RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

The use of individually identifiable data by our business, our business associates and third parties is regulated at the state, federal and international levels.

Costs associated with information security – such as investment in technology, the costs of compliance with consumer protection laws and costs resulting from consumer fraud – could cause our business and results of operations to suffer materially. Additionally, the success of our online operations depends upon the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks, including the use of cashless payments. The intentional or negligent actions of employees, business associates or third parties may undermine our security measures. As a result, unauthorized parties may obtain access to our data systems and misappropriate confidential data. There can be no assurance that advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography or other developments will prevent the compromise of our customer transaction processing capabilities and personal data. If any such compromise of our security or the security of information residing with our business associates or third parties were to occur, it could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, operating results and financial condition. Any compromise of our data security may materially increase the costs we incur to protect against such breaches and could subject us to additional legal risk.

Through our operations, we collect and store certain personal information that our customers provide to purchase products or services, enroll in promotional programs, register on our web site, or otherwise communicate and interact with us.

We may share information about such persons with vendors that assist with certain aspects of our business. Security could be compromised and confidential customer or business information misappropriated. Loss of customer or business information could disrupt our operations, damage our reputation, and expose us to claims from customers, financial institutions, payment card associations and other persons, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, compliance with tougher privacy and information security laws and standards may result in significant expense due to increased investment in technology and the development of new operational processes.

Security breaches and other disruptions could compromise our information and expose us to liability, which would cause our business and reputation to suffer.

We [collect and] store sensitive data, including intellectual property, our proprietary business information and that of our customers, [suppliers and business partners,] and personally identifiable information of our [customers and] employees, in our data centers and on our networks. The secure [processing,] maintenance [and transmission] of this information is critical to our operations [and business strategy]. Despite our security measures, our information technology and infrastructure may be vulnerable to attacks by hackers or breached due to employee error, malfeasance or other disruptions. Any such breach could compromise our networks and the information stored there could be accessed, publicly disclosed, lost or stolen. Any such access, disclosure or other loss of information could result in legal claims or proceedings, [liability under laws that protect the privacy of personal information,] [and regulatory penalties,] [disrupt our operations [and the services we provide to customers],] [and] damage our reputation, [and cause a loss of confidence in our products and services], which could adversely affect our [business/operating margins, revenues and competitive position].

[The secure [processing,] maintenance [and transmission] of this information is critical to our operations [and business strategy], and we devote significant resources to protecting our information [by [DESCRIBE ADDITIONAL SECURITY MEASURES.]] The expenses associated with [protecting our information/ these steps] could reduce our operating margins.]

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Jeff & Jena, Dr. Angela N. Mauldin, Jessica Brown, James Gilmer, Yimara McCartney-Ross, Antoinette Anderson, Breahna Sutton, Cameron McGlothen, Dr.Darrius Brooks, Keith Shannon, Jonathan Swindell, and PARAS TECHNOLOGIES who are Social Media Management , Head Of Sales, PR Management , Corporate Relations , Cover Girl & Road Team Lead, Vice President , UI & UX Consultant , Director Of Community Engagement , Chief Connection Officer , Head Of Institutional Advancement , CEO, and Tech Team of the Company. The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with Jeff & Jena, Dr. Angela N. Mauldin, Jessica Brown, James Gilmer, Yimara McCartney-Ross, Antoinette Anderson, Breahna Sutton, Cameron McGlothen, Dr.Darrius Brooks, Keith Shannon, Jonathan Swindell, and PARAS TECHNOLOGIES although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of Jeff & Jena, Dr. Angela N. Mauldin, Jessica Brown, James Gilmer, Yimara McCartney-Ross, Antoinette Anderson, Breahna Sutton, Cameron McGlothen, Dr.Darrius Brooks, Keith Shannon, Jonathan Swindell, and PARAS TECHNOLOGIES or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

We rely on various intellectual property rights, including trademarks in order to operate our business.

