NOTES

K.W. CHAMBERS & CO.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. These accounting policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

Nature of the Business

K.W. Chambers & Co. (the "Company"), was incorporated on February 29, 1962, and is a broker and dealer in securities registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (S.E.C.) under Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(ii), which provides that all the funds and securities belonging to the Company's customers be handled by a correspondent broker-dealer. The Company's customer base is primarily located in Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, California, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Mississippi, South Carolina, Wisconsin, Texas, and Tennessee, and the Company does not require collateral to secure receivables.

The Company has an agreement with a clearing broker to clear securities transactions, carry customers' accounts on a fully disclosed basis and perform certain recordkeeping functions.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

Recognition of Income and Expenses

Commission income and clearing fees related to securities transactions are recognized on a settlement date basis because all such transactions are cleared through another broker-dealer which operates on this basis. Reporting such transactions on a trade date basis would not result in a material difference.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all liquid investment instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

The Company's cash deposits in financial institutions are covered by FDIC insurance which is subject to certain limitations and conditions.

Receivables From Brokers or Dealers

Receivables are carried net of the allowance for doubtful accounts. The allowance for doubtful accounts is increased by provisions charged to expense and reduced by accounts charged off, net of recoveries. The allowance is maintained at a level considered adequate to provide for potential account losses based on management's evaluation of the anticipated impact on the balance of current economic conditions, changes in the character and size of the balance, past and expected future loss experience and other pertinent factors. There was no allowance for doubtful accounts related to these accounts at April 30, 2010.

K.W. CHAMBERS & CO.

Securities

Securities, which consist of mutual funds, are recorded at market value as determined by quoted market prices.

Fair Value Measurements

The Company measures and discloses the fair value of investments in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") ASC 820-10, Fair Value Measurements (formerly, SFAS 157). ASC 820-10 defines fair value as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The Company determines the fair values of its financial instruments based on the fair value hierarchy established in SFAS 157 which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value.

Financial instruments are considered Level 1 when valuation can be based on quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. Level 2 financial instruments are valued using quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices in markets that are not active, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data of substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities. Financial instruments are considered Level 3 when their values are determined using pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies or similar techniques and at least one significant model assumption or input is unobservable and when determination of the fair value requires significant management judgment or estimation.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes using the asset and liability approach. The asset and liability approach requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying amounts and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities. The Company files its income tax returns using the cash basis of accounting.

Effective May 1, 2009, the Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") ASC 740-10 (formerly Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, or "FIN 48"), which prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return and also provides guidance on various related matters such as derecognition, interest, penalties and disclosures required. The adoption of FASB ASC 740-10 had no impact on the financial statements.

The Company's policy is to classify interest and penalties, if any, within income tax expense. There was no interest or penalties in 2010.

Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated the impact on the financial statements, if any, of subsequent events through June 29, 2010.

Independent Auditors' Report On Internal Control
Required by Rule 17a-5

Board of Directors
K.W. Chambers & Co.
St. Louis, Missouri

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of K.W. Chambers & Co. for the year ended April 30, 2010, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by K.W. Chambers & Co. including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly security examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.
3. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

1034 S. Brentwood Boulevard, Suite 2000
St. Louis, MO 63117
office: 314.884.4000
fax: 314.884.4001

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements covered by error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at April 30, 2010, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers and is intended to be and should not be used by anyone rather than these specified parties.
