PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

The Division of Enforcement (“Division”) respectfully submits this Omnibus Motion in Limine to preclude Respondents from offering unduly duplicative, irrelevant, or unreliable documentary evidence, and to preclude irrelevant, immaterial, or unreliable testimony.

Five months ago, this Court ordered the parties to exchange witness and exhibit lists, as well as pre-marked exhibits, on March 1, 2017. See Scheduling Order, Rel. No. 4237 (Oct. 7, 2016). Respondents provided a draft of their list to the Division on March 1, with new iterations coming on March 5 and late yesterday, and only began producing their marked exhibits to the Division on March 5, with new documents trickling in ever since. Respondents’ latest list of nearly 1,500 documents (three times the size of the Division’s list) is littered with duplicative entries and irrelevant and unreliable documents plainly meant to defer until later decisions about what exhibits to use at the hearing, to distract from the issues in dispute in this matter, or both.

In the face of Respondents’ moving target exhibit list, the Division objects to the admission of documents that (1) purport to show the contents of Respondents’ website, as well as witness testimony to that effect, as irrelevant and unreliable; (2) are irrelevant and immaterial to the legal issues in this proceeding (e.g., documents addressing the due diligence Respondents’ investors could have conducted; documents that purport to show secondary collateral for certain investments; and documents about the day-to-day administration of the funds); (3) contain unreliable hearsay, such as sworn statements, certain emails, and audit and valuation reports; and (4) are unreliable because they are redacted, incomplete, or of an unknown origin or destination.

Respondents’ witness list suffers from similar defects. It purports to offer the testimony of two individuals—Brett Fields and Kyle Vataha—that have no relevant or reliable testimony to offer and to which the Division accordingly objects. The Division also objects to the testimony of Respondents' experts to the extent they opine as to the ultimate issue to be tried in this case, and to the testimony of any lay or fact witnesses improperly couched as the testimony of an expert.

Respondents' exhibit and witness lists provide insight into why their counsel suggested, at the initial pre-hearing conference, that Respondents' defense may take as long or longer to present than the Division's case. Respondents want to focus on matters unrelated to the relevant issues, which are what Respondents' actually represented to investors, the reasons those statements and omissions are material, false and otherwise misleading, and the evidence of Respondents' scienter. The Division urges the Court to limit the hearing to those witnesses and documents relevant to Respondents' liability for their fraud.

ARGUMENT

Under Rule 320 of the Commission's Rules of Practice, "the hearing officer . . . shall exclude all evidence that is irrelevant, immaterial, unduly repetitious, or unreliable." 17 C.F.R. § 201.320(a) (emphasis added). The Division objects to the introduction of evidence at trial—documentary or testimonial—that does not meet the standards of relevance, materiality, repetitiveness, or reliability set forth by the Rule.

I. Respondents Should Be Precluded from Offering Irrelevant, Immaterial, or Unreliable Documentary Evidence

As a threshold matter, the Division objects to Respondents' exhibit list as a whole as unduly repetitious. If Respondents included the same documents more than once to use each for a different purpose, they should make an offer of proof as to how they intend to use their many seemingly identical documents.¹ In a matter where the Division bears the burden of proof on most issues, the Division submitted an exhibit list less than one-third the size of Respondents', rather than bloat the record with documents with little or no connection to the issues to be tried simply because they bear a proposed witness's name. To facilitate an efficient hearing, and avoid trial by surprise, Respondents' should do the same. The Division further objects to the introduction of certain specific exhibits that are irrelevant, immaterial, and/or unreliable, as set forth below.

A. Documents Relating to Materials on Respondents' Website Are Irrelevant, Immaterial, and Unreliable

At various points in these proceedings, Respondents have advanced that certain information about the two funds at issue (the "Funds") was available on Respondents' website. Their exhibit list now contains certain documents that purport to indicate that certain materials were on that website, but all such documents contain a fatal defect: at most, they purport to show the contents of the website as of November 2016,² a date after the filing of the Order Instituting Proceedings in this matter, let alone any offer or sale the Division alleges was fraudulent. Respondents should be precluded from adducing evidence of what documents were available through their website absent reliable evidence of what was available at the times of the misrepresentations alleged in the OIP, not as of November 2016.³

B. Documents Irrelevant to the Issues to Be Tried Are Inadmissible

Documents About Potential Investor Due Diligence. As stated more fully in the Division's prehearing brief, this case is about Respondents' actions, not what Respondents believe their elsewhere in Respondents' exhibit list, including but not limited to as attachments within other exhibits.

² See, e.g., Resp. Exs. 2342-2353 (website collection reports time-stamped as of November 2016).

³ In addition to the documents identified supra at note 2, the Division objects to Respondents' Exhibits 2341, and 2354 through 2364, and to the testimony of Allen Hakim and the "Foundation Witness" from "PageFreezer Software, Inc." on the same bases.

investors should have done. Unlike in private securities cases, the due diligence Respondents believe investors could, or should, have conducted is not relevant. See generally Division of Enforcement’s Prehearing Brief at 27-28.

Respondents’ proposed exhibit list demonstrates that Respondents intend to stage a sideshow by introducing documents that were not routinely (if ever) provided to potential (as opposed to existing) investors. To the extent Respondents simply wish to demonstrate—and can demonstrate—that certain information was available to investors, the Division does not object to the introduction of such exhibits. The Division objects, however, to the admission of Fund documents—from those purportedly available to investors who searched Respondents’ website, to other standalone exhibits such as financial statements and quarterly audit reports—to support a “blame-the-investors” defense not available to Respondents in this proceeding.⁴

Evidence Regarding Secondary Collateral for the Funds’ Investments. The Division alleges that Respondents told investors that the Funds were investing in one type of legal fees—associated with cases that were settled or otherwise past the point of disputes—when they were in fact investing in not settled or otherwise finalized cases. That Respondents may have had other sources from which they hoped to collect on the monies they advanced with respect to these matters is not relevant to questions at the heart of this case: whether Respondents knowingly told investors they were investing in resolved cases while actually investing in unresolved matters. Accordingly, the Division moves to preclude the admission of documents that purport to show secondary collateral Respondents hoped to attain if the attorneys they funded lost their underlying cases, including guaranties or audit reports regarding these attorneys' inventories, as immaterial and irrelevant.⁵

