Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure

In Portland General Electric Company's (PGE or the Company) Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 25, 2009, under the heading "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operation—The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009", PGE disclosed that it is evaluating the impact of, and certain benefits that may be available under, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (the Act). Potential tax and appropriation benefits for qualifying projects under the Act include, among other things, the option of receiving either (i) 30% investment tax credits or (ii) Treasury Department grants, in lieu of production tax credits, for qualifying renewable energy facilities placed in service in either 2009 or 2010, or for qualifying renewable energy facilities on which construction commenced during 2009 or 2010 and that are placed in service after 2010 but prior to 2013.

Based on PGE's preliminary assessment of current provisions of the Act, the Company believes that it may be entitled to qualify for the Treasury Department grant option in amounts ranging from $60 million to $90 million in 2009 and $80 million to $110 million in 2010, related to its construction of Phases II and III of the Company's Biglow Canyon Wind Farm project, based on current project schedules.

These estimates and the Company's assessment of options under the Act are preliminary and are still under review and analysis by the Company. The availability of any such grants under the Act and the Company's final determination of whether to seek such grants or other benefits under the Act are subject to various other factors, including, among others, the promulgation of regulations under the Act and the clarification of regulatory treatment of grant funds under the Act. Accordingly, there is no assurance that the Company will either seek or receive any grants or other benefits under the Act.
