Risk Factors

The SEC requires the company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

These are the risks that relate to the Company:

Uncertain Risk

An investment in the Company (also referred to as "we", "us", "our", or the "Company") involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered by those who can afford the loss of their entire investment. Furthermore, the purchase of any securities should only be undertaken by persons whose financial resources are sufficient to enable them to indefinitely retain an illiquid investment. Each investor in the Company should research thoroughly any offering before making an investment decision and consider all of the information provided regarding the Company as well as the following risk factors, in addition to the other information in the Company's Form C. The following risk factors are not intended, and shall not be deemed to be, a complete description of the commercial, financial, and other risks inherent in the investment in the Company.

Our business projections are only projections

There can be no assurance that the Company will meet its projections. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to find sufficient demand for its product or service, that people think it's a better option than a competing product or service, or that we will be able to provide a product or service at a level that allows the Company to generate revenue, make a profit, or grow the business.

Any valuation is difficult to assess

The valuation for the offering was established by the Company. Unlike listed companies that are independently valued through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess, may not be exact, and you may risk overpaying for your investment.

The transferability of the Securities you are buying is limited

You should be prepared to hold this investment for several years or longer. For the 12 months following your investment, there will be restrictions on the securities you purchase. More importantly, there are a limited number of established markets for the resale of these securities. As a result, if you decide to sell these securities in the future, you may not be able to find, or may have difficulty finding, a buyer, and you may have to locate an interested buyer when you do seek to resell your investment. The Company may be acquired by an existing player in the industry. However, that may never happen or it may happen at a price that results in you losing money on this investment.

Your investment could be illiquid for a long time

You should be prepared to hold this investment for several years or longer. For the 12 months following your investment, there will be restrictions on how you can resell the securities you receive. More importantly, there are limited established markets for these securities. As a result, if you decide to sell these securities in the future, you may not be able to find a buyer. The Company may be acquired by an existing player in the same or a similar industry. However, that may never happen or it may happen at a price that results in you losing money on this investment.

The Company may undergo a future change that could affect your investment

The Company may change its business, management or advisory team, IP portfolio, location of its principal place of business or production facilities, or other change which may result in adverse effects on your investment. Additionally, the Company may alter its corporate structure through a merger, acquisition, consolidation, or other restructuring of its current corporate entity structure. Should such a future change occur, it would be based on management's review and determination that it is in the best interests of the Company.

Your information rights are limited with limited post-closing disclosures

The Company is required to disclose certain information about the Company, its business plan, and its anticipated use of proceeds, among other things, in this offering. Early-stage companies may be able to provide only limited information about their business plan and operations because it does not have fully developed operations or a long history to provide more disclosure. The Company is also only obligated to file information annually regarding its business, including financial statements. In contrast to publicly listed companies, investors will be entitled only to that post-offering information that is required to be disclosed to them pursuant to applicable law or regulation, including Regulation CF. Such disclosure generally requires only that the Company issue an annual report via a Form C-AR. Investors are generally not entitled to interim updates or financial information.

Some early-stage companies may lack professional guidance

Some companies attribute their success, in part, to the guidance of professional early-stage advisors, consultants, or investors (e.g., angel investors or venture capital firms). advisors, consultants, or investors may play an important role in a company through their resources, contacts, and experience in assisting early-stage companies in executing their business plans. An early-stage company primarily financed through Regulation Crowdfunding may not have the benefit of such professional investors, which may pose a risk to your investment.

We may not have enough capital as needed and may be required to raise more capital.

We anticipate needing access to credit in order to support our working capital requirements as we grow. It is a difficult environment for obtaining credit on favorable terms. If we cannot obtain credit when we need it, we could be forced to raise additional equity capital, modify our growth plans, or take some other action. Issuing more equity may require bringing on additional investors. Securing these additional investors could require pricing our equity below its current price. If so, your investment could lose value as a result of this additional dilution. In addition, even if the equity is not priced lower, your ownership percentage would be decreased with the addition of more investors. If we are unable to find additional investors willing to provide capital, then it is possible that we will choose to cease our sales activity. In that case, the only asset remaining to generate a return on your investment could be our intellectual property. Even if we are not forced to cease our sales activity, the unavailability of credit could result in the Company performing below expectations, which could adversely impact the value of your investment.

Terms of subsequent financings may adversely impact your investment

We will likely need to engage in common equity, debt, or preferred stock financings in the future, which may reduce the value of your investment in the Company. Interest on debt securities could increase costs and negatively impact operating results. Preferred stock could be issued in series from time to time with such designation, rights, preferences, and limitations as needed to raise capital. The terms of preferred stock could be more advantageous to those investors than to the holders of common stock or other securities. In addition, if we need to raise more equity capital from the sale of Common Stock, institutional or other investors may negotiate terms that are likely to be more favorable than the terms of your investment, and possibly a lower purchase price per security.

Management's Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

Our success will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of our management team with respect to the application and allocation of the proceeds of this offering. The Use of Proceeds described below is an estimate based on our current business plan. We, however, may find it necessary or advisable to re-allocate portions of the net proceeds reserved for one category to another, and we will have broad discretion in doing so.

Projections: Forward Looking Information

Any projections or forward-looking statements regarding our anticipated financial or operational performance are hypothetical and are based on management's best estimate of the probable results of our operations and may not have been reviewed by our independent accountants. These projections are based on assumptions that management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions invariably will not materialize due to unanticipated events and circumstances beyond management's control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from such projections, and such variances may be material. Any projected results cannot be guaranteed.

