INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Page 3

The Board of Directors
The Champion Group, Inc.
San Antonio, Texas

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of The Champion Group, Inc., as of June 30, 2003, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Champion Group, Inc. as of June 30, 2003, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2003

Note A - Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Champion Group, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware on October 7, 1988 to engage in the broker/dealership of direct participation programs. The Company also sells mutual funds, stocks, fully disclosed general securities, and insurance on a commission basis.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies of the Company. These accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and were utilized in preparing the accompanying financial statements.

Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost and depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the related assets. Depreciation is computed using the Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System (MACRS) method of depreciation prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service for both financial and income tax reporting purposes; this method, which prescribes useful lives for the assets, does not materially differ from GAAP.

Commission Income

The Company recognizes commission income when earned under the terms of the offering memorandums for the programs sold. Under these terms, commissions are earned when available for distribution from escrow or upon the completion of significant events as specified in the offering memorandum.

Accounts Receivable

Uncollectible accounts receivable are written off and charged to operations at the time amounts are determined to be a loss to the Company. Actual amounts charged off are reported for income tax purposes. Management's judgment in determining the adequacy of, or need for, a reserve is based on their evaluations of the collectibility of accounts receivable on an account by account basis.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2003

Note A - Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Income Taxes

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed annually for differences between the financial statements and tax bases of assets and liabilities that will result in taxable or deductible amounts in the future based on enacted tax laws and rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. Income tax expense is the tax payable or refundable for the period plus or minus the change during the period in deferred tax assets or liabilities.

Use of Estimates

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to depreciable lives of fixed assets and bad debt estimates. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Investments

Investments represent equity securities in a non-publicly traded domestic company. The securities were acquired by the Company in non-cash exchange for services rendered. The investment is recorded at its original cost, which is based on the value of services provided and which represents the estimated fair market value of the stock. These securities are held as available for sale by the Company. Losses of $4,600 have been recognized for the sale of these securities during 2003.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash represents cash on hand, cash in clearing deposit accounts, and cash in bank depository accounts.

Note B - Related Party Transactions

The Company operates under an arrangement with Combined Resources, Inc. ("Combined") to provide marketing services for oil and gas ventures which Combined has developed. As part of this arrangement, the Company is provided with office facilities and long distance telephone service at no charge. During the year ended June 30, 2003, the Company received commissions totaling $2,901,245 from Combined.

The Company also paid commissions to a related party who is the father of the stockholders. The total amount paid for the year ended June 30, 2003 was $12,000.

Note C - Federal Income Taxes

The Company's effective tax rate differs from the expected federal income tax rate as follows:

Tax benefit at statutory rate	$	2,079
Permanent book/tax differences		(371)
Temporary book/tax differences		(951)
Current Income tax benefit	$	757
Adjustment for prior year difference		(734)
Net deferred tax benefit	$	23

The components of the deferred tax assets and liabilities are as follows:

Deferred Tax Asset:
Depreciation - Section 179	$	885
Deferred Tax Liability:		0
Net Deferred Tax Asset	$	885

Note D - Major Customers

A substantial portion of the investments sold by the Company are developed by Combined Resources, Inc. (see Note B). During 2003, commissions from Combined aggregated $2,901,245 or 99% of total commission income.

Note E - Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c 3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital of the greater of 6 2/3% of aggregate indebtedness or $5,000. As of June 30, 2003, the Company had net capital of

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2003

Note F - Operating Leases

Operating Leases

The Company leases office equipment accounted for under operating leases expiring in various years through 2006. For the year ended June 30, 2003, $67,507 of rental fees are included in storage and equipment rental.

Minimum future rental payments under non-cancelable operating leases having remaining terms in excess of 1 year as of June 30, 2003 for each of the remaining years and in the aggregate are:

Year Ended June 30,	Amount
2004	63,990
2005	63,990
2006	26,037
Total minimum future rental payments	$ 154,017

Note G - Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains cash balances at several banks. Accounts at each institution are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $100,000. At June 30, 2003, there were deposits totaling $104,904 in excess of the FDIC coverage.

Note H - Retirement Plan

The Company established a 401(K) retirement plan in July 2000. Eligible employees of the Company may participate in the plan and make voluntary contributions pursuant to a salary reduction agreement. Employees who have completed one year of service with a minimum of 1,000 hours of service worked are eligible. Company contributions to the plan are discretionary. The Company made no contributions to the plan for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003.

Note I - Pending Litigation

The Company is currently a defendant in an employment related dispute with four former employees. The dispute is centered upon the plaintiffs' desire to receive post-termination compensation. The plaintiffs' signed employment agreements specifically provide that they will not receive any compensation from the Company's earnings after their employment terminates. The claim has already been denied by the Texas Workforce Commission and the Company has petitioned the court to submit the dispute to NASD arbitration. Management believes the claims are baseless and that the Company will prevail in arbitration.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REQUIRED BY RULE 17A-5 OF THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

The Board of Directors
The Champion Group, Inc.
San Antonio, Texas

Our report on our audit of the basic financial statements of The Champion Group, Inc. for the year ended June 30, 2003 appears on Page 3. That audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II as required by rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL
REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17A-5

The Board of Directors
The Champion Group, Inc.
San Antonio, Texas

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of The Champion Group, Inc. for the year ended June 30, 2003, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the Commission), we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures), followed by The Champion Group, Inc. that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g)(1)(i) to make the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11). The Company did not handle securities and did not maintain customer accounts during the fiscal year; accordingly, the review objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g)(1)(ii), (iii), and (iv) are not applicable.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. The objective of an internal control structure and of the practices and procedures is to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance (1) that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and (2) that transactions are executed in conformity with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at June 30, 2003, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Security Dealers, Inc., the New York Stock Exchange, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
