Pacific Internet Extends Regional Footprint to Malaysia

Singapore, 5 August 2002 - Pacific Internet (NASDAQ: PCNTF), Asia's leading Internet Service Provider, today announced that it has commercially launched operations in Malaysia and has set up its office in Kuala Lumpur.

Pacific Internet's venture into Malaysia is part of the Group's continuing strategy to strengthen its Asia Pacific coverage, extending its services to multi-national corporations (MNCs) across the region. Its presence in the existing six markets (namely Singapore, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Australia, India and Thailand) also means that the Group will be able to service the needs of Malaysian-based companies to connect their offices in other parts of the region.

Said Mr. Tan Tong Hai, President and CEO, Pacific Internet Limited, "Malaysia is a strategic market where many of our MNC customers have offices and demand for Internet services. The addition of Malaysia to our regional portfolio extends the Group's reach across the Asia Pacific region, enabling us to offer the widest coverage and the benefit of a single point of contact."

Mr. Lim Hock Koon, Managing Director of Pacific Internet's Malaysian operations added, "There are over 4,000 foreign companies with offices in Malaysia. The domestic business market is also a large one with over 500,000 companies registered in the country. We are very excited with the business potential presented by the Malaysian market."

Corporate services available from Pacific Internet Malaysia include leased line, integrated services digital network (ISDN), virtual private network (VPN), roaming, email outsourcing and hosting services. There are plans in the future to add to the range of services available according to market demand. At this juncture, there are no plans for Pacific Internet Malaysia to offer services for the consumer market.