The amount raised in this offering may include investments from company insiders or immediate family members Officers, directors, executives, and existing owners with a controlling stake in the Company (or their immediate family members) may make investments in this offering. Any such investments will be included in the raised amount reflected on the campaign page.

Some of our products are still in the prototype phase and might never be operational products

Developing new products and technologies can be a complex process that involves significant risks and uncertainties. Technical challenges, design flaws, manufacturing defects, and regulatory hurdles can all impact the success of a product or service. It is possible that there may never be an operational product or that the product may never be used to engage in transactions. It is possible that the failure to release the product is the result of a change in business model upon the Company's making a determination that the business model, or some other factor, will not be in the best interest of the Company and its stockholders.

Supply Chain and Logistics Risks

The availability of raw materials, transportation costs, and supply chain disruptions can all impact the ability to manufacture and distribute products or services, leading to lost revenue or increased costs. Products and services that are not available when customers need them can lead to lost sales and damage to the brand's reputation.

Quality and Safety of our Product and Service

The quality of a product or service can vary depending on the manufacturer or provider. Poor quality can result in customer dissatisfaction, returns, and lost revenue. Furthermore, products or services that are not safe can cause harm to customers and result in liability for the manufacturer or provider. Safety issues can arise from design flaws, manufacturing defects, or improper use.

Minority Holder; Securities with No Voting Rights

The stock that an investor is buying has no voting rights attached to them. This means that you will have no rights in dictating how the Company will be run. You are trusting in management's discretion in making good business decisions that will grow your investments. Furthermore, in the event of a liquidation of our company, you will only be paid out if there is any cash remaining after all of the creditors of our company have been paid out.

You are trusting that management will make the best decision for the company

You are trusting in management's discretion. You are buying securities as a minority holder, and therefore must trust the management of the Company to make good business decisions that grow your investment.

Insufficient Funds

The Company might not sell enough securities in this offering to meet its operating needs and fulfill its plans, in which case it may cease operating and result in a loss on your investment. Even if we sell all the stock we are offering now, the Company may need to raise more funds in the future, and if unsuccessful in doing so, the Company will fail. Even if we do make a successful offering in the future, the terms of that offering might result in your investment in the Company being worth less, if later investors have better terms than those in this offering.

This offering involves "rolling closings," which may mean that earlier investors may not have the benefit of information that later investors have.

Once we meet our target amount for this offering, we may request that StartEngine instruct the escrow agent to disburse offering funds to us. At that point, investors whose subscription agreements have been accepted will become our investors. All early-stage companies are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, and it is not uncommon for material changes to be made to the offering terms, or to companies' businesses, plans, or prospects, sometimes with little or no notice. When such changes happen during the course of an offering, we must file an amendment to our Form C with the SEC, and investors whose subscriptions have not yet been accepted will have the right to withdraw their subscriptions and get their money back. Investors whose subscriptions have already been accepted, however, will already be our investors and will have no such right.

Our new product could fail to achieve the sales projections we expect

Our growth projections are based on the assumption that with an increased advertising and marketing budget, our products will be able to gain traction in the marketplace at a faster rate than our current products have. It is possible that our new products will fail to gain market acceptance for any number of reasons. If the new products fail to achieve significant sales and acceptance in the marketplace, this could materially and adversely impact the value of your investment.

We face significant market competition

We will compete with larger, established companies that currently have products on the market and/or various respective product development programs. They may have much better financial means and marketing/sales and human resources than us. They may succeed in developing and marketing competing equivalent products earlier than us, or superior products than those developed by us. There can be no assurance that competitors will not render our technology or products obsolete or that the products developed by us will be preferred to any existing or newly developed technologies. It should further be assumed that competition will intensify.

We are competing against other recreational activities

Although we are a unique company that caters to a select market, we do compete against other recreational activities. Our business growth depends on the market interest in the Company over other activities.

Intense Market Competition

The market in which the company operates may be highly competitive, with established players, emerging startups, and potential future entrants. The presence of competitors can impact the company's ability to attract and retain customers, gain market share, and generate sustainable revenue. Competitors with greater financial resources, brand recognition, or established customer bases may have a competitive advantage, making it challenging for the company to differentiate itself and achieve long-term success.

Vulnerability to Economic Conditions

Economic conditions, both globally and within specific markets, can significantly influence the success of early-stage startups. Downturns or recessions may lead to reduced consumer spending, limited access to capital, and decreased demand for the company's products or services. Additionally, factors such as inflation, interest rates, and exchange rate fluctuations can affect the cost of raw materials, operational expenses, and profitability, potentially impacting the company's ability to operate.

Uncertain Regulatory Landscape

Due to the unestablished nature of the market the business operates within, the potential introduction of new laws or industry-specific standards can impose additional costs and operational burdens on the company. Non-compliance or legal disputes may result in fines, penalties, reputational damage, or even litigation, adversely affecting the company's financial condition and ability to operate effectively.

