Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Product and Service Revenue and Cost of Revenue, page 50

2. You state in the note that you classify expenses as costs of service revenue by estimating the portion of your total cost that relates to providing field support to your customers under contract. Please help us to understand:
 - The nature and types of costs incurred under the field support contracts
 - The typical length of the field support contracts
 - Why these costs are estimated, how they are estimated and why you use estimated versus actual costs.

Service Parts For Maintenance, page 55

3. You disclose that service parts are valued at the lower of cost or market and amortized over three to seven years. We note that in prior periods, the amortization period was established and disclosed as three months to three years. Explain what has changed in your product offerings and tell us when this change in accounting policy occurred.

Note 5 Property, Plant and Equipment, page 63

4. You disclose in note 5 that in May 2005 you completed a sale-leaseback transaction of your facility in Boehmenkirch, Germany for $4.5 million. Of the $3.2 million gain recorded on the transaction, $2.5 was recognized during fiscal 2005 with the remainder to be recognized over the life of the lease. Tell us and explain why a portion of the gain was recognized in the current period while the remaining portion is being recognized over future periods.
