Re: Pay Ratio Disclosure, File No. S7-07-13

Dear Ms. Murphy,

I am an investor.

I strongly support regulations that would require publicly-traded companies to disclose CEO-to-median worker pay ratios. As income inequality reaches unprecedented heights, the public has the right to know which corporations are fueling the yawning gap between rich and poor.

Disclosure of CEO-to-worker pay ratios are also crucial for investors. This information is important for determining whether corporations are diverting resources to executives at the expense of development. Additionally, investors need to be able to gauge whether executives' compensation is falling in line with their performance in a corporation..

Executive CEO's have been watching out for themselves across the board Banking corp.,so called (credit) financial institution still are forking it out???. and the Governments current stucture is still bought-out backed-up, that they deserve privacy where the rest of the population is under scrutiney,.... they are embaessed to acknowledge the deeds... well then don't expect the public taxes to further your embeslements, (Right to Know and disclose in america if questioned,challengeded is the law. I thought!)

Martha T. Franks

Sincerely,

Martha Franks