Evidence About the Administration of Respondents' Funds. Respondents' exhibit list contains numerous documents that relate to the administration of their two funds.⁶ Moreover, one of Respondents' proposed experts, David X. Martin, spends much of his report opining that "RD Legal's Portfolio Risk Management Processes Were Performed According to Industry Standards," Resp. Ex. 2393 at ¶¶ 70-74, and Respondents propose to offer the testimony of Frank Franiak to discuss "the services Woodfield provides to the funds under its services agreement." This evidence is immaterial and irrelevant to the issues to be tried, which center on statements Respondents made to investors, not on how their Funds were administrated. Again, there is no reason to extend an already-lengthening proceeding with irrelevant evidence and testimony.

C. Prior Sworn Statements and Unreliable Hearsay Are Inadmissible

Prior Sworn Statements. Respondents should not be permitted to introduce the sworn declaration of non-party witness Ned Doubleday, Resp. Ex. 2322, or of testimony provided in an Italian Court, Resp. Ex. 2487. Rule 235(a) speaks specifically to when a party may introduce a sworn statement from individuals who are not adverse, permitting a person wishing to offer such statement to "make a motion setting forth the reasons therefor." 17 C.F.R. § 201.235(a) (emphasis added). Respondents have made no such motion for Mr. Doubleday or the foreign testimony. Furthermore, as the Court may recall, at the August 22, 2016 Initial Prehearing Conference, Respondents specifically objected to the use of prior sworn statements, arguing that it is "really important" to have the opportunity to cross-examine witnesses. Ex. B (Aug. 22, 2016 Prehearing Conf. Tr.) at 20. Accordingly, the Division did not include any declarations on its exhibit list (including only those transcripts of adverse party witnesses as defined and permitted explicitly by Rule 235(b)). As Respondents cannot offer any reason why Rule 235 should not apply to them, they should not be permitted to offer Exhibits 2322 or 2487 as evidence.

⁶ E.g., id. 1074; 2242 & 2243.

Documents that Contain Facially Unreliable Hearsay. In their proposed exhibit list, Respondents offer documents that contain hearsay, including emails and notes, for which no witness is currently slated to testify at trial. For example, Respondents purport to offer emails between Nate Anderson and other individuals, as well as Mr. Anderson's and others' notes.⁷

The Division objects to the introduction of these documents as containing unreliable hearsay. Under Rule 320(b), hearsay evidence may be admitted "if it is relevant, material, and bears satisfactory indicia of reliability so that its use is fair." 17 C.F.R. § 201.320(b). In adopting the rule, the Commission explained that a "case-by-case determination of the admissibility of hearsay evidence is more appropriate" and that this analysis turned in part on the availability and credibility of the declarant, as well as his or her motives or potential biases, and whether those statements are contradicted or consistent with direct testimony. Adopting Release for Amended Rules of Practice, Rel. No. 34-78319 at *63-64 (July 13, 2016) ("Adopting Release"); see also In re Abbondante, Rel. No. 34-53066, 2006 WL 42393, at *8 (S.E.C. Jan. 6, 2006).

⁷ See, e.g., Resp. Ex. 1947; 1950; 2100; 2101; 2147 & 2247 (communications between Nate Anderson and others not slated to testify); id. 2130 & 2436 (notes of unknown provenance); id. 2044 (communication between individuals not on witness lists).

The out of court statements of Mr. Anderson (an individual within this Court's subpoena jurisdiction, and who was identified as a whistleblower and later deposed in this action), and of any other available individuals not slated for testimony, are unreliable and should be precluded.⁸

Documents that May Contain Unreliable Hearsay Depending on their Purpose. The Division similarly objects to other documents that could constitute unreliable hearsay, depending on the purpose for which they are offered. For example, Respondents' exhibit list contains valuation reports by its agent, Pluris Valuation, numerous audit reports conducted by the law firm of Smith Mazure, and other audit reports.⁹ To the extent Respondents wish to offer these documents for the truth of the matter asserted in them—i.e., to prove the actual value of the Funds' assets or the contents of an audit report—the Division objects to their use as unreliable hearsay. The Division submits that the Court should reserve consideration of these documents' admissibility until hearing from the declarants relevant to each document so that it can make an informed, case-by-case determination as to purpose for which such documents might be admitted, and the reliability of any hearsay contained therein.¹⁰

⁸ The Division has not noted objections to Respondents' exhibits evidencing communications involving at least one individual slated to testify. The Division reserves the right to object to the admission of such documents should Respondents fail to call the individuals related to such communications or otherwise offer evidence regarding the reliability of such hearsay.

¹⁰ In addition, to the extent these documents relate to Respondents' improper "reliance on the advice of counsel and other professionals" defense with respect to Offering and Marketing Materials, the Division objects to their admissibility for the reasons set forth in the Division's

D. Redacted or Incomplete Documents Are Unreliable

Redacted Documents. The Division objects to documents that contain unnecessary redactions, because the reliability of those documents cannot be ascertained without their complete and unaltered versions.¹¹ To the extent redactions are to protect personal information or information over which Respondents are claiming privilege, they should be marked accordingly.

Respondent Roni Dersovitz's Incomplete Tax Returns. The Division objects to the introduction of incomplete, and therefore unreliable, evidence of Respondents' financial condition such as Respondent Roni Dersovitz's tax returns. The Division further objects to these materials given that Respondents have refused to provide documents germane to any potential inability to pay defense, urging the Court to defer "discovery into Respondents' financial condition . . . until such time as it may be needed." Ex. C (Letter from T. Healy to Hon. Carol Fox Foelak dated Sept. 30, 2016) at 5.¹² If Respondents intend to adduce evidence demonstrating their claimed inability to pay disgorgement or penalties in this matter, a complete disclosure of such information is needed.