Such intellectual property rights, however, may not be sufficiently broad or otherwise may not provide us a significant competitive advantage. In addition, the steps that we have taken to maintain and protect our intellectual property may not prevent it from being challenged, invalidated, circumvented or designed-around, particularly in countries where intellectual property rights are not highly developed or protected. In some circumstances, enforcement may not be available to us because an infringer has a dominant intellectual property position or for other business reasons, or countries may require compulsory licensing of our intellectual property. Our failure to obtain or maintain intellectual property rights that convey competitive advantage, adequately protect our intellectual property or detect or prevent circumvention or unauthorized use of such property, could adversely impact our competitive position and results of operations. We also rely on nondisclosure and noncompetition agreements with employees, consultants and other parties to protect, in part, trade secrets and other proprietary rights. There can be no assurance that these agreements will adequately protect our trade secrets and other proprietary rights and will not be breached, that we will have adequate remedies for any breach, that others will not independently develop substantially equivalent proprietary information or that third parties will not otherwise gain access to our trade secrets or other proprietary rights.

As we expand our business, protecting our intellectual property will become increasingly important. The protective steps we have taken may be inadequate to deter our competitors from using our proprietary information. In order to protect or enforce our patent rights, we may be required to initiate litigation against third parties, such as infringement lawsuits. Also, these third parties may assert claims against us with or without provocation. These lawsuits could be expensive, take significant time and could divert management's attention from other business concerns. The law relating to the scope and validity of claims in the technology field in which we operate is still evolving and, consequently, intellectual property positions in our industry are generally uncertain. We cannot assure you that we will prevail in any of these potential suits or that the damages or other remedies awarded, if any, would be commercially valuable.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on any such people.

The Company is dependent on Jeff & Jena, Dr. Angela N. Mauldin, Jessica Brown, James Gilmer, Yimara McCartney-Ross, Antoinette Anderson, Breahna Sutton, Cameron McGlothen, Dr.Darrius Brooks, Keith Shannon, Jonathan Swindell, and PARAS TECHNOLOGIES in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if any of Jeff & Jena, Dr. Angela N. Mauldin, Jessica Brown, James Gilmer, Yimara McCartney-Ross, Antoinette Anderson, Breahna Sutton, Cameron McGlothen, Dr.Darrius Brooks, Keith Shannon, Jonathan Swindell, and PARAS TECHNOLOGIES die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

We have not prepared any audited financial statements.

Therefore, you have no audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in both the U.S. [and various foreign jurisdictions].

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

We rely heavily on our technology and intellectual property, but we may be unable to adequately or cost-effectively protect or enforce our intellectual property rights, thereby weakening our competitive position and increasing operating costs.

To protect our rights in our services and technology, we rely on a combination of copyright and trademark laws, patents, trade secrets, confidentiality agreements with employees and third parties, and protective contractual provisions. We also rely on laws pertaining to trademarks and domain names to protect the value of our corporate brands and reputation. Despite our efforts to protect our proprietary rights, unauthorized parties may copy aspects of our services or technology, obtain and use information, marks, or technology that we regard as proprietary, or otherwise violate or infringe our intellectual property rights. In addition, it is possible that others could independently develop substantially equivalent intellectual property. If we do not effectively protect our intellectual property, or if others independently develop substantially equivalent intellectual property, our competitive position could be weakened.

Effectively policing the unauthorized use of our services and technology is time-consuming and costly, and the steps taken by us may not prevent misappropriation of our technology or other proprietary assets. The efforts we have taken to protect our proprietary rights may not be sufficient or effective, and unauthorized parties may copy aspects of our services, use similar marks or domain names, or obtain and use information, marks, or technology that we regard as proprietary. We may have to litigate to enforce our intellectual property rights, to protect our trade secrets, or to determine the validity and scope of others' proprietary rights, which are sometimes not clear or may change. Litigation can be time consuming and expensive, and the outcome can be difficult to predict.

We must acquire or develop new products, evolve existing ones, address any defects or errors, and adapt to technology change.