Our trademarks, copyrights and other intellectual property could be unenforceable or ineffective Intellectual property is a complex field of law in which few things are certain. It is possible that competitors will be able to design around our intellectual property, find prior art to invalidate it, or render the patents unenforceable through some other mechanism. If competitors are able to bypass our trademark and copyright protection without obtaining a sublicense, it is likely that the Company's value will be materially and adversely impacted. This could also impair the Company's ability to compete in the marketplace. Moreover, if our trademarks and copyrights are deemed unenforceable, the Company will almost certainly lose any potential revenue it might be able to raise by entering into sublicenses. This would cut off a significant potential revenue stream for the Company.

The cost of enforcing our trademarks and copyrights could prevent us from enforcing them

Trademark and copyright litigation has become extremely expensive. Even if we believe that a competitor is infringing on one or more of our trademarks or copyrights, we might choose not to file suit because we lack the cash to successfully prosecute a multi-year litigation with an uncertain outcome; or because we believe that the cost of enforcing our trademark(s) or copyright(s) outweighs the value of winning the suit in light of the risks and consequences of losing it; or for some other reason. Choosing not to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) could have adverse consequences for the Company, including undermining the credibility of our intellectual property, reducing our ability to enter into sublicenses, and weakening our attempts to prevent competitors from entering the market. As a result, if we are unable to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) because of the cost of enforcement, your investment in the Company could be significantly and adversely affected.

The loss of one or more of our key personnel, or our failure to attract and retain other highly qualified personnel in the future, could harm our business

Our business depends on our ability to attract, retain, and develop highly skilled and qualified employees. As we grow, we will need to continue to attract and hire additional employees in various areas, including sales, marketing, design, development, operations, finance, legal, and human resources. However, we may face competition for qualified candidates, and we cannot guarantee that we will be successful in recruiting or retaining suitable employees. Additionally, if we make hiring mistakes or fail to develop and train our employees adequately, it could have a negative impact on our business, financial condition, or operating results. We may also need to compete with other companies in our industry for highly skilled and qualified employees. If we are unable to attract and retain the right talent, it may impact our ability to execute our business plan successfully, which could adversely affect the value of your investment. Furthermore, the economic environment may affect our ability to hire qualified candidates, and we cannot predict whether we will be able to find the right employees when we need them. This would likely adversely impact the value of your investment.

Our ability to sell our product or service is dependent on outside government regulation which can be subject to change at any time

Our ability to sell our products is subject to various government regulations, including but not limited to, regulations related to the manufacturing, labeling, distribution, and sale of our products. Changes in these regulations, or the enactment of new regulations, could impact our ability to sell our products or increase our compliance costs. Furthermore, the regulatory landscape is subject to regular change, and we may face challenges in adapting to such changes, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, or operating results. In addition to government regulations, we may also be subject to other laws and regulations related to our products, including intellectual property laws, data privacy laws, and consumer protection laws. Non-compliance with these laws and regulations could result in legal and financial liabilities, reputational damage, and regulatory fines and penalties. It is also possible that changes in public perception or cultural norms regarding our products may impact demand for our products, which could adversely affect our business and financial performance, which may adversely affect your investment.

We rely on third parties to provide services essential to the success of our business

Our business relies on a variety of third-party vendors and service providers, including but not limited to manufacturers, shippers, accountants, lawyers, public relations firms, advertisers, retailers, and distributors. Our ability to maintain high-quality operations and services depends on these third-party vendors and service providers, and any failure or delay in their performance could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and operating results. We may have limited control over the actions of these third-party vendors and service providers, and they may be subject to their own operational, financial, and reputational risks. We may also be subject to contractual or legal limitations in our ability to terminate relationships with these vendors or service providers or seek legal recourse for their actions. Additionally, we may face challenges in finding suitable replacements for these vendors and service providers, which could cause delays or disruptions to our operations. The loss of key or other critical vendors and service providers could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and operating results, and as a result, your investment could be adversely impacted by our reliance on these third-party vendors and service providers.

The Company is vulnerable to hackers and cyber-attacks

As an internet-based business, we may face risks related to cybersecurity and data protection. We rely on technology systems to operate our business and store and process sensitive data, including the personal information of our investors. Any significant disruption or breach of our technology systems, or those of our third-party service providers, could result in unauthorized access to our systems and data, and compromise the security and privacy of our investors. Moreover, we may be subject to cyber-attacks or other malicious activities, such as hacking, phishing, or malware attacks, that could result in theft, loss, or destruction of our data, disruption of our operations, or damage to our reputation. We may also face legal and regulatory consequences, including fines, penalties, or litigation, in the event of a data breach or cyber-attack. Any significant disruption or downtime of our platform, whether caused by cyber-attacks, system failures, or other factors, could harm our reputation, reduce the attractiveness of our platform, and result in a loss of investors and issuer companies. Moreover, disruptions in the services of our technology provider or other third-party service providers could adversely impact our business operations and financial condition. This would likely adversely impact the value of your investment.

Economic and market conditions

The Company's business may be affected by economic and market conditions, including changes in interest rates, inflation, consumer demand, and competition, which could adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, and operating results.

Force majeure events

The Company's operations may be affected by force majeure events, such as natural disasters, pandemics, acts of terrorism, war, or other unforeseeable events, which could disrupt the Company's business and operations and adversely affect its financial condition and operating results.

Adverse publicity

The Company's business may be negatively impacted by adverse publicity, negative reviews, or social media campaigns that could harm the Company's reputation, business, financial condition, and operating results.

Competitive Market Risks

The premium meat and food delivery market is highly competitive and rapidly evolving. Established players and new entrants could impact our market share and profitability.

