

I remain in full support of this proposal. It offers a significant advantage in terms of market transparency when viewed in conjunction with existing reporting requirements.

Despite concerns raised by others about potential liquidity and operational issues for large entities like MFAs and hedge funds, I stand firm in my support for this proposal.

I'm enthusiastic about endorsing this initiative because it safeguards market integrity, facilitates genuine price discovery, and enables accurate security health assessments. Furthermore, it provides valuable insights into the reasons behind the valuation of securities on the open market. This real-time and precise information parallels the data accessible to market makers.
