RISK FACTORS

Our limited operating history makes it difficult for you to evaluate our current and future business and prospects and future financial results

If we are unable to obtain additional financing, we will be unable to proceed with our Plan of Operations; even if we obtain additional debt or equity financing, your equity interest in our stock will be diluted

If Prohibition Brands is declared in violation of federal law by a federal court or other state and local authorities, we may be unable to continue to produce our products and we may have to terminate our business, and you will lose your entire investment

Because we have no agreements with the third party manufacturers that will manufacture our products, and at the present moment are not leasing a production facility nor own a production facility we may be unable to produce our products and deliver them to market.

We currently have no agreements with third party distributors that will distribute our products to retailers, which would adversely affect our reputation and materially reduce our revenues

We currently have no agreements with third party growers that will grow product, we may be unable to acquire quality product in the quantity desired at the price required, and we do not currently have a grow operation in place or adequate plans to operate a grow, which could adversely affect your investment.

We currently have no expertise in management or at the executive level that is versed in similar markets like alcohol or tobacco. This lack of knowledge and expertise could affect our ability to enter the market and avoid mistakes, or retard the speed of company growth, which would adversely affect your investment.

If our products are found to cause injury, have defects, have long-term side-effects or fail to meet industry standards, we will incur substantial litigation, judgment, product liability, and product recall costs, which will increase our losses and negatively affect our brand name reputation and product sales

The use of our products is subject to social trend fluctuations which may cause fluctuating financial results and a reduction of our revenues during certain periods, which would negatively affect our potential profitability and the value of your investment in our stock

The use of our products is subject to state law, referendums, votes, city and county ordinances and other non-federal regulations and rules, some of which are trial periods or temporary in nature and our abilities to distribute our product in certain geographic areas are subject to large

Fluctuations in these laws which may cause fluctuating financial results and a reduction of our revenues during certain periods, which would negatively affect our potential profitability and the value of your investment in our stock

Because we offer only a few select products at the moment, and our competitors may have a variety of products, or may have a more established brand, we may not obtain consumer acceptance of our products, which may adversely affect our ability to generate revenues.

Since we are in an establishment phase of our business, we face trademark, copyright, and patent protection risks that may negatively affect our brand name reputation, revenues and potential profitability

Possible disputes over the United States patent rights to our products may negatively affect our ability to gain a protect any competitive advantage we may have in the field

We are operating in a quasi-market that is according to state law is legal, but on a federal level qualifies as a black or illegal market. Navigating and operating in these conditions requires much legal expertise, which increases our costs of doing business and may lead to delays, fines, restrictions, or possible termination of our business.

Medical Marijuana dispensary's have been "raided" and shut down by DEA agents in the past. We have significant risks of losses if we are targeted by the DEA and we are shut down, product and assets are confiscated, and if we face legal penalties including criminal charges and fines. This would negatively impact our ability to operate this business.

Marijuana sales have operated as an illegal market in the past. As the states of Colorado and Washington, and other states moving forward, test the water with marijuana legalization for retail, we face risks of negative action from current black market marijuana industry operatives including gangs, cartels, organized criminals, drug dealers, and others. These risks of losses could include theft, hijackings, intimidation, vandalism, and violence; all of which would negatively impact this business.

As Colorado and Washington determine their system of regulating retail marijuana sales to persons 21 and over, we will learn the status and criteria of receiving a processing license in both Colorado and Washington. If we are unable to obtain a processing license from either state, or other states moving forward, it would definitely negatively impact our business.

We have not established the "Prohibitions Brands" brand name or the "Marijuanettes" or the "Roach's" label, and Prohibition Brands has little, if any, name recognition, which may prevent us from generating revenues and reduce the value of your investment

If we lose the services of our Chief Executive Officer, Brian Laoruangroch, our operations may be adversely affected or we may be unable to continue our operations

If we are unable to acquire good executives, managers, and key personnel, it would be detrimental to our company and your investment.

