

FORM CRS – Client Relationship Summary*Introduction

Atomic Vaults Securities LLC "AVS" or the "Firm") is an introducing broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. ("FINRA") and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. There are free and simple tools to research financial firms and professionals at www.investor.gov/crs. You can also review the SEC's Regulation Best Interest disclosures and other applicable information at www.sec.gov/info/smallbus/secg/regulation-best-interest.

Relationships and Services - What investment services and advice can you provide me?

- AVS provides its customers with on-line brokerage services and the ability to make self-directed investment decisions. AVS is not a full-service brokerage firm, does not make securities or account type recommendations, and does not provide advisory services. There are many ways you can get help with your investments. After you open a brokerage account with AVS, you may pay the Firm a transaction-based fee generally referred to as a commission when you buy or sell a security.
- AVS does not make recommendations or provide advice to its customers. You are responsible for selecting the investments and transactions for your account.
- AVS has engaged a clearing firm to process your account transactions and hold your assets. AVS's clearing firm will electronically deliver trade confirmations to you after each trade and account statements to you at least quarterly.

AVS's Obligation to You - AVS must abide by certain laws and regulations in our interactions with you.

- AVS does not make recommendations regarding the buying, selling or holding of specific investments. When AVS provides any service to you, the Firm must treat you fairly and comply with numerous regulatory obligations. Unless AVS agrees otherwise, the Firm is not required to monitor your account or investments on an ongoing basis. Additionally, AVS does not have any investment authority or investment discretion over your account.

Fees and Costs – what fees and costs will I pay?

- The amount of fees that you will be charged will depend on the transactions incurred in your account and what type of investments you hold in your account. The fees that you incur will also depend on whether you decide to pay a flat rate monthly subscription fee in lieu of incurring certain transaction-based fees and charges.
- You will pay fees whether you make or lose money in your account.
- You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. The actual transaction costs will be shown on the trade confirmations electronically provided to you.
- You may also be charged additional fees, such as custodial fees, market data fees, wire processing fees, etc.

Conflicts of Interest - What are the most common conflicts of interest in your brokerage accounts?

- A common conflict of interest may occur when a brokerage firm trades the same investment as its retail customers. However, AVS does not initiate transactions in its own proprietary account, and therefore, this situation should not create a conflict of interest concerning your brokerage account with the Firm.
- Another common conflict of interest occurs when a broker-dealer charges you interest for providing you with a margin loan. The higher the interest rate charged above its borrowing costs, the more revenue a Firm makes from loan.

- Another common conflict of interest may occur when a brokerage firm receives payments from clearing firms in exchange for routing orders to those clearing firms to be executed. AVS will look to mitigate this conflict of interest by working with a broker-dealer to route your orders based on where you will receive the best execution price for your order and not based on which broker will make the largest payment for this order flow.

- Help me understand how fees and costs incurred might affect my investments?
