Item 8.01 Other Events.

On September 21, 2005, Cleco Corporation announced its preliminary estimates of storm restoration costs associated with Hurricane Katrina. Total restoration costs for the repair and/or replacement of Cleco Power's electric system facilities damaged by Hurricane Katrina are currently estimated to be in the range of $100 million to $125 million. These cost estimates do not include other potential incremental costs that cannot be estimated at this time and as a result these initial restoration estimates are subject to change.

As of September 21, 2005, Cleco Power has restored power to 92% of its customers in St. Tammany and Washington parishes. Approximately 75,000 customers now have electricity three weeks after Hurricane Katrina knocked out power to all 80,800 customers in Cleco Power's service area north of New Orleans, out of approximately 265,000 total customers. For more information about Cleco Power's recovery efforts, see the press release issued September 21, 2005, a copy of which is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this Report.

Cleco Power believes it has sufficient liquidity to meet its current obligations and to fund restoration efforts from a combination of cash on hand and available capacity under its revolving credit facilities.