Our management has significant control over matters requiring a shareholder vote, which will prevent our minority shareholders from influencing our activities

Our operations are subject to possible conflicts of interest which may result in our officers and directors favoring their own business interests over ours, which may have a negative effect on our revenues and potential profitability

Our management devotes only limited time to our business and may continue to do so in future, which may negatively affect our revenues and potential profitability

There is not and there may never be a public market for shares of our stock, which may make it difficult for investors to sell their shares

Because our stock is an originally low-priced stock for which there is and may never be a market, any investment in our common stock is a high-risk investment and is subject to restrictions on marketability; you may be unable to sell your shares

Other risk factors involved with being a new business, and our business specifically are:

- a. lack of cash flow and start-up injection money
- b. inexperience of management in managing a business in this particular industry
- c. dependence of the company on an unproven product
- d. a retail marijuana market has not been established or proven its viability.
- e. absence of operating history of the company is a risk, along with absence of profitable operations in recent periods and no financial history, all which contribute to the overall financial position of the company.
- f. the nature of our business in which we are engaged which is similar to the industries of alcohol and tobacco.
- G. conflicts of interest with management
- h. arbitrary establishment of offering price
- i. reliance on the efforts of a single individual
- j. absence of a trading market if a trading market is not expected to develop.

Note: In addition to the above risks, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by management. In reviewing this Offering Circular potential investors should keep in mind other possible risks that could be important.

THE BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES

3. WITH RESPECT TO THE BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY AND ITS PROPERTIES

a. Prohibition Brands is marijuana processing company. Our final product is a retail packaged "ready to smoke" cigarette-style marijuana good. Our brand is a high-quality, standardized marijuana product that will be as readily available in all legal states as alcohol and tobacco to persons who are of age. From raw marijuana commodity product, we inspect for imperfections, bacteria, and diseases, cure the product, treat it, cut it, blend it, and package it.

b. these products will be produced in the states of Colorado and Washington, and all future states that allow consumers to legally use our products. The new products that the company will be selling are in the final prototype stage at the time of writing. Products will be available for public viewing in late 2013, early 2014, before retail sales of marijuana are allowed, but after all patents and trademarks have been initiated and progressed or completed. The activities of producing prototypes in mass production in a factory has not occurred and is dependent upon our financing available at the time. Completion of the development of the product could be achieved with $10,000,000 which would include final retail packaging. We are unsure if we will be dependent upon a limited number of suppliers for essential raw materials, machinery, or licenses. We do not have any major existing supply contracts.

c. Prohibition Brands intends to sell products in the retail marijuana industry. This is a market that at the time of this writing, hasn't even had rules written by the state regulating bodies. This is a very unknown market. Recognized trends in the industry appear to be growing. Since the mid 1990's, starting with California, a movement began that allowed medical patients to use marijuana as medicine. As of 2012, 18 states plus the District of Columbia have made medical marijuana legal in their states and now two states, Washington and Colorado, have made it legal for recreational use to persons over 21. In each of these states a new market has been created and the trend of state legalization looks to continue. Geographically, for now, Prohibition Brands will sell primarily in the states of Washington and Colorado marketed towards consumers for recreational use. The company may expand to medical marijuana states over time.

Competition is expected many ways including price and service. The price of marijuana is subject to great changes in the future as new federal and state marijuana laws surface. At this time, the Liquor Control Board of Washington estimates that prices of marijuana at growers level to be $3/gram, at the processors level $6/gram, and at the retail level $12/gram (see evidence at end) At this time we are unsure of who directly will be our competitors and what the cost of their products are. Our competition can range from large corporate-type entities that make an expensive high-end product costing in excess of $20/gram or more and we could have competition of individuals working from their own houses, selling product grown at home for $3/gram or lower. At this time, we are unsure how many competitors we will have in our specific market of processed, blended, branded marijuana product. There could be many companies that enter this market. We believe we can compete and succeed because of factors like "first mover advantage" "brand loyalty" our competitive advantages from our patents and trademarks and innovation of our CEO Brian Laoruangroch, who has previously brought a company from concept to market.

