INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Stockholder
Glover Capital, Inc.
Atlanta, Georgia

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Glover Capital, Inc. as of June 30, 2010, and the related statements of operations, stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Glover Capital, Inc. as of June 30, 2010, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Note 1 - Description of business and summary of significant accounting policies:

Glover Capital, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated on September 16, 1987 for the purpose of becoming qualified as a licensed broker/dealer. On September 24, 1987, the Company became licensed as a broker/dealer and began operations.

Basis of presentation

The Company has adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 168, The FASB Accounting Standards Codification (Codification) and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) (SFAS No. 168). SFAS No. 168 required that the Codification become the source of authoritative U.S. GAAP recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities. All of the Codification's content carries the same level of authority. The adoption of SFAS No. 168 did not have a material impact on the Company's financial statements or disclosures.

Revenue recognition

The Company prepares its financial statements on the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues related to the sale of a company are recognized when collectability is reasonably assured, persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, and prices are determinable, as evidenced by a signed customer contract, and when the deal "closes."

Receivables and credit policies

The Company routinely assesses the financial strength of its clients and, as a consequence, believes that its commission receivable credit risk exposure is limited. Commission receivables are carried at original contract amount less an estimate for anticipated credit losses as determined by management in the course of regularly evaluating individual receivables. To date, bad debts have not exceeded management's expectations. At June 30, 2010, there were no commissions receivable or allowance for bad debts. Commission receivables are written off when deemed uncollectible. Recoveries of commission receivables previously written off are recorded when received.

Income taxes

Income taxes are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements and consist of taxes currently due plus deferred tax assets and liabilities related to using the cash method of accounting for tax purposes and the accrual method of accounting for financial reporting purposes.

Note 1 - Description of business and summary of significant accounting policies - continued:

As of June 30, 2010, the Company has federal and state net operating loss carryforwards of $55,361 available to reduce future taxable income, which expire at various dates through 2030. The significant temporary difference is the carryforwards that give rise to net deferred tax assets before valuation allowance. At June 30, 2010, the Company had $8,304 in deferred tax assets. The Company's management concluded that it was more likely than not that deferred tax assets would not be recovered and has provided a valuation allowance for the full amount of its net deferred tax assets at June 30, 2010. Under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, certain substantial changes in the Company's ownership may result in a limitation on the amount of net operating loss carryforwards which can be used in future years.

Effective July 1, 2009, the Company recognizes the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by the taxing authority, based on the technical merits of the position. Tax years that remain subject to examination by major tax jurisdictions date back to the year ending June 30, 2007. As of June 30, 2010, there are no known items which would result in a material accrual related to where the Company has federal or state attributable tax positions.

Use of estimates in the preparation of financial statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Subsequent events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through August 18, 2010, which is the date these financial statements were available to be issued. All subsequent events, if any, requiring recognition as of June 30, 2010, have been incorporated into these financial statements.

Note 2 - Net capital requirements:

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At June 30, 2010, the Company had net capital of $41,523 which was $36,523 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. The Company's aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio was 0.07 to 1 at June 30, 2010.

Note 3 - Transactions with related party:

The Company and Glover & Associates, Inc. are affiliated companies under common management control. The existence of this control could result in operating results and/or a financial position of the Company significantly different from those that would have been obtained if the companies were autonomous.

During the year ended June 30, 2010, the Company paid $27,339 to Glover & Associates, Inc. for various operational expenses.

Note 4 - Possession or control requirements:

The Company does not have any possession or control of customer funds or securities.

Note 5 - Concentration of credit risk:

The Company maintains its cash in bank deposits which, at times, may exceed federally-insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17A-5

To the Stockholder
Glover Capital, Inc.
Atlanta, Georgia

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Glover Capital, Inc. (the Company) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2010, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered its internal control over financial reporting (internal control), as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. The study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons;
- Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13; and
- Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

A Member of American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants, Center for Public Company Audit Firms, PCPS: The AICPA Alliance for CPA Firms, Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, CPAmerica International and PKF International.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control. A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at June 30, 2010 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the stockholder, management, the SEC, the New York Stock Exchange, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Fagan : Dexter, LLC

August 18, 2010

During the period from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010, Glover Capital, Inc. paid fees of $150 to the SIPC which represented the minimum General Assessment. In accordance with the Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 17a-5 (e) (4), Glover Capital, Inc. did not have revenues in excess of $500,000 during the period from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010, and is therefore exempt from filing a supplemental independent public accountant's report.
