To the Board of Directors of
Franklin Christopher Investment Bankers, Inc.
New York, New York

Gentlemen:

We have examined the Financial Report of Franklin Christopher Investment Bankers, Inc., as required by the National Association of Securities Dealers as of December 31, 2009, and have issued a report thereon dated February 22, 2009. As part of our examination we reviewed and tested the system of internal accounting control and the procedures for safeguarding customer and firm assets for the year ended December 31, 2009 to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted accounting standards and by Rule 17a-5g3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Rule 17a-5g3 contemplates that the scope of the review and test should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material inadequacies existing at the date of our examination in the accounting system, the internal accounting controls, and the procedures for safeguarding customer and firm assets would be disclosed. Under these standards and that regulation, the purposes of such evaluation are to establish a basis for reliance thereon in determining the nature, timing and extent of other auditing procedures that are necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements and to provide a basis for reporting material inadequacies in internal accounting control.

Further, our examination included reviews of the practices and procedures followed by the company in making periodic computations of the minimum financial requirements, pursuant to Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable but not absolute assurance as to safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily require estimates and judgments by management. However, for the purposes of this report, the cost-benefit relationship has been disregarded in determining material inadequacies to be reported.

Franklin Christopher Investment Bankers, Inc.
February 22, 2010

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal accounting control. In the performance of most control procedures, error can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgment, carelessness or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by management either with respect to the execution and recording of transactions or with respect to the estimates and judgments required in the preparation of financial statements. Further projection of any evaluation of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions and that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the year ended December 31, 2009 which was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph above and would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system which may have existed during the period under review, disclosed no material inadequacies.

Very truly yours,

Michael Damsky

To the Board of Directors of

We have examined the financial statements of Franklin Christopher Investment Bankers, Inc. as required by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities and Exchange Commission as of December 31, 2009 and have issued a report thereon dated February 22, 2010. In accordance with rule 17a-5(e) (4) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have performed the following procedures with respect to the accompanying schedule (Form SIPC-7) of Securities Investor Protection Corporation assessments and payments of Franklin Christopher Investment Bankers, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2009. Our procedures were performed to solely to assist you in complying with rule 17a-5(e) (4), and our report is not to be used for any other purpose. The procedures we performed were as follows:

1. Compared listed assessment payments with respective cash disbursement records entries;
2. Compared amounts reported on the audited form X-17A-5 for the period April 1, 2009, to December 31, 2009, with the amounts reported in the General Assessment Reconciliation (Form SIPC-7);
3. Compared any adjustments reported in Form SIPC-7 with supporting schedules and working papers;
4. Proved the arithmetical accuracy of the calculations reflected in Form SIPC-7 and in the related schedules and working papers supporting adjustments; and
5. Compared the amount of any overpayment applied with the Form SIPC-7 on which it was computed.

Because the above procedures do not constitute an audit made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we do not express an opinion on the schedule referred to above. In connection with the procedures referred to above, nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the amounts shown on Form SIPC-7 were not determined in accordance with applicable instructions and forms. This report relates only to the schedule referred to above and does not extend to any financial statements of Franklin Christopher Investment Bankers, Inc. taken as a whole.

Very truly yours,

Michael Damsky