Documents of Unknown Provenance or with Unknown Recipients. Respondents' exhibit list is also littered with a litany of documents that are not self-authenticating (such as documents purporting to show the Funds' financial conditions, statements of withdrawals of assets from the Funds, and statements of the Funds' claimed expenses), or that are otherwise incomplete because motion to preclude such defense, submitted concurrently herewith. In their objections to Respondents' Exhibit List, the Division has not now noted its objections to any document that could be offered to advance such improper defense, but reserves the right to oppose their admission to further that defense pending the resolution of the Division's motion to preclude that defense.

¹¹ See, e.g., Resp. Exs. 1025-26; 1028-30; 1034; 1048; 1058; 1064-65; 1073; 1083; 1103; 1117; 1151; 1192; 1240; 1243; 1249; 1349; 1425; 1494; 1496; 1659; 1661; 1718; 1723; 1795; 1822; 1826 & 1943 (audit reports with redactions); see also id. 2320 & 2417 (other redacted documents).

¹² See, e.g., id. 1294; 1563; 1887; 2090; 2264 & 2470. The Division also objects to any other incomplete documents as unreliable, such as Respondents' Exhibits 2155 and 2264.

they do not show a list of recipients. Absent evidence relating to the creation of these documents, to the source of the information contained therein, or to the fact that such documents were delivered to any relevant party, the Division objects to their admission as unreliable.¹³

II. Respondents Should Be Precluded from Offering the Testimony of Irrelevant, Immaterial, or Unreliable Witnesses

The Division also objects to the introduction of testimonial evidence, in whole or in part, from certain witnesses as irrelevant, immaterial, or unreliable, as set forth below.

Expert Opinions on the Ultimate Issue of Liability. The proposed expert report of David X. Martin is replete with impermissible and unreliable opinions about the ultimate issue for this Court as trier of fact to determine in this case—whether Respondents’ statements to investors violated the antifraud provisions of the securities laws. For example, Mr. Martin states that “it is [his] opinion that the SEC’s allegation that RD Legal was misrepresenting the type of assets it was purchasing is plainly not correct from an investor perspective.” See Resp. Ex. 2393 at ¶ 12; see also id. at ¶ 20. Similarly, the expert report of Leon Metzger states that “[i]n [his] opinion, the SEC’s allegations fail to show that RDLC made any materially false statement or omission in connection with the sale of partnership interests in the Funds.” Resp. Ex. 2396 at ¶ 58; see also id. at ¶¶ 72-73, 143.

Expert “opinions” as to the ultimate issue are unreliable, and Messrs. Martin and Metzger should not be permitted to offer them. It is the province of this Court, as fact-finder and based on the totality of the evidence adduced at trial (and not based on Respondents’ self-serving presentation), to determine whether Respondents violated the antifraud provisions of the securities laws. Cf. Marx & Co., Inc. v. Diner’s Club, Inc., 550 F.2d 505, 512 (2d Cir. 1977) (“experience is hardly a qualification for construing a document for its legal effect when there is a knowledgeable gentleman in a robe” able to instruct the jury on the law).

Lay Witnesses Purporting to Provide Expert Testimony. In their preliminary list of potential expert witnesses, Respondents listed twenty individuals as “Witnesses Who Have Not Been Retained Or Specially Employed To Provide Testimony In This Matter But Who May Testify At The Hearing In The Form Of Opinion Based On Scientific, Technical, Or Specialized Knowledge.” See Ex. D (First Amended List of Potential Expert Witnesses of Respondents) at 2-3. Seventeen of those individuals reappear on Respondents’ Final Witness List.¹⁴

But Rule 222(b) requires that any party intending to call a witness as an expert submit, inter alia, a statement of the expert’s qualifications and a list of publications and other expert testimony provided by the witness. 17 C.F.R. § 201.222(b). In adopting this rule, the Commission explicitly noted that it “require[s] parties to a proceeding who intend to call expert witnesses to submit information about these expert witnesses.” Adopting Release at *85 (July 13, 2016).

None of the foregoing seventeen witnesses have been submitted as an expert and Respondents have not complied with Rule 222(b)’s expert disclosure requirements, as mandated by this Court’s scheduling order, with respect to any of them.¹⁵ Accordingly, none should be permitted to testify in this capacity. See United States v. Cruz, 981 F.2d 659, 664 (2d. Cir. 1992)

¹⁴ The witnesses are David Backens, Todd Dawes, Roni Dersovitz, Frank Faniak, Scott Gottlieb, Amy Hirsch, Travis Hutchinson, Thomas Lowe, Katarina Markovic, James C. Martin, Daniel Osborn, Espen Robak, Dennis Schall, Joel M. Simon, Corey A. Tavel, Kyle Vataha, and Leo Zatta.

¹⁵ In their exhibit list, Respondents include the resume and speaking engagements of lay witness Amy Hirsch. See Resp. Exs. 2320 & 2421. These exhibits, provided to the Division after the Court’s January 27, 2017 expert disclosure deadline, should not be permitted to qualify Ms. Hirsch as a quasi-expert in any field, as the Division was not given the opportunity to test that expertise or depose her as an expert. If offered for any other purpose, the exhibits should be precluded as irrelevant.

(holding that expert testimony could not be used “solely to bolster the credibility of the government’s fact witnesses by mirroring their version of events”). Respondents cannot “evade the expert witness disclosure requirements [] by simply calling an expert witness in the guise of a layperson.” Adv. Comm. Notes to 2000 Amd. to Fed. R. Evid. 701.

