Major Contract with Shagang, Leading Steel Manufacturer in China

Air Liquide announces the signature of its largest long term contract in China with Shagang, which has decided to outsource its increasing industrial gases needs. Under the terms of this agreement, Air Liquide will invest about 90 million euros to install two large air separation units (ASU) of 2000 tonnes per day of gaseous oxygen each, to supply oxygen, nitrogen and argon to Shagang steel mills in Zhanjiagang, Jiangsu Province. The units, which will start in Q2 2009, will also supply other local industrial customers with gaseous or liquid products. It will have in particular, capacity of 600 tonnes per day of liquid nitrogen and oxygen to meet the demands of a fast growing market. The units, designed and manufactured by Air Liquide Hangzhou, the Air Liquide engineering centre in China, will use the latest technologies providing both high reliability and high-energy efficiency.

Jiangsu Shagang Group is located in Zhanjiagang, about 100 km west of Shanghai. It ranks number one among private steel companies in China, and number four in terms of steel production. It is one of the Top 25 most competitive steel mills worldwide. Its steel production reached 14.5 million tonnes in 2006 and will continue to increase on its site in the Zhanjiagang Yangzte Metallurgical Industrial Park (YMIP). It is an integrated steel plant. Its finished products include super wide and thick plates, hot roll coils and high quality bars and wires, 85% of which are for the domestic market.

Commenting on this new development, Jean-Pierre Duprieu, Senior Vice-President Asia-Pacific and member of Air Liquide's Executive Committee, said: "This very large contract represents a milestone in the development of Air Liquide in China not only by its size, but also by the choice of a leading company such as Shagang to outsource its industrial gases needs. We are happy to have convinced Shagang to make this decision in line with the trend in other countries. We want to thank them for their trust as well as the Zhanjiagang authorities for their continuous support."

Mr. Shen WenRong, Chairman of Shagang, added: "After fruitful discussion we have decided to entrust Air Liquide with our industrial gases needs. It is a major change for us, being used to producing industrial gases ourselves. Air Liquide has understood our needs and shown competitiveness. We are happy to enter into a long term partnership with Air Liquide and benefit from its worldwide capabilities."

Air Liquide has been steadily developing the Jiangsu market, which is the largest and fastest growing region in China, with a GDP growth of 15% in 2006. Main industries are high tech, metal and chemical manufacturing, requiring in particular large quantities of nitrogen for such needs as inerting or heat treatment. In 2006, Air Liquide commissioned three plants in Jiangsu Province: one in Wuxi to service Hynix-ST, a leading semiconductor manufacturer, with high purity gases, one in Changshu to supply metal fabricating customers with nitrogen and hydrogen, and one in the same industrial park where Shagang is located, to supply Zhanjiagang Posco Stainless Steel with oxygen, nitrogen and argon. Total investment of Air Liquide in Jiangsu Province is close to 200 million euros.

Established in China in 1916 and with an increased presence in the last 15 years, Air Liquide employs about 1,500 people with annual sales of more than 200 million euros. The Group has operations in the areas of Beijing/Tianjin/Shandong/Liaoning in the north, Shanghai/Jiangsu/Zhejiang in the east. Air Liquide plans to invest approximately 500 million euros in China over the period 2004-2008, to meet strong market demand and to seize growth opportunities. This new investment is the 5th announced in China during the last 12 months for industrial gas production.

Present in 72 countries, Air Liquide is a world leader in industrial and medical gases and related services. The Group offers innovative solutions based on constantly enhanced technologies. These solutions, which are consistent with Air Liquide's commitment to sustainable development, help to protect life and enable our customers to manufacture many indispensable everyday products. The Group has successfully developed a long-term relationship with its shareholders built on trust and transparency and guided by the principles of corporate governance. Since the publication of its first consolidated financial statements in 1971, Air Liquide has posted strong and steady earnings growth. Press Release

Air Liquide acquires Linde Gas UK

Air Liquide announces the purchase of Linde Gas UK. The transaction is based on an enterprise value of 105 million euros, and its completion is subject to approval by the European competition authorities.

