Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders COMO Securities, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of COMO Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of COMO Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2004 and 2003

(1) Organization

The Company was incorporated on December 14, 1988, pursuant to the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to engage in the business of a broker and/or dealer in securities. The Company is registered as a broker/dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Method of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accrual basis method of accounting. Under this method of accounting, revenues and expenses are identified with specific periods of time and are recorded as earned or incurred without regard to the date of receipt or payment of cash.

(b) Federal and State Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be treated as a "small business corporation" for income tax purposes pursuant to Section 1372(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, since the net earnings or loss of the Company will be reported by and taxed directly to the stockholders, no provision for Federal income taxes has been reflected in the accompanying financial statements.

The provision for state income taxes represents a tax on the net worth of the Company, subject to a $456 minimum tax.

(c) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts and disclosures. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(3) Related Party Transactions

The Company is affiliated with several other companies through common stockholder control and is under common management. The Company shares office space and equipment, and utilizes professional and administrative services provided by one such affiliated Company. Computation for Determination of Reserve Requirements for Broker-Dealer Under Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

December 31, 2004

Schedule II

COMO Securities, Inc. is exempt from the reserve requirements of Rule 15c3-3, as its transactions are limited to acting as placement agent generally for private offerings of debt and equity securities to institutional or other accredited investors generally on a "best efforts" basis and as a nonclearing broker/dealer, fully disclosed. The Company does not carry customers' accounts on its books and therefore, the computation for determination of reserve requirements pursuant to Rule 15c3-3 and information relating to the possession or control requirements pursuant to Rule 15c3-3 are not applicable.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Structure Required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders COMO Securities, Inc.:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of COMO Securities, Inc. (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2004, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons
- 2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
- 3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control including, control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2004, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than those specified parties.