Supply Chain Dependencies

Our success depends on maintaining strong relationships with specific farms and suppliers. Disruptions in these relationships or supply chains could adversely affect our ability to deliver quality products.

Economic Sensitivity

Our products are positioned in the premium segment of the market, making us potentially more susceptible to economic downturns. A decline in consumer spending could adversely affect our sales and profitability.

Regulatory Compliance Risks

We operate in a heavily regulated industry. Changes in regulations or failure to comply with existing regulations could result in fines, legal actions, and reputational harm.

Geographical Concentration

What it means to be a minority holder

As a minority holder of Class B Non-Voting Stock the company, you will have limited rights in regards to the corporate actions of the company, including additional issuances of securities, company repurchases of securities, a sale of the company or its significant assets, or company transactions with related parties. Further, investors in this offering may have rights less than those of other investors, and will have limited influence on the corporate actions of the company.

Dilution

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. The investor's stake in a company could be diluted due to the company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will go down, even though the value of the company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round, angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock. If the company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

Transferability of securities

For a year, the securities can only be resold:

- In an IPO;
- To the company;
- To an accredited investor; and

To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Financial Condition

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of our operations together with our financial statements and related notes appearing at the end of this Offering Memorandum. This discussion contains forward-looking statements reflecting our current expectations that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results and the timing of events may differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including those discussed in the section entitled "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum.

Results of Operations

Circumstances which led to the performance of financial statements:

Revenue

Revenue for fiscal year 2022 was $9.9M compared to $10.6M in fiscal year 2023. This was driven by growth of the online/shipping component of Meat N' Bone as well as the Get The Cook (Catering/Consulting) side of the business.

Cost of sales

Cost of Sales for fiscal year 2023 was $5.513M compared to $5.564M in fiscal year 2022. Our margins improved from 50% in 2022 to 52% in 2023 driven by growth of the Get The Cook operations and the introduction of higher-margin products.

Gross margins

Gross margins for fiscal year 2022 were $4.3M compared to $5.1M in fiscal year 2023 driven by margin expansion and additional sales.

Expenses

Expenses for fiscal year 2022 were $4.8M compared to $5.5M in fiscal year 2023. This was driven by large investment to expand our boutique network and event production capability. We continued to on-board senior management as we prepare for significant growth.

Historical results and cash flows:

The Company is currently in the growth stage and revenue-generating. We think the historical cash flows will not be indicative of the revenue and cash flows expected for the future because the company has been in hyper-growth mode and building capacity to expand. Past cash was primarily generated through sales. Our goal is to be cashflow positive within the next 6 months as our operation stabilizes and new markets finish opening.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

What capital resources are currently available to the Company? (Cash on hand, existing lines of credit, shareholder loans, etc...)

As of July 2024, the Company has approximately $200K cash on hand.

How do the funds of this campaign factor into your financial resources? (Are these funds critical to your company operations? Or do you have other funds or capital resources available?)

We believe the funds of this campaign are not critical to our company operations as the company can have alternative funds of financing and is at about break-even meaning it can sustain its operations. The company has already made the investments to grow and this raise will re-finance its existing debt and support continued growth.

Are the funds from this campaign necessary to the viability of the company? (Of the total funds that your company has, how much of that will be made up of funds raised from the crowdfunding campaign?)

We believe the funds from this campaign are not necessary to the viability of the Company, however they will certainly allow us to meet our long term goals. Of the total funds that our Company has. The company is expected to be cashflow positive during 2024-2025 and 100% of the funds from the fundraising campaign will be used to either re-finance existing debt and/or for expansion.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your minimum? What expenses is this estimate based on?

If the Company raises the minimum offering amount, we anticipate the Company will be able to operate for the foreseeable future and meets its growth goals for 2024 which are expected to be close to 30% increase from 2023. This is based on a current monthly results. Based on current projections the company will be able to meet its 5 year plan after this raise.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your maximum funding goal?

If the Company raises the maximum offering amount, we anticipate the Company will be able to operate for the foreseeable future and meet its long term goals and expand aggressively into new markets such as Georgia where we already have a strong customer base.

Are there any additional future sources of capital available to your company? (Required capital contributions, lines of credit, contemplated future capital raises, etc...)

The company currently is ongoing Small Business Administration (SBA) loan. We are part of the Ernst & Young Entrepreneurs access network and have on-boarded a M&A and advisory firm to secure our next round of capital which we expect to be an up-round.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The summary of significant accounting policies is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The accounting policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP" and "US GAAP").

Basis of Consolidation

The Company's consolidated financial statements include accounts of subsidiaries over which the Company exercises control. All significant intercompany transactions and accounts have been eliminated.

Basis of Presentation

The accounting and reporting policies of the Company conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAP"). The Company has adopted the calendar year as its basis of reporting.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidation financial statements in conformity with United States GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include all cash in banks. The Company's cash is deposited in demand accounts at financial institutions that management believes are creditworthy. The Company's cash and cash equivalents in bank deposit accounts, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. As of December 31, 2023, and December 31, 2022, the Company's cash and cash equivalents did not exceed FDIC-insured limits.

Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Costs related to finished goods are determined using a FIFO.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Normal repairs and maintenance costs are charged to earnings as incurred and additions and major improvements are capitalized. The cost of assets retired or otherwise disposed of and the related depreciation are eliminated from the accounts in the period of disposal and the resulting gain or loss is credited or charged to earnings.

Depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the related asset type or term of the operating lease using the straight-line method for financial statement purposes. The estimated service lives for property and equipment is as follows:

Category	Useful Life
Property	15 years
Equipment	5 years
Vehicles	5 years

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

Long-lived assets, such as property and equipment and identifiable intangibles with finite useful lives, are periodically evaluated for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. We look for indicators of a trigger event for asset impairment and pay special attention to any adverse change in the extent or manner in which the asset is being used or in its physical condition. Assets are grouped and evaluated for impairment at the lowest level of which there are identifiable cash flows, which is generally at a location level. Assets are reviewed using factors including, but not limited to, our future operating plans and projected cash flows. The determination of whether impairment has occurred is based on an estimate of undiscounted future cash flows directly related to the assets, compared to the carrying value of the assets. If the sum of the undiscounted future cash flows of the assets does not exceed the carrying value of the assets, full or partial impairment may exist. If the asset carrying amount exceeds its fair value, an impairment charge is recognized in the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the fair value of the asset. Fair value is determined using an income approach, which requires discounting the estimated future cash flows associated with the asset.

Intangibles

Intangible assets with finite lives, such as web development and licenses, are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives.

Income Taxes

Meat N' Bone, Inc. is a C corporation for income tax purposes. The Company accounts for income taxes under the liability method, and deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying values of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. A valuation allowance is provided on deferred tax assets if it is determined that it is more likely than not that the deferred tax asset will not be realized. The Company records interest, net of any applicable related income tax benefit, on potential income tax contingencies as a component of income tax expense. The Company records tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return based upon the amount that is more likely than not to be realized or paid, including in connection with the resolution of any related appeals or other legal processes. Accordingly, the Company recognizes liabilities for certain unrecognized tax benefits based on the amounts that are more likely than not to be settled with the relevant taxing authority. The Company recognizes interest and/or penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as a component of income tax expense.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash with a major financial institution located in the United States of America, which it believes to be creditworthy. Balances are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000. At times, the Company may maintain balances in excess of the federally insured limits.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue when it transfers promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. In determining when and how revenue is to be recognized from contracts with customers, the Company performs the following five-step analysis laid under Accounting Standard Codification ("ASC") 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers: (1) identification of contract with customers, (2) determination of performance obligations, (3) measurement of the transaction price, (4) allocation of transaction price to the performance obligations, and (5) recognition of revenue when or as the company satisfies each performance obligation.

Revenue is recognized at the point in time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer, which typically occurs at In-store Sales: Revenue is recognized at point-in-time when customer takes possession of the goods.

Cost of sales

Costs of goods sold include the cost of products, freight and shipment, packaging, and service charges.

Advertising and Promotion

Advertising and promotional costs are expensed as incurred. Advertising and promotional expenses for the years ended December 31, 2023, and December 31, 2022, amounted to $782,392 and $808,580, which is included in sales and marketing expenses.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of the Company's financial instruments included in current assets and current liabilities (such as cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses approximate fair value due to the short-term nature of such instruments).

The inputs used to measure fair value are based on a hierarchy that prioritizes observable and unobservable inputs used in valuation techniques. These levels, in order of highest to lowest priority, are described below:

Level 1—Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2—Observable prices that are based on inputs not quoted on active markets but corroborated by market data.

Level 3—Unobservable inputs reflecting the Company's assumptions, consistent with reasonably available assumptions made by other market participants. These valuations require significant judgment.

Subsequent Events

The Company considers events or transactions that occur after the balance sheet date, but prior to the issuance of the financial statements to provide additional evidence relative to certain estimates or to identify matters that require additional disclosure. Subsequent events have been evaluated through August 28, 2024, which is the date the financial statements were issued.

Lease Accounting

The Company determines if an arrangement is a lease at inception by determining whether the agreement conveys the right to control the use of the identified asset for a period of time, whether the Company has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the identified asset, and the right to direct the use of the asset. Lease liabilities are recognized at the commencement date based upon the present value of the remaining future minimum lease payments over the lease term using the rate implicit in the lease or the Company's incremental borrowing rate. The incremental borrowing rate is defined as the rate of interest the Company would have to pay to borrow on a collateralized basis over a similar term in an amount equal to the lease payments in a similar economic environment. The Company's lease terms include options to renew or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that it will exercise the option.

The lease right-of-use assets are initially measured at the carrying amount of the lease liability and adjusted for any prepaid or accrued lease payments, remaining balance of lease incentives received, unamortized initial direct costs, or impairment charges relating to the right-of-use-asset. Certain leases contain escalation clauses, which are factored into the right-of-use asset where appropriate. Lease expense for minimum lease payments is recognized on straight-line basis over the lease term.

Variable lease expenses include payments related to the usage of the leased asset (utilities, real estate taxes, insurance, and variable common area maintenance) and are expensed as incurred.

8. INCOME TAXES

The provision for income taxes for the year ended December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022 consists of the following:

For The Year Ended December 31,	2023	2022
Net Operating Loss	$ (148,479)	$ (106,808)
Valuation Allowance	148,479	106,808
Net Provision For Income Tax	$ -	$ -

Significant components of the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities on December 31, 2023, and December 31, 2022, are as follows:

As of December 31,	2023	2022
Net Operating Loss	$ (279,298)	$ (130,818)
Valuation Allowance	279,298	130,818
Total Deferred Tax Asset	$ -	$

Management assesses the available positive and negative evidence to estimate if sufficient future taxable income will be generated to use the existing deferred tax assets. On the basis of this evaluation, the Company has determined that it is more likely than not that the Company will not recognize the benefits of the federal and state net deferred tax assets, and, as a result, a full valuation allowance has been set against its net deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2023, and December 31, 2022. The amount of the deferred tax asset to be realized could be adjusted if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are reduced or increased.