Brent Fields. The Division objects to Respondents’ proposal to call Brent Fields, the Secretary of the Commission, “to testify about various SEC documents, web pages, policies, and procedures regarding the constitutionality of SEC proceedings.” Presumably, Respondents seek such testimony (and related documents, e.g., Ex. 2283) to support a claim that the Commission’s method of hiring administrative law judges (ALJs) violates the Appointments Clause of the U.S. Constitution. See U.S. CONST. ART. II, § 2, cl. 2. But the Division does not dispute that Judge Foelak was not appointed in the manner required for constitutional officers. See Mohammed Riad & Kevin Timothy Swanson, Rel. No. 4420A, 2016 WL 3627183, at *47 (July 7, 2016). And because the Division believes that this is the only factual information legally relevant to a potential Appointments Clause challenge, the Division opposes Respondents’ intent to call Mr. Fields to testify. Moreover, the Commission has held that the Commission’s ALJs are employees, not constitutional officers, and thus are not subject to Article II’s requirements. See Harding Advisory LLC & Wing F. Chau, S.E.C. Rel. No. 4600, 2017 WL 66592, at *19 n.90 (Jan. 6, 2017).

Kyle Vataha. Respondents purport to offer the testimony of Kyle Vataha, an employee of the Funds’ valuation agent Pluris, to testify about “the valuation of the assets in the funds’ portfolio.” They have also included in their exhibit list an email between Mr. Vataha and Respondent Roni Dersovitz regarding the value of the Funds’ portfolio. See Resp. Ex. 1749.

Offering the testimony of Mr. Vataha is another example of Respondents’ wanting to have it both ways with respect to the advice they claim to have received from purported experts and from counsel. Respondents have prevented the Division from inquiring into the very email they now purport to offer into evidence, a communication between Mr. Dersovitz and Mr. Vataha (a non-lawyer employee of a valuation firm), asserting the document is covered by the attorney-client privilege. See Ex. E (Div. Ex. 204 (Transcript of Testimony of Roni Dersovitz dated Jan. 29, 2016)) at 365:3-366:17. In fact, Respondents requested that the Division destroy copies of this and other such documents, alleging they were prepared in connection with Mr. Dersovitz's estate planning at the behest of his counsel. See Ex. F (Letter from T. Healy to V. Suthammanont dated Feb. 25, 2016) at 1-3; see also Ex. G (Email from S. Wolfe to J. Tenreiro & V. Suthammanont dated Feb. 10, 2016) (Respondents' valuation agent requesting similar sequestering of documents).

Evidence Mr. Vataha may offer regarding "the valuation" of the funds' assets is therefore unreliable and immaterial because, according to Respondents, his work had nothing to do with the valuation of the funds. "[Its] sole purpose [was] assisting [Mr. Dersovitz's counsel] with legal advice related to estate planning." See Ex. F at 2. In any event, fairness requires preclusion of evidence Respondents have previously shielded from scrutiny, particularly in light of their broader refusal to produce evidence regarding Mr. Dersovitz's financial condition. See generally Division's March 8, 2017 Motion in Limine to Preclude Respondents' Reliance Defense for Offering Memoranda and Marketing Materials, submitted herewith.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Division respectfully requests that the Court grant its motion in limine to preclude Respondents from offering irrelevant, immaterial, unreliable, and duplicative documentary and testimonial evidence.

Dated: March 8, 2017

1 different issues. Including the Iran case which 2 you've probably saw discussed in the OIP or the 3 answer.

4 So there's a significant amount of -- given
5 the nature of this fund and the types of things they 6 invested in there is a significant amount of 7 communication with outside attorneys that the 8 Respondents relied upon. Many of those
9 communications the company did not maintain a 10 privilege over.

11 So, for example, there were very 12 substantive legal memos from Reed Smith regarding 13 the -- either the Iran case that is at the center of 14 this OIP, those have been provided to the staff and 15 to investors as well. So that is an example where 16 lawyers, professionals in their field, gave advice to 17 Respondents and Respondents acted upon that advice.

18 Now, we could argue at a more academic 19 level, does this fall within a reliance on counsel
20 defense or is this part of showing compliance with a 21 prudent standard to care. We can't say exactly, but 22 those are the types of things where I think it is -- 23 the Respondents fairly relied upon outside 24 professionals and that is part of what we view as the 25 reliance that we disclosed in the answer.

1 MR. WILLINGHAM: Your Honor, this is Mr.

2 Willingham.

3 We -- we had a call, as you know, in 4 advance of the call today with the Division and we
5 discussed that issue. And the Division informed us
6 that they would be seeking to put on live witnesses
7 for the most part. And we put them on notice that we 8 would be objecting if we were prevented a chance to 9 cross-examine the witnesses. That would be, in our 10 view, a violation of our due process rights, number 11 one.

12 Number two, we believe just from the 13 intense factual nature, this is a case, Your Honor, 14 where multiple disclosures were made regarding these 15 very same issues in writing to all of the investors
16 and the Division has taken the position that despite 17 those written disclosures, oral statements to 18 investors at various stages of the proceedings that 19 are at issue, in fact, trump that. And so, we are 20 going to need the chance to cross-examine each and 21 every one of those potential declarants and/or 22 witnesses that the Division puts on. That's one
23 issue. We think that that's really important to us.

24 And then I want to circle back, Your Honor,
25 to the issue of experts.

1 we're headed in that direction where we all feel the
2 same way anyway. Some of that will depend on witness
3 availability. I'm sure we'll have to deal with that 4 going forward, but as of right now we intend to issue
5 a subpoena to anybody that we understand is going to 6 be a declarant or a witness for the SEC -- for the 7 Division.

8 With regard to just the issue of discovery
9 and experts in general, Your Honor, one issue we did
10 raise with the Division on the call and that we ask
11 the court to consider is with regard to experts.
12 There appear to be, at least for us, a number of 13 experts that we're going to want to put on that I'm 14 sure the Division is going to want to depose. And 15 I -- we understand anyway that the Division may have 16 an expert or two waiting in the wings. Given the 17 large number of witnesses, we'd ask that we be given
18 the right to take five depositions under the new rule
19 of the fact witnesses and that the expert depositions
20 or expert witnesses that we have a right to depose
21 them separate and apart.

