General

1. We note your draft disclosure references management's belief that interest rate derivative financial instruments provide significant protection against falling interest rates. In light of increases in interest rates during the periods covered by your annual and quarterly reports, please revise your draft risk management discussion to further clarify whether and how derivatives are used to manage risk due to other interest rate environments, including any material adjustments to the strategy due to recent increases in interest rates. Additionally, please clarify whether the simulation and EVE model outputs reflect such use of derivatives.
