Rize Up's story began as a home-based quarantine sourdough project that quickly turned into a micro bakery in the Spring of 2020.

About:

Rize Up Bakery LLC's (DBA Rize Up Bakery) story began as a home-based quarantine sourdough project that quickly turned into a micro bakery. Rize Up has outgrown founder Azikiwee Anderson's backyard ovens and their trajectory has no end in sight! They've created a flourishing online operation with some of the most unique bread in the Bay Area, but what truly makes them special is their commitment to uplifting local communities and quite literally "breaking bread" with neighbors.