22 It shouldn't add too much in terms of the 23 total number of depositions. Maybe one or two for 24 the Division. Two or three for us. We're willing 25 to, of course, do the same thing for them, but in

Re: In the Matter of RD Legal Capital, LLC, et al.
Administrative Proceeding No. 3-17342

Dear Judge Foelak:

We represent RD Legal Capital, LLC and Roni Dersovitz (“Respondents”) in the above matter. Respondents respectfully oppose the September 16, 2016 request of the Division of Enforcement (the “Division”) for subpoenas to be issued in this matter (Attachment A). As set forth below, the subpoenas the Division requests (“Requested Subpoenas”) are unreasonable, oppressive, excessive in scope, and unduly burdensome.¹

We believe it is important to put the current request of the Division into context. During a more than year-long investigation, the Division requested, and Respondents provided, approximately one million pages of documents through 38 separate productions. The Division also received an additional one million pages of documents from third parties. After having filed this administrative proceeding—and thus indicating to the Court and public that it was prepared to move forward on an expedited basis—the Division now seeks to compel additional discovery from Respondents. The information the Division now requests is either duplicative of earlier requests from the investigation or shockingly broad in scope and burdensome.

Specifically, the Requested Subpoenas seek to compel: (i) all documents relating to any communications concerning any legal advice requested by, or provided to, Respondents on any issue regarding Respondents’ funds over a more than five-year period; (ii) documents sufficient to demonstrate Respondents’ financial condition as of July 14, 2016; and (iii) all notes taken by one of Respondents' employees during the course of her employment. Two of these requests seek information already provided in the investigation, and the third is hopelessly overbroad. Respondents should not be burdened with responding to this excessive and duplicative discovery at a time when they are preparing to present their case in chief. The Court should decline to issue the Requested Subpoenas.

I. Request Related to Respondents' Reliance on Professionals

All documents relating to any legal advice requested by, or provided to, [Respondents] concerning any communications since June 2011 regarding RD Legal Funding Partners, LP, RD Legal Funding Offshore Fund, Ltd., RD Legal Funding Special Opportunities Fund, L.P., or RD Legal Special Opportunities Fund L.P. Ltd. ("Funds"), including, without limitation, any offering memoranda, marketing materials or other written or oral communication regarding the funds.

n.2: To the extent [Respondents] claim[] any privilege over documents described herein, the Division seeks a log identifying the subject matter of any withheld documents, the author(s) and recipient(s) of such documents, and the date of such documents.

Respondents object to the sheer breadth of this request and the immense burden it would place on them to respond during the time they are preparing for the hearing on the merits.² Both RD Legal Capital, LLC and Mr. Dersovitz have consulted numerous attorneys and law firms over the past five years concerning any number of issues regarding the funds. Indeed, the privilege log produced to the Division during the investigation identified more than 200 attorneys with whom Respondents had privileged communications during the time in question. That privilege log was prepared following a long review of Respondents' electronic files—at significant cost to Respondents—to identify information responsive to specific requests from the Division. The information the Division now seeks, which is unlimited as to subject matter, is even broader in scope.

In this request, the Division seeks to invade the attorney-client privileges of Respondents, pulling in communications outside the scope of any issues raised in the case. It would be extremely burdensome—and unnecessary—for Respondents to identify, collect, and produce documents relating communications concerning any legal advice requested or received on any issue affecting the funds since June 2011. It would be equally burdensome—and unnecessary—for Respondents to have to prepare a privilege log covering all such legal communications conducted during this five-year period.

² See 17 C.F.R. § 201.232(b); see, e.g., Order on Subpoenas, Admin. Proc. File No. 3-14848 (Aug. 20, 2012) (Murray, Chief ALJ) (denying motion for issuance of a subpoena as "unreasonable, excessive in scope, and unduly burdensome" because, inter alia, the subpoena would require a party to undertake data collection just as it is preparing its case in chief); Order on Application to Quash, Admin. Proc. File No. 3-14697 (Apr. 27, 2012) (Murray, Chief ALJ) (finding subpoena requests unreasonable and unduly burdensome because gathering the requested information would take weeks or months).

In a September 12, 2016 letter to the Court, the Division argued it “is entitled to know whether Respondents are claiming reliance on counsel as a defense to the allegations in the OIP.” We agree. That is why Respondents identified reliance on professionals as an additional defense in their answer, thus discharging their obligation under amended Rule 220. The Division is entitled to nothing more under the Rules of Practice. It certainly is not entitled to compel Respondents to search for any document related to any advice concerning any legal issue over a five year period. The request for an issuance of subpoenas on this issue should be denied.

II. Request for Notes of Katarina Markovic³

All notes taken by Katarina Markovic in the course of her employment by RD Legal Capital, LLC or any affiliated entity or fund concerning any business conducted, investments made by, or communications concerning RD Legal Funding Partners, LP or RD Legal Funding Offshore Fund, Ltd.

n.1: The Division only seeks responsive materials not previously provided to the staff.

Respondents already produced the notes of Katarina Markovic in response to a subpoena dated February 8, 2016 (Attachment B). During a meet-and-confer telephone conference, the Division requested that Respondents review and produce unredacted copies of certain notes of Ms. Markovic that had been previously redacted for lack of responsiveness. Respondents subsequently produced the requested notes in unredacted form and provided the Division with an updated privilege log. The Division then requested that Respondents provide a more detailed privilege log concerning the notes that were redacted for attorney-client privilege to identify the specific legal counsel participating in the communications. Respondents have updated their privilege log with this additional information and are providing the updated log to the Division today.

The request for a subpoena for Ms. Markovic’s notes thus seeks information the Division has already asked for and already received. There is no reason to go through this exercise again. The request for an issuance of subpoenas on this issue should therefore be denied.

III. Request Related to Monetary Relief Sought

Documents sufficient to demonstrate [Respondents’] financial condition as of July 14, 2016.

³ This request is directed to RD Legal Capital, LLC only. Ms. Markovic is the head of investor relations for Respondents.

The Division requests information related to the financial condition of Respondents. This request would largely only supplement information provided to the Division during the investigation. For the reasons set forth below, Respondents respectfully ask that this request be denied at this time.

