Jim Iversen

Innovating Wellness | Co-Founder and CEO at Sen-Jam
Pharmaceutical | 4X Past Exits
Huntington, New York, United States

Summary

Jim is an accomplished entrepreneur and seasoned executive, passionate about improving the lives of others. Sen-Jam Pharmaceutical is pursuing novel solutions to COVID-19 therapy, opioid withdrawal and alcohol hangover, among five other assets tackling large unmet needs. Jim's mission in co-founding Sen-Jam has been and remains bettering the lives of others while embracing new ideas and ways of working. At Sen-Jam, Jim brings a remarkable resourcefulness that helps reframe and manifest new ways of partnering and producing value. With 25 international patents and patents pending, Sen-Jam is poised for global success. The US market opportunity for Sen-Jam's pipeline is over $17 billion. Jim drives excellence in all aspects of development and commercialization with strategic partners aligned to his worldwide vision.

With deep and wide experience driving business success, Jim synthesizes his expertise in building companies with an ability to push the boundaries of new ways of thinking and operating. Jim has an uncanny knack for enabling growth trajectories that matter to both the companies he shepherds and the people he engages with. Jim's talent as a driving force in any start-up or established enterprise has been to touch, move and inspire all of the stakeholders towards a common goal. This kind of galvanizing ability generates tremendous value and accelerates uncommon efficiencies on the road to success. Jim's recent engagements have included working with CEOs and COOs of Supply Chain, BioTech, Technology, Energy & Financial Services Companies on sharpening cultural and strategic alignment in many powerful ways.

The consummate charismatic leader, Jim approaches every situation with an open-minded, listen and learn attitude. Jim believes in open and honest communication and as a result, he consistently inspires deep and trustworthy relationships that helps executives identify and move beyond obstacles and access greater achievements. Jim excels at defining what is possible (Vision), building the roadmap to success (Strategy), and anchoring the team through trust to execute flawlessly with a precision process he has fine-tuned over many years of success.

Jim holds a BS in Mechanical Engineering from New Jersey Institute of Technology, and Diplomas from New York University in Systems Analysis and Investment Banking. He has attended numerous executive level course in Leadership, Finance, Strategy and Mergers and Acquisitions at Columbia and Harvard Universities. He has been an active member of the Young President's Organization for 25 years.

Experience

Sen-Jam Pharmaceutical

Co-Founder CEO

June 2016 - Present (7 years 1 month)

Reimagining Healthcare through Innovation!

Sen-Jam is a catalyst for change. Our goal is to create value by finding novel Pharmaceutical solutions for large, unmet needs while forging licensing agreements and/or sale of our products to like-minded agents of positive change – companies and innovators that want to make the world a better place. We are currently collaborating with several great partners and welcome conversations to explore possibilities with new ones.

Sen-Jam innovates to eliminate many painful side effects. Whether they come from medicine or everyday living. We have an oral COVID-19 therapy that is currently in clinical trials. Our Exulta® product line is based on Opioid Free Pain Relief with GI Protection for Extended Use.

We currently have Eight (8) Assets under development and our goal is to sell or license all of our assets by 2023.
