In forming our opinion on the supplemental information, we evaluated whether the supplemental information, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with 17 CFR §240.17a-5. In our opinion, the supplemental information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Woodside Capital Securities, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2016

Note 1 - Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of presentation

Woodside Capital Securities, LLC (the Company) is a single member limited liability company wholly owned by Woodside Capital Partners and formed in August 2009 under the laws of the State of Delaware. In October 2010, the Company registered as a broker-dealer with the Securities Exchange Commission. The Company is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority.

The Company's activities consist principally of its role as an intermediary and advisor in merger and acquisition transactions executed in the software, hardware and life sciences marketplaces. The Company also performs market research that is sold to institutional investors. Accordingly, the Company claims exemption from Securities Exchange Commission Rule 15c3-3 because it does not carry customer funds or handle customer securities.

Basis of accounting

The Company maintains its books on the accrual basis of accounting.

Revenues

Commission income consists of success fees recorded as earned pursuant to the terms of investment banking agreements.

Research income is recorded as earned when the services are provided and the fee is fixed in accordance with the terms of the research agreements.

Cash and cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of amounts on deposit with a commercial bank, in interest and non-interest bearing accounts, available on demand.

Allowance for uncollectible accounts receivable

The Company uses the allowance method to account for uncollectible accounts receivable. Under this method, the Company reviews all receivables for any problems with collection. If the Company feels that there may be a problem with collections, an allowance is provided for the receivable. When attempts to collect a specific receivable are unsuccessful, the account is considered uncollectible and is written off against the allowance. As of December 31, 2016, the Company determined that an allowance for doubtful accounts was not necessary.

Income taxes

The Company is treated as a single member limited liability company for all relevant jurisdictions and its taxable income and taxes paid, if any, are included in the income tax return of the member.

The Company follows accounting principles generally accepted in the United States related to the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. Adoption of the provisions did not have any impact on the Company's accounting for unrecognized tax liabilities. Management believes that the Company has adequately addressed all tax positions and that there are no unrecorded tax liabilities. Tax years 2013 to 2016 are open for examination by the Internal Revenue Service and years 2012 to 2016 by the California Franchise Tax Board.

Use of estimates

The Company prepares its financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect amounts and disclosures reported in these financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimated.

Note 2 - Transactions with member

Under the terms of an expense sharing agreement, the Company receives the benefit of certain office and administrative services provided by its member. For the year ended December 31, 2016, the Company received these services at no charge.

Woodside Capital Securities, LLC (the Company) is a limited broker-dealer, offering investment banking and research services. The Company does not directly handle customer funds or securities or any other duties associated with a clearing broker or dealer. The Company is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) in the event a transaction with a public entity requires a broker-dealer to hold credentials with the SEC.

In accordance with Rule 17a-5 of §240 of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, the Company performs an annual audit and files "Report pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the securities exchange act of 1934" with the SEC. On that report the Company claims exemption to Rule 15c3-3 based on exemption k (2) (i), which is noted below.

(k) Exemptions.

(2) The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to a broker or dealer:

(i) Who, carries no margin accounts, promptly transmits all customer funds and delivers all securities received in connection with his activities as a broker or dealer, does not otherwise hold funds or securities for, or owe money or securities to, customers and effectuates all financial transactions between the broker or dealer and his customers through one or more bank accounts each to be designated as "Special Account for the Exclusive Benefit of Customers of Woodside Capital Securities, LLC".

The nature of the business of the Company qualifies the firm for this exemption. Further, management has evaluated transactions executed for the year and has verified that no customer funds have been received or distributed for securities transactions or for customer accounts and the Company does not maintain customer accounts. Therefore, the Company has met the identified exemption provisions throughout the recent fiscal year end without exception.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Member of Woodside Capital Securities, LLC

We have reviewed management's statements, included in the accompanying Assertions of Exemption of a Non-Carrying Broker or Dealer Required by Rule 17a-5(d)(4) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (Report), in which Woodside Capital Securities, LLC (the Company) identified the following provisions of 17 CFR §15c3-3(k) under which it claimed an exemption from 17 CFR §240.15c3-3: (2)(i) (exemption provisions) and the Company stated that it met the identified exemption provisions throughout the most recent fiscal year without exception. The management of the Company is responsible for compliance with the exemption provisions and its statements.

Our review was conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) and, accordingly, included inquiries and other required procedures to obtain evidence about the compliance by the Company with the exemption provisions. A review is substantially less in scope than an examination, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion on the statements of management. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to management's statements referred to above for them to be fairly stated, in all material respects, based on the provisions set forth in paragraph (k)(2)(i) of Rule 15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.
