Hi Jerome,

Thank you so much for reaching out!

Laminar Scientific is a startup company with groundbreaking inventions in the field of Ocean Energy. Our first product targets remote coastal communities around the world that suffer from a lack of well-connected energy infrastructure.

Please see our promo video and pitch here:

<https://wefunder.com/laminar.scientific>

We are currently drafting an MOU with an energy partner in SE Asia, and we have signed an LOI for collaboration with a disruptive solar energy startup for a novel hybrid energy system. We have also received DOE funds for pursuing our systems.

We are looking for a lead investor and general investors for the crowdfunding campaign. We are also looking for mentors and strategic partners to join us in our incredible journey! And if you have any feedback, we need to hear it! Feel free to set up a call here:
