NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR DECEMBER 31, 2015

NOTE 1: ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A summary of the Firm's significant accounting policies consistently applied in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements are as follows:

- a. Nature of Operations—Powder Point Financial, LLC (the Firm) was formed in February of 2007 as a limited liability company under the laws of the State of Massachusetts. As such, the owner (the Member) is not liable for the debts of the Firm. The Firm is a registered broker-dealer located in Marshfield, Massachusetts.
- b. Description of Business—As a securities broker and dealer, the Firm is engaged in various brokerage activities, servicing a diverse group of institutional investors. The Firm is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). The Firm is subject to federal and state securities laws, as well as FINRA regulations. The Firm is subject to the net capital requirement under Rule 15c3-1 of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 (the Act). The Firm does not hold funds or securities for, or owe funds or securities to customers, and as such, is exempt from the reserve requirement provisions of the Act under the exemption provisions found within Rule 15c3-3 Section (k)(2)(i).
- c. Financial Instruments—The Firm's financial instruments consist of cash and accounts receivable. The Firm's estimates of fair value for financial instruments approximate their carrying amounts.
- d. Basis of Presentation—The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP), as promulgated by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards of Codification (ASC).
- e. Cash—In general, the Federal Depository Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insures cash balances up to $250,000 per depositor, per bank. The FDIC also provides separate unlimited coverage for deposit accounts that meet the definition of non-interest bearing accounts. It is the Firm's policy to monitor the financial strength of the banks that hold its deposits on an ongoing basis.
- f. Income Taxes— FASB ASC 740, "Income Taxes", establishes a threshold for financial statement recognition for the benefit of positions taken in filing tax returns (including whether an entity is taxable in a particular jurisdiction), and requires certain expanded tax disclosures. FASB ASC 740 is to be applied to all open tax years as of the date of effectiveness. The Firm's prior three tax years are open and subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service.
The Firm has elected to be treated as an LLC under the Internal Revenue Code, having the Firm's income treated for federal income tax purposes substantially the same as if the Firm were a partnership. The Member's respective equitable shares in the net income of the Firm are reportable on the individual's tax return. Accordingly, the financial statements reflect no provisions or liability for federal income taxes.
- g. Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses, along with the disclosure of certain contingent assets and liabilities as of the financial statement date. Actual results in the future could vary from the amounts derived from management's estimates and assumptions.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL UNDER SEC RULE 17A-5(g)(1)

The Member of Powder Point Financial, LLC
Marshfield, MA

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Powder Point Financial, LLC as of and for the year ended December 31, 2015, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Powder Point Financial, LLC's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our audit procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Powder Point Financial, LLC's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Powder Point Financial, LLC's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by Powder Point Financial, LLC including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because Powder Point Financial, LLC does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Firm in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of Powder Point Financial, LLC is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's previously mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Firm has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined previously.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that Powder Point Financial, LLC's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate as of the date of this report, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
