

As a registered representative and a CFP I oppose the SEC allowing broker-dealers to set their own commissions. It would result in less, not more, informed counsel being available to investors.

I oppose this decision on the basis that it reinforces the notion that price rather than knowledge is the way to identify the best choice of investments.

Beverly S Kafkas, CFP