Linde Gas UK has total revenues of around 60 million euros derived from a very diversified industrial, medical and homecare customer base throughout the UK.

This acquisition will have an immediate and positive impact on the Group's results.

Air Liquide entered the UK market in 2004, following the acquisition of the local Messer operations. Air Liquide UK and Linde Gas UK have very complementary businesses, offering significant synergies and this acquisition will help Air Liquide to almost double the size of its activities and become a significant player in the UK. In addition, 30% of the acquired activities are in the medical gases and the homecare services markets, a key Air Liquide growth driver and one in which the Group is currently not present in the UK.

Benoît Potier, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Air Liquide Group, stated: "This acquisition reinforces our position in the UK and constitutes a new development for the Group in Europe, giving us access to the UK hospital and homecare markets and strengthening our existing Industrial Merchant activities. This significant extension of our presence in the UK allows us to increase our ambitions in this market through more rapid deployment of our Group's overall resources and expertise."

Letter to Shareholders

Special homecare report

Ladies and Gentlemen, Dear Shareholders,

Your Group's business activity was strong over the last quarter, confirming the positive trends recorded during the first half of the year in the most promising sectors, particularly in Asia and North America, and in hydrogen for the energy markets. On these bases, we are maintaining our goal of an increase in net earnings on comparable bases, close to those recorded in 2005.

The year 2006, which is coming to a close, should therefore be considered a successful year for the Group, which has continued its growth by strengthening its presence worldwide and its innovation capacities at the core of its main markets, both today's and tomorrow's.

Among the examples of this dynamic, I would like to invite you to discover in this letter, the homecare activities that complement those in the hospital sector, presented in last June's letter.

Involved in this homecare sector for the last 20 years, Air Liquide has successfully worked toward becoming number one in Europe, by building, first in France, then in the major European countries, dedicated know-how and outstanding skills to serve patients treated at home and healthcare professionals. Globally, we now have over 3,000 employees who help, primarily for respiratory ailments, nearly 300,000 patients in their daily lives.

Thanks to the quality and sense of responsibility of the Group's teams throughout the world, 2007 will once again provide us with the occasion to implement, through the various initiatives we have embarked on, the adaptation, innovation and growth capacities that make Air Liquide a company of tomorrow.

On this occasion, allow me to tell you in what enormous value we hold your trust and loyalty, which are the foundations of the Group's growth strategy and durability. I would like to thank you warmly for this trust and wish you, dear shareholder, and your family, health and prosperity for the New Year.

Benoît Potier

Homecare: our solutions to the rise in respiratory pathologies

An Air Liquide patient receiving oxygen therapy.

Through its homecare business, Air Liquide helps over 300,000 patients worldwide, a number that has increased fivefold in 10 years. Most of the services provided concern respiratory assistance: oxygen therapy, sleep apnea treatment, ventilation, aerosol therapy, etc.

Chronic respiratory ailments are steadily increasing and now affect over 5% of the population in developed countries. According to the World Health Organization, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), generally triggered by smoking, will be the third leading cause of death worldwide in 2020.

These "chronic" pathologies most frequently appear as people grow older and therefore should increase with the aging of the population.

This demographic factor is another promising element for growth. Homecare is growing and makes it possible for the patient and his or her family to have a better quality of life while being less costly for the community than hospitalization.

As a result, health systems in developed countries are moving toward better coverage of homecare.

Welcome to Air Liquide Village

As every year, Air Liquide was at the Actionaria Shareholders' Fair, which took place on November 17 and 18. Many of you came to see us and the Shareholder Services members were there to answer all your questions. A host of games, theme-based meetings and demonstrations with our gases enlivened our booth.