During the telephonic initial hearing on August 22, 2016, the Court directed the Division to provide Respondents the amount of any monetary remedies the Division seeks against them in this case. The Court indicated that this was required because, if Respondents were to argue an inability to pay such remedies, they would need to present evidence of that inability at the hearing.

Following the hearing, the Division sent a letter to Respondents on August 25, 2016 in which it indicated the Division would seek a staggering $42,690,680 in disgorgement from Respondents, including $7,969,209 in disgorgement against Mr. Dersovitz personally, plus “additional profits” and tier three penalties. These figures, frankly, are detached from any reasonable interpretation of the factual record in this case. Not knowing what to make of these picked-from-the-sky numbers, it is difficult for Respondents to even evaluate their need to put forth a showing of an inability to pay.

Respondents feel confident they will prevail on the merits in this case. That aside, even if we assume for argument there was a finding of liability, there is no rational justification for the disgorgement figures stated above. For example, the net draw to Mr. Dersovitz—from whom the Division seeks nearly $8 million—for his operation of the investor funds during the subject period of the complaint (2011 to present) averaged less than $750,000 annually. As the Division knows from information provided during the investigation, since the time when the funds entered a period of illiquidity in mid-2015, Mr. Dersovitz has committed his own personal capital to sustain the ongoing operation of the funds and to pay the necessary expenses (payroll, payroll taxes, legal fees, insurance, rent, etc.) to preserve the funds’ assets. These facts were well discussed and well documented during the investigation. The Division can make no showing Mr. Dersovitz received $7.9 million in “gains” during the period of the complaint, much less that they were ill-gotten.

Moreover, there is no basis for the Division to seek third-tier penalties against Respondents. As the Court understands, tier three penalties require a showing of substantial losses, or risks of such losses, to investors. In this case, there were no losses to investors, much less substantial ones. In fact, all of the investors in Respondents’ funds have realized significant double-digit compounded annual returns from their investments. The Division’s statement that it will nonetheless seek tier three penalties in this case simply ignores the remedies structure created by Congress.

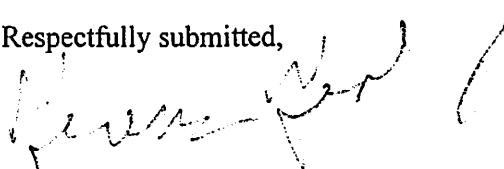

During the investigation, the Division received a significant amount of data regarding the financial condition of Respondents. Mr. Dersovitz provided account statements and spreadsheets detailing the balances of all personal accounts held by himself or his wife, as well as information regarding other assets in which he hold interests. RD Legal Capital, LLC provided essentially all of its financial records to the Division, including its complete QuickBooks accounting system in native form. The Division also subpoenaed directly all records for Respondents' bank accounts from various financial institutions. This information should be sufficient for the needs of the Division at this time.

As stated above, Respondents do not believe there is a factual basis for the amounts the Division seeks in disgorgement, and neither a factual nor legal basis for the requested penalties. For these reasons, Respondents respectfully suggest that the Court bifurcate from the hearing on the merits any presentation by Respondents, if needed, of an inability to pay. Respondents further respectfully request that any additional discovery on the financial condition of Respondents be deferred until such time as it may be needed. Respondents therefore ask that the request for an issuance of subpoenas on this issue be denied at this time.

Respectfully submitted,

Terence Healy

Page 359 1 question and I'm not taking it that way. We reserved one 2 third of origination for a vehicle that was controlled by 3 RD Legal Capital. Then, the two other counter parties 4 were permitted to originate their capacity. In connection 5 with one of those, we earned a fee. 6 Q By "we," you mean? 7 A The IM -- not the IM, RD Legal Funding earned a 8 fee, which I then assigned -- obviously, it's subject to 9 collection -- but which I assigned to the particular 10 series -- I'm not going to go through the whole thing 11 again -- but the particular series that I described in RD 12 Legal Finance. It, in turn, issued a note that was 13 acquired by CCY. 14 Q I'm a little slow with this. The other two 15 entities that were a third, a third, a third, were Cedar? 16 A And Specialty Funding. 17 Q It's not -- 18 A Neither one are LD. They are both independent, 19 totally independent. 20 Q I think it's Exhibit-7, if can we go back to 21 that one. 22 Do you see some sales of Iran plaintiff's claims 23 to Cedars Funding here? 24 A Yes. 25 Q Is that the same thing or is that something	Page 361 1 A Yes. 2 Q So they purchased a note over the assets, the 3 pooled assets? 4 A No. They purchased a note that was the 5 receivable. So the underlying collateral for the note was 6 the receivable for my fee, a portion of my fee, in 7 connection with the origination for Cedars Funding. 8 Q Okay. And this is what the $2 million reflects 9 in this? 10 A It's a portion, yes. It's a portion of that 11 fee. It's a portion of the fee that I will earn. 12 Q What's the total fee? 13 A It'll be subject to collection, but it will 14 exceed $2 million. 15 Q Tell me how much it's going to be. 16 A I'm not sure. 17 Q So what happened with this $2 million that you 18 got from CCY here? 19 A I used most of it to support the business. 20 Q So is this reflected in the draws we just talked 21 about? 22 A No. It's possibly -- when did that -- 23 MR. HEALY: It's not a draw. 24 THE WITNESS: That's not a draw. 25 BY MR. TENREIRO:
Page 360 1 else? 2 A It was this, plus a lot more. 3 Q So you originated other new ones, essentially -- 4 A Yes. 5 Q -- for this transaction? 6 A These, plus a lot more. 7 BY MR. BIRNBAUM: 8 Q Just because there is gestures on the record, 9 they, Cedar, took what's reflected in Exhibit-7, plus a 10 lot more. 11 A Then they originated, freshly, new claims. 12 MR. HEALY: Exhibit-7, it's sales from the fund. 13 THE WITNESS: Right. 14 MR. HEALY: It's either assets that were held by 15 the fund -- 16 BY MR. TENREIRO: 17 Q Some where sold also to Constant Cash Yield, 18 that's a separate thing? 19 A Yes. That are the sales through the special 20 vehicle -- through the special purpose vehicles, they also 21 participated in about 30 plus million from the flagship 22 vehicle. 23 Q Let's go to the vehicle that we're talking 24 about, a third, a third, a third and a note that was 25 purchased by Constant Cash Yield.	Page 362 1 Q Is this reflected in the capital commitments? 2 A When did that happen? 3 Q October 2015, please look at Exhibit-29. 4 A That's through November, so part of it might be, 5 but there have been more. 6 Q So this is basically a fee that you sold from 7 the origination of some Iran claims? 8 A Unrelated to any of the legacy funds. 9 Q Fair enough. 10 BY MR. BIRNBAUM: 11 Q Is that yes, unrelated to any of the legacy 12 funds? 13 A Unrelated -- the fee that I earned is unrelated 14 to anything in connection with the legacy fund. It's for 15 other assets. It's for other Iranian assets, nothing to 16 do with anything that is done by the funds. 17 BY MR. TENREIRO: 18 Q Assets that you originated for other individuals 19 not related to the legacy fund? 20 A Correct. 21 (SEC Exhibit No. 30 was marked 22 for identification.) 23 BY MR. TENREIRO: 24 Q Have you had a chance to look at Exhibit-30? 25 A Yes.