Technical developments, client requirements, programming languages, and industry standards change frequently in our markets. As a result, success in current markets and new markets will depend upon our ability to enhance current products, address any product defects or errors, acquire or develop and introduce new products that meet client needs, keep pace with technology changes, respond to competitive products, and achieve market acceptance. Product development requires substantial investments for research, refinement, and testing. We may not have sufficient resources to make necessary product development investments. We may experience technical or other difficulties that will delay or prevent the successful development, introduction, or implementation of new or enhanced products. We may also experience technical or other difficulties in the integration of acquired technologies into our existing platform and applications. Inability to introduce or implement new or enhanced products in a timely manner could result in loss of market share if competitors are able to provide solutions to meet customer needs before we do, give rise to unanticipated expenses related to further development or modification of acquired technologies as a result of integration issues, and adversely affect future performance.

Our failure to deliver high quality server solutions could damage our reputation and diminish demand for our products, and subject us to liability.

Our customers require our products to perform at a high level, contain valuable features and be extremely reliable. The design of our server solutions is sophisticated and complex, and the process for manufacturing, assembling and testing our server solutions is challenging. Occasionally, our design or manufacturing processes may fail to deliver products of the quality that our customers require. For example, a vendor may provide us with a defective component that failed under certain heavy use applications. As a result, our product would need to be repaired. The vendor may agree to pay for the costs of the repairs, but we may incur costs in connection with the recall and diverted resources from other projects. New flaws or limitations in our products may be detected in the future. Part of our strategy is to bring new products to market quickly, and first-generation products may have a higher likelihood of containing undetected flaws. If our customers discover defects or other performance problems with our products, our customers' businesses, and our reputation, may be damaged. Customers may elect to delay or withhold payment for defective or underperforming products, request remedial action, terminate contracts for untimely delivery, or elect not to order additional products. If we do not properly address customer concerns about our products, our reputation and relationships with our customers may be harmed. In addition, we may be subject to product liability claims for a defective product. Any of the foregoing could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Our business could be negatively impacted by cyber security threats, attacks and other disruptions.

Like others in our industry, we continue to face advanced and persistent attacks on our information infrastructure where we manage and store various proprietary information and sensitive/confidential data relating to our operations. These attacks may include sophisticated malware (viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs) and phishing emails that attack our products or otherwise exploit any security vulnerabilities. These intrusions sometimes may be zero-day malware that are difficult to identify because they are not included in the signature set of commercially available antivirus scanning programs. Experienced computer programmers and hackers may be able to penetrate our network security and misappropriate or compromise our confidential information or that of our customers or other third-parties, create system disruptions, or cause shutdowns. Additionally, sophisticated software and applications that we produce or procure from third-parties may contain defects in design or manufacture, including "bugs" and other problems that could unexpectedly interfere with the operation of the information infrastructure. A disruption, infiltration or failure of our information infrastructure systems or any of our data centers as a result of software or hardware malfunctions, computer viruses, cyber attacks, employee theft or misuse, power disruptions, natural disasters or accidents could cause breaches of data security, loss of critical data and performance delays, which in turn could adversely affect our business.

If we do not respond to technological changes or upgrade our websites and technology systems, our growth prospects and results of operations could be adversely affected.

To remain competitive, we must continue to enhance and improve the functionality and features of our websites and technology infrastructure. As a result, we will need to continue to improve and expand our hosting and network infrastructure and related software capabilities. These improvements may require greater levels of spending than we have experienced in the past. Without such improvements, our operations might suffer from unanticipated system disruptions, slow application performance or unreliable service levels, any of which could negatively affect our reputation and ability to attract and retain customers and contributors. Furthermore, in order to continue to attract and retain new customers, we are likely to incur expenses in connection with continuously updating and improving our user interface and experience. We may face significant delays in introducing new services, products and enhancements. If competitors introduce new products and services using new technologies or if new industry standards and practices emerge, our existing websites and our proprietary technology and systems may become obsolete or less competitive, and our business may be harmed. In addition, the expansion and improvement of our systems and infrastructure may require us to commit substantial financial, operational and technical resources, with no assurance that our business will improve.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Units of SAFE Note will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Units of SAFE Note may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Units of SAFE Note. Because the Units of SAFE Note have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Units of SAFE Note have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. Limitations on the transfer of the Units of SAFE Note may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Units of SAFE Note in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the Offering the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own up to 94.0% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under California law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to

Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

Your ownership of the shares of stock will be subject to dilution.

