NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Brian Cohn, Inc. (the Company) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a broker-dealer and is primarily engaged in investment banking and advisory activities. The Company is a registered member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA).

The Company operates under the provisions of Paragraph (k)(2)(I) of Rule 15c3-3 of the SEC and, accordingly, is exempt from the remaining provisions of the Rule.

Investment Advisory Income

Investment advisory fees are recognized as earned on a pro rata basis over the term of the Company's agreement or contract.

Investment Banking Income

Investment banking income includes gains, losses, and fees, net of syndicate expenses, arising from securities offerings in which the Company acts as an agent or underwriter. Also included are fees earned from providing merger-and-acquisition and financial restructuring advisory services. Fees are recorded on offering date, sales concessions on settlement date, and underwriting fees at the time the underwriting is completed and the income is reasonably determinable.

Commissions

Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade date basis as securities transactions occur.

Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company has defined cash equivalents as short-term, highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less, other than securities held for sale in the ordinary course of business.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Company files its income tax returns on the cash basis, whereby revenue is recognized when received and expenses are recognized when paid. Deferred income taxes are provided on an asset and liability method whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for operating loss carryforwards and deductible temporary differences, and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amount of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. Temporary differences result from the Company using the cash method of accounting for income tax purposes and accrual basis accounting for financial statement purposes. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment. The Company assesses the likelihood, based on their technical merit, that tax positions will be sustained upon examination based on the facts, circumstances and information available at the end of each period. The measurement of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when new information is available, or when an event occurs that requires a change.

The Company's policy for penalties and interest assessed by income taxing authorities is to include them in general and administrative expenses. For the year ended March 31, 2010, the Company did not incur any interest and penalties from taxing authorities. The federal income tax returns of the Company for 2007, 2008 and 2009 are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service generally for three years after they were filed.

Fair Value Measurements

The Company has adopted fair value accounting, which provides a framework for measuring fair value under generally accepted accounting principles. Fair value is the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. Within fair value accounting, there is a hierarchy which require an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

- Level I - Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the reporting date. The type of investments included in Level I include listed equities, securities and listed derivatives.
- Level II - Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies.
- Level III - Pricing inputs are unobservable for the investment and includes situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the investment. The inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgment or estimation. In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment, and considers factors specific to the investment.

At March 31, 2010, the Company held a marketable security with a fair market value of $48,576 that is classified as Level I.

NOTE 2 - SECURITY OWNED, MARKET VALUE

Securities owned, market value consists of shares of a corporate stock valued at $48,576 at March 31, 2010. Unrealized gains on the security were $3,542 for the year ended March 31, 2010. The cost basis of the investment was $34,100 at March 31, 2010.

NOTE 3 - NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

The capital ratio was 16% versus an allowable maximum of 1500% under the rules of the SEC. The Company's net capital requirement under SEC Rule 15c3-1 is $5,000. The net capital as computed was $46,966 leaving capital in excess of requirements in the amount of $41,966.

NOTE 4 - CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

The Company maintains its cash balances at financial institutions where accounts on deposit may be in excess of $250,000. Accounts at the financial institutions are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000 through December 31, 2013. No losses have been experienced to date related to such accounts. The Company believes that it is not exposed to any significant concentrations of credit risk on cash.

NOTE 5 - RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company extended a loan in the amount of $20,000 during January 2008 to its sole stockholder. The loan matures on January 6, 2012 and calls for interest to be accrued at the rate of 5% per annum. At March 31, 2010, the outstanding balance and accrued interest on the loan was $15,250 and $2,193, respectively.

March 31, 2010

For the year ended March 31, 2010, the Company received consulting fee revenues of $10,000 from a company partially owned by the sole stockholder.

NOTE 6 - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management evaluated the activity of the Company through May 31, 2010 (the date the financial statements were available to be issued) and concluded that no subsequent events have occurred that would require recognition in the financial statements or disclosures in the notes to the financial statements.
