Back to Space (BTS) is a "Trans-Media" company with focus on traditional channels (TV) coupled with Internet based digital media. While developing a cash flow positive engine, our goal is to inspire emotion that will cause people to Look Up. BTS is developing a high energy TV show that will do something never been done before. We are also working on collaborations with some of the best known entities in digital media. In October 19, 2018, Back to Space introduced the Group 1 class of Student Ambassadors.. Along with BTS Executives and the Apollo astronauts, Group 1 is creating the elements of Exponential STEM.
