional geopolitical, economic and trade risks that may impact the financial performance of the Company. Orolait may be required to pay global suppliers and manufacturers in a variety of global currencies, including the Colombian Peso. Any change to the exchange rate between the United States Dollar and these currencies may negatively impact the financial performance of the business.

Regulatory and Compliance Risks

Our Company is subject to regulatory oversight by certain governing and regulatory bodies. Furthermore, future Regulation may create limitations. Due to the uncertainties of litigation and regulatory proceedings, we cannot accurately predict the outcome or timeline of such proceedings. A negative outcome of such proceedings, including fines or other regulatory action, could negatively impact financial performance. Furthermore, negative publicity about these allegations, whether true or untrue, may negatively affect us by harming customer perceptions of our business, products or services. Because new regulations cannot always be anticipated, the additional cost of compliance with new, unforeseen regulations may also impact the future financial health of the Company.

Information Security Risks

Our Company relies on information security systems and technologies for our website and social media communications, as well as for proprietary designs of our products. Our business depends on the ability to protect these systems and the information contained therein from theft, cyber-attacks, fire, power loss, catastrophic events and other failures. The failure of these systems or any breach in these systems could result in operational issues, negatively impact financial performance, reduce efficiency, halt operations, or result in significant, unplanned expenditures required to restore, repair, replace or upgrade these systems.

Financing Risks

In order to not only begin and continue business operations, but also grow and develop the business, several expenses must be incurred, which may require additional capital or financing. If the Company is unable to obtain the additional financing it needs, there is a risk that the Company could fail. Additionally, if the Company obtains such financing using debt instruments, there is a risk that the Company is unable to repay the loans under the terms of the agreements, resulting in further interest, fines, or costs that affect the Company's financial condition.

Management Risks

For effective and sustainable growth, our Company relies on proper management of finances, operations, development plans and resources. There is a risk that failure to effectively manage key areas of the business can slow or prevent growth, or even ultimately lead to poor financial performance and business failure. Furthermore, the Company is reliant on its CEO, Ana Rojas, as a sole proprietor of the business at the time of this Offering. Any changes to Ms. Rojas' health or situation may impact the performance of the Company.

Accounting and Tax Risks

Our Company relies on current accounting rules and regulations to create financial statements that provide insight into our business' financial history. Accounting rules and regulations are also used in financial statements to develop financial projections into the future. Changes to these rules or regulations can result in the Company's financial health appearing differently, and negatively impacting the public perception of the Company. In addition, our Company is subject to various taxes, which can include local, state, or federal taxes. There is a risk that the Company could miscalculate or fail to pay the correct amounts, as required by the appropriate governmental authority, or be subjected to an increased tax burden due to changes in laws or regulations. This could result in fines, interest, or additional unanticipated costs that could negatively impact the Company's financial health.

2. Corporate Transaction: in the event of a Corporate Transaction prior to a Qualified Equity Financing, the Company shall notify the Investor in writing of the terms of the Corporate Transaction and the investor shall receive the higher value received by either: (i) obtaining that number of Conversion Shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing the Outstanding Loan Balance by the Conversion Price; or (ii) obtaining the Corporate Transaction Payment.
3. At or After Maturity: commencing on the Maturity Date, the Crowd Note holders (by a decision of those Crowd Note holders holding a majority of the principal amount of the outstanding Crowd Notes) have the option to: (i) require the Company to pay the Outstanding Loan Balances, or (ii) convert the Crowd Notes into a number of Conversion Shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing the Outstanding Loan Balance by the Conversion Price. Upon the conversion of this Note into Conversion Shares, in lieu of any fractional shares to which the holder would otherwise be entitled, the Company must pay the holder cash equal to such fraction multiplied by such price per share.
4. Mechanics of Conversion: as promptly as practicable after the conversion of this Crowd Note, the Company at its expense will issue and deliver to the Investor, upon surrender of this Crowd Note, the respective number of Conversion Shares.
5. Note Completion. This Crowd Note will terminate upon the earlier of: (i) a conversion of the entire Purchase Price under this Crowd Note into Conversion Shares; or (ii) the payment of amounts due to the investor pursuant to the Crowd Note.

Such terms as Conversion Shares, Conversion Price, Corporate Transaction, Corporate Transaction Payment, Outstanding Loan Balance, and Qualified Equity Financing are defined in the Crowd Note.

Corporate Actions of the Issuer

The Issuer may take corporate actions that impact investors in this Offering. These corporate actions may include (i) additional issuances of securities, (ii) Issuer repurchases of securities, (iii) a sale of the Issuer or assets of the Issuer, or (iv) transactions with related parties. These corporate actions may result in dilution or exit from the investment. No such person filed (as a registrant of Issuer) or was named as an underwriter in any registration statement or Regulation A offering statement filed with the SEC that, within five (5) years before the filing of this Disclosure, was the subject of a refusal order, stop order, or order suspending the Regulation A exemption, and no such person, at the time of such filing, has been the subject of an investigation or proceeding to determine whether a stop order or suspension should be issued.
8. No such person is or has been subject to a United States Postal Service false representation order entered within five (5) years before the filing of the information required by Section 4A(b) of the Securities Act, and no such person at the time of filing this offering statement, has been subject to a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction with respect to conduct alleged by the United States Postal Service to constitute a scheme or device for obtaining money or property through the mail by means of false representation.

