ALLIANT ENERGY ANNOUNCES 2008 RESULTS, AFFIRMS 2009 GUIDANCE

MADISON, Wis. – February 5, 2009 – Alliant Energy Corporation (NYSE: LNT) today announced income and earnings per share (EPS) from continuing operations for 2008 of $280 million and $2.54, respectively. A summary of Alliant Energy's 2008 results compared to 2007 results is as follows (net income in millions):

	2008		2007
Earnings from continuing operations:	Net Income	EPS	Net Income	EPS
Utility (excl. IPL's electric transmission assets gain) (a)	$241.3	$2.19	$262.4	$2.33
Non-regulated	29.3	0.27	34.7	0.31
Parent (primarily interest income and taxes)	9.4	0.08	4.9	0.04
Total excl. IPL's electric transmission assets gain	280.0	2.54	302.0	2.68
Gain on sale of IPL's electric transmission assets (a)			122.7	1.09
Total earnings from continuing operations	280.0	2.54	424.7	3.77
Income from discontinued operations	8.0	0.07	0.6	0.01
Net income	$288.0	$2.61	$425.3	$3.78

⁽a) Total income from continuing operations for the utility business in 2008 and 2007 was $241.3 million and $385.1 million, or $2.19 and $3.42 per share, respectively.

Excluding the 2007 gain on Interstate Power and Light Company's (IPL's) electric transmission assets, utility EPS decreased 6 percent in 2008. The largest driver of decreased 2008 utility results was the historic flooding in June that resulted in significant disruptions to operations in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, which is Alliant Energy's largest load center and home to two of its generating stations. The total incremental impact of lost sales, clean up and restoration costs, and facility impairments reduced earnings by approximately $0.23 per share, net of insurance proceeds. Other negative earnings factors in 2008 included the previously expected impacts of the sale of IPL's electric transmission assets and lower sales resulting from unfavorable economic conditions. These items were partially offset by a number of items, including lower purchased power capacity costs, a lower effective income tax rate, and increased allowance for funds used during construction on capital deployed to wind generation projects.

Reduced earnings from Alliant Energy's non-regulated businesses were the result of a reversal of capital loss deferred tax asset valuation allowances in 2007 and lower earnings from a short-term purchased power agreement associated with the Neenah Energy Facility (NEF). NEF is expected to be sold from the non-regulated business to Wisconsin Power and Light Company (WPL) in June 2009. These items were partially offset by increased earnings at RMT as a result of their engineering and construction activities on wind farm projects across the United States.

Higher earnings at Alliant Energy's parent company reflect increased interest income on the cash and short-term investments resulting from the proceeds from the sale of IPL's electric transmission assets.

Additional details of 2008 full year and fourth quarter earnings from continuing operations are available in the financial and operating statistical table section at the end of this release.

"2008 presented a host of challenges to our company including historic flooding and an economy in a recession," said Bill Harvey, Alliant Energy Chairman, President, and CEO. "Despite these obstacles our employees remained committed to delivering strong reliability for our customers and solid results for our shareowners. 2008 was also a pivotal year in the execution of our strategic plan. With significant progress made on our wind, energy efficiency, and environmental control projects we have placed our company on the path to a greener future."

2009 Earnings Guidance

Alliant Energy is affirming its earnings per share guidance for 2009, originally issued on December 18, 2008, as follows:

Utility business	$1.95 – $2.25
Non-regulated businesses	0.23 – 0.27
Parent company	(0.04) - 0.00
Alliant Energy	$2.18 – $2.48

The guidance does not include the impact of certain non-cash valuation adjustments that Alliant Energy may incur, the impact of any future adjustments made to Alliant Energy's deferred tax asset valuation allowances, or the impacts of any cumulative effects of changes in accounting principles.

Drivers for Alliant Energy's earnings estimates include, but are not limited to:

- Normal weather conditions in its utility service territory
- Ability to recover future purchased power, fuel and fuel-related costs through rates in a timely manner
- State of economy in its utility service territory and resulting implications on sales, including the impact of the current recession
- Ability of IPL and WPL to recover their operating costs and deferred expenditures, and to earn a reasonable rate of return in future rate proceedings

- Execution of IPL's and WPL's generation build-out and environmental expenditure plans
- Ability to utilize tax capital losses generated to-date, and those that may be generated in the future, before they expire
- RMT sales forecast and project execution as planned

Projected Capital Expenditures

Alliant Energy is affirming its anticipated capital expenditures for 2009 through 2011, originally issued on December 18, 2008, as follows (in millions):

^(a) Alliant Energy entered into weather derivatives based on CDDs and HDDs to reduce potential volatility on its margins from the impacts of weather during the months of June through August and November through March, respectively. (b) CDDs and HDDs are calculated using a simple average of the high and low temperatures each day compared to a 65 degree base. Normal degree days are estimated using a 20-year rolling average of historical CDDs and HDDs.
