Vs

TD AMERITRADE, INC et al

Motion for relief TD Ameritrade Stole all my Money and refuse to open my margin account in retaliation for filling a SEC Lawsuit violates SEC, FINRA and Federal laws

I Opened a margin account around February 3rd TD website said it was approved and would be active in 1 day then Feb 8th made my first 2 trades and a Pop-Up window said I could not Hold stock overnight and Contacted TD Chat said my margin account would work on the 9th and it didn't so contacted chat on the 9th simultaneously all the Money Disappear from my TD account for no reason and nobody at TD will Tell me where the money went to

I made about 80 million in a Simulator in 1 month

I'm disabled collecting Social Security Disability and 2 years can't stop going all in on losing trades and need a computer assistive device with max Dailey loss of $200 Dollars so I can't trade anymore is Available with speed trader cost $300 month

Margin

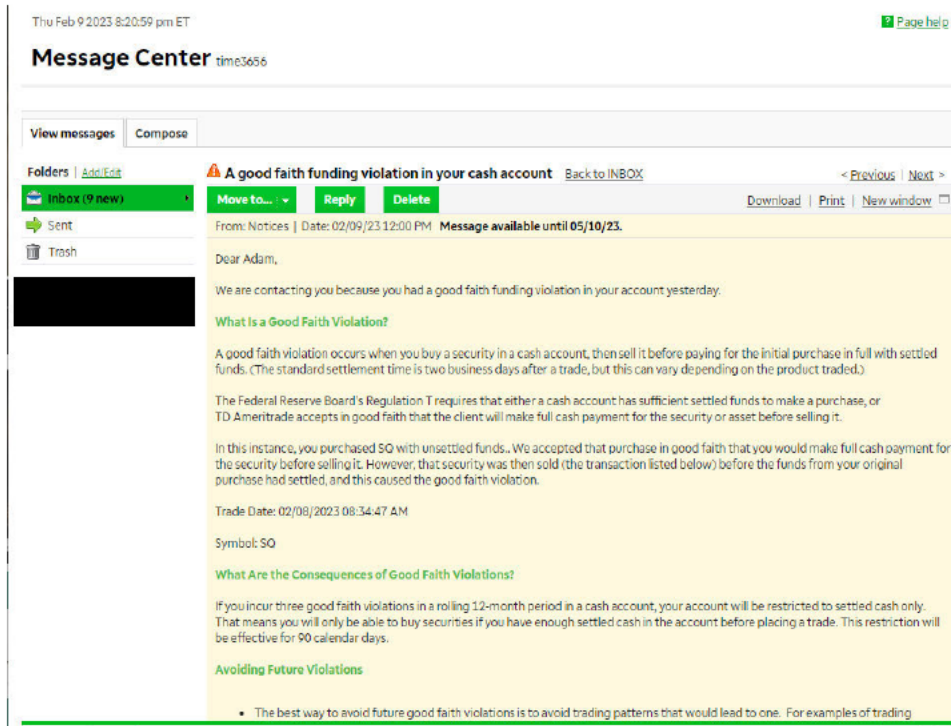

✓ Your account is approved for margin.

Check your balances for important margin information, including:

- Amount available to purchase securities on margin (buying power)
- Amount you've borrowed on margin (margin balance)
- Value of marginable stock, mutual funds, cash, and short stock in your account (margin equity)

Note: To trade on margin, your account value must be at least $2,000.