Page 363 1 Q Do you recognize this as an email exchange 2 between yourself and individuals at Clarus? 3 A Yes. 4 Q And Clarus is the valuation company for the 5 legacy funds? 6 A Yes. 7 Q Do you see where they say, on the front page of 8 the email, number two: We projected $125 million to $200 9 million of special investment vehicle capital? 10 A Yes. 11 Q Did the special investment vehicle cap actually 12 generate this much capital? 13 A No. This was done for a estate planning 14 purposes in connection with the business valuation, that's 15 all. 16 Q Okay. What do you mean by that? 17 A Exactly what I said, estate planning purposes, 18 valuation on a business -- I think that's what this is 19 for. I'm not sure, valuing the business. 20 Q Would they value the business differently for 21 estate planning purposes than for purposes uncalculated 22 investor returns? 23 A Yes, totally. It's a different calculation. 24 Q In what sense? 25 A Valuing the business and the longevity in the	Page 365 1 didn't discuss the substance with the witness, correct? 2 THE WITNESS: Yes. 3 MR. HEALY: Exhibit-31 appears to be a document 4 that would be an attorney/client privilege work product 5 related to some legal services that Mr. Dersovitz has 6 received from an attorney at Reed Smith related to estate 7 planning. We maintain strongly that the document is 8 privileged and should not have been produced and we would 9 seek to claw it back through Clarus counsel and some other 10 means. 11 MR. TENREIRO: That's fine. And we won't 12 introduce it now. If you can kind of follow the issue, 13 formalize it in writing and let us know what the -- 14 MR. BIRNBAUM: Just so the record is clear, I 15 know it was referred to as Exhibit-31. This will not be 16 Exhibit-31, so it won't be part of the record. We won't 17 make use of it until you follow up in writing with us. 18 BY MR. TENREIRO: 19 Q So let me just ask you this, Mr. Dersovitz, if 20 we go back to the previous exhibit -- if we go back to 21 Exhibit-30, you see that line that talks about we 22 incorporated $2 million of annual CEO compensation. 23 Do you see that? 24 A I'm sorry? He's my CFO. It was done in 25 connection with my --
Page 364 1 business and other trades. It's a separate topic. 2 Q Well, would they use the same methods to value 3 the underlying assets? 4 A No, sir. 5 Q How would they be different? 6 A You are looking at the earning capacity of the 7 manager. It has nothing to do with the individual assets. 8 Q You see number four, it says: We incorporated 9 $2 million of annual CEO compensation. Do you see that? 10 A Yes. 11 Q What's the basis for that? 12 A Well, that would be a number that would come 13 out -- if you are valuing a business, the question is how 14 much residual capital is left, so you are valuing those 15 cash flows on a go forward basis. It assumed -- this 16 discussion assumed that I would make a draw of $2 million 17 a year, has nothing to do with anything on Iran. 18 Q Let's try the next exhibit. 19 MR. HEALY: Can we take a break, please? 20 MR. TENREIRO: Off the record at 5:15. 21 (At this time, a short break was taken.) 22 MR. TENREIRO: Back on the record at 5:19. I 23 understand that there is an issue with what we were trying 24 to mark as Exhibit-31. 25 MR. BIRNBAUM: While we were off the record, we	Page 366 1 MR. HEALY: We would maintain that these are 2 agents that are being consulted with counsel for the 3 purposes of the business valuation. 4 MR. TENREIRO: You produced this document. 5 MR. HEALY: We seek to claw it back ourselves. 6 THE WITNESS: It's the same thing. 7 MR. TENREIRO: Please put this one in writing 8 also. 9 MR. HEALY: At least give us an opportunity to 10 consider this one -- Exhibit-31, I feel very clear about 11 it. This would be protected attorney/client 12 communication -- attorney work product. 13 MR. SATWALEKAR: Just so the record is clear, we 14 hear you out. We're not agreeing with you that Exhibit-30 15 or 31 -- we hear you out and we look forward to you 16 writing a submission on them. 17 MR. HEALY: Thank you very much. 18 BY MR. TENREIRO: 19 Q In terms of your compensation from the RD Legal 20 entities, do you plan for an earning amount looking 21 forward? 22 A That was what -- what you are indirectly asking 23 about, is a valuation that was being done for gift tax 24 purposes. That's why my counsel has placed the objection 25 on the record and is going to submit written materials to

