As a product designer for decades where I made products and experiences more user friendly and intuitive, I am now focused on creating and delivering mobile apps to address the human experience.

The first product from Zen Health Technologies (<https://zenhealthtech.com>) is a mobile app called EverStrong (<https://everstrongapp.com>). EverStrong is designed to help busy people with busy minds build emotional strength and emotional intelligence. It has mental exercises to address self-improvement goals such as mastering emotions, building confidence a ...see mor
