To G & L Partners, L.L.C.
25 Broad Street
New York, New York 10004

Gentlemen:

I have examined the financial statements of G & L Partners, L.L.C. for the period ended December 31, 2002, and have issued my report thereon dated February 25, 2003. As part of my examination, I made a study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal accounting control (which includes the procedures for safeguarding securities) to the extent I considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing. The purpose of my study and evaluation, which included obtaining and understanding of the accounting system, was to determine the nature, timing, and extent of the auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements.

I, also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3(k)(2)(b). I did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13; or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. The objectives of a system and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with Management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accept accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal account control procedures, or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with them may deteriorate.

My study and evaluation made for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph would not necessarily disclose all material weaknesses in the system. Accordingly, I do not express an opinion on the system of internal accounting control of G & L Partners, L.L.C., taken as a whole. However, my study and evaluation disclosed no conditions that I believe to be a material weakness, and no facts came to my attention to cause me to believe that the Company was not in compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(b).

I understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material aspects indicated a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on my study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the Commission's objectives.

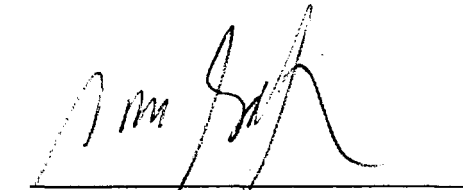

This report is intended for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of members, and should not be used for any other purpose.

In the light of the foregoing comment, I declare that I found no material inadequacies in your accounting system, internal accounting control and procedures for safeguarding securities. Further, that no material differences existed between my computation of your net capital and your corresponding Focus Report Part IIA filing.

This report recognized that it is not practicable in an organization the size of G & L Partners, L.L.C. to achieve all the divisions of duties and cross-checks generally included in a system of internal accounting control and that alternatively greater reliance must be placed on surveillance by management.

I hereby attest that the requirements prescribed by the Securities and Exchange Commission for audit, under authority of Rule 17a-5, have been observed by me in the conduct of my examination.

Respectfully submitted,

NORMAN M. GOFFNER

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO G & L PARTNERS, L.L.C.:

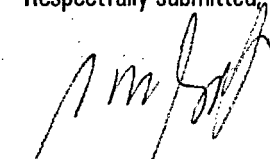

I have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of G & L PARTNERS, L.L.C. as of December 31, 2002, and the related statements of income, statement of changes in partnership capital and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes the assessing of the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of G & L PARTNERS, L.L.C. as of December 31, 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

My audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements, taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedule 1 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Respectfully submitted,
