Wolters Kluwer Tax, Accounting & Legal Acquires Best Case Solutions, Inc.

(Riverwoods, Ill., December 30, 2005) - Wolters Kluwer Tax, Accounting & Legal, a division of Wolters Kluwer, announced today that it has acquired the assets of Best Case Solutions, Inc. and that the company's market-leading Best Case Bankruptcy software and services will become part of the Wolters Kluwer Law & Business unit. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Wolters Kluwer Law & Business is a leading provider of research products and workflow tools in key specialty areas for legal and business professionals. Best Case Solutions, based in Evanston, Ill., with annual revenues (2005) of approximately €4.08 million and 16 employees, is the market leader in bankruptcy form preparation and filing software for law firms representing personal and corporate debtors.

Since its formation in 1993, Best Case Solutions has focused on serving law firms that represent consumer debtors in bankruptcy with Best Case Bankruptcy software, a Windows desktop application used to prepare and file bankruptcy forms and schedules. With a record of superior product dependability, technology leadership and outstanding customer service, Best Case Bankruptcy is the premier workflow tool of its kind in the market.

"Wolters Kluwer has a long history of providing authoritative bankruptcy research resources under the CCH and Aspen Publishers brand names," said Wolters Kluwer Law & Business Vice President Stacey Caywood. "The addition of the market-leading Best Case Bankruptcy to our portfolio further extends our leadership in this specialty area and provides legal professionals with a single source for the first choice in bankruptcy information and workflow solutions."

"We are very pleased that Best Case Solutions is now part of the Wolters Kluwer family of highly respected resources for legal professionals," said Best Case founder, owner and CEO John Mancini, who will join the Wolters Kluwer Law & Business group. "Many of our customers already use CCH and Aspen for bankruptcy research and will benefit from being able to rely on one trusted provider to meet a wider range of their needs."
