EK CHOR CHINA MOTORCYCLE CO. LTD. ANNOUNCES 2002 MID-YEAR RESULTS

HONG KONG, September 17, 2002 - Ek Chor China Motorcycle Co. Ltd. ("Ek Chor China" or the "Company"; NYSE: EKC), today announced its unaudited results for the six months ended June 30, 2002.

Highlights

- Net income - RMB18.5 million (US$2.2 million) (2001: RMB20.2 million).
- Earnings per share - RMB1.06 (US$0.13) (2001: RMB1.15).
- Share of net income of joint ventures and associated companies - RMB29.1 million (US$3.5 million) (2001: RMB28.6 million).

Overview

The motorcycle business of Ek Chor China continued to be highly competitive in the first half of 2002. Luoyang Northern Ek Chor Motorcycle Company Limited reported a loss for the period but was able to grow its sales volume, which could form the foundation for a turnaround by year end. Taking into consideration the competitive market environment, we believe the operating results of our parts manufacturing ventures were satisfactory. Shanghai-Ek Chor General Machinery Co., Ltd., Zhanjiang Deni Carburetor Co. Ltd. and Shanghai Ek Chor Nissei Co., Ltd. performed in line with the Company's expectations.

We expect the competitive business conditions in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC") to continue through the second half of 2002. Nevertheless, we aim to achieve better operating results for the year through our continuous efforts in improving operating efficiencies, exploring new markets and cost control.

Brief review of the results of the Company's existing ventures for the six months ended June 30, 2002

- Luoyang Northern Ek Chor Motorcycle Company Limited ("Luoyang Motorcycle")

Sales for the first six months of 2002 were RMB381.8 million (US$46.1 million), representing an increase of 9.6% over the same period last year. Net loss for the period was RMB16.2 million (US$2.0 million) (2001: RMB7.7 million). Due to effective cost reduction and expenses control, the company was able to reduce its unit selling price to compete in the market. The increase in total sales turnover could form the foundation for a turnaround in the second half of the year.

Luoyang Motorcycle's total unit sales were 135,198 units for the period, an increase of 43.7% over the same period last year. Unit sales of the 90cc model, 100cc model and 125cc model were 47,852 units, 36,432 units and 23,202 units respectively, representing increases of 6.1%, 29.1% and 99.2% respectively, over the same period last year.

The Company owns an effective 55% interest in Luoyang Motorcycle.

- Shanghai-Ek Chor General Machinery Co., Ltd. ("Shanghai Machinery")

Shanghai Machinery continued to generate satisfactory growth in the sale of automotive air conditioner compressors during the first six months of 2002. Total sales for the period were RMB560.2 million (US$67.7 million), representing an increase of 6.5% over the same period last year. Net income was RMB56.8 million (US$6.9 million), representing an increase of 6.4% over the same period last year (2001: RMB53.4 million). Strict production and cost control has led to an overall increase of performance and profit. The company has reached its targeted performance level for the first half of the year, and is expected to meet the target performance for the year.

Shanghai Machinery sold 479,578 automotive air conditioner compressors and 240,809 receiver-dryers during the first six months of 2002, representing increases of 31.1% and 9.0% respectively, over the same period last year.

The Company owns an effective 50% interest in Shanghai Machinery.

- Zhanjiang Deni Carburetor Co. Ltd. ("Deni Carburetor")

Sales for the first six months of 2002 were RMB116.7 million (US$14.1 million), compared to RMB100.1 million in the same period last year, representing an increase of 16.6%. Net income during the first half of 2002 increased 32.2% to RMB19.7 million (US$2.4 million), compared to RMB14.9 million during the same period last year.

Deni Carburetor sold 1,594,462 sets of motorcycle carburetors and 7,577 sets of automotive carburetors, representing an increase of 59.3% and a decrease of 42.6% respectively, over the same period in 2001). A reduction in the production of automotives with carburetors by a major customer is the primary reason for the decline in automotive carburetor sales. However, the venture was able to switch its effort to focus on motorcycle carburetors sales and achieved a large increase in the sales volume of motorcycle carburetors and revenue from such sales. The overall increase in sales revenue, together with an effective cost control leading to an increase in gross margin, has resulted in an increase in overall performance and net income.

The Company owns an effective 28% interest in Deni Carburetor.

- ECI Metro Investment Co., Ltd. ("ECI Metro")

ECI Metro is a dealer of a full range of Caterpillar products in several provinces in the PRC. Sales for the first six months of 2002 were RMB199.5 million (US$24.1 million), compared to RMB148.4 million in the same period last year, representing an increase of 34.4%. ECI Metro generated a net income of RMB5.2 million (US$0.6 million) during the first half of 2002, a significant improvement from the net income of RMB0.1 million generated during the same period last year. Although there was a slight drop in gross margin, the 34.4% increase in sales has led to an increase in net income.

The Company owns an effective 50% interest in ECI Metro.

- Shanghai Ek Chor Nissei Co., Ltd. ("Shanghai Nissei")

Shanghai Nissei manufactures speedometers for motorcycles and automotives as well as air conditioner remote controls. Sales for the first six months of 2002 were RMB43.5 million (US$5.3 million), compared to RMB48.6 million in the same period last year, representing a decrease of 10.5%. The decrease in sales from 2001 was attributable to the extraordinary high sales of air conditioner remote controls in the same period last year. Net income during the first half of 2002 was RMB5.6 million (US$0.7 million), representing a decrease of 18.8% as compared to RMB6.9 million during the same period last year.

The Company owns an effective 34% interest in Shanghai Nissei.

Sale of Investment

The Company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Ek Chor Investment Company Limited ("ECT"), entered into a sale and purchase agreement on July 22, 2002 relating to the disposal of its entire 43% interest in Hong Kong Ek Chor Nissei Company Limited ("Nissei") (the holding company of Shanghai Nissei) to Nippon Seiki Co., Ltd., which currently owns a 43% interest in Nissei, for a consideration of US$5,363,820. The disposal is expected to be completed no later than September 30, 2002.

Dividends

The Board of Directors has decided not to declare any dividend in respect of the six months ended June 30, 2002 (2001: nil).