Page 367 1 you to claw it back. 2 MR. TENREIRO: Can you read back that question? 3 (At this time, the court reporter read back the 4 last question.) 5 THE WITNESS: God willing, yes. 6 BY MR. TENREIRO: 7 Q How do you do that? 8 A In my head. 9 Q How do you plan for a compensation going 10 forward? 11 A Never with enough certainty, as you can see by 12 my numbers in 2015. 13 Q At any point, have you told anyone at Clarus 14 that your goal is to take out as much as possible from the 15 fund? 16 A My goal is to make what I'm permitted to make 17 under the documents and to live comfortably; no more, no 18 less. This year I am quite happy, but I lost a lot of 19 money. It is what it is. 20 Q Just yes or no. 21 A That's not a yes or a no. 22 Q At any point, did you tell anyone at Clarus that 23 your goal is to take on as much as possible from the fund? 24 A No. My goal is to make a good living and as 25 much as I can. Just like yours, just like everyone else	Page 369 1 not. I'm asking – 2 A I'm not being cute, Michael. The answer is no. 3 All it's doing -- there is no investor capital being 4 sought for RD Legal Finance. The only thing that it is 5 doing is marketing offerings. Then, it's only technically 6 me. 7 BY MR. TENREIRO: 8 Q And RD Legal Finance Partners is soliciting 9 investor funds, the legacy, domestic – 10 A RD Legal Funding Partners is. 11 Q Is any other entity in the RD Legal family 12 soliciting investors other than that one? 13 A RD Legal Special Investments will be soliciting 14 investors once we work one set of issues out. That is 15 partially when some liquidity will begin to return the 16 domestic vehicles. 17 Q Which investors are you soliciting? 18 A Globally. I'm traveling globally. We already 19 have people that we believe are hopefully going to invest. 20 BY MR. BIRNBAUM: 21 Q Any other RD family entities? 22 A No. Well, RDLSI is technically two vehicles, 23 just to be clear. So it's a master feeder and there is a 24 Delaware, LLC for those investors that don't want to be 25 placed into and a haven jurisdiction and a Cayman, LLC for
Page 368 1 in this room. This is my business. This is my 2 livelihood. The answer is, from what I do, vis-a-vis the 3 factoring a legal opportunities, I hope to make a fair 4 amount of money. 5 Q I'm just going to ask it one more time. 6 MR. HEALY: He answered. He said no. 7 BY MR. TENREIRO: 8 Q Let's move onto what the current status of the 9 RD Legal entity is. 10 Are the RD Legal entities, legacy fund or the 11 new fund, currently soliciting investors? 12 A The domestic vehicle is soliciting investors, 13 the offshore is not. We're working out several issues on 14 RDLSI, and that vehicle has common units and preferred 15 units. RD Legal Finance is operational. 16 Q Is RD Legal Finance soliciting investors? 17 A No, it's not soliciting any investors. All it's 18 doing is offering issuances. 19 BY MR. BIRNBAUM: 20 Q Is it the same answer for all of those, if we 21 ask anyone -- soliciting investors on any of those 22 entities on behalf -- I don't want to get caught up on 23 whether a person at the company is soliciting or -- 24 A Nothing. I'm not being cute, Michael. 25 Q Okay. I'm not asking whether you are cute or	Page 370 1 those investors that don't want to come into America. 2 It's essentially the same vehicle; ones an LLC, ones an 3 LTD. 4 BY MR. TENREIRO: 5 Q What about any other transactions like the one 6 you just saw with constant cash yield for the sale of your 7 receivable; is there anything else like that that you're 8 planning on doing? 9 A Possibly. 10 Q Anything currently? 11 A I might have a thought after I leave. That's my 12 own receivable. It doesn't impact an investor. I don't 13 want to be put into a position where I say no, not at the 14 moment, but you know what, tomorrow I do. So I don't want 15 to -- 16 Q But you are not, today, currently sitting here, 17 engaging in negotiations to sell any parts of your own 18 receivables? 19 A I thought about it and I might. 20 BY MR. BIRNBAUM: 21 Q That wasn't the question. The question was: 22 Are you engaging in any negotiations? Not whether you 23 think about it, not whether you might. The question is, 24 simply: Are you, sitting here today, engaging in any 25 negotiations concerning --

Re: Inadvertent Disclosure of Privileged Communication

Dear Mr. Suthammanont,

We represent RD Legal Capital, LLC (“RDLC”) in this matter. During the testimony of Roni Dersovitz on January 29, 2016, we became aware that a confidential valuation report prepared by Pluris Valuation Advisors LLC (“Pluris”) and labeled by the Staff as Exhibit 31 (“Valuation Report”) and a confidential email containing attorney-client communications related to the Valuation Report labeled by the Staff as Exhibit 30 (“the Email”) had been inadvertently produced by Pluris in response to a subpoena from the Staff. We immediately asserted privilege over these documents and advised the Staff that Mr. Dersovitz would not answer any questions about the Valuation Report or the Email at that time. The Staff agreed to withdraw Exhibits 30 and 31 at that time pending receipt of this letter.

In conversations with the Staff after the testimony of Mr. Dersovitz, the Staff indicated that RDLC had produced six versions of the Valuation Report in its voluntary production on November 4, 2015.

The Valuation Report and the Email are protected by the attorney-client privilege and should not have been produced in this matter. We request the immediate return, sequester or destruction of any versions of the Valuation Report and the Email the SEC has received or will receive during the course of its investigation. We have identified seven versions of the Valuation Report that were inadvertently produced by RDLC. Six were produced on November 4, 2015:

- RDLC-SEC-48533 through RDLC-SEC-48576
- RDLC-SEC-62900 through RDLC-SEC-62943

Dear Jorge and Victor:

As a follow up to our conversation yesterday, attached is a list of documents produced by Pluris that may be subject to a claim of privilege by RD Legal or Mr. Dersovitz.

As mentioned in each of the cover letters submitted with Pluris's productions, to the extent any of the listed documents are protected by the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine, or any other privilege, such production is inadvertent and not intended to constitute a waiver. Consistent with our conversation yesterday, we would ask that SEC sequester these documents and not use the information until any claim by RD Legal or Mr. Dersovitz is resolved.

Thank you for your continuing courtesies.
