Travis is a passionate leader who genuinely cares about people, relationships, and teamwork. Leading by example, he meets every challenge with a high level of energy, optimism, and drive. I had the chance to work (remotely) with Travis for a year, while on the product team at Tribevest. Even though we were in different cities, I could tell that Travis was (and is) whole-heartedly mission-driven and dedicat...see more

Business Operations @ ScriptDrop

May 3, 2019, Nathan reported directly to Travis

Travis has been an inspirational coach and mentor. He brought me in as an intern for TribeVest to lead the sales efforts at a very early stage. He gave me the perfect combination of autonomy and mentorship. He is always there to help, no matter what, even if it's unrelated to work. TribeVest is going to be a billion dollar company one day with Travis' vision.

I have had the brief pleasure of working with Travis, and when it comes to uplifting optimism, and an innate ability to analyze any scenario and quickly come up with a solution, Travis comes second to none.
