REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors
Slavic Investment Corporation

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Slavic Investment Corporation (the "Company") as of December 31, 2015, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2015, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

The computation of net capital per uniform net capital rule 15c3-1 of the securities and exchange commission, statement pursuant to Rule 17a-5(d)(2) of the securities and exchange commission, statement pursuant to information relating to the possession and control requirements under Rule 15c3-3 of the securities and exchange commission, and computation for determination of reserve requirements under rule 15c3-3 of the securities and exchange (together "supplemental information") have been subjected to audit procedures performed in conjunction with the audit of Company's financial statements. The supplemental information is the responsibility of Company's management. Our audit procedures included determining whether the supplemental information reconciles to the financial statements or the underlying accounting and other records, as applicable, and performing procedures to test the completeness and accuracy of the information presented in the supplemental information. In forming our opinion on the supplemental information, we evaluated whether the supplemental information, including its form and content is presented in conformity with 17 C.F.R. § 240.17a-5. In our opinion, the supplemental information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT

December 31, 2015

NOTE 1 - NATURE OF BUSINESS

Slavic Investment Corporation (the "Company") is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). The Company is a Florida Corporation incorporated on July 7, 1988.

The Company's business consists primarily of executing mutual fund transactions and life insurance annuities on an application way method for retirement plans administered by a related party (Note 4). The Company acts as an agent on behalf of retirement plans and reimburses any 12b-1 fees and sub-TA fees received from the mutual fund companies back to the plan participants. The Company is also a fully disclosed introducing broker/dealer for certain customers that are not part of the retirement plan administration activities. The Company does not have referral or financial arrangements with other brokers or dealers.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

REVENUE RECOGNITION AND RELATED EXPENSES

Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur (mutual fund retailer and selling variable life insurance or annuity contracts). Also included in commissions are 12b-1 fees received from mutual fund companies that do not relate to retirement plan administration activities. Commission expenses associated with these arrangements are recorded in Salary and Wages as the services are provided.

Service Fee Income – Related Party is earned when the underlying services are performed (See Note 4).

The Company considers the nature of the 12b-1 and sub-TA fees received from mutual fund companies in determining whether the consideration is payment for services delivered to customers on a gross basis as principal to the transactions or is a reimbursement of fees collected on behalf of the plan participants administered by a related party on a net basis as an agent of the transaction (Note 4). If the fees collected for services delivered to the customers and the customers receive an identifiable benefit in exchange for the consideration, the consideration is characterized as commission revenue. If the 12b-1 and sub-TA fees received from the mutual fund companies represent a refund of fees passed through to the plan participants, no revenue is recorded by the Company. Total 12b-1 and sub-TA fees received and refunded by the Company to plans administered by the related party totaled approximately $550,000 during the year ended December 31, 2015.

CONCESSIONS RECEIVABLE

Concessions receivable are commissions and 12b-1 fees earned by the Company from financial institutions. No allowances for doubtful accounts are considered necessary.

SLAVIC INVESTMENT CORPORATION

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT

December 31, 2015

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

ESTIMATES

The preparation of the accompanying financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

INCOME TAXES

The Company is taxed as a C Corporation for Federal and State income taxes. The Company accounts for income taxes under the liability method. Under this method, deferred tax liabilities and assets are determined based on the difference between the financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse. As of December 31, 2015, the Company did not have any significant differences between the financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities.

The Company recognizes and measures its unrecognized tax benefits in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") ASC 740, Income Taxes. Under that guidance the Company assesses the likelihood, based on their technical merit, that tax positions will be sustained upon examination based on the facts, circumstances and information available at the end of each period. The measurement of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when new information is available, or when an event occurs that requires a change. The Company believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations by taxing authorities for years before 2012.

The stockholders of the Company are also stockholders of Slavic Integrated Administration, Inc. ("SIA"), a retirement plan administrator. The clients of SIA utilize the services of the Company to purchase mutual funds for their participants and also utilize the investment advisor services of SMF.

The Company, through a service agreement, is compensated by SIA for the processing of 12b-1 and Sub-TA fees paid by the mutual fund companies and credited back to the plan participants. For the year ended December 31, 2015, the Company received $84,000 from SIA for these services. As of December 31, 2015, amounts due from affiliates totaled $26,014 and are non-interest bearing and due on demand.