For the fiscal year ending December 31, 2023, the Company had federal cumulative net operating loss ("NOL") carryforwards of $1,097,092, and the Company had state net operating loss ("NOL") carryforwards of approximately $1,097,092. Utilization of some of the federal and state NOL carryforwards to reduce future income taxes will depend on the Company's ability to generate sufficient taxable income prior to the expiration of the carryforwards. The federal net operating loss carryforward is subject to an 80% limitation on taxable income, does not expire, and will carry on indefinitely.

The Company recognizes the impact of a tax position in the consolidated financial statements if that position is more likely than not to be sustained on a tax return upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on the technical merits of the position. As of December 31, 2023, and December 31, 2022, the Company had no unrecognized tax benefits.

The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. As of December 31, 2023, and December 31, 2022, the Company had no accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions.

9. RELATED PARTY

In 2023 and 2022, the Company borrowed money from the shareholders- Luis Mata, Gabriel Llaurado and German Vollbracht. The loans bear an interest rate of 10% and have no defined maturity date. As of December 31, 2023, and December 31, 2022, the outstanding balance of the loans are $493,424 and $100,000, respectively.

10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Contingencies

The Company's operations are subject to a variety of local and state regulations. Failure to comply with one or more of those regulations could result in fines, restrictions on its operations, or losses of permits that could result in the Company ceasing operations.

Litigation and Claims

From time to time, the Company may be involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of operations in the normal course of business. As of December 31, 2023, and 2022, there were no pending or threatened lawsuits that could reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the results of the Company's operations.

11. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On April 18, 2024, the Company received a loan from Eureka Builders 184, LLC, for $600,000. The note bears a fixed interest rate of 12%, and the maturity date is set to March 31, 2027.

There have been no other events or transactions during this time which would have a material effect on these consolidated financial statements.

12. GOING CONCERN

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has a net operating loss of $385,733, an operating cash outflow of $866,461 and liquid assets in cash of $102,842, which less than a year worth of cash reserves as of December 31, 2023. These factors normally raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

MEAT N' BONE, INC CONSOLIDATED NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2023 AND DECEMBER 31, 2022

The Company's ability to continue as a going concern in the next twelve months following the date the consolidated financial statements were available to be issued is dependent upon its ability to produce revenues and/or obtain financing sufficient to meet current and future obligations and deploy such to produce profitable operating results.

Management has evaluated these conditions and plans to generate revenues and raise capital as needed to satisfy its capital needs. During the next twelve months, the Company intends to fund its operations through debt and/or equity financing.

There are no assurances that management will be able to raise capital on terms acceptable to the Company. If it is unable to obtain sufficient amounts of additional capital, it may be required to reduce the scope of its planned development, which could harm its business, financial condition, and operating results. The accompanying consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from these uncertainties.

Take 1: Fast phased opening showcasing people cooking, eating and having an overall good time (like this video). After the voice over, the video fades to black and shows the Meat N' Bone logo.

Meat N' Bone is your gateway to the top-notch proteins out there. We're shaking up a massive 100 Billion Dollar market* with three simple things in mind: Quality, Convenience, and Education. We bring the best right to your doorstep, make it a breeze to get, and through our omnichannel model, we provide a seamless learning experience about what you're putting on your plate.

Take 2: A walk into a Meat N' Bone Boutique which quickly highlights the variety of our offering.

Luis/Gabriel seating down in the store start to talk

Luis: The age-old charm of neighborhood butcher or specialty shops has largely disappeared, replaced by sprawling big box stores that offer merely the illusion of choice. This modern setup has nudged consumers away from informed choices, narrowing down their options significantly. The meat sold now often carries a veil of mystery, as the big stores compromise on quality, caught up in a relentless race to offer the lowest prices. Through this shift, the essence of quality and knowledge has been lost, leaving a void that Meat N' Bone has been filling with a touch of sophistication and a return to informed choices.

Take 3: Stock video of people interacting with digital devices (phones/desktop)

Gabriel: What we consume defines us, and there's room for elevation. Access to superior proteins shouldn't mean compromising on quality or shelling out more... and certainly, it shouldn't mean forgoing convenience. With Meat N' Bone, you get your meat just the way you fancy it... Our omnichannel approach is all about bringing convenience to your fingertips. Be it near our quaint boutiques or miles away, you're privy to that same exquisite products. Our aim? To bridge distances and make top-grade proteins accessible, no matter where you're located.

(Add graphics on video that says "Featured in" with logos of CNN, Forbes, USA Today, RobbReport, Washington Post, Tasting Table)

Take 4: Overview of the lineup of steaks, showing the bag/boxes/packaging

Luis: We stand by the notion that a well-informed consumer makes wiser choices. Hence, we lay out all the facts, offering our customers the liberty to make a genuine choice. This ethos is mirrored in our diverse selection, boasting over 35 distinct Ribeyes and a total of over 400 products. Our savvy business model leans on predictive analytics, enabling us to refresh our inventory 2-3 times a month. The upshot? A streamlined operation and a promise of freshness with every product you pick!

