Significant Accounting Policies:

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements and related notes have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP").

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of the assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 1 - Nature of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective income tax bases, and operating loss and tax credit carry-forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in operations in the period enacted. A valuation allowance is provided when it is more likely than not that a portion or all of a deferred tax asset will not be realized.

The Company has adopted financial reporting rules regarding recognition and measurement of tax positions taken or expected to be taken on a tax return. The Company has reviewed all open tax years and concluded that there is no impact on the Company's financial statements and no tax liability resulting from unrecognized tax benefits relating to uncertain income tax positions taken or expected to be taken on a tax return. As of December 31, 2015, all prior returns are the open federal and state tax years. There were no interest or penalties recorded during the year ended December 31, 2015.

Credit Risk

The only credit risk taken by the Company occurs when cash balances in a bank account exceeds the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insurance and when receivables are under collateralized. There have been no losses related to these risks

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company has defined cash equivalents as highly liquid investments with original maturities of less than 90 days which are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business.

Note 2 - Net Capital Requirements

As a member of FINRA and registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission the Company is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of a minimum amount of net capital and requires that the ratio of indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. Rule 15c3-1 also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1. The Company does not carry customer accounts nor accept customer funds or securities.

At December 31, 2015 the Company had net capital of $311,355, which was $259,718, in excess of its net capital requirement of $51,637.

Note 3 - Income Taxes

Note 4 - Related Party Transactions

The Company provides non-securities business consulting services to the Northill Group of Companies. It has entered into a cost plus services contract with NCJLP. The Company expects to continue earning revenue from consulting services under the terms of this agreement. In addition, both NCJLP and NCHL stand ready to provide additional capital or financial support to the Company if so required. At December 31, 2015 $66,164 was owed to the Company by NCJL.

Note 5 - Commitments and Contingencies

The Company leases office space in a "We Work" facility. It is subject to a short term lease.

In the normal course of its operations, the Company enters into contracts and agreements that contain indemnifications and warranties. The Company's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. However, the Company has not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expects the risk of loss to be remote.

There are no other material commitments or contingencies. However, the nature of the Company's business subjects it to various claims, regulatory examinations, and other proceedings in the ordinary course of business. The ultimate outcome of any such action against the Company could have an adverse impact on the financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows of the Company.

The Company sponsors a defined contribution plan for a key employee.
