For The Year Ended June 30, 2003

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Business

Perry Investments, Inc. dba Take Charge Financial! (the Company) was incorporated in Pennsylvania in 1986. The Company is registered as a broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers. The Company sells wrap investments and investment advice to a wide range of individuals in San Francisco, Walnut Creek, San Jose, Los Angeles and San Diego, California. The Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities. From time to time, the Company utilizes the services of employees of a related party and of independent contractors.

Furniture and Equipment

Furniture and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation is provided on the straight-line method over five years, the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Revenue Recognition

Commission income and the related receivables are recognized as of the settlement date. Commissions are generally collected within 30 - 45 days and are all considered collectible in the normal course of operations. Advisory fees are payable quarterly in advance, with an adjusting payment at the end of the quarter. Due to the type of income that the Company has they do not have any bad debts and as such do not have a bad debt policy.

Income Taxes

Income tax expense includes federal and state taxes currently payable and deferred taxes arising from temporary differences between income for financial reporting and income tax purposes. These differences result principally from the use of the cash method of accounting for income tax purposes and operating loss carryovers.

Cash Equivalents

All highly liquid debt instruments with a maturity of three months or less as of the date of purchase are considered to be cash equivalents.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For The Year Ended June 30, 2003

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Concentration of Credit Risk

The majority of the commission income and advisory fees came from one company. The number of companies who offer similar products largely mitigates the Company's resulting exposure to concentrations of credit risk with respect to this income.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents, receivables and accounts payable approximate fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments.

Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed when incurred. Total printing and advertising costs during the year were $1,060.

2. FURNITURE AND EQUIPMENT

Furniture and equipment	$ 105,136
Less accumulated depreciation	(95,519)
	$ 9,617

3. INCOME TAXES

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes, as well as operating loss carryforwards. Significant components of the Company's deferred income taxes as of June 30, 2003 are as follows:

Deferred tax asset:
Net operating loss carryforward	$ 5,533
Accruals deductible in different periods	2,258
	$ 7,791

At June 30, 2003, the Company had a federal net operating loss carryforward of approximately $140,000, available to reduce future taxable income. This carryforward begins to expire in 2010.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

Board of Directors
Perry Investments, Inc.
Dba Take Charge Financial!
San Jose, California

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplementary schedules of Perry Investments, Inc. dba Take Charge Financial! (the Company) for the year ended June 30, 2003, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

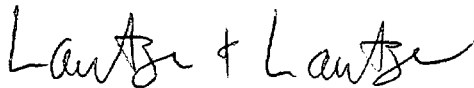

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including

Internal Control

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at June 30, 2003, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
