Re: Reporting of Securities Loans (File No. S7-18-21)

Dear Secretary Countryman:

I am writing in strong support of rule 10c-1, "Reporting of Securities Loans."

Much like the SEC Form 4 filing, which requires full-transparency in regards to insider trading practices, this new requirement will help to provide increased transparency to the public where it did not exist before. If the public is more informed, they will be able to make better educated decisions on their investments. Likewise, the public will be able to provide further support for the SEC by flagging market manipulation and predatory short-selling practices.

I am weary of any party who opposes this new requirement as increased transparency can only hurt those who have something to hide. I believe that this proposal will help to restore the public's confidence in the market as it will hold all investors to the same level of accountability, transparency, and compliance.

Thank you for striving toward creating a fair market for all.

Sincerely,

A Concerned Investor
