2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of presentation

These financial statements were prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America which requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash

All cash deposits are held by two financial institutions and therefore are subject to the credit risk at those financial institutions. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and does not believe there to be any significant credit risk with respect to these deposits.

Commissions Receivable

Commissions receivable are comprised of amounts due for processed trades. The Company performs a review of its receivables periodically to evaluate the need for an allowance for uncollectible accounts.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization, which is calculated on a straight-line basis over estimated useful lives of three to seven years. Leasehold improvements are amortized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Income taxes

The Company is a limited liability company, and treated as a partnership for income tax reporting purposes. The Internal Revenue Code (“IRC”) provides that any income or loss is passed through to the members for federal and state income tax purposes.

At December 31, 2015, management has determined that the Company had no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement recognition. This determination will always be subject to ongoing reevaluation as facts and circumstances may require.