These statements must be true and accurate to be eligible to raise funds under Rule 503 of Regulation Crowdfunding or to rely on the Regulation Crowdfunding exemption under Regulation Crowdfunding.

Dilution

The Crowd Notes will initially be treated as a debt security. Should certain conversion events take place, the Crowd Notes will convert to common stock, per the Crowd Note agreement. An investor's ownership resulting from the purchase of the Securities described in this Disclosure, if converted to common stock, could be diluted should the Issuer issue additional shares. In other words, when the Issuer issues more shares (or additional equity interests), the percentage of the Company that you would own will go down, even though the value of the Company may go up. In this scenario, you will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in the number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering, employees exercising stock options or by the conversion of certain securities, including other convertible promissory notes, convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants, into common stock. If the Issuer decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before.

Governing Law

Each Crowd Note and the Securities will be governed by the laws of the State of Texas.

LetsLaunch Assessment

LetsLaunch conducts a “bad actor check” on officers, directors and beneficial owners of twenty (20.0%) percent or more of the voting securities in the Issuer. LetsLaunch does not otherwise pass upon the terms, including the merits and risks, of any Offering or Issuer of Securities on the Portal. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of the Issuer and the terms of the Offering, including the merits and risks. An investor should not invest any funds in this Offering unless he or she is willing and can afford to lose his or her entire investment.

Minority Ownership Rights

By purchasing the Securities, investors will hold convertible notes that may convert to common stock if qualified conversion events occur. In the event of conversion, investors in this Offering will become holders of minority ownership in the Issuer. Rights of minority holders will be more limited than the rights of the holders of common stock who control the Company in regards to the corporate actions of the Issuer, including additional issuance of securities, Issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the Company or its significant assets, or Company transactions with related parties. Minority holders will have no influence on the corporate actions or operations of the Issuer. With any minority investment in a private company, an investor should be able to bear a complete loss of their investment.

Modification of Terms

Investors may not modify the terms of the investment set forth in the Crowd Note. The Crowd Note may only be modified with the consent of all investors and the Issuer.

Tax Considerations

The Issuer intends to treat the Securities as equity instruments for U.S. Federal income tax purposes. The Issuer is responsible for timely preparation and distribution of tax documents to investors (e.g. Schedule K-1), if required. Investors should seek advice from a tax professional to understand the tax implications of an investment in the Securities offered and sold in this Offering.

Valuation

Convertible notes allow the Issuer to delay establishing a valuation. Before making an investment decision, an investor should carefully consider the valuation cap and discount contained in the terms of this Offering. Such valuation caps and discounts may not be appropriate, and investors should conduct their own independent assessment of the Issuer prior to investing. There are several ways to value a company. None of them are perfect and all involve certain assumptions, especially for early-stage companies with little operational or financial history. While not an exhaustive list, valuation methodologies include:

1. Book Value – investors can determine a book value of the Issuer using the company’s financial statements, usually by looking at the company’s balance sheet. However, the balance sheet generally records assets at cost (the price paid for the asset) and may not take into account whether the assets have increased or decreased in value over time. Some intangible assets such as intellectual property or patents may not appear on the balance sheet, despite their value.
2. Discounted Cash Flows – the Issuer expects to generate positive cash flows (earnings) at some point in the future. This earnings stream can be valued, in present value terms (i.e. the value of those cash flows in today’s dollars), by discounting the cash flows by an assumed rate of return.
3. Liquidation Value – this is the amount for which the company or the assets of the company can be sold, minus any debts and liabilities owed.

Different valuation methods will produce a different answer as to what a given investment is worth. Investors may also utilize different assumptions about the company’s business and its market. When the Issuer raises additional, future capital in the form of a priced round, meaning a valuation will be established at that point, future investors may value the company or its assets differently than current or prospective investors, including those that participate in this Offering.

Ongoing Reporting

Companies that have raised money via Regulation Crowdfunding must provide certain information to both the SEC and its investors. Receiving regular company updates is an important part of being an investor and monitoring the progress of the company and your investment. The Issuer will file a report electronically with the SEC annually, as well as post the report on its website or otherwise distribute the report to its investors, no later than one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each fiscal year covered by the report.

Once posted, the annual report may be found in an email sent to investors.

The Issuer will continue to comply with the ongoing reporting requirements until:

1. The Company is required to file reports under Section 13(a) or Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act;
2. The Company has filed at least three (3) annual reports pursuant to Regulation Crowdfunding and has total assets that do not exceed ten million dollars ($10,000,000.00);
3. The Company has filed at least one (1) annual report pursuant to Regulation Crowdfunding and has fewer than three hundred (300) holders of record;
4. The Company or another party repurchases all of the Securities issued in reliance on Regulation Crowdfunding, including any payment in full of debt securities or any complete redemption of redeemable securities; or
5. The Company liquidates or dissolves its business in accordance with state law.

Neither the Company nor any of its predecessors (if any) previously failed to comply with the ongoing reporting requirements of Rule 202 of Regulation Crowdfunding. Regardless of ongoing reporting requirements per SEC rules, LetsLaunch encourages Issuers on the Portal to provide quarterly updates to investors.