Take 5: Supporting American Farmers (Stock footage of farms, perhaps ferry farms and view of the city of Chicago)

Luis: Our mandate is clear: to stand behind American farmers. The majority of our products are sourced from esteemed programs nestled in the Heartland of America, the Midwest. It's straightforward—there's no superior product. The region's climate, nourishing feed, and time-honored traditions come together to grace our customers with impeccable steaks. As for our global palate, it's nothing short of best-in-class. Our journey has entailed fostering relationships with top-tier providers, and forging partnerships with remarkable brands across the globe. This has paved the way for us to bring to your table some of the finest Japanese and Australian products, Iberico Pork, and exquisite sashimi-grade fish from across the seas.

(On the video at 1:55 add American Lamb Board logo, Wagyu of Japan Logo, Hannari Wagyu Logo, Ora King Logo, Santa Teresa Steak shot)

Take 6: Lets have some charts and graphics.

Gabriel: In less than five years we have grown from $0 to $10M+. This is a result of a well thought out model that simply works.

Over the past few years we have fulfilled over 100,000 orders and shipped 35,000 orders out of state.

So far, year-to-date 2023 we have shipped 33% more orders while reducing our shipping expenses by 25% and this is only the beginning of what economies of scale can do for us!

We also continue to growth our brand awareness and have secured a sponsorship with the #15 car in the 2024 NASCAR CUP SERIES.

(to be added with VROLL and voiceover)

Luis: From here on we just have to keep doing what we are doing. Opening up new boutiques requires an investment of less than $50K and the payback period is lower than one year. The goal is to keep expanding in markets that fit our demographics.

(2:38 Add the new video shots from Hallandale Store, Wellington Store, Tampa Store, Oakland Park store)

We have a proven track record that we believe is hard to replicate.

Take 7: Show the construction in (Location pictures will need to have a disclaimer "These images are of locations under construction and not yet open")

Luis: We chose to not raise capital early on so we could do things our way. But we recognize that bootstrapping it can only take us so far. We have chosen to raise via StartEngine which will allow us to access the capital we need without having to sell our soul to the whims of private money, and we love the idea of giving our customers and fans an opportunity to become investors!

We are finally ready to scale, all we need is capital.

STARTENGINE SUBSCRIPTION PROCESS (Exhibit E)

Platform Compensation

- As compensation for the services provided by StartEngine Capital, the issuer is required to pay to StartEngine Capital a fee consisting of a 5.5-13% (five and one-half to thirteen) commission based on the dollar amount of securities sold in the Offering and paid upon disbursement of funds from escrow at the time of closing. The commission is paid in cash and in securities of the Issuer identical to those offered to the public in the Offering at the sole discretion of StartEngine Capital. Additionally, the issuer must reimburse certain expenses related to the Offering. The securities issued to StartEngine Capital, if any, will be of the same class and have the same terms, conditions, and rights as the securities being offered and sold by the issuer on StartEngine Capital's website.
- As compensation for the services provided by StartEngine Capital, investors are also required to pay StartEngine Capital a fee consisting of a 0-3.5% (zero to three and a half percent) service fee based on the dollar amount of securities purchased in each investment.

Information Regarding Length of Time of Offering

- Investment Cancellations: Investors will have up to 48 hours prior to the end of the offering period to change their minds and cancel their investment commitments for any reason. Once within 48 hours of ending, investors will not be able to cancel for any reason, even if they make a commitment during this period.
- Material Changes: Material changes to an offering include but are not limited to: A change in minimum offering amount, change in security price, change in management, material change to financial information, etc. If an issuer makes a material change to the offering terms or other information disclosed, including a change to the offering deadline, investors will be given five business days to reconfirm their investment commitment. If investors do not reconfirm, their investment will be canceled and the funds will be returned.

Hitting The Target Goal Early & Oversubscriptions

 StartEngine Capital will notify investors by email when the target offering amount has hit 25%, 50%, and 100% of the funding goal. If the issuer hits its goal early, the issuer can create a new target deadline at least 5 business days out. Investors will be notified of the new target deadline via email and will then have the opportunity to cancel up to 48 hours before the new deadline.

- Oversubscriptions: We require all issuers to accept oversubscriptions. This may not be possible if: 1) it vaults an issuer into a different category for financial statement requirements (and they do not have the requisite financial statements); or 2) they reach $5M in investments. In the event of an oversubscription, shares will be allocated at the discretion of the issuer, with priority given to StartEngine Owners Bonus members.
- If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be canceled and committed funds will be returned.
- If a StartEngine issuer reaches its target offering amount prior to the deadline, it may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if they provide notice of the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). StartEngine will notify investors when the issuer meets its target offering amount. Thereafter, the issuer may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline.

Minimum and Maximum Investment Amounts

- In order to invest, commit to an investment or communicate on our platform, users must open an account on StartEngine Capital and provide certain personal and non-personal information including information related to income, net worth, and other investments.
- Investor Limitations: There are no investment limits for investing in crowdfunding offerings for accredited investors. Non-accredited investors are limited in how much they can invest in all crowdfunding offerings during any 12-month period. The limitation on how much they can invest depends on their net worth (excluding the value of their primary residence) and annual income. If either their annual income or net worth is less than $124,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest either $2,500 or 5% of their annual income or net worth, whichever is greater. If both their annual income and net worth are equal to or more than $124,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to 10% of annual income or net worth, whichever is greater, but their investments cannot exceed $124,000.

