REPORT OF INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT

Federated Securities, Inc.
1395 New York Avenue
Huntington, N.Y. 11746

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Federated Securities, Inc. as of September 30, 2003 and 2002, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Federated Securities, Inc. as of September 30, 2003 and 2002, and the result of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

FEDERATED SECURITIES, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
September 30, 2003 and 2002

Organization:

Federated Securities, Inc. (Company) engages in selling stocks, mutual funds, annuities and tax shelters. Most of its income is derived from commissions

The company is exempt from the provision of rule 15C3-3

The Company is exempt from filing SIPC#3, because a certificate of exclusion was filed on or about January 3, 1973.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

Cash Equivalents

The Company considers securities with maturity of three months or less, when purchased to be cash equivalents.

Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are carried at cost and are depreciated over their estimated useful lives of 3 to 5 years, using accelerated methods. Maintenance and repairs are charged against results of operations as incurred. When assets are retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from accounts, any resulting gain or loss is reflected in income.

Income Taxes

Federal income taxes are provided for the periods, when it becomes necessary, because the Company is a "C" corporation subject to federal income taxes as provided by the Internal Revenue Code.

Subordinated Loan:

Judith C. King, Chairwoman of the Company, subordinated loans to the Company. Interest on the loans is presently 6%. In the years ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 $3,000 interest was paid respectively.

Tamas B. Revai, C.P.A.

FEDERATED SECURITIES, INC.

In planning and performing our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Federated Securities, Inc. for the year ended September 30th, 2003, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

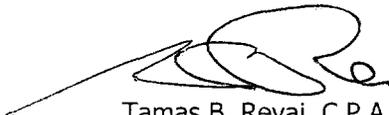

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by Federated Securities, Inc. that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g), (1) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e); (2) conducting the daily business and keeping records as required by rule 15c3-1(a)(2)(vi).

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We did not find material inadequacies in the operation of Federated Securities, Inc. during the examination of the Company's financial statements as of September 30, 2003 and 2002 and for the years then ended.

Tamas B. Revai, C.P.A.