Owners of do not have preemptive rights. If the Company conducts subsequent Offerings of or Securities convertible into , issues shares pursuant to a compensation or distribution reinvestment plan or otherwise issues additional shares, investors who purchase shares in this Offering who do not participate in those other stock issuances will experience dilution in their percentage ownership of the Company's outstanding shares. Furthermore, shareholders may experience a dilution in the value of their shares depending on the terms and pricing of any future share issuances (including the shares being sold in this Offering) and the value of the Company's assets at the time of issuance.

The Securities will be equity interests in the Company and will not constitute indebtedness.

The Securities will rank junior to all existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims on the Company with respect to assets available to satisfy claims on the Company, including in a liquidation of the Company. Additionally, unlike indebtedness, for which principal and interest would customarily be payable on specified due dates, there will be no specified payments of dividends with respect to the Securities and dividends are payable only if, when and as authorized and declared by the Company and depend on, among other matters, the Company's historical and projected results of operations, liquidity, cash flows, capital levels, financial condition, debt service requirements and other cash needs, financing covenants, applicable state law, federal and state regulatory prohibitions and other restrictions and any other factors the Company's board of directors deems relevant at the time. In addition, the terms of the Securities will not limit the amount of debt or other obligations the Company may incur in the future. Accordingly, the Company may incur substantial amounts of additional debt and other obligations that will rank senior to the Securities.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to Purchasers through either a sale of the Company or a registration of the Securities.

There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of the Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for Purchasers. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the Securities for resale by Purchasers for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related or other reasons. In the event that we are unable to effect a registration, Purchasers could be unable to sell their Securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

The HBCU HUB App is the world's first app that connects students to Admission recruiters at HBCUs all across the country. We earn our revenue through the selling of our data management services that allow schools and organizations to recruit without incurring the cost of travel.

Business Plan

The HBCU HUB App - 2021 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY: Business Summary: The HBCU HUB App is the world's first app that connects students to admission recruiters at HBCUs all over the country. At the core, we are a data management company that bridges digital and physical communication efforts through automated systems that allow colleges and universities to have more effective, data-driven decision-making. Market Problem: Data is a digital asset that never stops growing, the management of this asset has become a headache for mid-size organizations such as colleges and universities. We have set out to help schools cut costs while recruiting and retaining high-quality students by giving them custom systems that work on their behalf to bridge digital and physical communication efforts. A prime example of schools needing help with data management is college expo applications getting lost in the shuffle year after year costing schools not only money but the loss of potential alumni of their institution. Solution: We are proposing the use of a custom eco-system that enforces the use of proper digital architecture. Such a system uses our 3 different data collection devices, 1. The HBCU HUB App, 2. Communicators, and 3. iPad at College Expos to capture student information digital and then send it instantly to admin back on campus eliminating the time and money spent on traditional application processing. This solves the bigger problem of poor data management within our niche industry. With that in mind, we also believe that our technology is in fact patentable. As we have created the world's first-ever HBCU Matchmaker. Target Market: Our current focus is to serve the HBCU market which makes up a little under 2% of the overall higher education market. This also speaks to the potential of our group as well as the value of our data is not bound to just 1 industry. Market Validation: Since 2018 we have had closed close to $100,000 in data management sales, our app has been used in over 80 countries around the world, and in Sept. 2002, Apple ranked us the #92 Educational App in the world. That's #92 of over #75,000

Educational Apps on the App Store. Business Model: We make our money with the software and hardware (EcoSystems) packages we sell to clients. More importantly, our primary business model all comes back to one term. Insights-As-A-Service, all of our innovative solutions center around the primary principle. Marketing Strategy: We use LinkedIn heavily, also within such a niche market we plan to develop a sales team with many contacts and give them a “Lease to Sale” our technology in exchange for a commission. Competition / Competitive Advantage: Our biggest competition within this market is The Common Black College App & College Board. Our advantage against The Common Black College App is the lack of innovation within their technology and backward form of data collection/distribution. Our advantage against College Board is the minimized return on investment they offer to Black Colleges. Team Composition, Current Status and Next Steps: Our team is lead by a technical founder and former application development specialist at IBM, we are a group made up of multiple PHDs and are advised by a director of admissions at a prominent HBCU, long term members of IBM data analysis team, as well as being advised by account executives at Microsoft so we can best understand what our technology looks like within the corporate world. The new, native version of our app will be released in February of 2022, this will allow a seamless connection between incoming students and college staff, we are making a pivot towards corporate recruitment as well. The term “recruiter” within our organization is going further than colleges as many industries have initiatives in place to diversify. We will be formalizing our sales team over the next 4 - 6 months ensuring the new version of our app meets our revenue projections. Lastly, we are pouring heavy resources into PR as we want to ensure we grasp the global opportunity that is in front of us.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Operations

