UNDERHILL SECURITIES CORP. NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 2009

(1) Organization and Description of Business

Underhill Securities Corp. (the Company) was incorporated in the State of Nevada on February 21, 2007. The Company became registered as a broker/dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission on July 31, 2008 and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. (FINRA) on January 26, 2009.

The Company operates exclusively as a securities broker/dealer and is accordingly required to abide by all applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc., and other regulatory bodies. All trades are cleared on a fully disclosed basis.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Revenue Recognition – Securities transactions (and related revenue and expenses) are recorded on the settlement date of the transactions.

Furniture and Equipment – Furniture and equipment are stated at historical cost and are depreciated based upon their useful life, generally five or seven years. Maintenance and repairs are charged to income as incurred.

Cash Equivalents – The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity when purchased of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Income Taxes – The Company has available net operating losses to offset against future tax obligations in the approximate amount of $12,800.

Management has evaluated the effects of adoption of FASB ASC 740, Income Taxes (formerly FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes) to the Company, and as of December 31, 2009, has determined no provision for income tax is required in the Company's financial statements. Uncertain tax positions are evaluated in accordance with FASB ASC 450, Accounting for Contingencies (formerly FASB Statement No. 5, Accounting for Contingencies) which requires the Company to record a liability for an estimated contingent loss if the information available indicates that it is probable that there is a tax liability incurred at the date of the financial statements, and the amount of the tax liability can be reasonably estimated.

No income tax liability for uncertain tax positions has been recognized in the accompanying financial statements.

UNDERHILL SECURITIES CORP. NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 2009

(3) Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. In determining fair value, the Company may use various valuation approaches, including market, income and/or cost approaches. The fair value hierarchy requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. Fair value is a market-based measure considered from the perspective of a market participant. As such, even when market assumptions are not readily available, the Company's own assumptions reflect those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. The fair value measurement accounting guidance describes the following three levels used to classify fair value measurements:

Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Quoted prices in markets that are not active or for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

The availability of observable inputs can vary and in certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, the level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to a fair value measurement requires judgment and consideration of factors specific to the asset or liability.

At December 31, 2009, the Company securities owned are as follows:

Investments, at fair value Level 1

Exchange traded common stock $ 14,170

To the Board of Directors Underhill Securities Corp.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Underhill Securities Corp. (the Company) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2009, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13;
- 2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgements by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. However, we identified the following deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures performed in our audit of the financial statements of Underhill Securities Corp. as of and for the year ended December 31, 2009, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February 26, 2010. The Company failed to record in its books and records a cash disbursement that was initiated prior to December 31, 2009 and which cleared the bank in early January, 2010. In addition, some additional accounts payable items were not included on the Company's books and records at December 31, 2009. These conditions have been brought to the attention of management responsible for the accurate reporting of financial records and a notification under SEC Rule 17a(g) has been filed.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were not adequate at December 31, 2009, to meet the SEC's objectives, due to the items referred to in the preceding paragraph which resulted in inaccurate financial statements being prepared and not being detected and corrected on a timely basis.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