This year, Benoît Potier also chaired an information meeting on the Group, which was run by Jean-Pierre Gaillard with nearly 800 people in attendance. This was a perfect occasion for you to discover our core businesses and the many applications of our gases that, even if they are invisible, are everywhere in your daily life.

Air Liquide rewarded

On the occasion of the financial communication evening, which was held on the eve of the Actionaria Shareholders' Fair, Air Liquide's Shareholder Services was recognized by Vie Financière and Synerfil for the quality of its service.

A many-faceted offering that meets the patient's needs

The Group not only supplies oxygen and related equipment, but many services as well: flexible and quick intervention, 24/7 emergency service, management of administrative files, training of the patient and his family, all while working closely with medical and paramedical personnel and reimbursement structures.

In France, Air Liquide also helps diabetic patients by providing them with insulin pumps, an activity that is growing very rapidly. Lastly, the Group's offering extends to other services such as perfusion and enteral nutrition (via the esophagus or the abdominal wall).

Being closer to our patients

Being followed at home

In 2006, a new program called Homes, first developed in Australia and Spain, was officially launched. This new innovative tool enables Air Liquide's medico-technical personnel to collect technical information each time equipment is delivered to a patient's home. This is an important step in improving the quality and efficiency of homecare service. This innovation makes possible quicker access to different types of information, increases the homogeneity of the procedures and makes information more transparent.

VitalWeb: a new tool for prescribers

To provide better patient data management, VitalAire has created a computerized data system, called VitalWeb, available to prescribers. This new tool provides them with direct access to a list of VitalAire patients, their background and their technical follow-up report. Physicians can therefore access their patient's file in real time during a consultation.

Glossary

COPD

Oxygen therapy

Oxygen therapy is a treatment that provides the body with extra oxygen, for people who suffer from respiratory ailments.

Sleep apnea

Sleep apnea is a condition in which breathing stops temporarily while a person is sleeping. It is one of the most frequent sleep disturbances and affects 2% to 4% of the adult population. Air Liquide today provides equipment to help over 100,000 people worldwide with this problem.

Interview with Jean-Marc de Royere

Senior Vice-President Health, Specialty Chemicals

Air Liquide's homecare sector has just celebrated its 20th anniversary. What place does this business hold in the Group today?

The Group's homecare activities have been growing for the last 20 years through internal and external growth. Air Liquide is now the European leader in this sector. This growth has continued with recent acquisitions in Europe, particularly in Germany. The Group also has homecare activities in South America, Canada, Australia and Japan.

What are the specific aspects of your business?

It is a service business through which the Group helps take in charge chronic pathologies, especially respiratory ones, which generally develop with age. We work for the patients, helping them to better support their treatment, along with their physicians (who prescribe the treatments) as well as with their insurers, public or private, who generally cover the costs.

How do your sales break down?

Respiratory services (treatment of COPD, generally triggered by smoking or sleep apnea) account for 75%. The remainder is other chronic pathologies (i.e., type 1 diabetes in France).

What is your outlook for the future?

Our know-how will probably be increasingly in demand, in Europe, North America and the rest of the world. We're aiming at acquiring better knowledge of these chronic diseases and their evolution so that each patient will have the most appropriate treatment and therefore an improved quality of life. Everyone considers that treatments at home allow the patient to live better while costing the community less.

20 years in homecare!

Since its creation in 1986, the goal of the Air Liquide homecare business has been to promote alternatives to hospitalization.

Originally focused on servicing patients who required home oxygen therapy, its activities were extended to all types of respiratory equipment, then to ambulatory perfusion, enteral feeding and insulin pump therapy, all at the patient's home. Today, of the 6,000 employees in Healthcare, 3,000 help patients in their homes.

Le déclarant devra indiquer le nombre de titres de capital et de valeurs mobilières donnant accès au capital qu'il a en sa possession à la date de sa déclaration. Tout franchissement à la baisse du seuil de 2% ou d'un multiple de 2% du capital ou des droits de vote devra être déclaré de la même manière.
