Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors and Stockholder of CorpBanca Securites Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of CorpBanca Securities Inc. (the "Company") as of December 31, 2015, and the related notes to the statement of financial condition. The Company's management is responsible for this financial statement. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement of financial condition. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the statement of financial condition referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial condition of the Company as of December 31, 2015 in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As more fully described in Notes 1 and 3 to the financial statements, the Company has material transactions with its Parent. Because of this relationship, it is possible that the terms of these transactions are not the same as those that would result from transactions between unrelated parties. The Company is economically dependent on its Parent and its Affiliate under common control. Future operations are dependent upon continued support from the Parent and the Affiliate.

CorpBanca Securities Inc.
Notes to Statement of Financial Condition
December 31, 2015

1. Organization

CorpBanca Securities Inc. (the Company) is a Corporation incorporated in the state of Delaware. The Company is registered as a securities broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). CorpBanca Securities Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of CorpBanca, a Chilean corporation (the "Parent"). The Company's business activities include retailing corporate equity and corporate debt securities, selling Mutual Funds and Closed End Funds, private placement of securities on a best efforts basis and investment advisory services.

The Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial services and, accordingly, claims exemption from Rule 15c3-3 under provisions (k)(2)(i) and (k)(2)(ii) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Cash and cash equivalents

The company defines cash equivalents as short term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of less than ninety days from the date of acquisition. The carrying amounts of such cash equivalents approximate the fair value due to the short term nature of those instruments.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method, which requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the financial statements. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the differences between the financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse. The effect of a change in tax rates on deferred tax assets and liabilities is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

The Company records net deferred tax assets to the extent the Company believes these assets will more likely than not be realized. In making such a determination, the Company considers all available positive and negative evidence, including future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, projected future taxable income, tax-planning strategies, and results of recent operations. In the event the Company were to determine that it would be able to realize their deferred income tax assets in the future in excess of their net recorded amount, the Company would make an adjustment to the deferred tax asset valuation allowance which would reduce the provision for income taxes, or benefit.

The Company records uncertain tax positions in accordance with ASC 740-10-25 "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes" on the basis of a two-step process whereby (1) the Company determines whether it is more likely than not that the tax positions will be sustained based on the technical merits of the position and (2) for those tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, the Company recognizes the largest amount of tax benefit that is greater than 50 percent likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement with the related tax authority.

The Company files its income tax returns in the U.S. federal and various state and local jurisdictions. The Company remains subject to income tax examinations for all periods since inception. Any potential examinations may include questioning the timing and amount of deductions, the nexus of income among various tax jurisdictions and compliance with U.S. federal, state and local and foreign tax laws.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

3. Related Party Transactions

The Company is economically dependent of its Parent and CorpBanca New York (the "Affiliate"), which are entities under common control. Future operations may be dependent upon continued support from the Parent and the Affiliate. The company has an Administrative Services Agreement (the "Expense Sharing Agreement") in place with the Affiliate. In accordance with the Expense Sharing Agreement, the Company reimburses the Affiliate, on a monthly basis, for a proportional share of occupancy expense and related expenses of personnel employed by the Affiliate. As of December 31, 2015, Affiliate owed the company $2,172 and this receivable is classified as Due from affiliate in the Statement of Financial Condition. At December 31, 2015, the Company had $13,270 in an operating account with CorpBanca New York.

4. Income Taxes

There are no uncertain tax positions as of December 31, 2015.

At December 31, 2015, net operating loss carryforwards and start up costs give rise to a deferred tax asset of approximately $1,045,000 ($778,000 in 2014), for which a full valuation allowance is provided due to uncertainty of its realization.

5. Net Capital Requirements

As an SEC registered broker-dealer, CorpBanca Securities Inc. is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule ("SEA Rule 15c3-1"), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital. Under The Alternative Standard of SEA Rule 15c3-1, CorpBanca Securities Inc. is required to maintain minimum net capital equal to the greater of 2% of combined aggregated debit items or $250,000. At December 31, 2015, CorpBanca Securities Inc. had net capital of $1,062,993, which was $812,993 above its required net capital of $250,000.

6. Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash balances in one financial institution. These balances are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000 per institution. At times, the cash balance exceeds federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant risk on cash and cash equivalents.

7. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated events and transactions occurring subsequent to December 31, 2015 as of February 26, 2016, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued. Management believes that no material events have occurred since December 31, 2015 that requires recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.