Note: Because this Offering Circular focuses primarily on details concerning the Company rather than the industry in which the Company operates or will operate, potential investors may wish to conduct their own separate investigation of the Company's industry to obtain broader insight in assessing the Company's prospects.

d) the marketing strategies we will employ to develop our market include samples, television commercials, point-of-purchase displays, repeat customer loyalty and overall reimagining of marijuana use. Marketing efforts would be made to portray marijuana in a positive light. Our finished products are marketed as ways to celebrate, relax, "get ready", re-evaluate, concentrate, change mood and other benefits. It is important to re-image marijuana users from "lazy" and "unmotivated" to "fun" "adventurous" "successful" and "happy" for example. Marketing and distribution wise, it is of highest importance to be the most easily accessible product and most widely known. Strong penetration and heavy marketing from day 1 is the intent.

e) there is no backlog of written firm orders for products and or services because we are a new business in development

f) Currently, at the time of writing, there is only 1 employee in Prohibition Brands. In the next 12 months we anticipate employing between 2 and 20 employees. This amount is broken down between 1 and 10 employees that are administrative, management, and specialty, and between 1 and 10 employees that would be operative. None of the employees would be under a collective bargaining agreement or this is not reasonably foreseeable at this moment.

g) Prohibition Brands does not currently have any principal real estate. In the near future, the company intends on having two production facilities, 1 in Denver, Colorado and 1 in Seattle, Washington. In the next 12 months, Prohibition Brands intends to purchase equipment and machinery to produce our products in large scale. We expect the cost of performing these tasks to cost up to $10,000,000 or more. At the time of this writing we have submitted patent applications for our products "Marijuanettes" and "Roach's" and for the related trademarks plus "Prohibition Brands" trademark. We have intent to apply for patents of more products within the near future. The patents and trademarks we have acquired or will be able to acquire with financing as-is, however equipment and production facilities will be paid for by proceeds from the offering.

h) Prohibition Brands relies heavily proprietary information including but not limited to patents on marijuanette design, "roach's" design, blends, treatments, systems, processes, ingredients, and trade secrets. In order to protect this information we require the signature of parties we disclose information to sign a non-competition and non-disclosure contract. The cost of research and development in the last year include time working by the CEO Brian Laoruangroch formulating and creating the Business Plan and Structure, business trips in November and December of 2012 to Denver and Seattle, marijuana and associated rolling products. The costs to this point have been kept minimal. Over the next 12 months, we plan to spend up to $10,000,000 or more on Research and Development regarding safety, taste formulas, product design, packaging design and branding, and distribution planning.

i. The company is subject to federal laws regarding sale and possession of marijuana, which is currently classified as a schedule I drug, which is "highly addictive with no medicinal value." Federal law bans us from operating our business, which we will be knowingly operating in violation of federal law. At this time bans and new laws regarding marijuana are being created in many cities, counties, and states. The movement of all of these laws will largely effect the future of this business.

j) currently there are no subsidiaries of the business

k) material events in the development of the company. On November 8, 2012 Brian Laoruangroch saw an opportunity to create a business. This idea was triggered by the recent vote by Colorado and Washington to allow marijuana possession and sales to persons 21 and over. From November 8 on, Brian constantly thought night and day formulating the entire business model and operations of Prohibition Brands and mentally concepted all products that would be sold by Prohibition Brands.

4. a. If the Company was not profitable during its last fiscal year, list below in chronological order the events which in management's opinion must or should occur or the milestones which in management's opinion the Company must or should reach in order for the Company to become profitable, and indicate the expected manner of occurrence or the expected method by which the Company will achieve the milestones.

	Event or milestone	Expected method of achievement	Date or number of months after receipts of proceeds when should be accomplished
1	Receive Washington and/ or Colorado license	Apply on day 1. If not awarded, do all means necessary to secure a license including buying another company	December 1, 2013
2	Get product accessible to market by January 1, 2014	Develop a distribution system to outlets for both states	December 1, 2013
3	Get financing together	Start working now	December 1, 2013
4	Heavily advertise on day 1	Acquire financing now	December 1, 2013
5	Finish Product Development	Continue making and testing prototypes now	December 1, 2013

c. Possible consequences of delays in achieving these milestones could be detrimental to the brand's name recognition and possibly initial attract long-term customers. There are not many constant operating costs, but rather upfront 1 time costs. In regards to liquidity, we do not intend to have many sellable assets, and we do not intend to have many ongoing operating expenses. (see Question Nos. 11 and 12).

Note: After reviewing the nature and timing of each event or milestone, potential investors should reflect upon whether achievement of each within the estimated time frame is realistic and should assess the consequences of delays or failure of achievement in making an investment decision.

