Re: Facilitating Director Nominations (File No. S7-10-09)

Dear Secretary Murphy:

On behalf of the Sisters of Mercy Regional Community of Detroit Charitable Trust, an investment program of the Institute of Sisters of Mercy of the Americas in its West Midwest Community, I support the Securities and Exchange Commission's proposed rule, Facilitating Shareholder Director Nominations. The financial crisis we are undergoing calls attention to the failure of some boards, particularly in the financial services industry, to protect long-term shareholders' interests as well as the need to strengthen accountability of boards and management.

We believe granting long-term shareholders the right to nominate directors, thus, ending the virtual monopoly of board and management to determine director slates, will lead to more effective oversight of U.S. publicly traded companies' boards and to broad financial reform. We agree with the SEC that reforms outlined in the SEC's proposed Rule 14a-11 and revisions to Rule 14a-8(i)(8) are long overdue and should be adopted and made effective immediately. We support application of Rule 14a-11 as proposed and welcome the opportunity to comment on points still under consideration.

We agree with the SEC position that the proposed rule should:

- Permit shareholders to aggregate holdings to meet the minimum share ownership thresholds.
- Grant only long-term shareowners, those holding stock for at least one year, access to nominate directors.
- Employ safeguards to ensure that access is not used as a takeover mechanism by short-term profit seekers. Outline strong independence standards for director nominees.
- Require full and accurate disclosure by nominating groups, including pertinent information about nominated directors.

- Allow nominating shareholders to make statements of opposition against the election of other board members on the company's slate in the proxy statement.
- Authorize shareholders to file resolutions related to the issue of board elections.
- Become effective immediately without a lengthy implementation period, associated triggering mechanism or exemption or delay for smaller issuers.

We also take this opportunity to comment on three features of the proposed rule of particular interest to us:

- Priority access: We favor an approach whereby the largest beneficial owner or group of owners gain proxy access, as opposed to awarding access to the first shareholder or group of shareholders filing. Our concern is that a first come, first serve approach might force shareholders to rush to file and result in a less thoughtful process than is otherwise possible. We also believe that the investor or group with the greatest stake in the director election and the company's long-term financial performance should prevail in these situations.
- Failed nominations and resubmitting candidates: We believe that there should not be any waiting period for resubmitting candidates failing to win election to a board.
- Shareholder proposals: We oppose permitting companies subject to Rule 14a-11 to exclude shareholder proposals that they otherwise would be required to include. We know from experience that shareholder proposal rule 14a-8 opens dialogue between management and shareholders on environmental, social and governance issues that have significant consequences for long-term shareholder value as well as society.

We agree with investor colleagues that there is a strong case for proxy access based on equity, good governance, transparency and accountability. Proxy access is necessary and appropriate for protection of investors and the greater public good. We support the SEC's approach to proxy access and appreciate the opportunity to express our views on this matter. The Sisters of Mercy Trust commends the Commission's efforts to enhance investor access to company management.