What is Start Engine?

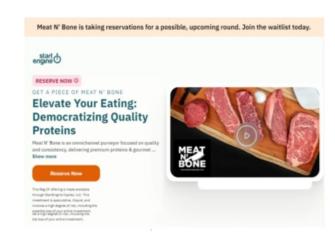

THE CROWDFUNDING PLATFORM WE CHOSE TO USE

StartEngine stands as a trailblazing crowdfunding platform, designed to empower everyday individuals to invest in startups and early-stage companies. By democratizing the investment landscape, this platform opens the door for both accredited and non-accredited investors to own a stake in the companies they believe in. This transformative approach to investing became feasible thanks to the JOBS Act of 2012, particularly Title III or Regulation Crowdfunding (Reg CF), which came into effect in 2016. This legislation marked a pivotal change, enabling a broader spectrum of investors to participate in early-stage financing, thereby fostering culture of inclusive investment Good afternoon, How can I help

What does the future hold for Meat N' Bone? ? Our aspirations are set on expansion, and as many of you know, expansion endeavors often require significant capital . Historically, we've operated with limited financial resources, typically handling everything in-house with a strong sense of independence and determination . Although we've considered private capital in the past, it never quite aligned with our vision or values.

Recently, however, we've become intrigued by the concept of Reg CF #Crowdfunding — a form of crowdfunding that's regulated by the SEC, offering a more structured and secure approach to raising funds Z. While we're still in the contemplation phase and haven't committed to launching a campaign, we're actively exploring the process and considering its potential.

We have seen companies like Epic Games, Ramp and a couple of Miami darlings do this with success. At some point, even @elonmusk joined in and invested in Boxable, which also raised on StartEngine. So if they did it, why can't we? */

THE FUTURE OF MEAT N' BONE
THE FOUNDERS

As Meat N' Bone marks its sidth anniversary, I want to take a moment to express my heartiet gratitude to every one of you. Your unwavering support has been the driving force behind our journey, and without you, we wouldn't be where we are today. It's a story not everyone knows, just siv years ago, we were operating out of a friend's restaurant (a big shoutout to Chef Martin), all while holding down multiple jobs. Today, we find ourselves incrediby blessed, with four amazing bounques (one more on the way), but op-notch steakhouses, and a calering division serving five establishments and discerning clients. The world has changed, and so have we.

Our vision for Meat N Bone has always been audacious, and we've pursued it on our terms. Looking back, 2023 was a fantastic year where we finally cracked the code on scaling our operations correctly. Now, we've setting our sights on more growth. We're planning to open four new boudques this year, with locations in Tampa, Naples, Orlando (Florida), and somewhere in the greater Atlanta area.

I'm thrilled to announce that we've recently brought on board a Michelin Star Chef with an impressive background in some of the finest kitchens in France. He's working diligently on developing our line of salts, and rubs, and elevating the quality of all our products.

We are developing new partnerships with exciting brands for our Dry Aged Steaks and exploring craft beef with great brands. Today (midnight) we are launching some significant improvements to our Check-Out experience.

So a better website, more amazing products, more boutiques and a new line of products developed by one of the best Chefs in the world.

Capital Raise...

The future is shining brightly, but we need to secure the funds for our continued expansion. While we're in discussions with potential investors, we're particularly excelled about the concept of crowdrinding. However, before we'der in, we want to gauge if this campaign would be successful. We plan to use Start Engine and follow Regulation. Crowdrinding, regulated by the SEC. We've done all the groundwork, including fiscanist reviews, bad earlor checks, and valuations, but there's one more step - filing. It means some extra work for us moving forward.

You can learn more about it by clicking here. The website will ask you to reserve shares, there is no commitment... It just basically will sign you up for additional bonuses / benefits if you CHOOSE to invest.

As for our financials, we're not quite ready to unveil everything publicly. But here's the scoop verbe is even figures in revenue in just five years. We're operating around the break-even point, and we've got the scaling game down pat. Companies like CrowCow and Porters Road, with similar revenue, have achieved valuations exceeding 325 miles.

Are we considering other options? Yes. After we announced our "Test of the waters' for StartEngine a few of our customers who work for PE and VCs reached out. Yes, we would love to hear from you as well.

In closing, we're on the brink of an exciting new chapter at Meat N Bone, and I couldn't be more thrifted. Your unwavering support has been instrumental in our success, and I invite you to be a part of our next phase of growth. Let's take Meat N Bone to new heights together, and f'm genuinely excited about the incredible journey ahead. You can always reply to this email if you have any questions or commental

Thank you for being a part of our Meat N' Bone family.

Sincerely, Luis Mata CEO, Meat N' Bone

What is Start Engine?

THE CROWDFUNDING PLATFORM WE CHOSE TO USE

StartEngine stands as a trailblazing crowdfunding platform, designed to empower everyday individuals to invest in startups and early-stage companies. By democratizing the investment landscape, this platform opens the door for both accredited and non-accredited investors to own a stake in the companies hey believe in. In the last two months, multi-billion dollar companies like RAMP and Epic Games have used it to raise capital. Before that they helped companies like Boxable, Ola Brew and Knightscope raise funds...