OFFERING PRICE FACTORS

If the securities offered are common stock, or are exercisable for or convertible into common stock, the following factors may be relevant to the price at which the securities are being offered.

5. What were net, after-tax earnings for the last fiscal year?

Total $0 ($0 per share)

6. The company did not have profits last year

7. What is the net tangible book value of the Company? ($0)

b. no securities were sold in the last year

8. what percentage of the outstanding shares of the company will the investors in this offering have?

If the maximum is sold: 49%

If the minimum is sold: 5%

b) what post-offering value is management implicitly attributing to the entire Company by establishing the price per security set forth on the cover page

if maximum sold: $100,000,000*

if minimum sold: $100,000,000*

* These values assume that the Company's capital structure would be changed to reflect any conversions of outstanding convertible securities and any use of outstanding securities as payment in the exercise of outstanding options, warrants or rights included in the calculation. The type and amount of convertible or other securities thus eliminated would be: $0. These values also assume an increase in cash in the Company by the amount of any cash payments that would be made upon cash exercise of options, warrants or rights included in the calculations. The amount of such cash would be: $50,000,000.

Note: After reviewing the above, potential investors should consider whether or not the offering price (or exercise or conversion price, if applicable) for the securities is appropriate at the present stage of the Company's development.

USE OF PROCEEDS

9. a. The following table sets forth the use of the proceeds from this offering:

	If minimum sold amount %	If maximum sold amount %
Total Proceeds	$5,000,000	$50,000,000
(less offering expenses)
Legal and accounting fees	($200,000)*	($400,000)
Copying and advertising	($50,000)	($500,000)
Net proceeds from offering	$4,750,000	$49,100,000
(Use of net proceeds)
Production facilities	($300,000)	($5,000,000)
Legal services	($200,000)	($3,000,000)
Research and Development	($200,000)	($2,000,000)
Equipment	($500,000)	($7,000,000)
Administrative salaries	($500,000)	($500,000)
Goods and Materials	($100,000)	($1,000,000)
Advertising, Marketing and Promotion	($750,000)	($10,000,000)
Operating Capital/slush cushion	($2,200,000)	($20,600,000)
	$5,000,000	$50,000,000

b) if we are unable to raise $5,000,000 minimum, we would prioritize the following expenses in order. Legal Fees, Equipment, Production Facilities, Goods and Materials, Advertising, Research and Development, and finally Operating Capital. Priority of expenses was determined by choosing what parts were necessary to get product to market, while "cutting other corners" and still be in a position later to emerge as the market leader.

Footnotes: Legal fees are lower for the minimum raised because we are paying for the required services of making sure the offering is legal from a legal professional. If there is additional funding it will be spent on legal services to legally register and structure our company and protect our intellectual property.

*Costs that increase incrementally as a result of doing business in new state jurisdictions include an additional production facility, additional equipment, and additional goods. The estimate/budget to the right is higher to reflect that we would naturally be operating in as many states as possible, including medical marijuana states, rather than just intentionally just Colorado and Washington.

General expenses including Research and Development, Legal fees, and Advertising all increase with the maximum budget, as the scope of the business widens.

Administrative expenses will stay the same.

Note: After reviewing the portion of the offering allocated to the payment of offering expenses, and to the immediate payment to management and promoters of any fees, reimbursements, past salaries or similar payments, a potential investor should consider whether the remaining portion of his investment, which would be that part available for future development of the Company's business and operations, would be adequate.

10.a. – at this time, we do not have intention of using material/any amounts of funds from sources other than this offering to be used in conjunction with the proceeds from this offering.

b. no amount of funds are intended to be used to discharge indebtedness.

c. no material amount of proceeds is intended to be used to acquire assets, other than in the ordinary course of business.

d. no amount of the proceeds is to be used to reimburse any officer, director, employee or stockholder for services already rendered, assets previously transferred, or monies loaned or advanced

11. Without proper financing the company anticipates having cash flow problems in the next 12 months.

12. The proceeds from this offering will satisfy the Company's cash requirements for the next 12 months. We do want to "leave the door open" to make an additional offering if we need more capital to accomplish our goal

CAPITALIZATION

13. There is no previous capitalization for this company

DESCRIPTION OF SECURITIES