We have never raised outside capital, we started in the dorm room of Grambling State University and have been boot-strapped since then. We have received non dilutive capital from: Grambling State University: $2,500 Morgan Stanley: $2,500 Nex Cubed (Silicon Valley Accelerator): $10,000 Impact Ventures (Dallas Texas Accelerator): $2,500 Our out there goal is to actually make our first million in sales this year as we have reached over $100k since 2018, what gives us hope in that is we are expanding our offerings as a company, currently, we only charge admission offices whereas now we will be charging schools by the department. Admissions, Band, Athletics, and so on. Our projections have us hitting near $400K in sales this year. A goal of ours last year was to actually create a revenue stream that brings in at least 2K per month in MRR, we did that with our Scholly partnership, which we still have today. That is a big emphasis of ours, to create a more repeatable revenue model. So yes we have our big-ticket data sales but we are also seeing revenue from affiliate marketing from our corporate clients. Affiliate marketing is a revenue stream we will be putting resources behind for its growth as it is a 2022 goal of ours to be making a minimum of $7K per month from the said stream of revenue. One of our biggest pain points is cash flow in between contract drawdowns because we get paid a "large" (between $6K - $15K) sum at one time and have to budget that until our next drawdown, the expansion to monetize the advertisement side of the platform has helped with that pain point because we are paid monthly and based off of the traffic we pull in ($2 per a lead).

The Company intends to achieve profitability in the next 12 months through the expansion in our business model which charges schools based on department also we are furthering a new stream of revenue in the space of affiliate marketing and overall driving traffic to programs posted by our corporate partners.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The proceeds will allow us to put our sales team on the road and pay for spots at conferences in order to present to large groups of educational stakeholders. We have never presented to more than 20 schools at once and not walked away with at least $30,000 in contracts. Further, we will be carrying out our full road map throughout 2022 which includes some R&D around using the platform as an E-learning tool for job readiness Lastly, we will be pouring heavily into PR, HBCUs are just too hot right now for this not to catch fire, lot's of resources will go into influencer marketing and TV News slots for overall better App/Brand awareness.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Offering.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

OTHER INFORMATION

In complete transparency, the ugly side of our company is not having the best financial records, we have improved as we've grown and also as we are now making MRR. We have every single contract to prove all revenue numbers with clients yet we are learning to become more diligent in the tracking of every single dollar spent. A big reason for that not always being the case is because we are/were bootstrapped so sometimes a bill or an expense would be paid directly from our Founders account and not from the business account, and that wouldn't be reflected within our book line items. We have changed this practice as we learn more and formalize the business more as a whole. So it still may be times when our Founder pays an expense but it is first transferred to the HBCU HUB bank account as an owner contribution and then paid for. Lastly, we need professional help in managing our taxes. _____ We aren't going to lie to you all in any way. That is the ugly side of our company. The good is our apps growth and the fact our tech is built all in-house by a former IBM team, but the bad is we don't have 5-10 years of detailed bookkeeping with every single line item accounted for. We have our profit and loss, we have our cost of goods sold, we have the projected budget and actual budget for each client build, and so on. That is the "bad" of HBCU HUB, we have grown out of a dorm room to be ranked #92 out of 75,000 educational apps, but we could have been more detailed in our accounting along the way. That being said, we are now as diligent as possible in accounting for every line item and the use of a CPA is part of what these proceeds will be used for as well. We are using new internal systems such as Quick Books instead of WaveApps to help in automating some of those accounting tasks. Thank you all so much for this opportunity, we are not taking it lightly in any way and will be completely transparent through this whole process.
